The primary object of this trip is to consider how trade between Canada and the British West Indies can best be promoted. It is felt that the trade agreement recently negotiated between Canada and the West Indies should be very beneficial and should foster a large interchange of commerce. With the object in view of looking into conditions generally, to learn what goods the West Indies have to sell to Canada, and to describe what goods Canada has to sell to the West Indies, this tour was organized by the Canadian Manufacturers Association.

The tour will occupy a month, during which time the following places will be visited: Nassau, B.I., Kingston, Jamaica, Panama Canal, La Guaira (Caracas), Port of Spain, Trinidad, Demerara, Grenada, St. Vincent, Barbados, St. Lucia, Dominica, Montserrat, Antigua, St. Kitts and Bermuda.

The following is a list of the persons constituting the party: Sir Alexander and Lady Bertram, John Bertram & Sons, Co. Ltd., Montreal, Que.; Col. and Mrs. R. W. Leonard and Mr. Douglas Mutch, Coniagas Reduction Co. Ltd., St. Catharines, Ont.; Mr. G. Clifford McAvity, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Davidson, T. McAvity & Sons, St. John, N.B.; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Canadian National Railways and Canadian Government Merchant Marine, Limited, will be represented on the trip by Mr. C. K. Howard, of Toronto, their General Tourist Agent.

A Lesson FROM Ancient Rome

Two thousand years ago the athletes and fighting gladiators of the Roman Empire, to ensure speedy healthy healing of wounds, sores and injuries used magical herbal oils and balms.

Taking a lesson from the Ancients, an eminent firm of manufacturing chemists undertook a search to recover these lost secrets. Certain rich herbal oils and essences were at last found and a scientific means of blending and refining them was devised.

After lengthy and costly experiment a super-balm was evolved which contains these potent herbal saps in the most perfect form. To this new discovery was given the name zam-buk, to indicate the highest achievement yet attained in the healing art.

Treatment of skin diseases and injuries has been revolutionized by zam-buk. Its healing and antiseptic power is enhanced by the complete absence of rancid animal fats that distinguish ordinary salves.

Eczema, ringworm, ulcers, piles, poisoned wounds, rashes, cold-sores, chaps, chilblains, children's scalp troubles, etc., yield rapidly to zam-buk.

BLACK FOXES CAPTURED

The two black foxes that escaped from Mr. Peter MacPherson's ranch in Proton are reported to have been captured. One was caught by Mr. McIntosh near St. Patrick's Church, Proton. A party who caught it first was bitten and let it go, it is said, but it was again captured. It is said that the other fox was caught in a trap near Damascus. The owner of the trap says the animal was dead and it is reported that he showed the carcass but declined to show the hide.

The two little black foxes said to be worth anywhere from $600 to $1000 a piece, caused about as much excitement as the 15 hundred foxes that Samson caught and sent with firebrand among the crops of the Philistines. People were seeing and reporting black foxes everywhere. Dogs and cats were transmitted into foxes. A harmless necessary black pussy in Mount Forest was reported as one of the missing pair; at least that is the report.

We suppose that we have not heard the last of the one reported trapped at Damascus. The hide is worth a lot of money.—Mt. Forest Rep.

The Renfrew Citizens' Band has been given a grant of $1,200 by the Town Council.

PILES Do not suffer another day with Itching, Bleeding, or Protruding Piles. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once and afford lasting benefit. 60c. a box; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. WHAT DOES YOUR MIRROR REVEAL?

Does it Tell You That Your Blood is Thin and Watery.

When a growing girl becomes pale, complains of exhaustion, dizzy spells, headache and stomach trouble, she should know that these things are evidences of anaemia or bloodlessness. A glance in the mirror will tell the story. There is immediate need for a tonic, a system builder that will completely restore the missing qualities to the blood that every part of the body will share in the benefit.

A good example of the result of wise treatment in cases of this kind is given by Mrs. George R. Smith, of Queensport, N.S., who says: "I cannot praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly for what they have done for my three daughters. My eldest daughter, Edna, at the age of 14, became run down, and I got her three boxes of the pills, and by the time she had taken them she was in good health, and is now a healthy married women. My second daughter, Martha, at the age of 16, was awfully run down and pale. In fact she had always been a delicate child, but gradually became worse. At last she could not go upstairs without having to sit down and rest, and could not even do any kind of light work without being greatly fatigued. Finally I gave her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking them we found they did her more good than all the other medicine she had taken, and she is now in good health. Then my younger daughter, Greta, now 15, became so run down that she had to stop going to school. But after taking eight boxes of the pills she is now a big, healthy girl. I feel that after what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done in my home there can be no doubt of their value, and I hope someone else will benefit from our experience."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DISASTROUS FIRE

F. T. Hill & Co's. Flour Mill Destroyed by Fire.

The fire alarm awakened the residents of the village about six o'clock on Saturday morning, when it was discovered that the grist mill belonging to F. T. Hill & Co. Ltd., was on fire. When last seen by residents in the vicinity of the mill, the fire had made such headway as to render an attempt at saving anything out of the question. The mill had been in operation on Friday and at closing time everything was in good shape as usual. The orgin of the fire is a mystery. Besides the building, a heavy stock of flour, wheat and corn, (just unloaded the day before), was completely destroyed, on which, we understand, no insurance was carried.

The building was erected by the late John Ford about 45 years ago and sold to the Hill firm about three years ago. The building had been recently repaired and enlarged and an extensive business was being carried on. The water power is undamaged and it is hoped that the mill may be rebuilt, although the Hills may not undertake its re-erection.

The burning of the mill is a big loss to the community, as it supplied a needed source of supply for mill feed and the crushing of grains. The building was insured.—Markdale Standard.

ROBERT LANG

A lifelong and highly respected citizen of Erin passed to his eternal rest in the person of Robert Lang, on Friday, February 3rd., 1922. Mr. Lang was a son of the late George and Agnes Lang and was born on Lot 16, 7th. Line, Erin Township, on February 14th., 1851, where he lived until the spring of 1902, when he removed to Erin Village, where he lived a retired life until his death. When a ratepayer of the Township, the late Mr. Lang took an active part in the municipal affars, having served in each capacity, on the council board and as warden and county commissioner, having been warden of the county at the time of the Jubilee of the late Queen Victoria, and as representative of this county sent congratulations. The Queen's reply was received and ever since has been kept among his treasured possessions. In politics he was a staunch Liberal and was twice approached to represent the riding in Legislature, but declined the offer. Mr. Lang also took a keen interest in the local agricultural society, having been on the board of directors for a number of years. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. D. N. Conley, the only surviving member of the family. The funeral took place on Monday, February 6th, interment being made at Erin Cemetery.—Advocate.

Another business change has taken place in Markdale. Elder & Son have disposed of their blacksmithing business to Mr. R. McMillan, a young man whose home was formerly at Eugenia.

Eight dairy firms of the border cities must face a high court jury for trafficking in bottles bearing the trade mark of the Walkerville Dairy, Walkerville, without the consent of that firm.

VIOLET HILL

(Intended for last issue.)

Many people oft have wondered,
And no doubt they're wondering still,
Why no more we hear from "Kupid,"
Our old scribe from Violet Hill.

But I can tell the reason,
He's as busy as a bee,
So I thought I'd write a little
Of what I hear and see.

Thos. White, a farm has purchased,
From Jas. Bailey, east of town,
And Jas may move to Toronto,
That now gay "farmers' town."

Willie C. is down east this winter,
He just wears the same old smile,
And methinks he's looking something
When he came so many miles.

The baseball girls purpose giving
A dance in the L. O. L. Hall,
In the not far distant future,
So let's hope they'll invite us all.

All the young folks in our district,
Have taken to skate of late,
And off to Rosemont they journey,
Each lad with his little mate.

There are drifts of snow up the second,
But they don't stop Errol you bet,
And Harold declares he has never
Been chased by a bull-dog yet.

On the third I often meet Harvey,
He comes should it snow or rain,
While George has been singing lately
"This parting gives me pain."

If any who read this are needing,
A good hound for rabbit or fox,
Get in touch with Sam Liddy or Levi,
They've got the best hounds that ever walked.

When the buds come out it is spring-time,
And while out at Rosemont one night,
We noticed one Budd had a-wakened,
So we think now that spring is in sight.

Hubert M. has a liking for jewels,
And the pearl is his favorite gem,
But Willie thinks flowers are nicer,
A lily will satisfy him.

News seems to be scarce round the hollow,
All our bachelors are quiet as mice,
But should they stir up some excitement,
I'll write up the news in a trice.

SANDYANDY.

Mayor Coppley told the Board of Control at Hamilton that the bill for civic telephones was $9,000 a year, and that this would have to be cut in two.

Mrs. John Corbett, of Dundalk, fell on the ice at Thomas Wood's gate and broke the small bone of the ankle, and clipped the end off the large bone.

Paoli Bonazzi, of St. Catharines, charged with having liquor for sale, claimed that all his six children, including the youngest of 17 months, drank wine.

Mr. Arthur Wentworth, an Owen Sound moulder, met with a serious accident a week ago Saturday night, when he fell on the icy sidewalk and broke one of his knee caps.

Announcement has been made that on or about March 1st the City Dairy Co. Ltd., of Owen Sound, will open for business to supply milk and cream to the citizens of Owen Sound.

ASK PA ASKITT; HE KNOWS

Just for Instance, He Tells Little Tommy All About the Death of Julius Caesar.

"Ma, who was Julius Caesar?" asked Tommy Askitt.

"Oh, Julius. As far as I know, Thomas—of course, I'm not nearly as learned as your father—but I am very sure Julius Caesar was a brother or uncle to Nero—maybe his son. Anyway, as they both ruled over Rome, they must have been some relation. Julius was a great fighter. He.—"

"Dead wrong, Mrs. Askitt," interrupted pa, who had been quietly reading before, but couldn't let a chance pass without lording his superior knowledge over his wife and son, since home was the only place he could get away with it.

"Yes, you're dead wrong. Why didn't you ask me, Thomas? You come to me hereafter, when you want to know anything difficult and particular. Your mother says that Julius was a relation of Nero's. Why, Julius never saw Nero and—"

"But couldn't he be a relation without seeing him? I never saw grandfather, but I'm a—"

"No, he couldn't!" snapped pa. "Furthermore, Julius was not a great fighter. He was woman-crazy, that's what he was.

"Julius was a—er—a great—er—Roman senator until he met. Like all good men do" (there he glanced meaningly at ma) "a woman en whom he showers jewels, gold, silver, eau de cologne, rocks, blows—everything! And then she treats him like a dog in the end. They're all alike, and poor Julie, although a senator, was no different from the rest.

"One day his good friend Brutus whispered, 'Julie, beware of Ides March!' (That was the woman's name.) But Julie didn't pay any attention to Brutus' warning and that night they both went to Ida's house. They had some dumplings; he fell over in a fit. Brutus jumped over to him and just heard his last words: 'Et two, Brute!' and then he expired.

"I'm glad I didn't eat any," said Brutus.

"But pa, what did Julius call him a 'brute' for?" asked Tommy.

"I don't know, Thomas. He died before he could explain."—Detroit Free Press.

Japanese Shrewdness.

An interesting illustration of Japanese shrewdness, which a Connecticut Yankee might envy, was given in a deal in copper. The war caused an extraordinary demand for this metal, and sent the price soaring. The coin still in common circulation in China is the copper "cash," about the size of an English penny, and so small in value that a gold dollar will buy anywhere from 1,500 to 2,000 of them, according to the rate of exchange. In my travels in the interior of China I had to have an extra donkey to carry the cash needed for my party. The copper cash in the province of Shantung alone would weigh nearly 50,000 tons. To buy these cash of the Chinese and sell them to the Europeans, who needed the copper for shells, would yield a handsome profit. The Japanese proceeded to do it. The Manchuria Daily News reported that in a single year the purchases amounted to 25,600 tons and that the transaction was completed at a profit of 2,167,000 yen ($1,083,500).—Asia Magazine.

Says "Shimmy" Is Old Dance.

The shimmy is 400 years old, this "modern" dance having been done back in the sixteenth century, says Prof. Louis Kretlow of Chicago, who has taught dancing for 60 years. He says many other of the modern dances haven't really changed since the month, Thoinot Arbeau, wrote a book about them in 1588. They were the same and the positions of the dancers identical with those of the present day. Arbeau knew the shimmy, but called it "The Death Dance."

Professor Kretlow, who was born in 1845, was teaching the latest steps when Milwaukee was a trading post. It was mostly the reel and the jig at that time, and in the most exciting sets the gentleman touched only his partner's finger tips. It was the day of the pantalette and hoopskirt.

Dropping through a hole in the floor of his father's mill at Beaver Creek, Ralph Douglas Bonter, four years old, was drowned..

Backache

Backache is the outstanding symptom of kidney disease. Women often make the mistake of attributing other causes and overlook the derangement of the kidneys until serious developments have made it difficult to obtain permanent relief.

This letter points to a treatment which has been so thoroughly tried and proven so effective in the great majority of cases that you cannot afford to overlook it when cause arises for its use.

Mrs. Albert Brunet, R.R. No. 1, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for the past two months, having been afflicted with kidney trouble. I used two doctors' medicine previous to this, without any good results. A friend told me to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and the second box made me feel a good deal better. I have now used about six or eight boxes, and am completely relieved."

EXPERIENCE DOESN'T TEACH SOME PEOPLE.

Wash White got a job in a sawmill. The boss put him in charge of a buzz saw, showed him how the saw worked, warned him of its dangers and then went away.

Wash was fascinated by the shining whirling saw. But was it truly as sharp and terrible as the boss had said? To test it he touched it gently. Bzz! and the finger was no more.

As Wash was ruefully tying up his hand in his bandana the boss came back.

"Hullo there, Washington. What's the matter?"

"Buzz saw done cut off my finger, sah."

"How did that happen?"

"Ah dunno, sah" said Wash. "Ah just touched the contraption like dis, an'—fo' de lan's sake, der's anudder gone!"

Kenneth Coulson, aged 15, died in St. Joseph's Hospital, Hamilton, a week ago Sunday, as the result of injuries received when his sled collided with that of a companion while coasting on the Lowville hill. He walked home after the collision, but was soon taken seriously ill.

A Tribute

Our ability, to explain in print why The Hoover excels, is dwarfed by the enthusiastic endorsement of a half million Hoover users, thousands of whom have been using Hoovers on their carpetings for the past ten or twelve years.

HOCKLEY

(Intended for last week.)

We are very sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Edwin Fish, of Guelph, formerly of Hockley. The many friends of the bereaved family extend their heartfelt sympathy.

The Dramatic Club is now in full swing again. According to reports we are going to have two Plays to be given during the early part of March.

A number from this part attended Connor Dance on Friday night and report a good time.

What we would like to know:—

How Joseph Irwin finds the Nottawa hill these nights?

What Milford and Angus have done with their cars since Lee and Stanley started going up the Second Line.

Why Mark prefers Achil instead of Hockley? What about Connor, Mark?

How John MacArthur is getting along cutting wood?

If Theo. Parker intends discharging John Fish in the near future?

CALEDON

The Caledon Branch of the Peel County Women's Institute will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. W. J. Brown on Wednesday evening, March 1st. A good programme is being prepared by the Committee in charge. Let every woman come and assist to develope the Sewing Course plans.

The Union Young People's Society held a very successful meeting on Tuesday night. Mrs. F. Braiden was responsible for the programme and the young people taking part made a very interesting evening. Next Tuesday evening will be social night, when another good time is expected.

Rev. J. Burkholder is suffering from a bad attack of neuritis. We hope to see him on duty again soon.

A successful operation for appendicitis was performed on the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cooke on Monday last.

Messrs Jas. Lamont, W. E. Glassford, H. Potter, Wm. Vickery and Jackson Glassford attended the big Shorthorn Sale in Toronto last week.

Mrs. A. B. Smith was taken suddenly ill with acute indigestion on Thursday last, but is now improving.

LOCAL NEWS.

—Mrs. Geo. Abbott, of Laurel, received from England last week the sad news of the very sudden death of her brother.

—T. E. Slack, M. L. A. for Dufferin, and Mrs. Slack have taken apartments at 103 Maitland St., Toronto, for the three months the Legislature is likely to be in session.

New Spring Shoes in two or three strap, either black or brown, at

ARNOTT'S SHOE STORE

—Wm. Keys, of Corbetton, formerly of Amaranth, was elected County Master of East Grey County L. O. L. at the recent annual meeting.

—Tanlac is sold for $1.00 at Fairbairn's Drug Store.

—Mr. Norman Hostrawer, of Amaranth, who underwent a serious and difficult operation in Lord Dufferin Hospital some weeks ago, returned home last week apparently fully recovered of his trouble.

George E. Tessey, a wellknown Buffalo mechanic, said he had gained twelve pounds; his wife had gained twenty-six pounds and his daughter was gaining every day, by taking Tanlac. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ont.

—Mr. S. H. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith, of East Garafraxa, is in Toronto taking treatment for sciatica and internal trouble. Mr. Smith was badly injured in a runaway accident at Watt's Mill a year ago last spring and has never fully recovered from the effects of his injuries.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Allen, 5th line, Mono, were called to Owen Sound last week by the death of the former's mother, Mrs. George Gibbons.

—Mrs. Jos. Jermyn, a daughter of Mrs. Jas. Keys, South Ward, died and was buried in Toronto this week. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon. Deceased is survived by her husband and a family.

—Mr. P. B. Norris, The Maples, who has sold his 200 acre farm to Mr. Austin Buchanan for $11,200, will hold a Clearing Auction Sale of his Farm Effects on March 28th.

Tanlac relieves rheumatism by removing the cause. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ont.

—Wm. Armstrong, a Home boy living with Oswald Potter, a farmer near Mono Mills, was brought into Lord Dufferin Hospital on Tuesday night. He is suffering from appendicitis and an operation may be necessary.

—The Reserve Plan is filling up rapidly for "From the Manger to the Cross" in St. Andrew's Church to-night. Owing to the Boy Scouts concert there will not be a Friday night presentation of the Picture as originally advertised.

—Mrs. David Ward, a former resident of Adjala and Tottenham, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Will J. Rowley, near Ballycroy, on Thursday, February 9th. The funeral was held to St. John's Cemetery, 7th line, Mono, on the following Sunday. The services were conducted by Revs. J. A. Matheson and D. G. Atkinson, of Mono Mills.

—Thunder and lightning in February are decidedly unusual in this latitude, but the unusual happened with a vengeance on Sunday afternoon, when this district experienced a torrential downpour of rain accompanied by sharp lightning and heavy thunder. It was a real midsummer thunderstorm in midwinter.

A CALL TO PRAYER

The women of Canada and of the United States are called by the Missionary leaders to unite in Prayer on the afternoon of Friday, March 3rd. The local executives have arranged for a service in the basement of the Methodist church on that date, commencing at 3 o'clock. All the women of the various churches of the town are urged to respond to this call and to be present at this union meeting.

A BUSINESS CHANGE

Mr. Hugh A. Duke has sold his grocery stock and business to Mr. M. A. Stewart, of Dundalk. The purchaser is a young man of pleasing address and person and should make a success of his undertaking. His business announcement to Banner readers will be found elsewhere in this issue. Mr. Duke and family may move to Toronto, but are not likely to leave town for some months yet. We hope they will decide to stay with the old town, as they have always been excellent citizens.

ALTON

The Alton Women's Institute held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. E. D. Barber on Thursday, Feb. 16th. Mrs. J. A. Lovell, First Vice-President, occupied the chair. A most enjoyable time was spent. Mrs. L. McFaul read a well-composed Paper on "Reading in the Home." Mrs. Meek gave a short address and Miss Margaret Lemon and Miss Hope Barber each contributed a well-rendered piano solo, while Miss Babcock gave a violin selection. All were very much enjoyed. A feature of the meeting was the forming of a "Home and School Committee," which will tend to bring members of the community more closely in touch with one another. Parents, teachers, scholars and friends are to meet the last Friday of each month from 3 to 4 o'clock at the school. Friday, Feb. 25th., will be the date of the first meeting. Everybody welcome.

The Junior Girls Institute met at the home of Mrs. Meek on the evening of Feb. 16th. The girls purpose having a social evening on March 17th. Remember the date and watch for pafticulars.

At the examinations held recently at the Canadian Academy of Music, Miss Marion Cameron was successful in passing the Preparatory Pianoforte Examination with honours. The young lady is a daughter of Mrs. Jas. Cmeron and a pupil of Miss Margaret Meek.

A meeting will be held in Alton on February 28th. in the interests of higher education. This meeting will be held under the auspices of the Peel County Trustees and Ratepayers Association. Everybody interested in education and educational problems is expected to be present.

The Epworth League social planned for Monday, Feb. 20th., has been postponed until Monday, Feb. 27th. A good programme is being prepared.

Alton Methodist people had the privilage last Sunday of hearing Prof. J. F. McLaughlin, Dean of Victoria College, who gave a very thoughtful and informing address on Education.

The Alton Tuxis Boys and Trail Rangers went out for a hike last Saturday, February 18th. On the way out from Alton they made some very interesting studies in nature. One of their observations was the instinct of rabbits to gnaw the bark of fruit trees at this time of the year. Arriving at the old lime kiln, near where the site of the Bruce Station used to be, they selected a camp ground nearby. Here they spent the time very pleasantly around a campfire, feasting on hard-boiled eggs, sandwiches and cake. During the lunch a chapter was read from the Tuxis Boys Manual on Camp Craft by Rev. J. F. G. Morris. Music was furnished on the mouth organ by some of the boys. After partaking of their homely fare, captains were chosen, sides called and everyone entered vigorously into a snowball fight. During the sham battle it was discovered that the big fellows were the easiest hit. The pleasure of the afternoon's sport was greatly enhanced by a number of bugle calls from Mr. Cecil Lowe. The boys are planning for a bun supper in the near future. Hurrah, Boys! for a big meeting this Friday, when we hope to initiate other new members.

We are glad to see George Wallace around again after a severe illness.

—The Banner Bookstore specializes in fine quality stationery. Always something dainty for particular buyers.

"They like to do business with people they know"

Makes Neighbors of Customers!

"Yes, people wonder at my success in being able to increase sales, but there is really no secret to it. One night when my business was at its worst, in a heart-to-heart talk with myself I worked out these facts:—

"It has always been easy to do business with my neighbors, because I could meet them and talk to them. They like to do business with people they know. The only trouble is, the world has grown so large it's hard to meet and be friendly with a lot of people.

"Well, is it?" I asked myself. "If I can make good friends and good customers by meeting them, why can't I meet them and talk to them over the telephone?

"The next day was Wednesday. Wednesday afternoon is a good time to telephone—the wires are not so busy, and after lunch most folks feel friendly. I called up by Long Distance three men I've long wanted to sell—men who have never been in my store, introduced myself in an easy friendly fashion, and offered them some real bargains. Say, do you know, two of these men came in to see me the next day and bought a good bill? They're good friends of mine now. I've got over 50 new customers like that in a short time.

"Just being neighborly is the secret of building up business. At some time or other I manage to telephone nearly every customer we've got. Does them good. Does me good. Personal solicitation is still the one best way of making a sale."

Then She Took "FRUIT-A-TIVES" And Has Been Well Ever Since

MADAM SLOAT

FRASER JUNCTION, N.B., Jan. 22nd, 1920

"For many years, I was a great sufferer from Indigestion, Constipation and Rheumatism. My Stomach was weak and gave me constant distress, while Rheumatism in my joints made me almost a cripple. was treated by two different doctors but their medicine did me no good.

Then I tried "Fruit-a-tives" and at once that fruit medicine helped me. Soon the Constipation and Indigestion were relieved and the Rheumatism began to go away, and in a few months entirely disappeared. For twelve years now, my health has been first class, and I attribute it to the use of "Fruit-a-tives" which I take regularly".

MRS. JOSEPH OLIVER

Annie E. Wilson, wife of Joseph Oliver, of lot 10, con. 1, E.H.S., Mulmur, departed this life at her home on Thursday morning of last week after an illness of about three months from heart trouble. The deceased was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, of lot 30, Prince of Wales Road, Mono, and was in her 50th year. On June 12th, 1907, she was married to her now bereaved partner. The deceased was for many years a teacher in the Presbyterian Sabbath School, Primrose, and also took a deep interest in the missionary work of the church. While she was unable to attend the meetings of the latter organization she confined her activities to the Home Helpers Department. Deceased leaves no family. Messrs. Jas. H. Wilson, Mulmur, and John Wilson, of Orangeville, are brothers of the deceased. Interment took place in the Primrose Presbyterian church cemetery on Saturday afternoon last, after which service, was held in the church conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Black. There was a large attendance of sympathizing neighbors and friends.—Free Press.

MRS. W. B. LAUGHLIN

There passed away at the family residence, Caledon Township, on Wednesday, February 8th., 1922, Lillie Glenn, beloved wife of Mr. W. B. Laughlin, in her thirty-seventh year. Mrs. Laughlin suffered for over three years from an incurable malady and although gradually failing was always cheerful. She was born at Cataract and in 1902 married W. B. Laughlin, and lived in the vicinity of Cataract during her life time. She is survived by her husband and an adopted son, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. Glenn, Cataract, and three brothers, J. W., Toronto; D. P., at Whitebeach, Sask., and J. R. at Aaron, Sask. The funeral took place from the family residence on Friday, February 10th., 1922, to St. Peter's R. C. Church, Orangeville. The interment was made at Forest Lawn Cemetery, Orangeville. The pallbearers were Harry Laughlin, John Flaherty, Robert Mews, Chas. Cox, James Hillyard, W. E. Scott. The floral tributes were many and beautiful.—Erin Advocate.

MRS. WILLIAM IRVINE

Death came as a sweet release to Mrs. William Irvine at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Duncan Worden in Peel Township, on Saturday morning. For the past few years her health has been anything but satisfactory and late when her heart failed, it hastened the end. Mary Ann Platt was born in Tecumseth Township, coming to East Garafraxa over half a century ago where she and her husband, the late William Irvine began their pioneer life. What trials discouragements and disappointments early life held but tended to the better prepare the brave couple for the future, for eventually success crowned their efforts. They had the satisfaction of seeing their family comfortably started in life and following the example set by their parents. The children are: Mrs. Francis McCelland, of Toronto, Mrs. Duncan Worden, of Peel; Samuel Edward and Robert J. in East Luther and Elwood on the old homestead, East Garafraxa. The funeral was on Tuesday to Peices' Corners, was very largely attended by the old neighbors and friends.—Star and Vidette.

Annie E. Wilson, wife of Joseph Oliver, died at her residence, lot 10, con. 1, E.H.S., Mulmur, on Thursday, February 9th., in her 50th year.

WOMAN TAKES EVERY CHANCE

To Recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for It Helped Her So Much

Fredericton, N. B.—"I was weak and had some troubles women often have, and usually I was unfit for my work. I saw your advertisements and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am very much pleased with the result and recommend your Vegetable Compound whenever I have a chance. You may use this letter for the benefit of others."—Mrs. Wandless, 360 Church St., Fredericton, N. B.

Mrs. Wandless, like many, many other women who have found relief by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is anxious to let other women know of this splendid medicine. So by word of mouth and by letter, one woman to another, its virtues are made known.

Women suffering from female ailments, indicated by such symptoms as backache, nervous troubles, hot flashes, pain in the side and a general run-down condition of the whole system, should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For nearly fifty years it has been helping women. Let it help you.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

If You Want Greater Comfort, Efficiency and Economy
Install a Fairbanks-Morse "F" Power and Light Plant

PRESS a button and instantly any room in your house, your cellar, your stables, outbuildings, or driveway, is flooded with brilliant electric light.

The disagreeable task of filling and cleaning oil lamps, and dirty lanterns, is ended when your "F" Power and Light Plant is installed.

The engine can be belted direct to your cream separator, churn, pump, washing machine, and any other light machinery, thereby reducing the drudgery of many irksome jobs.

It also provides current for all kinds of electrical equipment.

A few cents worth of kerosene and oil a day will run the "F" year in and year out. Sturdily built, simple to operate, and the biggest time and labor saver on the farm.

Come in and see it at work, or send a post card asking for the catalogue which contains full information.

JUDGMENT GOOD

Dufferin County Chattel Mortgage Registered at Guelph instead of Orangeville.

A goodly number of the citizens of Grand Valley and the surrounding district were in town on Monday for the purpose of following the Court proceedings in the case of Watson vs. Barbour, which was being tried by Judge Fisher at a special Court sitting. Some time ago W. H. Watson, a son of Ex-Reeve Thos. Watson, of Grand Valley, secured judgment against R. J. Barbour, of East Luther, for $237, the price of certain chattels bought by Barbour at the plaintiff's sale about a year ago. When an execution was issued and seizure made following the judgment, the goods seized were claimed by Frank Martignoni under a chattel mortgage. Watson then applied for an interpleader order, contending that the chattel mortgage was invalid as against him. During the trial it transpired that the mortgage, through some blunder, or a misapprehension as to the geographical location of the township of East Luther, had been registered at Guelph, the county seat of Wellington County, instead of in the Dufferin County registry office in Orangeville and was therefore invalid as against creditors. When confronted with this embarassing fact, Martignoni changed his claim and contended that he was absolute owner of the goods, having bought and paid for them himself. His contention failed to impress the court and Watson was given judgment for the full amount of his claim and costs of the action. As the defendant had paid $300 into court to secure the release of the chattels pending the trial the plantiff is in a good position to realize on his judgment. C. R. McKeown appeared for Watson and L. M. Sucliffe, Toronto, and A. A. Hughson, Orangeville, for Barbour.

THE EDITOR IS BORN

A youngster, whose father was editor of a small town daily, was asked to write a composition on Professional Men.

"When an editor makes a mistake there is a lawsuit and swearing and a big fuss; but if a doctor makes one there is a funeral, cut flowers and perfect silence. A doctor can use a word a yard long without him or anybody knowing what it means; but if the editor uses one he has to spell it. If the doctor goes to see another man's wife he charges for the visit; but if the editor goes he gets a charge of buckshot. When the doctor gets drunk it is a case of being overdone by the heat and if he dies it is from heart trouble; when the editor gets drunk it is a case of too much booze, and if he dies it's the jimjams. Any old college can make a doctor; an editor has to be born."

THE LIFE OF CHRIST

Notwithstanding the wretched weather a large audience witnessed the presentation of the series of moving pictures entitled "From the Manger to the Cross" in St. Andrew's Church on Thursday night last. The pictures were very fine and gave a faithful and vivid portrayal of many of the important scenes and incidents in the Life of our Saviour. The treatment was reverent, the setting true to the time and land and the pictures remarkably clear-cut and distinct. Altogether the production is of a high order and the views and music were thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present. The presentation, which passed of without the semblance of a hitch notwithstanding the unfavorable weather conditions, was given under the personal supervision and direction of Mr. Claude Pownall, of the Gem Theatre, who has the control of the Pictures for this district. The fine organ music by Mr. A. C. Hannahson, organist of St Andrew's Church, Kitchene was a keenly appreciated feature of the entertainment. Mr. Hannahson, whose ability as an organist is well-known to the people of Orangeville, was brought here specially for the evening.

ROSY CHEEKED HEALTHY WOMEN

Know the Full Value of Rich, Red Blood.

Robust, healthy, red-cheeked women seldom worry. Their condition of mind and body is such that they can rise above the causes that bring melancholy and brooding. It is the woman with weak, watery blood who is thrown into nervous unrest by little annoyances that grow so great in the imagination that it seems as if she must scream to relieve her feelings.

A women's health quickly fails her when her blood becomes thin and weak. The stomach is disordered and all appetite vanishes. The nerves lose their strength and so sleep is not regular and does not refresh the body. A state of weakness arises that increases gradully and gives further cause for worry. Good blood is necessary to every woman who has grown pale and weak, and in this condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found of great benefit, because they enrich and purify the blood. Women who are anaemic, suffer from indigestion, palpitation, headaches and nervous attacks will find new strength through a fair use of these pills. Among the women who have proved the value of this medicine is Mrs. Enos Levy, Hackett's Cove, N.S., who says: "About two years ago I began to fail in health and was very weak. My constitution was all run down, and my blood was weak and watery, as was manifest every month. I had heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and what they would do for the blood, and being in such a low condition I decided to try them. By the time I had finished the fourth box I found to my great delight that I was a great deal stronger, and my blood a deep red color. I have a lot of work to do besides taking care of my little one, and with my good health I enjoy it, and I can truthfully say I owe this condition to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained through any medicine dealer, or may be had by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AN ARBITRATION

An arbitration case arising out of some differences over a farm mortgage attracted quite a number of people to the Court House on Friday afternoon. J. H. Hulse, of Orangeville, held three mortgages on lot 32, con. 11, Erin township, amounting altogether to something like $6,000. Edward Henderson, the former owner of the property, claimed the right to redeem the mortgages and in December last had his solicitor write to Mr. Hulse tendering the sum of $6,000 in full payment, Mr. Hulse, however, after giving credit for the rents and profits for the last six years, estimated that this was not sufficient to cover his claim against the property and declined to accept the offer. Instead of going to law the parties took the sensible course of agreeing to submit their differences to arbitration and to abide by the award of the arbitrators. After hearing some evidence on Friday, the arbitrators, Judge Fisher, H. Lacey, of Hillsburg, and Jas. H. Simpson, Treasurer of East Garafraxa township, made an award allowing Mr. Hulse the sum of $6,000 and interest from December 12th., 1921, each of the parties to pay his own costs. A. A. Hughson appeared for Mr. Hulse and C. R. McKeown for Mr. Henderson.

ST. ANDREW'S Y. P. S.

Despite the many counter attractions there was an excellent attendance at the regular weekly meeting of this Society on Monday night. It was Missionary night and the programme was devoted to a study of Japan. The Sunday School room, in which the meeting was held, was prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns, parsols, fans and flowers. Following the business of the evening, Miss Jean Currie gave an interesting sketch of the manners and customs of the Japanese people. This was followed by a piano duet by Nan Marshall and Aileen Daniels. Mrs. Mahaffy gave an interesting and informing Talk on the people of Japan, their mode of living and the general condition of the country. Following this three girls gave a chorus in Japanese costume. At the close of the programme a delicious Japanese tea was served to all present by a number of little girls in Japanese costume.

Watch for announcement of next week's meeting. A most interesting debate is in course of preparation.

ORANGEVILLE'S BIGGEST STORE

OWENS—DENTON

A February wedding of interest was quietly solemnized on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, when Miss Helen Mary Denton, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Denton, 517 Fifth avenue, north, became the bride of Mr. Walter Clark Owens, of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Owens, of Manitou, Man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Dix in the presence of the immediate relatives.

The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father. She was smartly gowned in navy Canton crepe with deep silk fringe trimming of navy and tomato shades and wore a becoming small hat of silk braid, also in tomato.

For the buffet luncheon which followed the ceremony, the honors were done by Mrs. F. R. MacMillan, the bride's aunt, and Mrs. W. G. Campbell, sister of the bride. The pretty table was artistically done in daffodils and tulle with softly-shaded candles.

Mr. and Mrs. Owens left at five o'clock for Hot Springs, Arkansas, where they will spend a month or six weeks.

The bride has taken an active interest in musical affairs in Saskatoon as a member of the Orpheus Society and the Women's Musical Club, and has been associated with the Fitzgerald chapter, Daughters of the Empire, in patriotic work for some time.—Saskatoon Daily Star, February 20th.

CALEDON

Last Friday evening at lot 12, 3rd line, east, Caledon, Mr. Frank Mason celebrated his birthday by giving a party to a few select friends. There was a sound of revelry by night and although Belgium's famous capital was not gathered there, a goodly gathering of Caledon's foremost farmers were present, which was more to the point. During the evening a presentation was made by Mr. George Giles, after a short, witty adress by Mr. Alex. McLeish. Francis made a suitable response. Mr. Robert Campbell brought down the house with a step dance executed with his usual skill. An excellent lunch was provided by the genial host and his lieutenant, Mr. Stanley Child. All went merry as a marriage bell until three o'clock when the band played "God Save the King" and everybody went home feeling that it had been an evening well spent. Special thanks are due to the ladies for the excellent cakes which they provided.

JAMES BRETT

James Brett, a highly respected resident of Vespra, died in the R. V. Hospital, Thursday morning, following an attack of heart failure which seized him the previous afternoon. Deceased was 65 years of age and was born in Dufferin County, near Orangeville. For the last twenty years he had lived on con. 7, Vespra. Mrs. Brett died in 1918. Two sons and three daughters survive, viz., J. Victor Brett, of Barrie, Robert Brett, Mrs. Christopher Larkin, Mrs. Chas. Feavers and Miss Evelyn Brett, all of Toronto. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon, from W. D. Minnikin's undertaking establishment to Barrie Union Cemetery, the services being in charge of Rev. J. A. Leece, of Minesing. Six neighbors of the deceased acted as pall-bearers. These were Norman Pratt, C. M. Hickling, Truman Thompson, Edgar Rennick, Lot Munro and Austin Colpitts.—Barrie Examiner.

MRS. DAVID WARD

Mrs. David Ward, an old and highly respected resident of Adjala and later of Tottenham, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. J. Rowley, of Connor, on Thursday, February 9th., in her 77th year. She had been bedfast for sixteen weeks prior to her demise and during her long illness was tended and cared for by her daughter with true filial devotion. Deceased, whose maiden name was Ellen Totten, was a daughter of the late Thomas and Eliza Totten. Her parents were both born in Ireland, but came to Canada shortly after their marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Ward had a long and happy married life together and had the rare pleasure of celebrating their golden wedding some four years ago. Two years ago the union was sundered by the death of the husband. The late Mrs. Ward was a member of the Anglican church, a sincere Christian woman and a kindly, sympathetic neighbor, who enjoyed the goodwill and respect of the community in which her life was spent. She is mourned by a family of three sons and two daughters, namely, Joseph and David S. Ward and Mrs. Rowley, of Adjala, John Ward, of Caledon East, and Mrs. Hugh McGill, of Toronto. Mr. David Totten, of Caledon, is a brother and the only surviving member of the famliy. There was a large attendance at the funeral, which was held to St. John's Church cemetery, Mono, on Sunday afternoon, February 12th. Revs. J. A. Matheson and D. G. Atkinson were the officiating ministers. The pallbearers were Messrs Geo. White, Geo. Adair, John Tortington, Alex. Ward, Francis Rolley and James Irwin. There were a number of beautiful floral tributes.

MRS. MARGARET M'KENNEY

Orangeville lost another old and highly respected citizen last week in the person of Mrs. Margaret McKenney, who passed away at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ellison, Wellington St., on Monday, February 20th., after an illness of about four months duration. Deceased bore her illness with true Christian fortitude and awaited the end with patience and trusting submission to the will of her Master. Everything humanly possible was done to make her comfortable and happy during her last hours on earth. Deceased was a daughter of the late James Graham, one of Orangeville's first residents, and had lived here all her life. She was 81 years of age and her husband had died a number of years ago. Her loss is mourned by one daughter, Mrs. Ellison, and three sons, John J., George and Walter McKenney, all living in Toronto. John Graham, Alliston, James Graham, Orangeville, are brothers and Mrs. Thomas Clegg, of Toronto, is the only sister. The funeral was held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellison to Greenwood cemetery on Wednesday afternoon, February 22nd. Mrs. McKenney was a devoted member of St. Andrew's Church and Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, the family pastor, had charge of the funeral services.

MRS. THOS. CARR

The funeral of the late Mrs. Carr, whose death was reported last week, took place on Tuesday afternoon, February 14th, and though the weather was very cold and stormy, a large number of friends gathered to pay the parted. After a short service at last tribute of respect to the de- the house, conducted by Rev. Mr. Kendell, the remains were conveyed to their last resting place in the Dundalk cemetery and interred beside those of her husband, whose decease had taken place in 1894, twenty-eight years before. A memorial service was held in Ventry Church on Sunday last, when Rev. Mr. Kendell paid many beautiful tributes to the life and work of this "mother in Israel," as he was pleased to call her. The text chosen for his address was Phil. 1:21-23, "For Me to Live is Christ, and To Die is Gain," etc.

Mrs. Carr's life was an open volume and needs no rehearsal here. She was always an outstanding leader in the woman's church organizations, having been president of the Women's Missionary Society, without intermission, for some twenty-six years, and her daily work and conversation showed that she practised what she preached.

The deceased was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1835, and spent her early life in Harwick. She emigrated to Canada in 1862 and lived in the vicinity of Fergus, Ontario. She was married to Mr. Thomas Carr in 1866 and moved to Proton in 1881, locating on the farm now owned by Mr. J. H. Clark, on the 12th con.

In addition to the members of the home, her eldest daughter, Mrs. N. D. Scott and daughter, Ella, of Cayley, Alberta, and her niece, Miss E. S. Davidson, of Peterboro, were at her bedside when she passed away. The other friends from a distance, who attended the funeral were: Mr. James Lindsay, of Fergus; and Mrs. J. W. Carr, of Owen Sound.

The pall bearers were four elders of the congregation, Messrs William and John Scott, (nephews), James and Thomas Fraser and two other nephews, Messrs Robert Scott and James Lindsay.

Among the many beautiful floral tributes were: a spray from the W. M. S., of the congregation; and a pillow from the Alton and North Erin Presbyterian Churches.

Those left to mourn the loss of a much loved and respected mother are four daughters, Mrs N. D. Scott, of Cayley, Alberta; Mrs. Donald Sinclair, Wiltshire and Mrs. R. S. Fraser, of Ventry, and two sons, William Carr, of Gore Bay, Ont., and Rev. W. N. Carr, of Alton. Another son, John W., died in Owen Sound eight years ago.—Dundalk Herald.

LOST INFANT DAUGHTER.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Calbeck, lot 13, Centre Road, Mono, have the sympathy of the neighborhood in the death of their infant daughter, Helen Irene, aged 6 months, who succumbed on February 7th after a short illness from spinal meningitis. The burial took place at Burns' Church cemetery, Mono Centre, on the following day, Rev. Wm. Coutts, of Camilla, conducting the service. The little one is mourned by her parents, two brothers and a sister.

DR. W. T. WALLACE

Former friends here learned with deep sorrow of the death of Dr. W. T. Wallace, of Kitchener, who was found dead in bed in his home in Waterloo about seven o'clock on Sunday morning. Deceased had been quite ill a couple of weeks ago with heart trouble, but was making an excellent recovery and was feeling quite well on Saturday. He is thought to have died suddenly sometime during the night. The deceased, who was 45 years of age, was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wallace, of Orangeville, and was born on lot 5, Prince of Wales Road, Mono. He received his High School education here. Dr Wallace had been in Kitchener for upwards of fifteen years and conducted branch offices in Waterloo and Guelph. He was one of the best known physicians in Western Ontario and had been eminently successful in the practice of his profession. He was a brother of Mrs. T. J. Brett of Mono, and has three other married sisters. His death is mourned by a widow and two children. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, the funeral taking place from the C.P.R. Station to the Forest Lawn cemetery yesterday morning. Rev. G. W. Lynd, of Laurel, took the service at the grave.

HE HAS NO MORE PAINS IN THE BACK

NOW SINGS THE PRAISES OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Saskatchewan Man Who Has Found New Health and Gained Twenty Pounds in Weight Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Wakaw, Sask., Feb. 27th., 1922. (Special)—Simon Gawluk, a well-known and respected resident here, is a sworn friend of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He has tried them and found them good.

"I am more than thankful that I was led to use Dodd's Kidney Pills Mr. Gawluk states. "I had backache and after using Dodd's Kidney Pills I grew much stronger and I gained twenty pounds in weight.

"Now I am very thankful to say I have no more backache and I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to everyone."

That Mr. Gawluk's trouble came from the kidneys is evidenced by the relief he got from Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are purely and simply a Kidney remedy. They heal and strengthen the kidneys and put them in shape to strain all the impurities out of the blood. Sound kidneys mean pure blood. Pure blood means good health.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make sound kidneys.

PECULIAR POLICE COURT CASE

A rather peculiar case was disposed of in the Guelph police court recently when Orval Baird was fined $2 and costs on a charge of disorderly conduct in the Regent Theatre. The evidence given by the police was to the effect that while the band was playing the National Anthem at the close of the concert on Sunday night last Baird did not remove his hat and refused to do so when requested, whereupon the constable took it off for him and handed it to him. His claim was that he did not consider he was inside of the theatre as he was on the outside of the curtain. He was informed by the magistrate that his offence was not that he didn't take off his hat while the National Anthem was being played, as it was that he did not do as the constable told him. He was convicted and fined $2 and costs. Magistrate Watt also took occasion to draw the attention of the public to the fact that, under the provisions of the Act, it is necessary to give the National Anthem at the close of all public performances instead of at the opening, as was the general custom in the city.

A CALEDON PRESENTATION

The friends and neighbors of Mr. Harold Moffatt gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Coles, Second Line, east, Caledon, on Thursday evening last to say good bye to this popular young man prior to his departure for the West. The evening was happily spent in dancing, card playing and other amusements. Splendid music was provided. After lunch Mr. S. L. Island was asked to take the chair and the following appreciative address was read by Mr. George Speers:—

Caledon, Feb. 23rd., 1922.

Mr. Harold Moffatt,
Caledon, Ont.

Dear Friend,—

It was with regret that we learned of your decision to remove from amongst us. We believe that the step you are about to take has received your careful consideration, and, while we would gladly have you decide otherwise, we will admit that it is your judgment that should be considered.

We feel, however, that we cannot allow you to take your departure without giving you some slight expression of the high esteem in which you are held in this locality, which has been your home for the last few years. We have always found you kind and obliging and you will long be held in affectionate remembrance for your many acts of usefulness. You will be missed at our social gatherings as a musician, who was always obliging and generous.

Permit us, Mr. Moffatt, to present you with this set of military brushes. We ask you to accept the gift, not because of its value, but as a token of the affection in which we shall ever hold you. We trust that you will recall with pleasure the time you spent here in Caledon and that you will never cease to entertain a kindly regard for the many friends you are now parting from.

Wherever your future lot may be cast we trust that you will enjoy the company of a good wife, health, wealth and prosperity.

Signed on behalf of your friends
Malcolm Faulkner
George Speers

The presentation was made by Miss Mary Faulkner. It was toward morning when the party broke up and a good time was spent by everybody. Before departing to their respective homes all joined with great heartiness in singing "He's a Jolly, Good Fellow." Mr. Moffatt will reside near Oakland, Alta.

ALTON

The Methodist people of Alton intend holding their annual congregational meeting and supper on Friday evening, March 10th., when all the members and adherents are invited to be present.

The Epworth League Literary and Social programme last Monday evening was enjoyed by all present. For the devotional exercises and literary part of the programme, Mr. George Presley, the President, occupied the chair. After spending a very pleasant time in various games lunch was served. Everybody reports a very pleasant evening.

The Tuxis Boys and Trail Rangers are having a Bun, Bean and Weiner Supper on Friday evening of this week.

We desire to express our sympathy for the Meek family and especially for Miss Agnes, who had the misfortune to have her leg broken recently in an accident. Our sympathy also goes out to the others, who are suffering from injuries and severe nervous shock.

THE MAPLES

In the Community Hall on Wednesday night of last week the young people of this place presented their Play "Followed by Fate" before an appreciative audience. The amateurs did well in their initial performance—so well, indeed, that there have been a number of demands for a repeat performance. This will be given in the Community Hall on Tuesday night, March 7th, and should attract another large audience.

NONE THE WISER

A half tipsy artisan got into a King Street car and sat down beside a west end clergyman, who is known for his immaculateness in dress. As the car lurched along, it would throw the inebriate against the minister from time to time to the latter's disgust. At last he arose, preferring a strap to the annoyance caused by his neighbor. As the conductor passed through the car, he asked rather tartly

"Do you allow drunken men in the car?"

"Sure, sit down, sorr," said the man with the fare box, who was an Irishman, in a stage whisper. "an' nobody'll be any the wiser."

Home Accidents

Seldom does a day pass without someone in your family happening an accident

Housework means no end of bruises and knocks. Ironing time brings its burns, cooking often results in cuts, burns and scalds, while the children are "always in the wars." Consequently, every wise mother keeps a box of Zam-Buk close handy.

For the sprained ankle or wrist, the cut finger or bruised forehead, the burn or scald, antiseptic Zam-Buk is the safe ideal first-aid. Zam-Buk ends smarting pain and soreness almost instantly. It kills disease germs, cleanses the broken tissues, and grows fine new skin.

Zam-Buk is a pure highly-refined balm, of Nature's herbal oils and essences. Its timely use has averted many a festered hand, poisoned knee or crippled leg, common results of haphazard treatment with impure fatty ointments and salves.

There's no truer saying than that "Daily Mishaps Make Zam-Buk a Daily Need."

SAVE LIFE ON THE DESERT

Above the "Traveler's Tree" and the "Water-Barrel Cactus" the Watermelon Takes Rank.

One reads about the "traveler's tree," the "water-barrel cactus" and other desert plants that yield stores of water for thirsty wayfarers, but the watermelon is the best and most satisfactory of them all. In Bechuanaland, South Africa, where it grows wild, it furnishes drink for both man and beast.

Nobody knows when this water-storing vine was first cultivated, but it must have been very long ago, for it was grown in Egypt and southern Asia in earliest historic times and the peoples of southern Europe were well acquainted with the watermelon before Christ was born.

The Arabs, the Phoenicians and the Egyptians explored South Africa in very ancient days, seeking gold, slaves and other things of value, and doubtless the watermelon was one of the plants they thought worth carrying home.

The wild watermelon is of no great size. In this respect it has been developed by cultivation; and if more attention had been paid to making it sweeter and better flavored, it would be today far more excellent. Efforts in this direction, however, have recently been undertaken by the plant breeders.

Solitude.

The truth is that solitude is not an affair of being physically alone. There is a solitude, immense and remote, that can be ours in the midst of noisy multitude, chattering roomful, a world in tumult, or an age of hate. It is secret withdrawal into the silent places of our own minds profound and aloof, without ever violating the courtesies of daily intercourse; it is the companionship with the finest minds and spirits of the ages, obtained through great books and expressed in high conduct.

Such is the only solitude that never turns sour; such the only solitude on which nothing can intrude.—"Uncle Dudley," in Boston Globe.

Afternoon and Evening.

The New Century dictionary and encyclopedia defines afternoon as that part of day which extends from noon to evening; and evening as the time from sunset until darkness; in common usage the latter part of the afternoon and the earlier part of the night before bedtime. However, under definition three it declares evening to be the time between noon and darkness, including afternoon and twilight, as in England and southern United States. It is, therefore, probable that the Southern custom of so designating this portion of the day has come to them from their English ancestors.

CALEDON FARM TROUBLE

J. Pearson, Solicitor, Sues Former Farm Manager for $3,500

Mr. Justice Middleton is trying the suit of James Pearson, a Toronto solicitor, against G. O. Black, of Albion Township, for $3,500 damages for alleged negligence in operating the plaintiff's 700-acre farm in Caledon Township, says Wednesday's Telegram. The plaintiff avers that he hired the defendant, who, he alleges, represented himself as an expert farmer, and his son at $200 a month, with house, fuel and milk, who in addition to cultivating the farm were to break up new land, do draining, repair fences and buildings, and attend to the breeding of Shorthorn cattle. He claims that they wasted material, cut down trees and injured the orchard, sold eggs and poultry, and as a result of their negligence allowed his mares, "Junia," "Caledon Maid" and "Ingleside," to be hurt.

The defendant denies negligence. He claims that he and his son were hired at $100 per month, which he calls a very moderate wage, and that they carried out the instructions of the plaintiff, so far as the weather would permit. Mrs. Black, it is alleged, was given permission to keep hens and it was her poultry and eggs which went to market. He counterclaims for $738 for wages and money spent in operating the farm.

5000 FACTS ABOUT CANADA

The 1922 edition of the popular little Cyclopedia of the Dominion—"5000 Facts About Canada"—will be warmly welcomed by the public, which regards it as an indispensable booklet, "as full of meat as a coconut," as one wittily expressed it. Its compiler, Frank Yeigh, is widely known as an authority on everything Canadian, and it is a marvel and model of condensation, with a fact in a sentence. The new issue is enlarged and improved, and its contents will prove a revelation of the growth of the country, not only in a single year, but in a five or ten year period. Over 50 chapters—ranging alphabetically from Agriculture to Yukon—provide a bird's-eye view of the Dominion from every angle. No better advertisement of the country could be had, and many use it in that way to enlighten the ignorant as to the wealth, prosperity and advantages of this Britian of the West. Copies may be had from leading newsdealers or by sending 30 cents to the Canadian Facts Publishing Co., 588 Huron Street, Toronto.

Our Export Problems

IN two years since the signing of the armistice there has been more money spent by Canadian manufacturers in endeavoring to develop export trade than in any ten years previous to the war. Not only has more money been spent, but more people have been engaged. Where there were probably between two hundred and three hundred manufacturers doing considerable amounts of export trade before the war, this figure will now easily exceed one thousand.

There have been many export organizations formed to facilitate trade between Canada and various other countries. Many branches of Canadian banks have also been established in foreign countries to assist in developing trade, "and the banks would not pursue this policy if they were not assured that the manufacturers of Canada were putting forth great efforts to maintain the trade for the future," said Mr. Marshall. "Increased Canadian shipping facilities granted by the Canadian Government Merchant Marine and private companies are another voucher for the earnestness of Canadian manufacturers in export trade.

The basis for all good export trade is the ability of the customer to pay. In large areas throughout the world to-day many business firms have neither the cash to finance transactions nor the requisite credit to enable the seller to assist in financing. And in many cases where the cash is available the seriously adverse exchange rates put a normal Canadian price beyond the economic limits on which resales can be made in the importing country. Immediately after the armistice there were great essential requirements that had to be fulfilled almost regardless of price. Many of these transactions were conducted during the period when exchange was pegged, and were, therefore, on a purely fictitious level exchange basis which temporarily facilitated business between Canada and Europe.

A comparison of the export records of the six months ending September 30, 1919, and the same period in 1920 shows that if the natural diminution of export to Great Britain is omitted, Canada's export trade to other parts of the British Empire has increased in the 1920 six months' period by $23,000,000, the greatest increases being noted in British West Indies, British South Africa, New Zealand, Australia, Hong Kong and Newfoundland, and the total Canadian trade with these countries is largely in manufactured goods.

In trade with foreign countries, France omitted, an increase of exports amounting to $77,000,000 for the six months ending September, 1920, over the same period in 1919 is shown. The principal increases occurred in trade with Argentine, Belgium, China, Cuba, what was formerly German Africa, United States, Greece, Italy, Norway, Spain and Sweden. Even assuming that all our increased exports to the United States were raw materials or foodstuffs, a fine balance of this increase is left to represent manufactured goods entering the other countries named.

The proportions of manufactured goods forming the exportations of Canada has steadily risen. In 1880 the proportion was only 5 per cent. of manufactured goods to the total volume of exports. In 1890 the proportion of manufactured goods was 7 per cent. In 1910 it had increased to 13 per cent., in 1916 to 22 per cent. and in 1919 to 48 per cent. This analysis cannot yet be made for 1920, but taking all things into consideration, it is safe to say that Canadian manufacturers need not be ashamed of the record that the figures will show. The record given here effectually disposes of the charge that Canadian manufacturers have not been diligent in seeking export trade.

One source, and possibly the only source, for better conditions and better economic relationship is the setting up of some administrative organization which can superintend credit operations based on bonds issued by individual countries now in financial straits covering the national assets which undoubtedly exist in each. This may be the only means of bringing goods and consumers together with anything like speed. Otherwise, in many of the countries, there will be a long siege of destitution and want until they can straighten things out on a national basis. The longer this process takes, the more adversely it will affect nations more happily placed.

It seems more or less incongruous that manufacturers should be blamed for not selling goods to Russia, Poland, Czecho-Slovakia, the Serb-Croat-Slovene States and some other countries when in those very places millions of people are starving and the Canadian and American agricultural interests are having difficulty in finding a market for their wheat and other foodstuffs. If it is as simple a matter to develop export trade in manufactured goods with these countries and get payment for them, as some critics allege, surely it should be far easier to find abundant markets for foodstuffs among the starving nations in Middle Europe, yet the export figures do not reveal any considerable movement of foodstuffs from Canada to those countries.

Coincidence's Curious Chain.

At Ramsgate, N.B., the two daughters of J. D. Smith died on the same day. They were twins and were brides at a double wedding twelve years ago.

Sheep.

Canada has 3,500,000 sheep; Australia, 80,000,000; United States, 40,000,000; Britain, 27,000,000.

Got No Sleep

But now the neuritis has gone, the pains have ceased, the nervous system is restored and the writer of this letter pays a grateful tribute to the medicine which made him well.

Mr. John Woodward, P.T.O., Lucan, Ont., writes:

"It gives me much pleasure to recommend Dr. Chase's medicines, especially the Nerve Food. I was a sufferer from neuritis for several years, and tried all kinds of remedies, yet never seemed to get any better. At last my nerves and whole system seemed to give way through not being able to get any rest or sleep at nights for pain, which mostly used to take me in all parts of the limbs and feet. My nerves would twitch till my whole body would seem to jerk right up as I lay in bed. Almost at the point of despair, I decided I would get Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which I did, and after taking twenty boxes I believe myself almost normal again. I also keep a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills on hand, and for the past year I seem to enjoy my usual health."

NEVER MIND THE LAMBS

Somewhere we have read of a lad who after being taught the lesson of the ninety and nine went home and told his father that he wanted to "be in the fold," he wanted to become a Christian. "Oh, you are too young," was his father's only answer. At dusk a storm was approaching, and the father sent the boy out to put the sheep into the fold. "Did you get them all in safely?" the father asked when he returned. "I put all the old sheep in." You don't mean that you left the lambs out, do you?" "Why, of course, father; I thought they were too young." "You are right," then answered the father. "You can only be safe from the storms of temptation by being in the fold of the Good Shepherd, and you cannot enter too young."

It is not as general as it used to be, at any rate it seems so, for child membership in the church to be ignored or disparaged. But even yet there are all too many parents who never speak to their children of coming into church membership. They leave them out of the fold; they provide only for the old sheep.

ODE TO LORD DUFFERIN HOSPITAL

(Intended for last week.)

Gratitude prompted the following poetic effusion. We are under oath not to reveal whether the author, who happens to be of the male persuasion, is married or single.

The staff of this good Hospital
Is second unto none
Of such useful institutions
As exist beneath the sun.

If you are sick, or ailing,
Or have a broken bone,
They'll fix you up in real, good shape
Before they send you home.

They'll bathe you and they'll rub your back
With alcohol so clear,
And feed you on the choicest food,
That comes from far and near.

The girls there are attentive,
They surely treat you well,
And if you do need anything,
Just simply ding the bell.

A charming nurse will then appear,
In time so double-quick,
And look so pleasant at you,
That you'll quite forget you're sick

The nurses, they are faithful,
And conscientious too;
And will not leave their duty
Till everything is through.

To say that they are handsome,
Is just cutting it by half;
They're the truly finest lot of girls,
That ever graced a staff.

Patient.

Nearly Insane From Leg Ulcers

She tells of suffering and brief story of her relief.

Read these two letters from Sarah D. Lawrance of Roebuck, Ontario. "I can't sleep at night from her ulcers. I am in pain most of the time. I have doctored but no use. A lady from Winnipeg says that D. D. D. cured her of a bad case of eczema. That her sores are all healed. Can you help me?"

Now a few words from a later letter. "I have used D. D. D. as directed, and my leg is completely well."

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of my dear husband, W. J. Baxter, who died on February 27th., 1921, in his 40th year.

It's lonesome here without you, dear,
And sad, the weary way;
The world is not the same to me,
Since you were called away.

What would I give to clasp your hand,
Your dear face to see;
To hear your voice and see your smile,
That meant so much to me.

One year has passed since that sad day
God called the one I loved away.
Forget him, no, I never will,
For in my heart he liveth still,

The blow was great, the loss severe,
And little thought his death so near;
And only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.

Take him in Thine arms, dear Lord,
And ever let him be
A messenger of love
Between my heart and Thee.

Sadly missed by Wife.

IN MEMORIAM.

COULTER—In loving memory of Albert E. Coulter, who passed away March 3rd, 1920.

Rapid are swift the moments glide,
Two years to-day since dear Albert died.
He suffered here and now he's blest
With perfect peace and heavenly rest.

In thought we see his dear, sweet face,
And kiss his tender brow,
But in our aching hearts we know
We have no Albert now.

We loved him, yes, no tongue can tell
How deep, how dearly, and now well,
Christ loved him too and thought it best
To take him home with Him to rest.

The heavenly gates were open wide,
A loving voice said, "Come,"
And with farewells unspoken
He gently entered home.

Sadly missed by Wife, Mother, Sister and Brothers.

Saviour in Thy precious keeping,
We leave our darling daddy sleeping.

James and Erskine.

In loving memory of my dear father, William Bower, who entered into rest March 4th., 1921.

His memory is as dear to day
As at the hour he passed away,
When days are dark and friends are few,
Dear father, how we long for you.
Sleep on, dear father, thy labor is o'er,
Thy willing hands will toil no more.
He took you home, He thought it best
To give you everlasting rest.

Sadly missed by daughter, Mrs. T. G. Raburn.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and since the death of our mother, the late Mrs. George McKenney.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear father, William McCabe, who passed away on February 19th., 1918.

Four years have passed and gone,
Since our dear father was taken away;
How well do we remember
That sad and weary day.

Dear is that spot where father is laid,
Sweet is the memory that never will fade;
Fond hopes we cherish that some day we will meet,
All kneeling together at Jesus' feet.

The Family.

In loving memory of our dear father, W. J. Baxter, who died on February 27th., 1921, in his 40th year.

The silent grief that's in the soul,
No human eye can trace,
For many an aching heart is hid
Behind a smiling face.

And so we shed a silent tear,
And breathe a sigh of deep regret,
For you, dear father, we will remember,
If all the world forget.

Sadly missed by Marguerite and Willie.

KEEP LITTLE ONES WELL IN WINTER

Winter is a dangerous season for the little ones. The days are so changeable—one day bright, the next cold and stormy, that the mother is afraid to take the children out for the fresh air and exercise they need so much. In consequence they are often cooped up in overheated, badly ventilated rooms and are soon seized with colds or grippe. What is needed to keep the little ones well is Baby's Own Tablets. They will regulate the stomach and bowels and drive out colds, and by their use the baby will be able to get over the winter season in perfect safety. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

On the evening of Monday, March 14th., a bountiful Supper will be served in the basement of the church and will be followed by an entertainment. Rev. E. R. Young, H. Harper and John Locke, ex-pastors, have promised to be present and give addresses. Music will be furnished by Mr. Percy Harding, E. A. Warren, of Toronto, and local talent. Admission to Tea and Entertainment will be 50c.

BOY SCOUTS CONCERT

A capacity house attended the Orangeville Boy Scouts Concert in the Opera House on Friday night. The boys fairly outdid themselves this time and the programme they presented was universally voted the best yet. Space will not permit of an extended report of the many excellent features of the entertainment, but mention should be made of the splendid singing of Master Morley McLean and the side-splitting performance of the Pickannies, with little "Bunny" Bethley in the star role. Gordon Adamson gave a clever impersonation of a darkey janitor, who was always overworked yet never seemed to be doing anything. The Morse signalling under the direction of Mr. Auric Aiken was an instructive feature of the programme and was followed with the keenest interest. The choruses and drills by the Scouts were given with spirit and vigor. The everyday practice of the motto of the Scouts and the training the boys receive under the direction of the Scoutmaster, the Rev. T. H. Stewart, is undoubtedly having a most wholesome influence on the boy life of the town. The size and enthusiasm of Friday night's audience furnished convincing evidence that the people of Orangeville value and appreciate the importance of the Scout movement.

A repeat performance was given on Monday night and attracted another audience of perhaps three hundred people.

MEETINGS IN OPERA HOUSE

As intimated in last week's Banner Miss Agnes McPhail, M. P. for Southeast Grey, will address public meetings in the Orangeville Opera House to-day (Thursday) afternoon and evening. The afternoon meeting will begin at 2 o'clock and the evening meeting will begin at 8 o'clock. Mr. J. M. McNaughton, County U. F. O. Director, will occupy the chair at both meetings. In addition to Miss McPhail, W. A. Amos, Vice-President of the U. F. O., R. J. Woods, M. P., T. K. Slack, M. L. A., and others will address the meetings.

An Island Bewitched.

Artists who spent the summer on Iona, "St. Columba's Island of Enchantment," painting, say that nowhere else in the world is there such coloration.

The little island of Iona belongs to the select company of the world's great places of pilgrimage. It is akin to Delphi and Mecca and Lourdes and Stratford and Oberammergau: and St. Columba himself foretold that it would be so, nearly fourteen centuries ago—

"Unto this place, small and mean though it be, great homage shall yet be paid, not only by the kings and peoples of the Scots, but by rulers of barbarous and distant nations with their people. Thy saints also, of other churches, shall regard it with no common reverence."

St. Columba's prophecy is coming true; there is an immense revival of interest in the island, and with every year those who wish to visit it will become more numerous. It is commonly said that the island is bewitched and no one can stay on it for a few days without falling under its spell.

The Case Stated.

"The young heiress is taking a course of domestic science. And yet with all her money she doesn't have to be a good breadmaker."

"No, she doesn't have to, but she kneads to be."

Started Wrong.

"Your daughter, Mrs. Comeup, has a cryptic way of talking."

"I guess that is because she was tongue-tied when she was little."—Baltimore American.

WHITTINGTON

Hello, Mr. Editor, Whittington is again on the map.

Wood cutting is the order of the day around our little burg just now.

We hope it will not be long until we hear the little Fords humming again.

We were glad to note how well the people turned out to church on Sunday evening. Surely the young girls of Whittington will be able to discern all the good qualities and bad faults of the young men after listening to Mr. Lynd's splendid sermon on Sunday night. We would like to know when Mr. Lynd is going to speak on the other side of the subject—the faults the young men should look for in the young women.

The League will meet on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock sharp. We would like all the young people to attend. None of the ladies were out last week on account of the bad weather.

Mr. James White spent last week in the city.

Miss Lorna Cruikshank spent the week-end under the parental roof.

Miss Jessie Farnell spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Meade Cruikshank, of Orangeville.

Miss Muriel Hughson is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Lee Johnston.

Miss Ruby White, of Orangeville, spent the week-end with Miss Edith Jackson.

The young people of The Maples are putting on their Play, "Followed by Fate," here some time soon.

The young people of this burg are talking about getting up a Play. Full particulars later on.

What we would like to know:

If H. C. has his new house finished yet and when he is going to cage the bird?

Why J. W. feels so lonely?

If G. P. feels as lonesome this week?

What the Reeve thinks he should do about the Third Line this spring?

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Cruikshank celebrated their silver wedding last week.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The members of the I. O. D. E. are very grateful to all who assisted with the Homemade Baking Sale in Miss Johnston's Rooms on Saturday afternoon. The tidy sum of $28.00 was realized for the Linen Fund.

It is open to any person, at any time, to augment the Hospital Linen Fund by sending contributions to Mrs. D. A. Hogg, Mill St., or to Miss Hewat, Second St. Gifts for this purpose are always acceptable and will be thankfully received.

Through the generosity of Mrs. J. W. Aiken, West Broadway, a table cloth has been added to the supply of hospital linen. Mrs. Aiken has our best thanks for her timely gift.

The patients, especially the younger ones, derive a great deal of enjoyment from the Victrola generously donated by the Great War Veterans. Records would make a welcome gift at any time.

Thanks are due to Mrs. W. C. Hopkins and Mrs. McGrath for fruit and to Mrs. O. Potter, of Mono Mills, for fruit and eggs.

Old cotton, linen or shaker goods are still badly needed for the hospital.

The regular monthly meeting of the I. O. D. E. will be held at the home of Miss N. Hewat, Second St., on Friday, March 10th., at 3.30 p.m.

HOCKEY TO-NIGHT

Clyde Gordon, of lacrosse fame, is bringing his Grand Valley bunch of puck chasers to town to-night (Thursday) to give the locals a return game. They say that Gordon has a nifty bunch of hockey players and Bert Booth's outfit will have to go the limit to miss the small end of the score. Puck faced at 8 o'clock sharp. Admission, 15c. Proceeds in aid of the civic swimming pool.

A Weekly Talk with Home
by Long Distance

"WHY don't you talk home by Long Distance telephone?" said Mr. Wyndham-King, Banker, to his secretary; "Have a good talk with your mother occasionally; it will do you good."

The young woman, an invaluable aid to the busy banker, had not been at her best for some time, and her work was suffering.

"I never thought of telephoning," she confessed when the suggestion was made, "I'll surely try it!"

She was simply homesick; her employer had guessed right!

Those weekly talks with her home have made a wonderful difference in the girl's life. Her health, her work, her general outlook on life have all reflected the change.

Long Distance did it! It is doing the same thing for hundreds by bridging the gulf between them and far-away home and friends. Station-to-Station service with low Evening and Night rates has brought Long Distance within the reach of everyone.

After 8.30 P.M. Station-to-Station rates are about half the day rate. At midnight they become about one-quarter the day rate.

THE HORRORS OF INDIGESTION
Relieved by "Fruit-a-tives" the Fruit Medicine

Indigestion, Weak Digestion or partial digestion of food, is one of the most serious of present-day complaints—because it is responsible for many serious troubles.

Those who suffer with Indigestion, almost invariably are troubled with Rheumatism, Palpitation of the Heart, Sleeplessness and excessive Nervousness.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always relieve Indigestion because these tablets strengthen the stomach muscles, increase the flow of the digestive juices and correct Constipation, which usually accompanies Indigestion.

50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

ASK HIM NOW

One day last week a gentleman at Rock Mills dicovered some tracks in the snow near a burrow, which he decided were made by a skunk. With dreams of securing the nucleus for a fur farm he procured tools and began excavating along the line of the burrow. After laboring for some time the burrow apparently went off at an angle and he reached in his hand to see which direction it took, when something grabbed hold of his hand and hung on like a British bulldog. He yanked his hand out of the hole and brought with it—a poor little sleepy groundhog. Ask Jimmy Porteous when he intends to start his skunk farm. But don't do so after his lacerated hand gets better. Now's the time.—Flesherton Advance.

Shopping for Aunt Olivia

By FLORENCE MELLISH

(©, 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Great Caesar! have I lost that sample?"

Harry Beldon stood looking the way of impatient shoppers while he searched his available pockets.

"I have, and Aunt Olivia has got to have that silk this afternoon. It's her only chance to be fitted by Mme. Cyr, or words to that effect. What was that stuff? It wasn't dope; it was something. Are the pitying angels looking down on me now?"

Apparently no angelic pity soothed Harry's perturbed spirit. His distracted gaze rested on a young and graceful figure at the hosiery counter. Two rapid strides and the courage of desperation brought Harry to her side.

"I beg your pardon, madame," he began.

She turned with a surprised expression in her lovely eyes.

"I don't like to trouble you," he went on with an embarrassed blush, "but would you mind telling me the color of that gown you have on?"

The surprise in her face deepened. The fluffy blonde who presided over the hosiery was listening with undisguised interest.

"You see," Harry tried to explain, with more blushes and increased embarrassment, "I was to get one like it for my aunt."

It hardly seemed possible that that apple blossom face would assume such a haughty expression or that those exquisite blue eyes could have that frozen stare.

"Really!" was all the beautiful lips could utter, as the young lady turned with intensified interest to the inspection of hosiery. The fluffy blonde was laughing frankly. But Harry is like the president. He has a "single track" mind. He rushed to the silk counter.

"Can you see that lady three counters down—the pretty one? Quick, please, before she goes away!"

The tall, severe, middle-aged girl who was selling silks glanced in the direction he indicated.

"My eyesight is fairly good. Yes, I can see her," she answered stonily.

"Good! I want four yards of silk just like that gown she is wearing."

"We are out of that shade this morning."

"Oh!" he gasped. "Are you sure? You see, it's for my aunt. She's making over something, and I have to get it."

"You don't have to get it here."

Here! Harry saw a ray of hope.

"Is there somewhere else? It's a very important commission."

His distress was evident. The middle-aged girl relaxed a little from her severity.

"They might have it at Ballard & Barr's."

"Oh, thank you. Thank you a hundred times." He turned back to whip out a notebook. "What color shall I ask for?"

"Taupe."

"That's it. I remember now." Harry slapped his thigh in recognition. He printed in large capitals that covered a page of his notebook: T-O-P-E and vanished.

"Silk or satin?" asked the tired-looking salesgirl who was measuring endless lengths in Ballard & Barr's.

"Which is the more expensive?"

"Oh, satin."

"Then I'll take that."

Fatigued with his efforts, Harry rushed to the nearest lunch room and dropped into a vacant chair. Glancing at the demure face opposite, he recognized a pair of blue eyes. His vis-a-vis was the wearer of the identical taupe gown. Her gown was relieved by a few touches of rose color and her dark hair was crowned with a rose-colored creation that accentuated the lovely color in her girlish cheeks.

"O!" he gasped. "I beg your pardon—that is to say—I hope I don't intrude."

"Certainly not," she answered serenely. "This is a public table."

"Oh, yes, but I thought—I was afraid you might be offended by my abruptness in Congreve & Cutler's. You see I was shopping for Aunt Olivia. She isn't really exacting, you know, only when she has got to have a thing, she has got to have it."

"I understand."

"And I had lost my sample, and that gown you're wearing was my salvation."

"I'm afraid I didn't seem obliging, but I'm staying in Meridon with my aunt—"

"Just like me," Harry interposed. "I'm staying there with Aunt Olivia."

"And when I come in to Boston for a little shopping Aunt Penelope always warns me not to talk with strangers."

"That's just right of her—I mean in general. But is your aunt Miss Penelope Winter?"

"She certainly is."

"Then she wouldn't consider me a stranger. I used, the minister's boys and I, to steal melons out of her garden. I am Harry Belden, and I am employed by the Amaranth Insurance company. You haven't any advantage of me, though. You are Miss Jessie Galbraith. I saw your name in the Meridon Free Press. Here's the waiter. Only tea and cakes for you? I'm famished with all this shopping. I'm going to have beefsteak with mushrooms. May't I order for two?"

She hesitated.

"I know Miss Penelope couldn't object. I'm such an old friend."

Miss Jessie laughed brightly. "Perhaps, if you ate her melons, it would be a return of hospitality."

Presently Harry glanced from his beefsteak to the cherished parcel beside him.

"Aunt Olivia is going to wear that at the Wylie-Wallace wedding. You know about that?"

"I should think so. I'm one of Anita Wylie's bridesmaids."

"That's great. I'm to be head usher. Rather nice we should meet before the rehearsal, just in an informal way."

"It was rather informal," Miss Galbraith admitted. Her eyes rested on a little tear in the wrapping paper. "But that silk isn't taupe; it's wistaria."

"Wistaria? What's that?"

"It's the color of that goods you've bought. I'm afraid you made a mistake."

"Mistake? Not me. That fagged-out-looking girl gave me the wrong parcel. Great Caesar!"

"I'm sure they will exchange it for you."

He sprang up. "They'll have to. It's for Aunt Olivia. I'm sorry to leave you like this, but you've saved me again. And we'll be sure to meet Friday at the rehearsal."

By a torrent of eloquence Harry convinced an apathetic salesgirl and a skeptical floor-walker of the mistake and carried his purchase home in triumph.

"It's two shades darker than the sample and satin instead of faille," Aunt Olivia announced with a "just-as-I-expected" expression on her resolute face.

"But it's tope," Harry insisted.

"Yes, you did remember so much. Oh, you needn't explain. I know you lost the sample. Perhaps Madame Cyr can make a combination."

"I'm sure she can," said Harry cheerfully.

"Much you know about it; but it doesn't matter so much. I've just had word that Anita has sprained her ankle and the wedding is indefinitely postponed."

"Postponed? And won't there be a rehearsal Friday?"

"Certainly not. Anita is laid up."

"Excuse me, Aunt Olivia. I have an important letter to write."

Miss Olivia looked after him as he rushed to his den. "With all his faults that boy is devoted to business."

Harry was writing: "I want to make amends to Miss Penelope for my boyish follies. Wouldn't she enjoy going to some of the Symphony concerts? To think I should grumble over doing a little shopping for dear Aunt Olivia! With the rehearsal off, if it hadn't been for that tope stuff we might never have met. Now I have a presentiment we shall be meeting right along."

And Harry was not deceived. They were.

Women everywhere, either by word of mouth or by letter, recommend this splendid medicine. Those who have suffered from female weakness, change of life, and similar troubles know of the wonderful relief brought to them by the Vegetable Compound.

THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

In a leading editorial article, the Central Canadian, of Carleton Place, in referring to its entering upon its forty-seventh year of publication, goes on to say:—

It was only a few years ago when a country newspaper could be started with an investment of anywhere from one to two thousand dollars. To-day this is completely changed as nothing less than about ten to fifteen thousand dollars will equip a country newspaper office in order that it may with any degree of success compete with its rivals. In the former days all the type was set by hand. To-day a linotype costs from $3,000 to $5,200; a press which was formerly worth $600 to $800 cannot now be bought for less than $2,000 to $2,500; type is trebled in price; labor costs three to four times as much as even in 1914, the year the war started. These increased costs make the problem of successfully conducting a newspaper a very serious one, and in a large measure account for the amalgamation of many of our newspapers. In fact there have been quite a few newspapers which have been compelled to go out of business altogether owing to the great expense involved in country newspaperdom.

And yet in the face of these conditions and these facts we actually find men of usually sound judgment on other matters giving a sympathetic hearing to the frantic appeals of some irresponsible party who feels the Lord has called him to undertake to do, under present conditions, with other people's money, what he has failed to do in the past years, when conditions were favorable, with his own.

With printers so scarce and wages so high that a publisher has to send a paper for from ten to twenty years to pay one man a week's wages; with a reduction in the price of newsprint for 1922 of but 1 and 14 cents a year on an 8-page paper, and with postage doubled at New Year's, there is no class of industry on the face of the earth at the present time so hard hit as the newspaper publisher, save the farmer. And the farmer enjoyed war prices during the war while newspapers were published at a loss throughout the entire four years of the war.

MISS M'PHAIL

Woman Member of House of Commons Addressed Large Audiences on Thursday.

Opera House Filled at Afternoon and Evening Meetings.

Crowded houses greeted Miss Agnes McPhail, M. P. for Southeast Grey, at the two meetings held in the Opera House last Thursday under the auspices of Orangeville and a number of the surrounding U. F. O. Clubs. Every seat in the hall was filled for the afternoon meeting. The audience was largely from the country, although there was a fair sprinkling of townspeople. At night the house was again crowded to the doors, late comers being accommodated with seats in the wings off the stage, while quite a number of people were turned away. Townspeople predominated at this meeting although quite a number were present from the countryside as well. Miss McPhail was given an attentive and sympathetic hearing by both audiences. She is a clear, ready speaker, knows how to turn a phrase in the most effective manner and made a most favorable impression on this, her first appearance before an Orangeville audience.

The new Commoner is self-possessed on the platform, and is quite prepossessing in appearance and manner. She was dressed neatly but plainly, in what she herself referred to as "The old blue dress that has already been the subject of a poem." Mr. Maura McNaughton, County U. F. O. Director, presided at both meetings. In the afternoon Mr. S. C. McKee, formerly prominent as a farmer and municipal politician in East Luther, spoke on Co-operative Marketting. The evening speakers in addition to Miss McPhail were Mr. McKee and Mr. T. K. Slack, M. L. A. for Dufferin. Orangeville orchestra supplied an excellent musical programme for the night meeting. Mayor Hewson occupied a seat on the platform and did the honours for the town by extending Miss McPhail a hearty welcome on behalf of the Council and citizens.

In her afternoon address Miss McPhail pleaded for a recognition by farmers themselves of the importance of the industry in which they are engaged. The farming industry would receive the respect and consideration to which it is entitled only when farmers become conscious of the class and importance of the industry to which they belong. Doctors, lawyers and other professions and businesses possessed a perfect organization and yet nothing was heard of the "class consciousness that is going to ruin Canada" until the farmers began to organize. It was right and proper that the farmers of Canada should pay their own bills, but it was not right that they should pay or be expected to pay the bills of others. Miss McPhail stated that she was really at a loss to decide what she should talk about. She had only commenced to study Canada's great national problems and stood ready to confess that she was still far from understanding these problems. On the subject of the alarming increase in the national debt, we had been told that if we would only smile and keep up our courage everything would come out alright. Most of us would willingly "sit up all night smiling brightly" if we could assist to pay off the debt in this way.

Miss McPhail discussed the objects of the U. F. O. at some length, reading extracts from the constitution of the organization to give point to her remarks. People, she declared, could only be friends upon terms of perfect equality. Without this equality there was "condescension on the part of the man higher up and the humbling of the man lower down." The speaker confessed that she had been bitterly criticised for having stated that there was a gulf between the rural and urban people and the larger the urban place the wider and deeper the gulf. She, however, maintained that such was the case and explained that she based her belief in part upon her personal experiences as a student from the country at the Owen Sound Collegiate. This gulf would continue to exist until the people of the rural communities by means of education and social intercourse bring themselves to a level where they believe that they are the equals of any other class in the state.

A great many people found it "far more profitable to farm the farmers than it is to farm the land and it was not nearly so hard work either." The U. F. O. movement was the third attempt of the farmers to better their condition. If they failed this time there was only one thing to do and that was to join the merry crowd and leave the land. Miss McPhail urged her hearers to join the U. F. O. Clubs and to attend and take part in the Club meetings.

Discussing the really alarming size of the National Debt Miss McPhail pointed out that in 1914 the annual interest charge on the debt amounted to $14,000,000. In 1922 the interest charge stood at $142,000,000, and Sir Thomas White, a former Finance Minister at Ottawa, was authority for the statement that all of this enormouse debt burden must be paid out of the top six inches of the soil. In 1920, long after the war had ended, the increase in the net debt amounted to $70,000,000. The debt burden was really alarming and to support her statement to this effect the speaker quoted J. L. Payne, former Statistical Expert of the Department of Railways and Canals, who is at present writing a series of articles in Toronto Saturday Night. Canada might be able to stand the present rate of debt augmentation for another ten years, but there was no possibility of standing it for twenty years. There must be severe retrenchment and the application of the remedy could not commence one moment too soon. Miss McPhail affirmed her belief in public ownership, but averred that to be made a success in Canada public ownership would have to be respected. What does public ownership mean to-day? It means "Who can lean most on his shovel on the good roads" declared the speaker to the accompaniment of hand-clapping and a gale of laughter. Education on the value and importance of public ownership was essential before public ownership could be carried out successfully.

Under existing financial conditions Miss McPhail believed that $4,000 sessional indemnity was too much to pay the members of the House of Commons and $19,000 a year too much to pay the leader of the Government. As Premier King was an unmarried man and had no family to support he could very well afford to cut his salary at least $4,000. It was hard to understand the reason for paying the leader of the Government $19,000 a year to bring up measures for the country's good and then paying the leader of the Opposition $14,000 a year to do his best to prevent these measures from becoming law. The speaker used to believe that Parliament led the way in the matter of reforms, but she was now firmly convinced that Parliament blocked reforms and only granted them when forced to do so by the opinion of the people of the country. Parliament had such a profound regard for precedent that one would almost think there was something divine about precedent. Miss McPhail likened the efforts of the people to secure redress of existing evils to the action of the horse on a narrow, slippery, uncertain road in the spring. As his footing gave way the startled equine would spring to the opposite side of the track and then jump too far in the other direction. It took time and patience to get secure footing in the centre of the roadway. So it was with a popular agitation for necessary reforms. Humanity was just like the horse. It was prone at first to go to extremes on one side or the other. It took time to realize the happy medium that meant contentment and progress. Another illustration that caught the fancy of the audience was that of an egg, which contained an embryo chicken. The Red, said Miss McPhail, would break the egg to get the chicken and would of course destroy both. On the other hand the reactionary would wrap up and carefully preserve the egg and would in the end get the odour as his reward for his pains.

The speaker declared that the revision of the Bank Act was the most important subject that is going to come up for discussion at the coming sitting of the House of Commons. Did her audience know that as soon as a Bank is given a charter it can issue promissory notes equal to the amount of its paid up capital. The Banks in small places were simply the feeders of the great city institutions. With a paid-up capital of only $129,000,000 the chartered banks of the Dominion of Canada controlled two billions of the capital of the nation. Miss McPhail also laid emphasis on the fact that the Bank Act can be amended only once in every ten years.

Miss McPhail reiterated her earlier statement that the common people have to learn that they are the equal of any other class of people in Canada. She deplored the practice in the cities of turning night into day and day into night and of wearing summer clothes in the winter and winter clothes in the summer. It was not this sort of thing that the people of rural Ontario should seek to imitate. The speaker had some words of criticism for Sir Clifford Sifton and his statement that all we have to do is to get the people of other lands to come to Canada and all will be well. Immigration was desirable, but this would not remedy our existing political ills. Honest, economical administration of our public affairs was a big essential. Then there was an equitable distribution of the wealth of the country. The speaker would not be afraid to bet that one hundred people controlled the whole financial system of Canada. Discussing rural depopulation and the serious results following the steady decrease in the number of people living in the townships, Miss McPhail referred in a semi-humorous vein to consolidated schools, community halls and other means of making the country people contented and keeping them on the farms. If none of these things would work the charm, then buy the farmer a Ford car. These things were all being advocated by the great financiers and other leaders as best for the farmers—best when someone else pays for them, but unfortunately the farmer was in a position where he could not "pass the buck" any farther. It was said that the things that take the young people to the cities are the bright lights, the short hours and the opportunities for amusement and recreation, but the speaker was inclined to think it was "the shape of their fathers' and mothers' backs, the hardness of their hands and the slimness of their pocketbooks." "They do say," added Miss McPhail with an eloquent gesture, "that a farmer loves money. You know why—because it is so rare. They say a farmer works hard, but his wife works harder. The farmer divided fifty-fifty with his wife—fifty dollars to the man and fifty cents to the woman." The speaker contended that rural women are broken down women, compared with urban women, but admitted the truth of the oft quoted statement that it is the barn that builds a house on the farm for the house cannot build a farm. In concluding her address Miss McPhail warned her hearers against thinking that the people they send to represent them in Parliament are the most important people in the U. F. O. movement.

Mr. S. C. McKee was pleased to see such a large gathering and gallantly complimented Miss McPhail upon being the first lady commoner in Canada. He thought that her presence would add to the dignity of the House of Commons, because the presence of ladies invariably added grace, dignity and refinement to any gathering or organization. Miss McPhail possessed a most valuable asset as a member of the House in the form of a large fund of common seme. Mr. McKee devoted the major part of his speech to a review of the co-operative movement, dwelling particularly upon the procedure in the marketting of livestock on the Toronto and Montreal markets. During the year ending October 31st, 1919, the Farmers' Co-operative Company had marketted 3307 carloads of livestock in Toronto alone. In the year ending October 31st, 1920, the Company had handled 5229 carloads of stock, realizing $10,766,441.26 from its sales, and in its third business year ending last October had shipped and marketted 6331 carloads. Mr. McKee declared that the farmers had never received such attention and consideration from the drovers and speculators as during the last three years. This he attributed to the influence of the co-operative movement. Simcoe, Wellington, Grey and Dufferin counties were the four largest livestock shipping counties in the Province through the medium of the Farmers' Co-operative Marketting Company. Taking the size of the County of Dufferin into consideration he thought this was a very fine showing for this county. The farming industry was the largest and most important producing industry in the Dominion.

At the close of the meeting the Chairman supplemented Mr. McKee's statement about the value and importance of the products of the farm by telling of marketting 25 last July chickens for a Caledon woman. The lot averaged 10 lbs. each and sold for 40c. a lb., realizing the sum of $100. Mr. McNaughton also told of selling Mr. J. D. Large's triplet steers. The three weighed 3300 lbs. and were sold for 7 cents a lb.

At the night meeting Miss McPhail discussed the public debt, the unsatisfactory railway system and the Banking Act. She declared that she was going to live the same kind of a life at Ottawa that she had been living at home on the farm, took a fling at the Hon. Mr. Ballantyne re the expense of his Canadian fleet and combatted protectionist theories of trade. Mr. McKee spoke along much the same lines as in the afternoon and Mr. Slack discussed the work of the Ontario Government in a brief speech.

At the close of the night meeting a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Miss McPhail for her excellent addresses. The motion was proposed by Township Clerk W. A. Henry, of Mono, and was seconded by Mr. Herman Hayward, of Orangeville.

WINTER WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Our Canadian winters are exceedingly hard on the health of little ones. The weather is often so severe that the mother cannot take the little ones out for an airing. The consequence is that baby is confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms; takes cold and becomes cross and peevish. Baby's Own Tablets should be given to keep the little ones healthy. They are a mild laxative which regulate the stomach and bowels and thus prevent colds. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

SUDDEN DEATH OF DR. WALLA

Well Known Medical Specialist Unexpectedly After Appar Recovery from Severe Illness

The grim reaper of death has again laid its hand heavy on the medical fraternity and removed one of the Twin City's popular physicians in the person of Dr. William Wallace. For the past two weeks the deceased was confined to his home in Waterloo, suffering from an affection of the heart. At first his condition was critical, but he gradually improved and on Saturday he was up and around. He was exceptionally cheerful on Saturday evening and to be retired. It was a severe shock to his wife and family when he failed to arise on Sunday morning and was found to have died sometime during the night.

The late Dr. Wallace was born near Orangeville and was in his 60th year. About 15 years ago he moved to Kitchener and opened up a practice, being especially successful in the treatment of diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat. His kindly and cheerful disposition endeared him to the community. Two years ago he took up his residence in Waterloo, retaining, however, his office at Kitchener.

In 1910 he married Miss Annie May McFaul, daughter of the late Rev. Alexander McFaul and Mrs. McFaul, of Waterloo, formerly of Caledon, Ont., and of this happy union three children were born, two daughters Betty and Mary, and one son Billie. To the sorrowing widow and children deepest sympathy is extended in this hour of sore bereavement. Four sisters, Mrs. T. J. Brett, Orangeville; Mrs. (Rev.) Colwell, Wiarton; Mrs. R. S. Anderson, Victoria; Mrs. Wagg, Kerrisdale, B. C., survive.

A memorial service was held at the residence, Albert Street, Waterloo, on Tuesday afternoon, at 2 p.m., conducted by Rev. McKay and Rev. McLennan. The remains were conveyed by motor to Foster's Undertaking Parlors. The funeral leaving on Wednesday for Orangeville, where interment took place. The pallbearers were medicineers, Dr. Roper Stuart, Dr. Ballantyne, Dr. Dobie, Dr. Livingstone, Waterloo; Dr. H. Huebener, Dr. M. Lackner, Dr. Gordon Hales, Kitchener. Kitchener Daily Record. Messrs. GENERAL DEBILITY FOLLOWS INFLUENZA

The After Effects Often More Serious Than The Disease Itself.

No reasonable precaution to avert an attack of influenza should be spared. The disease itself often proves fatal and its after effects among those who are spared make the life of the victim one of almost constant misery. Ask almost any of those who have been attacked by this trouble what their present condition of health is and most of them will answer: "Since I had influenza I have never been fully well." This trouble leaves behind it a persistent weakness of the limbs, shortness of breath, bad digestion, palpitation of the heart and a tired feeling after even slight exertion. This is due to the thin-blooded condition in which the patient is left after the fever and influenza have subsided. This condition will continue until the blood is built up again, and for building up the blood and strengthening the nerves nothing can equal a fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The value of this medicine in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mr. Edward J. McGuire, Pembroke, Ont., who says:—"In the fall of 1918 I was attacked with the influenza—and not in a mild form either. I was confined to my room for three weeks, and although the influenza subsided I did not regain my health. As a matter of fact I seemed to be growing weaker. I had no appetite, was subject to fainting spells and my feet and ankles were badly swollen. The doctor told me that my condition had developed into a serious case of anaemia, and although I was under his care for over two months I was not improving in any way. At this stage one of my friends advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was loth to do so, as I began to think my case hopeless. However, I was finally persuaded to try them, and by the time I had used two boxes there was no doubt they were helping me. I continued taking the pills until I had used a dozen boxes, when I found that every symptom of the trouble had left me and I was again enjoying the best of health. I returned to my work and have ever since been in good health and feel that I owe it entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I think that anyone who is suffering from the after effects of influenza, or any form of anaemia should give this medicine a fair trial."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HILLSBURG

The Public Library here opened its doors to the public in the upstairs front room of the Town Hall on Saturday last, the 4th of March, and many availed themselves of the library privileges. The Library Board had charge of the opening day. The Library is free to all citizens of the village, and will be open evey Wednesday and Saturday from 3 to 5 and from 7 to 9 p.m. Jos. McMillan is the popular librarian.

At the services in St. Andrew's Church last Sunday, March 5th, a generous collection of over $68.00 was given for the Russian Famine Fund, and has been at once forwarded to the Toronto Comittee for immediate benefit of the victims of the war and Bolshevism.

Mr. J. H. Laverty, of the Christian Men's Federation, one of their best speakers, is to address the people of St. Andrew's Church next Sunday, March 12th, on the Federation's work in the world. A cordial invitation is extended to all to enjoy his address.

The Public Library and the Horticultural Society are full of appreciation for the generous gift of the proceeds of the play, "Hearts and Diamonds," which the young actors of the village recently played to a crowded house. The expenses were paid, and then the proceeds were divided between the two organizations mentioned.

The Adult Bible Class of Bethel Presbyterian Church at Price's Corners have a team of actors called the "Maple Leafs," good actors, too. They are descending on the village of Hillsburg, Tuesday, March 7th, to play "Home Ties" at the Town Hall. Young people who are susceptible to the spring fever and heart trouble are advised to keep away that night! For the moon is an added danger too!

On Friday night next, March 10th, the new Separate Schools proposal to get a larger share of Ontario's taxes will be discussed at a public meeting of citizens in the Town Hall at 8 p.m. Local speakers will discuss the question in all aspects, and such an all-important public matter should receive a full house. The decision of the meeting will probably be conveyed to the Ontario Government in a resolution and petition. Every one should sign the latter.

GOOD CITIZENS

G. W. Hepton, of Shelburne, who recently purchased a place of business in Orangeville, last Friday opened the Cockshutt Agency in that town. It is likely he will move his family there in the near future. Mr. and Mrs. Hepton have been good citizens and we regret to hear of their departure. Mr. Hepton's father, Mr. T. Hepton, will also go to reside with them.—Elonomist.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to tender our grateful thanks to our neighbors for the heroic and successful manner in which they worked to save the house on our townline farm from destruction on Monday afternoon.

PUBLIC MEETING

RE WAR MEMORIAL

A Public Meeting of the citizens of Orangeville and surrounding district of Dufferin will be held in the Auditorium of the Public Library, Orangeville, on Tuesday evening, March 14th, at 8 o'clock, to receive the report of the Memorial Committee and to take such fuether steps as may be necessary for the erection and completion of a War Memorial at Orangeville.

As questions of importance are to be decided, all citizens who appreciate the sacrifices made for them by those who fell in the war are urged to attend.

Orangeville, C. V. JEFFERS
March 7th, 1922. Secy. Com'tee.

UNION PRAYER MEETING

The basement of the Methodist Church was well filled with ladies on Friday afternoon last in response to the Call to Prayer and a most helpful spiritual atmosphere was felt by all. The Presidents of the Missionary organizations of the different churches occupied the platform and each led the meeting as their respective churches took part. Very thoughtfdl and exrellent Talks were given by Mrs. Irwin, Mrs. Banks, Mrs. Mahaffy and Mrs. J. Kearns. "The Ninety and Nine" was beautifully rendered by the Ladies' Quartette, Mesdames Green, Robinson and Bowles and Miss L. Bell. The solo by Mr. Crofoot was also much appreciated by all. The spirit of fellowship with the Father of all and with one another was in accord with the purpose of the meeting as all sang together the closing hymn, "Blest be the Tie that Binds."

ST. MARK'S A. Y. P. A.

St. Mark's Anglican Young People's Association will hold its regular weekly meeting on Monday night, March 13th. Principal Hackett of the High School will deliver an address on the Irish Question. A good musical programme will be provided.

S. S. ENTERTAINMENT

St. Andrew's Sabbath School held its annual entertainment in the school room of the church on Friday night. The room was crowded to the doors by the children, their parents and friends.

A delightful programme of songs, recitations, drills, dialogues and instrumental music was provided by the children and older pupils of the school under the direction of their teachers and the Superintendent, Mr. J. B. Adamson, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Rev. F. W. Mahaffy occupied the chair.

DANCE AT HOCKLEY

A Dance will be held in the Orange Hall, Hockley, on Friday evening, March 17th, under the auspices of the Hockley Lacrosse Club. Gentlemen, $1.00; ladies free. Music by four piece orchestra. 36-2t

HOSPITAL NOTES

The regular monthly meeting of the I. O. D. E. will be held at the home of Miss N. Hewat, Second St., on Friday, March 10th, at 3.30 p.m.

Miss Barclay, Superintendent of the Hospital, was called to Guelph the other day by the news of the serious illness of her mother.

Patriotism and charity should begin at home. Have you thought of the needs of the hospital? Fruit is badly needed at the present time.

Mrs. Matthew Ferns, The Maples, has our grateful thanks for a donation of eggs, a chicken and fruit.

THE MAPLES

The next regular meeting of The Maples Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. John Menary, Amaranth, on Thursday, March 16th, at 2.30 p.m. The Roll Call will be answered by an Irish joke. The programme will include a Paper by Mrs. Trimble on a selected subject, a vocal duet by Viney Menary and Claire Trimble, a Paper by Miss Cook on the subject, "The Stranger in our Midst" and a vocal duet by the Misses Simpson. All ladies are given a cordial invitation to attend.

ST. ANDREW'S Y. P. S.

Mr. C. R. McKeown, K. C., was the chief speaker at the weekly meeting of St. Andrew's Y. P. S. on Monday night. Mr. McKeown gave an interesting and highly instructive address on the form of our Government in Canada and the duties and powers of the different branches of the Government. In the closing part of his address he stressed the importance of good citizenship and urged the young people to use all means to equip themselves for an intelligent discharge of the duties and responsibilities of citizenship. The musical part of the programme was supplied by Miss Gardiner and the Misses Ellis. Mr. Hugh Griggs occupied the chair.

Next Monday night the Consecration Committee will be in charge and will provide an excellent program. Watch for further notice.

HOUSE CAUGHT FIRE

The dwelling house on Mr. Wilson Duke's farm on the Mono-Caledon townline near Mono Mills caught fire early on Monday afternoon and was only saved from being completely destroyed by the heroic efforts of the neighbors. As it was the roof of the kitchen and woodshed were badly burned and the main part of the house was damaged to a lesser extent. The damage is estimated at between $200 and $300. The fire is supposed to have caught from the chimney. The house is occupied by Jos. Carson and family.

MRS. JAS KYLES

An Early Resident of Mono Called to Her Eternal Reward.

A long and useful life came peacefully to its close with the passing on Sunday morning of Mrs. Barbara Kyles, widow of the late James Kyles, of Camilla. For the last three years Mrs. Kyles had resided with her daughter, Mrs. J. M. McNaughton, and it was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McNaughton, York St., that her death occurred. Deceased had attained to the ripe age of 83 years and 3 months, but was active, vigorous and retained the full use of her mental faculties almost to the end. About the New Year she contracted a cold, which developed into a bronchial affection. She did not have the physical strength to throw off the malady and its persistence contributed to hasten the end of a life that had long since passed the allotted threescore and ten years.

The late Mrs. Kyles was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Neil, pioneer settlers in this district, and was born on lot 15, 2nd line, east, Mono. About a year after her marriage to James Kyles some 63 years ago the young couple took up their residence on lot 20, Prince of Wales. Road, Mono, where they lived and prospered until the death of her husband about sixteen years ago. The union was blessed with seven sons and three daughters. All survive except one son, the late John Kyles, a well-known Toronto lawyer, who died a number of years ago. The family are:—Mrs. John Fleming, Verner, Sask.; James Kyles, Manson, Man.; Hugh Kyles, Nokomis, Sask.; Dr. A. E. Kyles, of Saskatoon; Wm. C. and Thos. Kyles and Mrs. Bert Trimble, of Camilla, and Mrs. McNaughton and Dr. R. N. Kyles, of Orangeville. Deceased is also survived by one brother, Dr. John Neil, Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada some three years ago and for many years the beloved pastor of Westminster Church, Toronto. Dr. Neil is spending the winter in Pasadena, California, and was therefore unable to be present at the funeral. The late Mrs. Kyles was a staunch member of the Presbyterian Church and a true Christian woman, who left the impress of a devoted life and lofty ideals on her own family and on the people of the neighborhood in which her life of service was spent. By her neighbors she was beloved for her fine character, her generous sympathies and the kindly interest she always took in the wellbeing of those about her.

A large number of the Orangeville friends attended the funeral service held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McNaughton by Rev. F. W. Mahaffy at 8 o'clock on Monday night. The funeral was held to Burns' Church Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. Wm. Coutts, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Camilla, of which the deceased was a member before her removal to Orangeville. Service was held in Burns' Church, Mono Centre, the edifice being crowded to the doors. In passing it is of interest to note that Mrs. Kyles' father, who was a carpenter as well as a farmer, did most of the carpenter work on Burns' Church when it was built. It is also said by old residents of the neighborhood that the departed woman was the first child baptized in the church after it was opened for service.

The pallbearers were Messrs. J. A. Marshall, Jos. White, Alex. Mann, Frank Crowe, Alex. Bremner and John F. McNaughton. There were many beautiful floral tributes, expressive of the love and sympathy of friends of the one who had gone. These included sprays from Miss A. Anderson, Mrs. Bremner Sr. and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bremner, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Mann, Camilla; Gates Ajar from the Session and Managers of St. Andrew's Church, Orangeville; a wreath from St. Andrew's Church, Camilla; a spray from an Unknown Friend; a pillow from the Family and a spray from the grandchildren.

MONO MILLS.

The Mono Mills Boys' Club held a very successful meeting on Wednesday night, March 1st, at which an interesting debate formed the main feature of the programme. The subject debated was: "Resolved that it is better to exclude Foreigners from Canada, not including English speaking subjects of Other Lands." The affirmative was taken by Jackson Potter, John Bell and George Cooper, and the negative by Howard Kee, Wm. Mason and Norman Dinnick. The sides were very well matched, and the affirmative was given a close decision by 25 to 23 points. The next meeting will be held in the English Church Hall in Mono Mills on Thursday evening, March 9th. All boys interested in self-improvement should take advantage of these meetings.

CALEDON

A meeting of all those interested in the advancement of agriculture will be held in the Town Hall, Caledon, on Friday evening, March 10th, when Mr. Brodie, of the Ontario Agricultural Development Board, and Mr. J. A. Carroll, District Representative, will speak on "Rural Credits." A great many Associations have already been formed and over $200,000 has been loaned to the farmers to assist them to "Carry on." Why not one for Caledon?

Mrs. Robt. Rayburn, of the 1st line, west, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, is now out of danger. Her many friends are pleased to hear of her improvement.

Mrs. Richard Speers and little daughter visited the Misses Speers in Toronto over the week-end.

Mrs. Margaret Faulkner, of Toronto, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. J. Nesbitt.

Miss Stella Limebeer is convalescing at the home of Dr. White, of Shelburne, after an operation for the removal of her tonsils.

Miss McCabe, of Tottenham, is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. B. Smith.

Mr. W. J. Warnock has been very busy indeed taking in the potatoes while the sleighing was good.

Wedding bells will ring next week.

Mrs. McMullen, who has been staying with her sister, Mrs. Sanderson, had the misfortune to fall on the ice and break her arm the other day. The accident will make it necessary to prolong her visit before she is again well enough to return to her home in the West.

There are a lot of colds going around at present. The malady is not the flu, but seems to be closely connected with that dread epidemic. In some cases four or five persons are laid up in one family.

Mrs. Sloan is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Willie Patterson.

Things do not look very hopeful for church union in Caledon, but we hope the tide may yet turn in favor of union.

HOCKLEY

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sirr gathered at their home on Friday night last and presented them with two handsome chairs, a sum of money and the following address:—

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sirr.
Dear Friends,—

On the eve of your departure from our midst, we, your friends and neighbors, are gathered together, not to say farewell, but rather to express our appreciation of you as neighbors and to wish you every success and enjoyment in going to your new home. You have made many friends in this neighborhood and by your honest and consistent living you have gained the love and respect of the entire community, and, as a slight token of our esteem, we wish you to accept these chairs and sum of money. May you long be spared to enjoy them and may they ever bring back memories of your friends and associates of former days.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors,

WILLIAM WILSON,
MELVILLE BAXTER.

The address was read by Mr. Melville Baxter and the presentation was made by Mr. William Wilson. Mr. and Mrs. Sirr made the following reply:—

We are sure this is more than we expected. We are very thankful to the friends and neighbors for the kindness they have shown us. We accept these chairs and sum of money with many thanks and with grateful hearts.

BRITAIN'S HARD-WORKED MINT

Responsible for the British coinage during four of the most eventful years in the history of the Mint, Sir John Westerman Cawston, K.C.B., the Deputy Master and Comptroller, has now retired. Colonel R. A. Johnson, Assistant Secretary at the Treasury, has been appointed his successor.

"The Mint has been extraordinarily busy the last few years," said Sir John Cawston, in the course of an interview, "first with special munition work, for we made a lot of gauging, weighing, and testing machines. Then we turned out a tremendous number of medals, including Military Crosses, of which we made nearly 30,000. We did not make any Victoria Crosses.

"The next big job came with the introduction of the new silver early in 1920, and a good deal of the Mint's present work is the production of plates from which stamps are printed, so many new duty stamps are now being required.

"No gold coinage is made at the Mint now, and it is difficult to say when there will be. During the war 35 millions of silver alone were produced, as well as a vastly increased amount of bronze. In fact, the yearly production of bronze is about doubled."

LORD LISTER & Zam-Buk

Lord Lister's discovery of antiseptic surgery has saved the world a lot of lives, but it has been left to Zam-Buk to bring into millions of homes the full benefits of antiseptic healing.

Zam-Buk is the greatest antiseptic healer the world has ever known. Being of a natural vegetable origin Zam-Buk has distinct and positive advantages over old-style mineral ointments.

Zam-Buk is a compact and highly-refined herbal balm with an antiseptic power many times greater than that of any ordinary salve or ointment. Zam-Buk kills and excludes disease germs, and instantly allays pain and irritation. It first cleanses a sore place and then grows over it new healthy skin.

As a first-aid dressing for injuries, and for rooting-out such troubles as eczema, ulcers, ringworm, abscesses, poisoned wounds and piles, Zam-Buk is used the world over. It has the high endorsement of Dr. Andrew Wilson and other well-known doctors, surgeons and nurses. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25, all dealers.

TOKENS OF REMEMBRANCE

Under a picture of the Allward Memorial which has been accepted by the Canadian Battlefields Memorial Association for erection at Hill 62 overlooked the Ypres salient, the Agents News Letters of the Manufacturers Life has the following:

It is a token of remembrance from the Canadian living to the dead—a token that will ever commemorate the valor of our fallen comrades in the fight for freedom.

A life insurance policy is a like token of remembrance. It is the shadow of a man's foresight. It is tangible living monument to a man's unselfishness—and his regard for the future well-being of his dependents.

Two tokens of remembrance they are, but with a common mission. The one silhouetted against the sky—to be viewed from afar by those who honor the dead. The other, a Manufacturers Life Policy, is hidden away in a "Strong" box—a token which some day will provide the means of support to the Insured's loved ones after he is gone. No greater or nobler interpretation of man's duty to his dependents could be conceived.

The Hydro Electric Power Commission of Ontario has issued a writ against the Corporation of the County of Grey to secure the payment of $2,634, said to be owing the Commission through an agreement with the County. During the time the County was doing some road work it was necessary that the Hydro poles be moved out of reach of the road operations and later replaced. This was done at various places but particularly at the famous Markdale sink hole. The moving of the poles was done entirely at the expense of the Hydro Commission. They claim that the county had agreed to pay the Commission for any expense the Commission incurred in the moving of the poles. This expense amounted to $2,634 and it is for this amount the Commission is suing.

GOD MADE US FREE

The brute is free from the binding force of moral law; the more slave he. The man is free because he is bound. He is free to control his appetites by bringing them under obedience to the law. This is the only freedom worthy the name. Nobody does as he pleases but he who pleases to do right. He who like the animals follows impulse does a thousand things which by no means please him after they are done. He is in leading strings.

The young and the superficial think that to be free from rules means to do the things which the rules forbid. On the contrary, a man may be quite as free in obeying laws as in disregarding them.

God made us to be free. How is it that freeborn sons of God, we are ready to sell ourselves daily for so small a price? We have been Satan's bond servants, and the habits of our servitude are strong upon us. When shall we stand fast in the liberty with which Christ has made us free?

FOLLY OF BORROWING ON YOUR INSURANCE

Selling the cash and loan value features of life policies, instead of the protection features, has made the insurance buying public altogether too familiar with the simplicity of the process for raising money on their insurance policies. The result is that whenever a little ready money is needed for any outlay out of the usual, the tendency is to rush to the insurance company and clap a loan on the insurance policy. The folly of mortgaging one's life insurance, except in case of the direst need, must be apparent to anyone who will give an unprofitable transaction and is, in the matter a moment's thought. It is our view, entirely an unsound one from the economic standpoint. There is hardly anything that companies and agents could be better engaged in at the present time than a well planned campaign to bring about a substantial reduction of the policy loans carried by their policyholders.

How He Saved By Buying From Mail Order House.

Here is a little story that has been going the rounds, and it tells the story of buying away from home, from mail order houses, so well that we think you ought to read it. If you have read it, perhaps it would be well to refresh your memory.

The other day in Oklahoma a man went into a hardware store to buy a saw. He found the kind he wanted and asked the price. It was $1.65, the dealer said.

"Good gracious," replied the shopper, "I can buy the same saw exactly from Sears-Sawbuck, the catalogue house, for $1.35."

"That's less than I paid for it," replied the dealer, "but I will meet catalogue competition, so I'll make you that saw for $1.35 also."

"All right," said the customer, "send it to my house and charge it to my account."

"Not on your life," replied the dealer. "No charge account on this. The mail order house doesn't trust you. I am simply meeting their price and terms. Fork over the cash."

The customer complied.

"Now 2 cents more for postage, and 5 cents for the money order," said the dealer.

"What?"

"Certainly, you have to send a letter and a money order to a mail order house, you know."

The customer, inwardly raving, handed over the money.

"Now 25 cents for expressage," said the dealer, still holding out his hand.

"Well, I'll be—" said the customer. But he paid it, saying, "Now hand me that saw and I'll take it home myself and be rid of this foolery."

"Hand it to you. Where do you thinn you are? You're in Oklahoma and I'm in Chicago. You'll have to wait two weeks for that saw."

Whereupon the dealer hung the saw on the peg, and put the money in the cash drawer.

"That makes $1.67," he said. "It has cost you 2 cents more and taken two weeks longer to get it than if you had bought it from your local hardware store in the first place."—Napoleon (N. D.) Homestead.

THE S. O. S. AT SEA

Much is likely to be heard in the early future, says "The Times," of automatic devices for recording signals received at sea by wireless telegraphy from vessels in distress.

The view is stronly held among shopowners that there is now no justification for requiring passenger ships to carry wireless telegraph operators solely in order to despatch S. O. S. signals and to receive them. The occasions on which the operators fulfil these functions are very rare indeed. Yet it is for such occasions that passenger ships are required to carry them.

The opinion is undoubtedly gaining ground that the safety of the passengers would be adequately protected by the training of one or more of the ship's officers to despatch and receive signals of distress by wireless in case of need and by the installation of automatic devices which would at once direct attention to the fact that a call for assistance was being made.

Suitable automatic contrivances which would cause a light to be displayed or a bell to be rung are known to have been invented, although their use might involve some change in the constitution of the present S. O. S. call. The subject was discussed at the recent International Shipping Conference in London, and it is understood that many leading foreign shipowners are known to be favorable to the principle device.

ARMSTRONG - STEVENSON

The marriage of Miss Kelujah Mildred Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Stevenson, of Tecumseth, to Robert Andrew Oswald Armstrong, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Armstrong, Rosemont, was quietly solemnized on Wednesday, Feb. 15th, at the Methodist parsonage, Alliston, by the Rev. A. A. Wall. Promptly at the appointed time the bridal party entered the spacious drawing-room to the strains of Lohengrin bridal chorus beautifully rendered by Edgar Wall and took their places under an arch. The charming bride looked lovely in a handsome gown of navy taffetta with hat and veil to match. During the signing of the register Messrs Joe Dreman and Edgar Wall rendered music. After hearty congratulations the young couple left amid showers of confetti on the 2.21 train for Toronto, Buffalo and other points. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong will reside on the groom's farm near Rosemont.—Alliston Herald.

THE DOME OF ST. PAUL,S

Workmen are putting up a structure in St. Paul's Cathedral to support the huge dome while repairs are being carried out to the south transept arch.

The work necessitates cutting through the supporting pillars, and big steel girders weighing 150 tons and capable of supporting more than 4,000 tons are being put up from the crypt piers to the apex of the arch.

The dome weighs about 32,000 tons, and te operations for supporting it are costing more than the actual repairs.

CANCELLATION

Most of the boys who read this article have studied cancellation and found it a quick and easy method of solving problems. There is another kind of cancellation, not so commonly used, a kind that should be taught to all boys and girls, and that becomes a valuable habit in time.

Two boys were one day speaking of an absent classmate.

"He is low in the games," said the first.

"Yes," replied the other, "but he is always fair."

"Isn't he dull in school, though?"

"But look at the way he studies. He never wastes a minute."

"He scarcely ever recites in history," went on the first boy.

"But I never knew him to cheat in a single recitation or examination," answered the second. "And you know as I do that many of those who get the highest marks don't always get them honestly."

"He has so little to say."

"But no one ever heard him tell a lie. He is the most truthful boy in the class."

Every unkind word, you notice, which the first boy spoke was cancelled by a kind word from the second boy. It is a plan worth trying. The next time you hear an unkind remark, try to cancel it with a kind one.

And speaking of air pockets reminds us that a good many people pad their daily output pretty freely wih this cheap, but necessary commodity; and they don't all hand it to you without charge either.

Judge Spotton allowed the Public School Inspectors of Wellington $400 for expenses which is $100 more than the County Council granted. During the war the Inspectors got a $50 bonus, which was lately cut off.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, of East Garafraxa, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Pearl Evelyn, to Lewis Alfred Montgomery, of East Luther, the marriage to take place about the middle of March.

Air pockets are not confined to wood piles exclusively. We have heard speeches which were pretty well filled with hot air and yet the windjammer wound up with that satisfied look which goes with a real deliverance.

Isn't it peculiar how many fellows have their religion in their wife's name; also how many fellows let the wife keep her muscles up splitting wood? These fellows are generally pretty manly men when a crowd of spectators are looking on.

Little Marion Bloch, the eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bloch, of Owen Sound, met with a painful accident. She was skating on the hard crust of the snow when she broke through, and in falling fractured her right arm.

METHODIST ANNIVERSARY

At the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Methodist Church on Sunday, March 13th., Colonel, the Rev. Geo. H. Williams, D.D., will be the preacher both morning and evening. The choir will be assisted by Mr. Percy Harding, of Hamilton.

On the evening of Monday, March 14th., a bountiful Supper will be served in the basement of the church and will be followed by an entertainment. Rev. E. R. Young, H. Harper and John Locke, ex-pastors, have promised to be present and give addresses. Music will be furnished by Mr. Percy Hardir E. A. Warren, of Toronto, and local talent. Admission to Tea and Entertainment will be 50c.

The Kidneys

The office man and the outdoor worker suffer alike from derangements of the kidneys.

Backaches and headaches are among the symptoms. In some cases Bright's disease soon develops, others suffer from high blood pressure until hardening of the arteries sets in.

In order to forestall painful and fatal diseases prompt action should be taken at the first sign of trouble.

Mr. A. D. MacKinnon, Kirkwood, Inverness county, N.S., writes:

"I can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to all suffering from weak kidneys. I suffered from kidney disease for a long time. I may also say that for three years I was nearly always troubled with headaches, and no treatment seemed to do more than afford temporary relief. I was finally told of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after using a few boxes was completely relieved. I have also used Dr. Chase's Ointment with the best results, and never fail to recommend these wonderful remedies."

FORAGE POISONING

Quite recently from widely separated sections of Grey County reports have come to hand of many cattle dying due to Forage Poisoning. The Department of Agriculture, Markdale, sent some samples of Sweet Clover Hay and Oat Straw to the Dominion Pathologist at Ottawa requesting report. The following is an extract from the same. We submit it to the farmers in the hope that it may explain a few points which undoubtedly worry many who are using Sweet Clover as Hay at the present time. "It would appear that Forage Poisoning was the probable cause of death. This disease, etc., is caused by the toxin of the B. botulinus and is found in a small pocket in the fodder—not being evenly distributed in the fodder. You therefore understand that it would only be by chance that a sample of food would contain the organism or toxin. The better way to collect a speciman is to send the contents of the stomach and other portions of the ailmentary tract for examination."

A Tribute

Our ability, to explain in print why The Hoover excels, is dwarfed by the enthusiasticendorsement of a half million Hoover users, thousands of whom have been using Hoovers on their carpetings for the past ten or twelve years.

THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER GRIND

The Walkerton Telescope recently gave the following explanation of the weekly grind: "We are sometimes surprised at the ignorance displayed by some of our intelligent friends regarding the condition of a town weekly newspaper office. A common error is to suppose that all the typesetting on the paper is done within a day or so of going to press. The fact of the matter is that no sooner is one week's paper printed than the staff is busy getting ready for the next issue. This was not possible a few years ago as the type had to be "distributed" again, which kept all hands busy for a day and a half or so. To-day with the modern linotype type-casting and setting machine "distribution" is done away with; the type being thrown into the melting pot to be melted over again for next week's paper. One result of the introduction of the linotype has been an enormous increase in the volume of local newsmatter published by our rural papers, in fact readers and advertisers are getting tremendously better service all round. The general public may not appreciate this fact, but a glance at the old files of most of our weeklies is convincing evidence. A linotype will set as much matter as five good men used to do by hand but there is sufficient ordinary type-setting alone in an office like the Telescope to keep a linotype constantly on the hum. Perhaps as Tuesday sight some citizen will wander in with a lengthy notice which he has had lying in his desk three or four days and when we tell him we won't be able to handle it, he is a very surprised man and perhaps concludes that the editor is harboring a spite against him. A few fears ago a country newspaper business was a mere shoe-string investment. To-day a one linotype weekly with the usual presses, automatic folders, and other necessary labor-saving machinery will cost from ten to fifteen thousand dollars. It can only be made to pay by keeping the run of work evenly spread over the whole week. To handle all the reading matter and ads. on Tuesday and Wednesday would mean an extra linotype with equipment and operator, adding approximately a hundred dollars a week to expense column and the public would have no better service than they can get at the present time by co-operating a little with the publisher to distribute the week's load of work as evenly as possible."

The Methodist Church Organ has just installed a fine new pipe organ.

The Ontario government has sent out inspectors to look over gravel pits, and has issued regulations for owners to carry out. For instance, every gravel pit owner must see that there must be no over-hanging sections of earth, which might fall without warning and no excavation is to be done which might incur danger.

Doctors Give Up His Case of Eczema

Wonderful recovery of a very sick man

This is one of the many striking stories we are publishing of what the D. D. D. prescription is accomplishing among Canadian sufferers. Cases from your own neighborhood will be sent on application.

"I was laid up all winter with weeping eczema. I tried every doctor in reach. Both hands, arms and legs to my knees were a sight. I have used several bottles of D. D. D. and am well of the terrible disease. D. D. D. is certainly cheap after the doctors."—Peter Mercer, Ft. Burwell, Ont.

The first drop of D. D. D. end the itch to come. Your money back if the first bottle does not relieve you. $1.00 a bottle. Try D. D. D Soap, too.

THE CANADIAN CLUB

The Canadian Club of New York is the centre of activity for Canadians living in New York and vicinity.

The Club is constantly in receipt of calls for relief for Veteran Canadian Soldiers and other needy Canadians in New York. All worthy cases are being promptly cared for.

For instance: A few days ago a young Canadian girl from Nova Scotia, penniless and without friends in New York, was found dead in a rooming house, having died from asphyxiation. The Canadian Club took charge of the body, gave her a respectable funeral which several of the members attended.

We are endeavouring to get in contact with Canadians in New York, not now members of the Club, and request those having relatives or friends living in New York City and vicinity; also New Jersey, communicate their names and addresses to the undersigned in order that they may be invited to enjoy the privileges and advantages which the Club affords.

ADDRESS—Thomas D. Lands, Chairman, Special Membership Committee, The Canadian Club of New York, Pershing Sq. and 42nd Street, New York City.

METHODISM IN ORANGEVILLE

The souvenir book "Methodism in Orangeville, 1840-1922," is now off the press and will be put on sale at the Anniversary Tea and Entertainment in the Methodist Church next Monday night. Only a limited number of copies has been printed and as the type has been taken down further copies will not be obtainable when the present edition is exhausted. If you want a copy—and every person interested in the history of Methodism in this district should have one—you should get it early. Price 50c.

SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Cruikshank, 2nd line, Amaranth, celebrated their silver wedding on Friday evening February 24th. The brothers and sisters of the two families and members of their households took advantage of the occasion to give the happy couple a pleasant surprise gathering at their home and presenting them with a number of beautiful gifts and the following address:

To Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cruikshank,

On this, the twenty-fifth anniversary of your wedding day, we, the members of your family, do desire to recall to your minds the many pleasant and happy events of the past years.

"Hear the mellow wedding bells—
Golden bells!
What a world of happiness their harmony foretells;
Through the balmy air of night
How they ring out their delight!
From the molten-golden notes,
And all in tune,
How it swells,
How it dwells
On the future!"

And we therefore request your acceptance of this silver and trust you and yours may long be spared to enjoy its use and recall by so doing our pleasure of this day.

The address was read by Mr. Arthur Edwards, of Toronto. Mr. Cruikshank made a brief and feeling reply in which he expressed the thanks of Mrs. Cruikshank and himself for the kindly remembrances of their friends. A delightful time was afterwards spent in music, dancing, songs by Geo. Buchanan, a nephew of Mrs. Cruikshank, and other amusements. The many friends of the bride and groom of twenty-five years ago join in felicitating them and in wishing them many happy returns of their wedding anniversary.

ARMSTRONG–STEVENSON

The marriage of Miss Keturah Mildred Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Stevenson, of Tecumseth, to Mr. Robert Andrew Oswald Armstrong, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Armstrong, Rosemont, was quietly solemnized on Wednesday, the 15th of February, at the Methodist parsonage, Alliston, by the Rev. A. A. Wall. Promptly at the appointed time the bridal party entered the spacious drawing room to the strains of the Lohengrin bridal chorus, beautifully rendered by Mr. Edgar Wall, and took their places under an arch. The charming bride looked lovely in a handsome gown of navy taffetta with hat and veil to match. During the signing of the register Messrs. Joe Drennan and Edgar Wall rendered music. After hearty congratulations the young couple left amid showers of confetti on the 2.21 train for Toronto, Buffalo and other points. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong will reside on the groom's farm near Rosemont.

IS THIS O'VILLE'S CASE?

The following question and answer appeared in a recent issue of the the Municipal World:—

To Quash Hospital Grant By-Law

A by-law was passed in 1921 for a grant to a hospital of $15,000 without a guarantee, and the electors thought at the time there was a guarantee, although not advertised in the by-law at the time of the election, and at that election there were no scrutineers appointed by the council, and voters came from Toronto, who had no property in the town at the time—they had sold it six months before; and another came from Owen Sound and had no property at all—had also sold it. So we want a guarantee for our grant and the hospital refuses to give the town a guarantee. They say it is a gift. I am Mayor of the town this year and the electors want me to have the grant set aside on account of no guarantee and bogus votes. Could we enter an injunction forbidding the grant?

Answer—No; but if the by-law making the grant was assented to by the electors and passed by the council, application to quash, if it was not promulgated (see Municipal Act Section 281), must be made within one year after the passing of the by-law (Section 286); if promulgated, within three months after first publication.

LAUREL

Laurel Epworth League are giving a play entitled "STAR BRIGHT" in the Town Hall, on Tuesday night, March 21st. "STAR BRIGHT" is a three act comedy drama, which takes two hours and a half to give, eleven persons taking part. "Bright" is the name of a noted family living in a small village in the Adirondack region. Lemuel Bright, the head of the home, is known as a pious, narrow minded "pillar of the church." Two daughters, STAR and SUNSHINE with the mother, HONOR BRIGHT, make up the family. STAR is sent to college at the age of sixteen, and while there is induced to elope with an actor, who turns out to be the villian in the play. Her father immediately disowns her and refuses to allow her name to be mentioned in the home. With a detective, a villian, and several other noted characters, a rather intricate plot is woven about this family, and finally, of course, is successfully unravelled. The comedy part is taken by a neighbor, Jake Hoover, and Melindy Bendy, the servant girl in the Bright home. The bright side is always seen by the younger daughter, SUNSHINE, who proves to be a veritable sunbeam, always seeing and hoping for the best.

The cast of characters will be published in next week's issue of THE BANNER, also on small bills. Watch for the same.

The young Leaguers are known for their ability to take their respective parts with credit in an entertainment of this kind. Music between acts. You are guaranteed two and one half hours of real entertainment. COME. Admission 35 and 25 cents.

On Tuesday evening of last week a meeting of the officials of the Methodist and Presbyterian congregations was held in the Sunday School room of the Methodist Church to discuss the coming together of the two congregations for worship. Rev. G. W. Lynd was elected chairman, and Mr. J. A. Hughes secretary of the meeting. After full discussion of the matter a motion was passed unanimously, asking the Co-operation Committee of the two churches to take immediate action to have the two congregations united.

Mr. Jackson Hamilton took the topic at the League on Monday night. Next Monday Miss Morrow, the Missionary Vice-President, will be in charge, and promises something special for that night.

Miss Fannie Hamilton, who has been teaching school at Gomerly since last September, came home on Saturday evening, and was operated on for tonsillitis and adenoids in Lord Dufferin Hospital on Tuesday. We are hoping for a speedy recovery.

ATKINSON-ARMSTRONG

St. Luke's Anglican Church, Rosemont, was the scene of a pretty and interesting marriage ceremony on Tuesday, February 28th, 1922, at 12 o'clock noon, when Hazel Lucille Armstrong, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Armstrong, of Mono, became the bride of Mr. John Leonard Atkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Atkinson, of Schomberg. Rev. G. L. Gray read the beautiful marriage service of the Church of England. To the strains of the wedding march, sweetly rendered by Mrs. T. J. Gilmore, the bridal party passed in and took their places. The lovely bride came in leaning on her father's arm and looked charming in her wedding gown of ivory bridal satin beautifully trimmed with beads and embroidery. On the skirt were cascades of georgette, falling in points below the hem of her skirt. She wore the conventional bridal veil and orange blossoms and carried a boquet of deep pink roses. The matron of honor, Mrs. Oswald Armstrong, wore her wedding dress of navy taffetta with blue hat and veil and carried white carnations and ferns. Mr. Oswald Armstrong, brother of the bride, attended the groom as best man. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom received hearty congratulations from the assembled company. To and from the church the bride wore a pretty velour wrap with small spring hat and black fox furs. The wedding party then drove to the home of the bride's parents, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. Toasts were proposed and drunk and honored in happy speeches, expressing the felicitations of the friends and heartiest good wishes for the newly wedded couple. All joined heartily in singing "For they are jolly good fellows," after which the happy young couple left amid showers of rice and confetti on the evening train for Toronto, Hamilton and other points, Mrs. Atkinson wearing a pretty blue costume with furs. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson will be at home to their many friends on the groom's farm in Tecumseth near Schomberg. Their many friends wish them a long, happy and prosperous journey through life.

LAUREL

A Box Social and Concert will be held in the Town Hall on the eve of March 17th., St. Patrick's Day, under the auspices of L. O. L. No. 330. First-class entertainment is assured. Ladies furnishing Boxes, free; gentlemen, 25c. Orchestra in attendance. T. H. Hamilton, Actioneer.

"Use the Bell 'o Sell"

Have a Big Store in a Small Town

THERE are such stores, that hold the trade for miles around, some of them built up without largely increasing capital.

The merchant buys small standardized stocks of the very best sellers, the same styles that are being shown in the big cities. He is particular to get the styles that are advertised, that his customers will look for. If it is wearing apparel, he probably does not carry the very small or very large sizes, preferring those for which there will be most demand.

When well displayed, an advertisement in the local paper starts them selling. The merchant looks upon the manufacturer or jobber as his warehouse. Once a week, or oftener, he checks up what new stock or odd sizes he needs, and orders them by Long Distance.

Shipment is often made the same day by express, parcel post, or freight. Quick delivery becomes possible. Customers are enthusiastic to find they can buy what they want in their home town. Reputation grows rapidly, and the yearly turnover increases notably.

By designating an experienced employee to handle out-of-town messages, their customers' calls are made at the low Station-to-Station rates.

WHAT CAUSES SO MUCH SICKNESS

Constipation Responsible for 90% of Disease

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Corrects It

It is generally recognized among the medical profession that Constipation or Insufficient Action of The Bowels, produces more disease than any other one cause. Constipation is responsible for at least 90% of the disease in the world today—because Constipation is responsible for the Indigestion and Dyspepsia—the nervousness, Insomnia and Rheumatism—the Eczema and other skin troubles—the Headaches and Backaches.

Why is this?

As you know, it is the duty of the bowels to carry off the waste matter in the system. If the bowel muscles are weak or the liver inactive, then this waste matter remains in the body and poisons the blood. As a result, every organ in the body is poisoned by this waste.

"Fruit-a-tives" has been wonderfully successful in relieving Stomach Troubles, Nervous Troubles, Liver Troubles, Kidney Troubles, Skin Troubles and Blood Troubles, because "Fruit-a-tives" positively and emphatically relieves Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always relieve Constipation, even though the trouble has been chronic for ten, fifteen and twenty years. Thousands of grateful users proclaim "Fruit-a-tives" the greatest remedy for Constipation that the world has ever known.

MRS. ALEX. M'VANNEL

Died at her home, lot 30, con. 7, Amaranth, on Thursday, February 23, 1922, Susan Jane Morrison, beloved wife of Alexander McVannel.

Mrs. McVannel was the daughter of the late John B. Morrison, and was born in Leeds county. She came to Amaranth with her parents when she was five years of age and settled on lot 14, con. 8. In 1891 she was married to Alexander McVannel. Their married life was blessed by five daughters—Mrs. A. E. Williams, Amaranth; Mrs. J. J. Hammond, Shelburne; Hazel Beatrice, Enia May, and Jean—and five sons—Bruce A., Milton D., Milford J., Duncan, and Samuel. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Jas. Johnston, of Shelburne, and a host of neighbors and friends who truly mourn the loss of an esteemed friend. The funeral services on Sunday, February 26th, were conducted by Rev. A. E. Thornley, pastor of Knox Church, Shelburne, assisted by Rev. J. A. Reddon, of Laurel, and Rev. J. B. Backus, of Shelburne. "He lifted me," a favorite hymn of the deceased, was at her request sung by Mrs. John Scott and Mrs. Jas. Richardson. The floral tributes were very beautiful, consisting of a pillow from the family, a wreath from Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Johnston, a spray from Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Doney, a spray from Mr. Duncan McVannel, a wreath from the grand-daughters, and a spray from Mr. and Mrs. John Scott.—Economist.

WILLIAM T. BURKE

William T. Burke, of Adjala, died very suddenly Thursday afternoon last while at work in his barn. Deceased, who was 48 years of age, had not been in good health for some months, an affection of the heart having seized him. He had been warned against the consequences of excitement and heavy work. Thursday he appeared to be quite well and after eating his dinner and resting for the best part of an hour he went to the barn to do some chores. Not having seen any thing of her brother all afternoon Miss Burke became anxious and went out to look for him. She found his lifeless body on the barn floor. Calling her brother, John Burke, who lives across the road, Dr. Cunningham was hastily summoned. Having been the dead man's physician Dr. Cunningham pronounced death due to angina pectoris which was likely caused by some big exertion which quickly snuffed out the heart action. Life had been extinct a couple of hours, the doctor said. William Burke was a native of Adjala, the eldest son of the late Patrick Burke. For years he had farmed part of lot 2 in the 3rd concession of Adjala, sister keeping house for him. He was a quiet industrious fine man, highly esteemed by all his neighbors. Up to the time of his illness he was a very powerful man his endurance making itmaking it possible for him to do the seeding or get the harvest off in an incredibly short time. He failed greatly though in the last six months of his life. Mr. Burke is survived by his mother, Mrs. P. Burke, of Alliston, five sisters and one brother—Mrs. John McCarthy, Caledon; Mrs. J. A. Ryan, Alliston; Lizzie andMaggie, in town; Catharine, who lived with deceased, and John Burke, of Adjala. The funeral took place Monday morning to St. Paul's church where mass was sung by Rev. Father O'Brien. Rev. Father Kehoe was also present. Interment was made in the R. C. cemetery here.—Alliston Herald.

BILLS GIVE CLUE TO BANK ROBBERY

Teller Spots Bills Stolen in Daring Robbery in New Westminster Sixteen Years Ago

Toronto, Feb. 22.—Sixteen years ago the New Westminster branch of the Bank of Montreal was entered by the then famous gang of Miner outlaws, the vaults blown up, and $130,000 in gold and bank notes carried away. Though detectives have been working on the case ever since, no trace of the bandits has been found, nor have any of the stolen bills been reported as being in circulation until a few days ago, when a parcel of money was received by the Sterling Bank here from its New Orleans agents.

The parcel contained $11,500 in Bank of Montreal bills. In checking them over the teller's suspicions were aroused by the apparent newness of the bills, which belied the date on them, and the recollection of the New Westminster robbery suddenly flashed through his mind. He immediately procured from the Bank of Montreal the numbers of the stolen bills, and found that the numbers on about $4,500 of bills in the package coincided with the numbers furnished by the bank.

The bills were returned to the Bank of Montreal and the stolen ones burned. The police have been notified of the discovery, and it is thought possible that, knowing that the bills came from New Orleans, some light may be thrown on the robbery, which has been veiled in mystery all these years.

TO IMPROVE LIGHT HORSES

Ten Stallions Will be Distributed Throughout Ontario for Four Months Each Year

For the purpose of improving the breed of light horses in Ontario, seven high-class stallions have been imported from England and will be placed at different parts of the province for service about the first of May.

These stallions are now at Woodbine Park in Toronto, and before the 1st of May will be joined by three more—Rancher, Springside and one other. They will be assembled and kept in Toronto, free of expense, from about the first of September to the first of April or May each year, when they will be handed over to a suitable man for service in the country during the summer months. The places where the horses will be stationed will be suggested by the Dominion government, through the militia department. Service fees will be nominal.

The stallions, which were purchased in England by W. P. Fraser for the Canadian Racing Associations, will form a nucleus of a breeding stud which it is intended to develop from year to year.

The horses secured by Mr. Fraser are Alasnam, winner of the Derby Gold Cup; Cattegat, a winner on the turf; General Probyn, bred by the King and a winner of King's premiums in England; Red King, whose services always were in great demand in England; Spring Wheat, also bred by the King and a winner of King's premiums and super-premiums; McNelll, a good turf winner; Quartz Rock, fashionably bred and a winner on the turf.

A writer says nine-tenths of the people know how to drive a car. Evidently he has not studied the police court records.

"So you loved and lost?"

"Well, no, I didn't lose exactly. You see, when she returned my presents, she accidentaly put in some of the other fellow's."

"There is no chance of my ever adjudging the wrong man insane," says a Topeka alienist. "Whenever I am called in on an insanity case I always have some one point the patient out to me before I make the examination."

The J. P. to the accused:—"What! you deny having stolen the lady's purse?"

The accused:—"Yes your Honor, I deny it."

The J. P.:—"But two witnesses saw you!"

The accused:—"But I can bring hundreds of persons who did not see me!"

HIS RHEUMATISM AND BACKACHE BOTH GONE

MR. JOHN NORDIN RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Saskatchewan Man Tells of Relief From Suffering and Gladly Advises Others to try Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Percival, Sask., March 6th, 1922. (Special)—"I am more than glad to say a good word for Dodd's Kidney Pills."

These are the words of Mr. John Nordin, a well-known resident here. And Mr. Nordin is always ready to give the reasons why.

"For about ten years I suffered dreadfully from backache and rheumatism," he says. "Then I started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Now my backache and rheumatism are gone.

"I always keep Dodd's Kidney Pills on hand in case of need and to everybody with kidney trouble and backache I say 'try Dodd's Kidney Pills.'

Dodd's Kidney Pills put the kidneys in shape to strain all the uric acid out of the blood. With no uric acid in the blood there can be no rheumatism.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the greatest of all Kidney remedies.

LONDON BRIDGE'S OLD ARCH

What is to become of the arch of old London Bridge which has recently been disclosed? It is a relic of surpassing interest. Dating from the 12th century, it formed part of the first stone bridge in London. Citizens contributed lavishly to the upkeep for six cenuries. The bridge was adorned with sculpture and other ornaments, and it was justly regarded as a leading factor in the prosperity of the City. The London Society makes an appeal for the preservation of the arch. There cas be no question of removing it and erecting it elsewhere, one reason for this being the very fineness and excellence of its close-jointed masonry, which does vast credit to the care and skill of its builder, Peter of Colechurch, who was evidently alive to the risks he was taking as a pioneer of bridge building over a great tidal river.

PARLOR CAR TO REMAIN

Owing to scant patronage the parlour-buffet service on this branch of the C. P. R. was in danger of being discontinued, and in fact an order had been prepared to that effect. The decision was delayed until the General Supt. of Ontario Lines was in Owen Sound on Thursday and after carefully looking into the matter from many points of view he announced that the car would remain on this branch. In doing this Mr. Grout demonstrated that the big railway corporation has some thought of service outside the immediate profits. Those who travel between Owen Sound and Toronto should appreciate the concession.

If You Want Greater Comfort, Efficiency and Economy
Install a Fairbanks-Morse "F" Power and Light Plant

PRESS a button and instantly any room in your house, your cellar, your stables, outbuildings, or driveway, is flooded with brilliant electric light.

The disagreeable task of filling and cleaning oil lamps, and dirty lanterns, is ended when your "F" Power and Light Plant is installed.

The engine can be belted direct to your cream separator, churn, pump, washing machine, and any other light machinery, thereby reducing the drudgery of many irksome jobs.

It also provides current for all kinds of electrical equipment.

A few cents worth of kerosene and oil a day will run the "F" year in and year out. Sturdily built, simple to operate, and the biggest time and labor saver on the farm.

Come in and see it at work, or send a post card asking for the catalogue which contains full information.

JUBILEE SERVICES

Fiftieth Anniversary of the Erection and Dedication of Orangeville Methodist Church Commemorated on Sunday.

Edifice Crowded to the Doors at the Sunday Services—Successful Old-time Tea Meeting and Entertainment Monday night.

"1872—1922"

These dates displayed in large figures across the front of the church organ served to indicate the purpose of the special services in Orangeville Methodist Church last Sabbath and the reason for the social gathering that again crowded the edifice to the doors on Monday night. Fifty years ago the Wesleyan Methodist congregation, one of the three Methodist bodies then carrying on religious work in Orangeville, undertook and carried to a successful completion the work of erecting and dedicating the present church edifice on First Avenue. On Sunday present day Orangeville Methodism commemorated and honored this historic event by holding jubilee services that created widespread interest and attracted congregations that taxed to the last foot the accommodation of the edifice. Special sermons and special music by the choir, reinforced for the occasion by Mr. Percival Harding of Hamilton, and Mr. J. H. Sloan, an outstanding local soloist, combined to make the occasion one of memorable interest in the annals of the church. Former members of the congregation were here for the services from Toronto and elsewhere and on Monday night no less than three ex-pastors were on the platform to join in congratulations and express their best wishes for the continued success of the work of the Methodist Church in Orangeville. Local committees had been at work on the necessary arrangements for months back and it was greatly to their credit that everything passed off without the semblance of a hitch.

Col. the Rev. Geo. H. Williams, D. D., the eloquent pastor of Sherbourne St. Methodist Church, Toronto, was the special preacher at the Sunday services, the pastor, Rev. H. L. Partridge, having charge of the devotional exercises. In the morning Col. Williams took as his text the passage, "As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you; Isaia 66:13.

The Speaker emphasized the prominence given to the Fatherhood of God in Scripture teaching and pointed out ways in which the Father comforted His children, the tenderness and the all-embracing and all-sufficient character of the Divine love.

A very noticeable feature was the heartiness and evident feeling with which the large congregation joined in singing the hymns. The choir, under the direction of Dr. W. J. Price, choir leader, and Mrs. W. R. Liddy, organist, led the song service in inspiring manner. The special numbers were an anthem, a duet by Mrs. (Dr.) Bowles and Mr. Perceival Harding and a solo by Mr. Harding.

At the evening service every seat in the auditorium was filled before seven o'clock. After the usual seating accommodation had been exhausted scores of people were seated on chairs placed in the aisles and at other points of vantage. The song service was beautifully impressive, consisting of organ prelude and interlude by the organist, Mrs. W. R. Liddy, an anthem, "Seek Ye the Lord," by the choir with solo by Mr. Perceival Harding, a solo by Mr. Harding, who was in excellent voice, and a solo "Abide With Me," rendered in inspiring manner by Mr. J. H. Sloan. Col. Williams based his discourse, a masterly and impressive effort, on the text:—

"I have set the Lord always before me; because He is at my right hand I shall not be moved." Ps.16:8

The burden on the Psalmist's mind, said the speaker, was stability and fixedness. Some say that it was the security of the dynasty that he had in mind, others that it was the question of the future national security of the people of Israel that was uppermost in David's mind and still others hold that he was concerned about the integrity of the kingdom he had built up. Col. Williams did not think any of these interpretations correct, for he could not find anywhere in the Psalms any expression of concern about national or political matters. What he did find was David confessing over and over again his weakness and his subjugation and conquest by the evils in his own nature. It was his constant petition that he might be given strength to stand fast against his lusts and passions and remain loyal to God. This should be the supreme concern of every man and woman. How can we stand in our weakness and how can we meet and overcome our temptations? The speaker had little faith in the declarations of Christians who professed to be immune from the temptations of the lower side of human nature, for the most perfect man that ever existed in human flesh fought his battle against the temptations of the evil one in the desert to the very point of exhaustion. The question was "how can I best stand in that day when there is arrayed against me my own flesh and sinful nature?" How is the Christian to remain stedfast and true when buffeted by the temptations of everyday life? It was not a question of how to escape temptation, not a question of how to be immune from temptation, but a question of how to meet temptation and front it bravely and stedfastly. The first essential of a stedfast life, Col. Williams declared, was the setting up of Jesus Christ before the mind's eye. In other words there must be Christian idealism. The mind must conceive its ideal type of life before that type can be emulated in the life of the individual Christian. We must see with the mind's eye first of all and then we shall see palpably and clearly. There must be idealism, there must be a type and there must be a standard in the Christian life, just as there are ideals, types and standards in all man's constructive work in the material universe. Some authorities hold that a man's nature was determined by the kind of food he ate, but the speaker desired to assert positively that it was not what a man ate, but what he thought that determined his character. "We creatures," he declared with much earnestness, "are the product of the mind and of the soul." The ruthlessness and brutality of the Germans, Col. Williams stated, after interjecting the significant phrase, "and the half has not been told," was directly attributable to the teaching and philosophy of the German system of education. The Germans had been taught for years to believe that they were supermen and to despise other people as their inferiors. On the other hand the English people, while they had many faults, had been taught from the beginning of their national life to play the game fairly and above board. Men and women can never be other than the creatures of their imaginations, their thoughts and their minds. This being the case how imperative it becomes that the ideals of life shall be lofty, noble and pure. If we want an ideal for life, if we want character, if we want to see life in its sublimest, we can find it in the Christ, the perfect exemplar. Failures in the Christian life came when men and women forgot Christ, for none can cherish the thought of Christ and be untrue in life. The great fault in the life of many of us is that we are too self-centred and do not think enough of Him. The Christian would not become like Christ in his life by simply endeavoring to imitate the life of the Saviour. He must think of Christ and the Christ-life and he must ask Christ to help him to live a nobler life. In all his experience, even in the slums and prisons of London, the speaker had never met a man or woman, no matter how depraved, who did not wish to be better and to live better. In the great earthquake in San Francisco a few years ago the only buildings in the city that successfully withstood the earth tremors were those reinforced with steel. The need of to-day was regenerate lives, reinforced, strengthened and sustained by the example, the inspiration and the all-powerful aid of the Christ life. In the closing sentences of his address Col. Williams made a fervent appeal that "God may make us the kind of men God wants us to be—true men, pure men, steadfast men, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord for His Name's sake."

On Monday night the congregation followed up the Sunday services with an oldtime Tea Meeting and Entertainment, which attracted a large gathering of the members and their friends. The sister churches of the town were also well represented in the assemblage. Supper was served in the Sunday School room, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion. The tables looked very attractive indeed with their decking of flowers, plants and lighted candles. A most bountiful repast had been provided by the ladies and the table service was faultlessly organized and carried out. Despite the fact that the tables afforded seating accommodation for nearly two hundred persons, it took three sittings to provide for the concourse that had assembled for the Supper. Nevertheless the last cover was cleared shortly after eight o'clock and the after entertainment in the auditorium upstairs was well under way by 8.30.

The programme was of a high order throughout and the entertainment was in every respect one of the most delightful ever held under the auspices of an Orangeville church. Rev. H. L. Partridge, pastor of the church, presided and proved an apt and gracious chairman, with the happy faculty of saying the right thing at the right time. With him on the platform were seated three former pastors of the church, Rev. John Locke, Owen Sound, Rev. Dr. Harper, of Aurora, and Rev. E. R. Young, of Islington, Mr. Partridge's immediate predecessor in the pastorate of the Orangeville church. Rev. J. R. Wilkinson, Inglewood, was also on the platform and offered up the opening prayer. The musical programme consisted of an anthem by the church choir, solos by Mr. E. A. Warren, soloist in Chalmers' Church, Toronto, Mr. Percival Harding, of Hamilton, and Mr. J. H. Sloan, a duet by Mrs. (Dr.) Bowles and Mr. Harding, cornet solos by Mr. Amos Mason and quartettes by Messrs. Warren, Harding, Sloan and Dr. Price. Mrs. W. R. Liddy discharged the arduous duties of organist and accompanist in her usual finished manner, her playing being fully in keeping with the high quality of the entire programme. The musicians were all at their best and their numbers met with a keenly appreciative hearing, which found expression in repeated demands for encores. Mr. Warren, who was a member of the Bank of Hamilton staff here some years ago, surprised even his closest friends with his magnificent work. He has a powerful clear tenor voice and sings with great expressiveness. He was equally at home in songs of sentiment, classical numbers, or familiar gospel hymns. His singing of the latter was most impressive and the hush that fell over the audience told eloquently of the moving effect of the singer's appeal. The addresses of the three ex-pastors already named and of Mr. C. R. McKeown, the one layman who addressed the gathering, were full of interest and replete with witty sayings and humorous anecdotes. Mr. Locke spoke with deep appreciation of the labors of those who had so well and wisely laid the foundations of Methodism in Orangeville. He mentioned the fact that of all the members of fifty years ago only six survive to-day. Of these one was unfortunately seriously ill and unable to be present. Mr. Locke rejoiced at the privilege of being able to be present with his Orangeville friends to offer his sincere and most hearty congratulations and to wish them every success in ther future work for the Master. Dr. Harper was in a delightfully reminiscent mood and narrated a number of amusing incidents connected with his earlier work in the ministry. He paid a high tribute to the sterling worth and Godliness of the men in the Methodist Church a generation ago, instancing in particular the late James Brown, with whom he had lived for a year in Albion when beginning his ministry. Mr. Young paid a warm tribute to the worth, sincerity and singleness of purpose of the present pastor, Mr. Partridge, added his meed of congratulation and then laughingly confessed that he had been moved to attempt to do justice to the occasion in poetry. After entertaining his hearers for some minutes with a recital of the difficulties in the way of getting local names to fit in with his verse making, Mr. Young declared that he had finally decided that this would not do and had tried another composition of a more general nature. This he proceeded to read and was rewarded with a round of hearty applause at the close of the reading. We hope to be able to give our readers an opportunity to judge of the merits of Mr. Young's poetry in next issue. Mr. McKeown spoke in a reminiscent vein and recalled a number of facts of interest in the earlier days of Methodism in Orangeville. Owing to the numerous demands for encores and the generous manner in which the musicians complied with the wishes of the audience, the programme was quite lengthy and it was well past eleven o'clock, when the gathering rose to sing God Save the King. After the National Anthem Rev. Mr. Locke pronounced the benediction and the commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Orangeville Methodist Church has passed into history.

It is of interest to note that at the time of the erection of the present Methodist Church fifty years ago Orangeville was a mission field. The story of the erection of the church is briefly told in the report sent to the Missionary Society of the Church by Rev. Mr. Howard, who was then in charge of the field. The report reads:

"In taking a review of the past three years spent on this interesting field of labor, we feel that we have much to be thankful for. The face of our old church being the smallest, and having the worst accommodations of any of the six churches in the village, militated greatly against us; but the Lord put it into the hearts of the people to build Him a house and on Dominion Day of last year (1871) Doctor Taylor laid the corner-stone of a new W. M. Church in Orangeville, and in March it was dedicated to God by Revs. Drs. Punshon, Wood and Evans. The proceeds of the opening services amounted to $1,887. Church and lots cost $9,500; a debt remains of $3,000. One third of the pews are let for $200 per annum and we expect to rent many more, so the debt will not be a burden. The congregations have greatly increased since we have occupied the new church."

Mr. Howard places the membership at 166 and states in his report that "We have an excellent Quarterly Board and a liberal people." Dr. Punshon, who assisted at the opening of the new church, is the author of the familiar hymn, "Listen, the Master Beseecheth." This was used as the closing hymn at the service on Sunday night.

It must not be thought that the building of the present church marked the beginning of Methodism in Orangeville. As far back as 1840, Abiathar Wilcox, a member of the Episcopal Methodist Church, settled on lot 2 on the west side of the Prince of Wales Road. In 1841 and following years the community was occasionally visited by M. E. preachers. In 1849 Mr. Wilcox offered an acre of land on his farm for a parsonage, meeting house and burying ground. In the same year a Mission was organized and building plans were formulated. Mr. Wilcox took back the lot he had donated and in lieu thereof purchased an acre from Orange Lawrence on the corner of Church and Wellington Sts. Here a church was built in 1850 and here the congregation worshipped until 1866, when a new chapel was erected on the southwest corner of of First and Zina Sts. On June 1st, 1877, this chapel was destroyed by fire, but was soon replaced by a neat brick edifice, which was ready for occupation in 1878.

Wesleyan Methodism seems to have obtained a foothold in Orangeville in or about the year 1850, when Rev. Mr. Jones took up his residence in the village as the first Wesleyan minister appointed to the Orangeville Mission. In 1857 the site for the first church was donated by the late Mr. Jesse Ketchum. The property stood on the north side of First Ave. just east of Second St. Here a small brick church was erected and did duty until the erection of the present Church on First Avenue fifteen years later.

The Orangeville Primitive Methodist Mission had its origin in the autumn of 1864, when Orange Lawrence and his wife deeded a half acre on what is now York St. for the purpose of commencing the Mission. In 1868 a new church was opened and dedicated on the corner of Zina and First Sts. and was occupied by the congregation until the union of the three branches of the church in 1884. A section of the congregation declined to accept the basis of union and continued to meet and worship in their old church until 1886, when they decided that it would be in the best interests of Methodism to discontinue the services. The church was accordingly closed, but was afterwards sold to the Baptists, who are still using it as a place of worship.

In 1874 the Wesleyan and the New Connexion Methodist Churches formed a union under the name of the Methodist Church of Canada. Ten years later, on July 1st, 1884, the other Methodist bodies came into the union. The first Superintendent of the united church in Orangeville was Rev. J. G. Laird. Successive pastors since the union have been Rev. J. G. Laird, 1884-86; Rev. Wm. Pirritte, 1886-7; Rev. C. E. McIntyre, 1887-90; Rev. M. L. Pearson, 1890-92; Rev. A. Brown, 1892-95; Rev. A. Lazier, 1895-99; Rev. W. R. Barker, 1899-1901; Rev. T. E. Bartley, 1901-04; Rev. John Locke, 1904-08; Rev. Henry Harper, 1908-12; Rev. G. W. Robinson, 1912-16; Rev. E. R. Young, 1916-20; Rev. H. L. Partridge, 1920—

In the autumn of 1884 the church building was enlarged and renovated. Side gallaries, a choir gallery, vestries, cushioned pews and matted aisles were among the improvements. In 1905 new furnaces were installed, in 1906 individual communion cups were introduced and in 1907 the parsonage was renovated and improved. In October 1919 the congregation subscribed about $4,000 for the National Campaign of the Methodist Church. At the present time the church has a membership of 415 and during the financial year ending April 30th, 1921, raised $7900.00 for all purposes.

ORANGEVILLE'S BIGGEST STORE

BACK TO THE FARM

Mr. John Vance, who sold his farm in Caledon and moved to Brampton last autumn, has decided to return to the land. He has purchased the property of the late W. J. Mills, close to the village of Mono Mills, from Mr. James Arlow and will get immediate possession. We understand that the price paid for the place is in the neighborhood of $6500. Mr. Vance's decision to come back to Caledon will be welcome news to the people of Mono Mills and vicinity, as he has always been progressive and public-spirited and took an active part and interest in all local enterprises.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Members of the I. O. D. E. were out in goodly numbers for the monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Hewat, Second St., on Friday afternoon. Mrs. (Dr.) J. A. Macleod, the Vice-Regent, presided. Bliss Carman, one of the best known of our Canadian poets, was the subject of a very fine Paper, prepared by Mrs. Macleod and read by Mrs. Albert Walker. Mrs. W. C. Hopkins contributed well rendered readings from Carman's poems. Miss Gardiner gave a solo in her usual pleasing style and Misses Margaret Irvine and Margaret Willoughby favored the ladies with a delightful piano duet.

An unexpected but welcome gift came to hand the other day in the form of a donation of $3.00 to the Building Fund from Mr. Geo. E. McGuire, of Heidelberg, South Africa. Mr. McGuire's mother lived in town until her death a few years ago, and her son, while away from Canada for many years, still retains a warm interest in the home of his boyhood days. The donor has our best thanks for his timely and thoughtful gift.

Mr. A. Mellick, of Vineland, formerly Dominion Express Agent in Orangeville, has our grateful thanks for remembering the hospital with the handsome gift of a can of peaches.

The Hospital is indebted to Mrs. (Dr.) Kyles for a liberal donation of fruit and to Miss Ida McKim for fruit and pickles. We are sincerely grateful to both ladies.

We are indebted and grateful to Mrs. David McMullen, of Mono Mills, for a gift of tomatoes, to Miss Bessie Duke for fruit and a jar of cream, and to Mrs. Endacott for fruit.

BLOUNT.

The March meeting of the Blount Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. John Crozier, the President, Mrs. Crozier, presiding. Mrs. Crombie contributed a suggestive Paper on "The Garden; Vegetable Diet Necessary to Health." An interesting Paper entitled "The School Meeting," was given by Mrs. Alex. Still. A dainty luncheon was served and the meeting was brought to a close with the singing of Auld Lang Syne. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Mabel Huskisson. A cordial invitation is extended to all the ladies of the neighborhood to be present.

MONO MILLS

Mono Mills Boys' Club held another successful meeting on Thursday night, March 9th. The meeting was opened by the President, Mr. John Jackson. Mr. Dinnick led with a short prayer and Mr. Matheson gave an inspiring easay on Lord Byron, which held the close attention of the boys. The president gave a selected Reading entitled "With His Back to the Wall." The meeting was brought to a close with Mr. Matheson leading in prayer. On Thursday, March 16th, a social will be given by the girls in the Orange Hall. This is a change of date as it was announced that the Social would be held on the 15th. All boys are invited to join the Boys' Club. Club fees, 25c. per annum.

LAUREL

Church union is the talk around our little burg.

The young people of the Methodist Epworth League promise the people of Laurel and vicinity a real treat next Tuesday evening, March 21st, when they will present their play, "Star Bright" in the Laurel Town Hall.

Mr. Geo. Hornett, our busy blacksmith, says he will have to put on two extra shoers.

Mr. A. D. Harrison, who has been in the employment of Mr. W. R. Grosskurth for three years, is going into the grocery business in Dundalk on April 1st.

Mr. J. A. Hughes made a business trip to Toronto this week.

Our village is getting more like New York every day. Our merchant, Mr. W. R. Grosskurth, is having a day's showing of Ladies' Suits, Coats and Dresses about March 20th. This will give his many customers an opportunity to get the latest styles at first cost.

Mr. Robert Greason has been laid up with a sore back for some four or five days.

We are glad to see Ward Trimble out again after his sickness.

Is Bertha taking or giving lessons in Toronto these days?

GLENCROSS.

Mr. J. W. Holmes, one of the well-known younger farmers of this district, held a successful sale of his farm stock, implements, etc., on Tuesday afternoon, March 7th. The event attracted a big crowd and Auctioneer Geo. McAlister had no difficulty getting satisfactory prices for most of the chattels that came under the hammer. One of a team of working horses was knocked down for $180 and its mate realized $181. Year old cattle were bid as high as $53 each. Altogether the sale realized Mr. Holmes something over $2,000.

CALEDON.

Much sympathy is expressed in this community for Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Speers in the loss they have sustained by the death of their 6 months old daughter, Margaret Pearl. The little one had not been well for a few days but was not considered seriously ill, but pneumonia developed and the little sufferer passed away in a few days. The funeral on Wednesday to the Forest Lawn Cemetery, Orangeville, was largely attended by friends and neighbors. Rev. J. F. G. Morris conducted the memorial services at the house and grave.

Nipped by the wind's unkindly blast,
Parched by the sun's directed ray,
The momentary glories waste;
The young, the beauties die away.

The Union Young People's Society held a very interesting meeting on Tuesday night. Mr. Bert Clarke sang a very appropriate solo, Miss Jean Sutton gave a splendid reading and Homer Hillyard gave a very instructive address on the University Short Course. Messrs. Clarke and Widdis rendered a fine duet. Next week Alton League will visit our Society when a splendid time is expected.

The Caledon U. F. O. held a very successful meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Speers last Wednesday. A business meting was conducted, after which a splendid program was rendered. After lunch the young people enjoyed a dance.

GEORGE HOWITT

George Howitt, an old resident of the Mono Mills district, passed away at his late residence, lot 4, con. 8, Mono (Mono-Adjala townline), on Thursday, February 23rd. Death was due to hardening of the arteries and Mr. Howitt was bedfast for six weeks prior to his demise. The deceased was 71 years of age and is survived by his widow, Eveline Wetherhead, of Garafraxa, prior to marriage, and one daughter, Mrs. John G. Irwin, of Albion. Joseph Howitt, the only son of the family, died about five years ago. Mrs. Howitt and her daughter have the sympathy of the neighborhood in the loss of one who had always been a kind, loving husband and a devoted father. The late Mr. Howitt was born in Caledon, a short distance from Mono Mills. He farmed in East Garafraxa for a few years, but with that exception had spent his lifetime in the Mono Mills neighborhood. He was a Methodist, a Conservative and a member of the Orange Order, having been in earlier life in active connection with Connor L. O. L. No. 125. He was an honest, hard-working man, possessed a genial, kindly nature and was held in general respect as a neighbor and citizen. There was a large attendance of the neighbors and friends at the funeral, which was held to Raney's Church cemetery in Adjala on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 25th. Revs. S. Dunn Dinnick, J. A. Matheson and D. G. Atkinson took part in the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. Wm. Cobean, R. J. Leggatt, Geo. Patterson, Enoch Snell, John McElwain and John Irwin.

AN APPRECIATION

The following appreciative article on the life of the late Dr. W. T. Wallace, whose death and funeral were reported in last week's Banner, is copied from the Kitchener Record:—

"The sudden death of Dr. W. T. Wallace at his home in Waterloo last Sunday morning, in his forty-third year, brought forth feelings of the deepest sorrow and regret. He was a man who called for in an altogether unusual degree the admiration, respect and love of those who were privileged to associate with him. Dr. Wallace was a noted specialist in his profession, having carried on a most successful practice in eye, ear and nose treatment for the past fifteen years, with headquarters at Kitchener, with branch offices at Guelph and Galt, and had his physical strength been in keeping with his brilliant endowments as a professional man, he could easily have developed into one of the leading specialists in Canada. His professional career, like his private life, was characterized by a profound sense of humor, a courtesy ever manifest to all and a steadfastness of friendship which endeared him to those who had the pleasure of associating with him. Twin City residents will sincerely mourn the untimely demise of their fellow-citizen, cut off seemingly at the height of his usefulness, honored and respected as a man of sterling worth, whose character was built on solid foundations. Whatever he did, he did it well—and so it was in the development of his character. His was a life well lived, so that when it came to the end he was ready to obey the summons. A most devoted husband and father, his home life was a particularly happy one, and to the sorrowing widow and family, thus grievously bereaved, the heartfelt sympathy of the whole community is extended."

WOODS' EXPENSES

A published statement gives $446.65 as the election expenses of R. J. Woods, the successful U. F. O. candidate for the Commons in Dufferin. The expenses are itemized under four heads as follows:—

Candidate's personal expenses	$ 85.70
Hire of premises	97.65

A KARAKULE RAM

Councillor W. J. Trathen, of Caledon, whose fondness for improved stock is known to many of our readers, is now the owner of a purebred Karakule ram, which he purchased from a breeder at Petitcodiac, N. B., a few weeks ago. Mr. Trathen's new acquisition possesses the aristocratic name of "Vladimir." Adding the freight to the purchase price he cost his owner a cool $100. Mr. Trathen is now on the lookout for a couple of Karakule ewes to form the nucleus of a flock.

A SKATING PARTY

A party of Orangeville young people drove to Shelburne on Thursday evening last to enjoy a night's skating at the rink. The following composed the party: Misses Ina Porter, Lizzie Nodwell, Bertha Allen, Irene Henry, Kathleen Fleming and Messrs. Chas. Robinson, Ralph Endacott, Stewart Porter, Dr. G. S. Matthews, Ross Curry and Mr. McCracken.—Free Press.

Mr. Gordon Babe was stormstayed at Jackson's Point over Sunday.

Mr. Herb Wilson happened with a serious runaway, while out driving accompanied by his lady friend last week.

Mr. Clifford Duke spends his Sunday evenings on the 6th line corner. Clifford should make a successful student.

Mr. James Henry spent Sunday at Mr. John White's. We believe Jim intends taking a course at No. 4 School.

What we would like to know:—

Where Jim Crombie spends his Sunday evenings?

Why Elgin Williams did not have J. H. at his Party?

If Herb Wilson intends to sell Williams' Pink Pills this summer?

When Jack Crozier intends to cage the bird?

If Dalt Holmes is going to give us a Party in his new home?

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of William Bower, who died on March 4th, 1921.

The day brings sad memories
Of a loved one laid to rest;
And those who think of him to-day
Are those who loved him best.

The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day;
But never will the one we loved
From memory pass away.

Sadly missed by Wife and Daughter

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our dear sister, Irene Stump, who passed away on March 17th, 1921.

Oh, how we miss her, words cannot tell,
Her bright, happy face we all loved so well;
The sweetest of memories is all that is left
Of our dear sister, who has gone to rest.

Not dead to us, we love her still,
Not lost, but gone before;
She lives with us in memory still
And shall for evermore.

Brother and Sister,
Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Patterson

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, Irene Stump, who passed away on March 17th, 1921.

What would I give to clasp her hand,
Her cheery face to see;
To hear her voice, to see her smile,
That meant so much to me.

How oft we long to see you, dear,
And put our arms around your neck
In one long embrace;
The world seems quite another place,
Without the smile of your sweet face.

We miss your kind and willing hand,
Your fond and earnest care;
Our home is dark without you,
We miss you everywhere.

Father and Mother, Sisters and Brothers.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. William McCabe, who passed away on March 16th, 1919.

It was hard to lose our mother dear,
But, God, Who knoweth best,
Held wide His loving arms and said
"Come unto Me and rest."

Our hearts, our home seem empty,
For our dear one, who is not there;
And in the lonely days that pass,
How we long for you, mother, dear.

A loving mother, true and kind,
A beautiful memory left behind;
Loved and respected, one of the best,
May she be granted eternal rest.

THE FAMILY.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Norman F. Speers, who departed this life March 24th, 1920.

Two years have passed since that sad day,
The one we loved was called away;
God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts he liveth still.

An angel took my flower away,
But I will not repine;
For Jesus in His bosom wears
The flower that once was mine.

Sleep on, dear Norman, and take your rest;
We miss you most, who loved you best.

Yet again we hope to meet you,
When the day of life is fled,
And in Heaven with joy to greet you,
Where no farewell tears are shed.

Father, Mother, Sisters and Brothers.

TRYING TO RUB OUT YOUR RHEUMATISM

It Can't Be Done—The Trouble Must Be Treated Through The Blood.

The pain of rheumatism is something you cannot rub out. Every sufferer from rheumatism has been advised to rub this liniment or that on the affected part, but after all the rubbing the pain remained. Rubbing did not cure it and can't cure it.

Thin blood and rheumatism come together and if they are properly treated they will go together. Rheumatism is in the blood—in poor watery blood. Sometimes cold, damp weather starts the aches and pains, but it is the condition of the blood that is at fault, and only by correcting this, and making the blood rich and red can the rheumatic poison be driven out. This is what is done in the treatment of Rheumatism with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Acute and muscular rheumatism show improvement as the thin blood is built up, and when the blood has been restored to its normal condition the trouble vanishes. This is proved by the experience of Mr. John O'Neill, Port Hood, N. S., who says: "I was a periodical sufferer from rheumatism for years. I tried many remedies, but with indifferent results, and I had about concluded that the trouble was too firmly rooted in my system to be got rid of. While I was suffering from an attack a friend advised me to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. I first got three boxes and by the time I had taken them I felt much better. Then I got three more boxes, and when I had taken them, not only was the rheumatism gone, but I was feeling better in every way. If you suffer from rheumatism I strongly advise a trial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SPINSTERS' CONVENTION

Arrangements are well advanced for the Spinsters' Convention in the town Hall, Caledon, on Wednesday night, March 22nd. This promises to be an outstanding performance and should draw a crowded house. Proceeds in aid of the Caledon Public Library. Admission, 35c; school children, 15c.

ONLY SIX MEMBERS LIVING

The anniversary services in the Methodist Church on Sunday served to emphasize the completeness of the change that the passing years work in the membership of a congregation. Out of the entire membership of fifty years ago there are to-day only six persons still living in town and identified with the congregation. They are Mrs. Edward Clark, ex-Mayor John Johnston Lindsay, Mrs. J. Kearns, Mrs. F. H. Arkell, Mrs. J. R. Lathwell and Mrs. Geo. Beswick.

VIOLET HILL

The V. H. baseball girls gave a ball,
One Friday night in the Orangemen's Hall,
The invited guests came trooping there,
And sounds of merriment filled the air.

The gay violinists numbered nine,
And the music throughout was certainly fine,
There were plenty of "callers," too, in sight,
Whose voices told us "Our hearts are light."

E're nine o'clock had slipped around,
The hall was filled with the merry sound—
The sound of music and gliding feet,
Oh! I'm sure that party will never be beat!

The captain and Trueman looked their best,
When they stepped to the music of "Feather Your Nest;"
Errol and Gordon had made a trade,
Since the last baseball party—a trade of maids.

Our western Willie—that jolly lad—
Was having the time of his life bedad!
Geo. Armstrong was stepping around quite spry,
But beneath it all he heaved a sigh.

No thoughts of farming could Angus harbor,
I think he'd rather be a merry Barber;
Orrie Irwin was there with his girl from the east,
They looked very happy to say the least.

Joe Gilmore was waltzing in very good time,
With a dark eyed girl from up the third line;
A borrowed jewel had Perry for tea,
And kyttie's girlie I failed to see.

Alvin's one-step was quite a new rule,
Taught by his partner from Earnscliffe School;
As a result of this Bob McKelvie looked blue,
You may not believe it, but really, it's true.

Harold R., a lonely time did pass,
When to help serve lunch went his little lass;
Josh Brinkman, too, was there—no less,
He thought the party was a grand success.

FARMER JACK.

PRESENTATION TO MR. AND MRS. L. E. EWART

The neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ewart met at their home in Albion on Tuesday evening last to bid them farewell prior to their departure for Newmarket, where they will make their home in future. The evening was spent in social intercourse, one and all expressing regret at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Ewart from the district. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Ewart were presented with an arm chair and a rocking chair, accompanied by the following address: Mr. and Mrs. Ewart,—

It is with very deep regret that we learn you are about to depart from this immediate community, but a great loss will be other peoples' gain. You have lived in our midst for a number of years and, we must say, that as neighbors, we all have found you to be all that could be desired. You both were always ready to lend a helping hand in anything that required your assistance. Kindly accept these chairs, not for their intrinsic value, but as a slight remembrance of your many friend and well-wishers. We all join in wishing you health, wealth and prosperity in your new home.

Signed on behalf of the friends and neighbors.—Bolton Enterprise.

BEN STILL LIVING

Mr. Ben Stubbs left Mono Road vicinity for the West about thirty years ago. He wrote regularly to his brother William for some time and then abruptly ceased. Letters sent to him were returned marked "Left, address not known." He had insured his life and by arrangement his brother was to pay the yearly premiums. After a silence of over seven years, his brother advertised extensively for him but no response came. The company paid his insurance to his brother. As time passed William and another brother, John, died. Ben was forgotten until a few days ago when Mr. S. H. Nelson received a letter from the long-lost and supposedly dead Ben asking information about his brothers. The letter said among other things that he had lived for years in British Columbia and had become fairly prosperous. Why he didn't write is not stated and his relatives were for all purposes as dead to him as he was to them.—Bolton Enterprise.

LITTLE GIRL LOSES LIFE

FATAL ACCIDENT ON THOMPSONVILLE HILL

Mildred Campsall, Clinging to a Load of Lumber Descending a Hill, Alights Under the Heavy Sticks and is Killed Instantly.

A fatal accident in which a little Thompsonville girl lost her life occurred there last Saturday just before noon. Mildred E. M. Campsall, the twelve year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Campsall, was the victim. Her father and brother had been getting out red cedar for bridge coverings. The timber was being sawn at Mason's portable mill, which is operating in that section this winter, and delivered to wherever it is needed. Saturday morning Clifford Campsall put on a load of this timber to be delivered at Mr. David McKnight's farm. The timbers are heavy pieces six inches thick and twelve or fourteen inches in width, the length being sixteen feet. It does not take many pieces to make a load and the young man put out two layers on the bolster of his sleighs with one piece on the centre of the top to give him a chance to tighten the binding chain. This would make a load of eighteen hundred or two thousand pounds. When he was about to start, his little sister announced that she was going part of the way with him, taking advantage of the ride to visit some of her little friends. The Campsall home is on the south side of the 13th line of Tecumseth and on the west crest of the deep depression through which the Nottawasaga River runs where it crosses the 13th under what is known as the Thompsonville bridge. When the young man got out on the road a little Bray boy climbed up on the timbers. As the sleigh was running on the approach of the heavy decline of the hill Clifford Campsall stopped the horses and told the children to get off. The little boy climbed down, but the little girl said she would hang on, and her brother, being human, did not deny his little sister the ride down the hill she was so anxious to have. The sleigh began to crowd the horses, one of which was young, and left the tracks. The driver called to his sister to jump and devoted his attention to trying to control the team till the bottom of the hill was reached. The young horse was endeavoring to get off the road and was pulling the sleigh towards the edge of the decline at the side. The load made a bound from the road and upset down the embankment. The driver jumped and had a narrow escape from being struck. Seeing that his sister was under the load he set frantically to work to release her and in a few seconds had pushed the sleigh out of the way and thrown the timbers off the body. Seeing that the little girl was dead he went to the horses which were headed up the hill and entangled in the harness, being held fast by a post at the side of the road. One of them was rapidly strangling. The young man pulled the harness off and let the horses roll down the hill, where the one that had been checked lay for some time before it got up. The neighbors came to young Mr. Campsall's assistance and the body of the little girl was taken home. Dr. J. D. Cunningham, coroner, was notified and went out. He found the skull and side of the head crushed, though there was not outward indication of such terrible injury, the skin being scarcely scratched. Internal injuries had been inflicted on the body, several ribs being crushed. Death, Dr. Cunningham stated, had been instantaneous. The father had gone to Primrose Saturday morning with a load of belongings for a neighbor. He was intercepted at Mr. W. J. Little's gate, west of Rosemont. Mr. Little informed Mr. Campsall what had happened, gave him a sleigh to return home and hitching his own team to the load took it on to Primrose. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon and was attended by people from all the homes in the community, the circumstances being such as to excite unusual sympathy for the stricken parents and family and the broken hearted brother.—Alliston Herald.

At Any Time YOU May Need Zam-Buk

Every home and farm needs Zam-Buk simply because it is the purest, safest and best antiseptic healer ever discovered. Equally good in simple cuts and burns as for chronic wounds or sores. If you would save worry keep Zam-Buk handy.

FOR SCALDS—Mr. Geo. H. Duffus, a C.P.R. fireman, of Fort William, says: "The water gauge of my locomotive burst and scalded the left side of my face terribly. Fortunately I carry Zam-Buk about with me, and as soon as possible I had the balm freely applied. Zam-Buk took out all the 'fire' and smarting and in a few days it had my face nicely healed."

PIMPLES & FACE SORES—Miss S. G. Hamilton, of Alliston, Ont., writes:—"My face and hands were simply a mass of pimples, blotches and sores. The affected parts were as painful as if I had been scalded. I found nothing of real use except Zam-Buk. It soothed, purified and healed my skin perfectly."

OR POISONED WOUNDS—Mrs. A. Berryman, 190, John St North, Hamilton, who had her right foot crushed by a wagon wheel, says:—"The flesh was terribly blackened and inflamed when I got Zam-Buk. Within two days all pain, swelling and discoloration had disappeared. In four days the injury was thoroughly healed."

If you have never used this wonderful healer, send a 1c. stamp (for postage of SAMPLE BOX) to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box, 3 for $1.50.

DOMINION-WIDE BODY

Rev. W. M. Morris, of Toronto, Secretary-Treasurer of the Ontario School Trustees and Ratepayers Association, has just returned from the West, where he addressed a convention of the Saskatchewan Trustees Association in Regina and a similar gathering of the Manitoba School Trustees Association in Winnipeg. While in the West Mr. Morris launched a movement for the organization of a Dominion-wide Trustees Association. The project was endorsed by the two Western Provincial Associations and it is expected that the new organization will be formed in Toronto about Easter. Mr. Morris holds that a Dominion Association would promote more effective co-operation of professional educationists and those in charge of school administration.

Such an organization, Mr. Morris believes, should do a great deal in aiding to promote the holding of conferences and the publication of an educational journal to keep trustees in all parts of the country in touch with educational movements on this continent, and in the older countries of the world. It would also enable the provincial association to work in better harmony and to co-operate more fully with the National Council of Education which will hold a convention some time in 1923. It is in his opinion highly desirable that an active part be taken in such conferences, for the improvement of education in general and the development of a sound, true and staunch Canadian national spirit.

WALDEMAR

It is some time now since The Banner has heard from our community. We wonder what is the matter with our correspondent.

Moving is the order of the day. Mr. Laughlin Sinclair moved last week from the Tolton farm to Mr. J. McBride's farm on the townline. Mr. David Tate is busy moving his household effects to the place vacated by Mr. Sinclair.

Mr. Binney Rodgers, of the Hydro Company, is spending a week at the home of his parents here.

Mr. Edward Grosskurth, of Toronto, spent a day with his brother here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McEachren, of Toronto, are visiting the latter's parents here.

Mrs. Harvey McConachie is spending a few days with her mother.

Mr. Fred and Mr. James Tate, of the Hydro Company, are visiting at their home here.

Miss V. Johnston spent the week-end at her home in Gorrie.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lomas are away attending the funeral of their nephew at Jarvis.

Mr. and Mrs. Carman Linfoot spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Wm. Lovell.

Rev. Mr. Craw, of Toronto, took charge of the Sunday services here.

The ladies of the community gathered at the home of Mrs. Jas. Butler to observe the international Day of Prayer. About thirty were present. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Butler served a dainty lunch.

Last Friday the Y. P. S. of the Presbyterian Church held their regular social evening in the church basement. Over one hundred were present. The first part of the evening was spent sociably and in playing games. A debate, "Resolved that Automobiles are more Beneficial than Horses," followed and resulted in a tie. After a short programme lunch was served. Rev. Mr. Lundie, of Grand Valley, was present and extended to our Society an invitation to visit their Society on the evening of March 13th.

FORESTRY

Questions and Answers by Canadian Forestry Association.

Q.—As a school teacher I have been asked the question why a tree should ever die. Can you answer this for me?

A.—Theoretically a tree should never die for while the old central part of the trunk may decay, this is of little moment so long as new layers are regularly put on at the circumference. The growth of a tree is entirely in the cambium layer at the outer edge and not at the heart. The fact is, of course, that trees succumb always to external causes. Insect, fungus diseases, fires, excessive cold or drought are factors that limit the actual life of trees. The Redwood trees on the California Coast, some of them thirty feel in diameter, have attained an age from three thousand to four thousand years. There are also trees on the island of Teneriffe, off the African coast, which are believed to be equally as old.

Q.—Some people claim that forest fires have actually increased the fur bearing animals in the far north. Is this true?

A.—The Hudson Bay Company declares such a theory emthatically untrue. They state that repeated forest fires have gone far to extinguish for commercial purposes the fur bearing animals such as fox, ermine, fisher, and others in Northern Ontario which, unlike the beaver and muskrat, are unable to take refuge from forest fires by entering the water, It is a curious fact that the marten in face of a forest fire will climb a tree for safety and usually, of course, falls victim. Canada's fur trade is decidedly menaced by the present plague of forest fires.

Q.—Is there any way of finding the forest fire loss of Quebec province in 1921?

A.—According to the Provincial Forester, Quebec lost twelve hundred square miles by fire last year. This, of course, represents an enormous loss and it is the duty of every citizen who enters the forests of Quebec to join hands with the fire rangers in making a repetition of such loss impossible in 1922. The great majority of fires doing such damage to one of Quebec's great resources were due to human carelessness and the attitude of "don't care."

Q.—Is there any way of estimating financially what a shade tree in good condition in front of my residence is worth. Has there been any court decision establishing such a point?

A.—In New York State the court established a record by handing down a verdict of $500 each for destruction of a tree by a construction company. In this case an arbitrary value was placed on the tree by means of its diameter, as for instance, $2 per inch. That is, a tree eighteen inches in diameter would be worth $36. There is a second method which takes in an arbitrary value per square inch of basal area taken at breast height or four and a half feet from the ground. In Massachusettes the usual figure used in this case is one dollar, in which case, a tree having a basal area of 254 square inches would be considered worth $254, the latter figure however, is generally regarded as being farr too high.

Anaemia

Thin, watery blood is no more nourishing than thin, watery milk—skim milk.

But you can soon enrich thin blood, overcome the anaemic condition and build up the whole system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. F. G. Simmons, 42 Curtis St., Brantford, Ont., writes:

"For about eight years I suffered from anaemia. My circulation was poor, my gums and lips were pale, and my hands and feet were always cold. I was nervous and unable to sleep well. I had frequent headaches, seemed restless and easily worried or irritated. There was a buzzing sound in my ears. Indigestion was also one of my complaints, and I often was attacked by weak spells. I went to a doctor, who told me I was anaemic, but as I did not get any better I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after the first box I felt brighter and my headaches completely disappeared. I continued using the Nerve Food for quite a while. I am quite well now, and cheerfully and gratefully recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to people suffering as I did before I used this splendid medicine."

First, Doctors — Then a Skin Specialist Then a bottle of D.D.D.

We shall publish every week for the benefit of skin sufferers in this section, a few words written by Canadian people—some of them of prominence—all heartfelt stories of relief from terrible suffering.

A sentence or two from a letter from J. W. Corns, 23 Melbourne Ave., Toronto, a man of fine standing. "I have been a sufferer for two years with eczema on the legs and ankles. I tried three or four different doctors. I went to a skin specialist. All of no use. I used one dollar bottle of D. D. D.—that is all. Today I am perfectly well."

If you wish to try a bottle of this Prescription that Mr. Corns found so remarkable, we will guarantee relief on the first bottle, or your money back. Stop that itch today. $1.00 a bottle. Try D. D. D. Soap, too.

Has New Kind of Potato.

Saskatchewan men have placed the province in the foremost ranks of agriculture, and now the name of a woman is being added to the list of the famous. She is Annie McLeay, of Yorkton, Sask. She has developed a new distinct variety of potatoes, which she has named Cameron Highlander, in memory of her son who fell overseas. In 1915, when the call came for greater production in every line, Mrs. McLeay started developing her variety of potatoes. She secured ball seed, and year after year selected the best specimens, until last year the Cameron Highlander attracted the attention of the province's most famous agriculturists. The new variety bids fair to outrank the older varieties.

Made London Laugh.

I was working in American headquarters in London in March, 1919. As we were quartered on the opposite side of the city, we had quite a little ride or walk to where we worked. I arose one morning rather late and rushed off half cocked to work. On the way I noticed that every one around me was smiling, some actually laughing. Imagine my chagrin when in the busiest street, at Trafalgar square, to have a major touch me on the shoulder and call my attention to the fact that I had neglected to put on my leather leggings, which left about two inches of white sock and two inches of equally white underclothes between the shoes and trouser legs.

Believe me, it did not take me long to climb in a taxi and get back to my lodging house.—Exchange.

—Why drag around feeling half sick and no account all the time when you can get Tanlac? Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ont.

—John Berry has sold his farm, the Edgar property, lot 1, con. 10, Amaranth to Alex. Burke, of East Garafraxa for about $3,500. There is a small house on the farm, but the barn was destroyed by fire last fall.

—If you want to get the Newest in Suits, Coats or Dresses and also save a few dollars visit W. R. Grossurth's Store at Laurel on Monday, March 20th.

—The town was crowded to the doors for the monthly fair last Thursday. It was the largest fair day crowd seen in town for many moons. A real oldtime fair was the general verdict.

—Willie Armstrong and John Harvey, of Mono Mills, who have been in Lord Dufferin Hospital here for the last two weeks or longer, are both making excellent progress and will soon be able to return to their homes.

—One of the most noteworthy features in connection with Tanlac is the large number of men and women who have reported an astonishingly rapid increase in weight as a result of its use. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ont.

—W. R. GROSSKURTH is having a large display of Ladies' Spring Suits, Coats and Dresses at his store in Laurel on Monday next.

—Now, Mrs. Jones, if you do not visit the Laurel Store on Monday next, Mrs. Smith will get ahead of you with her new Easter Suit or Dress.

—The Northern Summer School of the Methodist Church will be held in Port Elgin July 8th to July 14th.

—Potatoes are still advancing the wrong way. After a prolonged stand at 75c the market took a 16 cent drop this week and now 65c is about the best price quoted locally for the murphies. The potato market has been a big disappointment to the farmers this year. It started well at $1..50 a bag and even higher at digging time, but has slumped steadily ever since. The firmness of the fall market raised hopes of big prices later on. The mild winter has contributed to keep the price down, as it made it possible to ship in potatoes from outside the province even in midwinter.

—All the latest songs and some only off the press a few days will be sung in the funny musical comedy, "The Arrival of Mr. Wright," in the Opera House, Orangeille, on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 28th and 29th.

—In St. Andrew's Church next Sunday morning, Rev. F. W. Mahaffy will continue his series of morning discourses on Jesus, The Lord of Life and Death, speaking on the subject, "A Moody Disciple Facing Death."

—"The Arrival of Mr. Wright," a humorous musical comedy, will be given in the Opera House, Orangeville, on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 28th and 29th, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church. Admission 50 cents and 35 cents.

—Mr. G. A. Hillock left town on Saturday for his home at Scotsguard, Sask., taking with him a carload of settlers' effects. Mrs. Hillock and their son started for the West some days previously. Mr. and Mrs. Hillock have been visiting with friends hereabouts since last December.

—Horses were unusually dull at the fair last Thursday. There were plenty of buyers here, but most of them seemed to be of the Jewish persuasion and wanted to buy at bargain prices. Some of these gentry will soon be asking the farmers to pay them for taking their equines off their hands.

—Copies of the souvenir booklet by the Orangeville Methodist Church in connection with the anniversary services on Sunday may be obtained upon application to Rev. H. L. Partridge, Orangeville. The booklet contains a very complete history of early Methodism in this district. It has photos of a number of the pastors as well as other interesting features. Price of booklet, 50 cents.

ST. PATRICK'S NIGHT

St. Andrew's Y. P. S. will commemorate the birthday of Ireland's patron saint by holding a real Irish night at their regular weekly meeting next Monday night. Besides the Irish musical numbers and other distinctly Hibernian features of the program, Principal Hackett, of the High School, who is a son of Ould Erin, will deliver an address on "Ireland and Irishmen." PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. J. J. Magill, Brampton, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. Dods, West Broadway.

Mr. Milton Sproule, of Toronto, was a visitor in town on Thursday last.

Miss Barr and nephew, of New York, were the guests of Miss L. Patterson over the week-end.

Mrs. E. R. Goodeve, First St., will receive on March 22nd (4th Wednesday) from three-thirty to six o'clock.

Mrs. William Hall returned home on Tuesday night of last week after spending a week visiting friends in Toronto.

Messrs. C. R. Wheelock and U. W. Christie attended the recent Convention of the Ontario Good Roads Association.

Reeve Thos. Goodeve and Councillor Geo. Patterson, of Adjala, attended the recent Good Roads Convention in Toronto.

Miss Clara Black, The Maples, has returned home after spending three weeks with her sister, Miss Edna Black, of Toronto.

Mrs. John Rawn, of Caledon East, visited her sister, Mrs. John Patterson, and her daughter, Mrs. Wilfrid Lemon, on monthly fair day.

Mrs. Jos. Wiggins, of Inglewood, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John McConnell, First St., during the anniversary services of the Methodist Church.

Capt. Duncan Fitzpatrick, of Hamilton, and Mr. Arthur Macpherson, of Knox College, Toronto, spent the week-end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Macpherson.

Mr. David Cooke, of Bolton, formerly of the Elder district in Mono, was a visitor in town on fair day. Mr. Cooke and sister are both as excellent health and are liking their new home very much.

Mr. John McMaster, of Grand Valley, gave The Banner a short but pleasant visit while in town for the monthly fair on Thursday. Mr. McMaster is looking well and enjoying life in his new home in East Garafraxa.

Mr. L. H. Willis, of Belfountain, who holds the dual position of Clerk of Caledon township and Clerk of the County of Peel, was a visitor at the monthly fair on Thursday.

Mr. Lee Armstrong, who spent the winter in Orangeville and vicinity, left for Prelate, Sask., on Friday night. His friends here hope he will come east again next fall.

Mr. Wm. McCluskey, of Toronto, formerly of Mono, is visiting at the home of Mrs. Jas. McMaster, First Ave., for a few days. Mr. McCluskey is hale and vigorous if he does confess to 77 years. He retains his oldtime interest in Orangeville and district and derived great pleasure from being able to attend the jubilee services in the Methodist Church on Sunday.

Former Orangevillians who were here for the anniversary services and the Monday night entertainment in the Methodist Church included Rev. and Mrs. John Locke, of Owen Sound, Rev. and Mrs. E. R. Young, of Islington; Rev. Dr. Harper, of Aurora; Rev. J. R. Wilkinson, of Inglewood; Rev. C. J. Bailey, of Mansfield; Mrs. (Rev.) T. E. Bartley, of Toronto; Mrs. R. W. Ritchie of Dundalk; Mr. John Clark, of Southampton; Mrs. Geo. Jull and Mr. Wm. McCluskey, of Toronto.

—Have you renewed for The Banner? If you are in arrears do not delay—the printer needs the money.

CAUGHT BY SHAFT

Caledon Young Lady Met With Painful Accident on Monday Morning.

Miss May Young, the 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Young, 1st line, west, Caledon, met with a painful and distressing accident on her father's farm a short distance south of the C. P. R. station, on Monday morning. The young lady was operating a cream separator in the basement of the barn after the morning milking. The belt came off and she was in the act of replacing it when her hair caught in the rapidly revolving shaft. When the girl realized what was happenng she threw her full weight on the shaft, causing it to bind the coupling. The extra load blew out the spark plug and brought the machinery to a standstill, but not until about three-fourths of Miss Young's hair had been literally torn from the scalp by the roots. The muscles of the scalp were badly wrenched, but the scalp itself was not torn. Her sister, Maggie, was upstairs in the barn at the time and hearing her sister scream hastened to her aid. The shaft, however, had come to a standstill when she reached the badly injured girl. Dr. T. H. Henry was immediately summoned by telephone and upon arriving did all he could for the sufferer. The injury is very painful and Miss Young is also suffering from the after effects of the violent shock to her system. There is considerable blood beneath the scalp, but the doctor does not think the scalp has suffered any permanent injury. He is also hopeful that the hair will grown in again in time. Miss Young has the sympathy of all her friends in her distressing experience and all join in the hope that she will be spared any permanent ill effects.

CHILDHOOD CONSTIPATION

Constipation—that disordered state of the digestive tract which is nearly always caused by improper feeding—can be readily regulated by the use of Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative. They are easy to take and are absolutely free from injurious drugs. Concerning them Mrs. Joseph Dion, Ste. Perpetue, Que., writes:—"I have nothing but praise for Baby's Own Tablets. When my baby was three months old he was terribly constipated but the Tablets soon set him right and now at the age of fifteen months he is a big, healthy boy and this good health I attribute entirely to the use of Baby's Own Tablets. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

—Friday will be March 17th, observed by all true Irishmen as St. Patrick's Day.

ORANGEVILLE PRESBYTERY

At the meeting of the Orangeville Presbytery held in St. Andrew's Church here on Tuesday last week the following Commissioners were appointed to the General Assembly, which meets in Winnipeg this year:—

Revs. H. Shannon, McIntyre; C. S. Jones, Priceville; J. McCartney, Keldon, and N. Waddell, Ballinafad, and also a representative elder from each of the following places, namely, Ballinafad, Everett, Caledon East and Shelburne.

Presbytery granted permission to Mono Centre to proceed with the erection of a new church and complimented the people and their pastor, Rev. Wm. Coutts, on the progress they are making.

A union congregation is in process of formation in the western part of the Presbytery. It will include the Presbyterian work at Tarbert and that of the Methodist Church at Tarbert, Campania and Monticello. There are 103 families connected with these appointments. They will form a strong charge and will be under the care of the Methodist Church.

Hornings Mills, Primrose, Caledon and Maxwell Presbyterian and Methodist churches and Eugenia Methodist church have voted in favor of co-operation.

Four additional congregations have reported that they will pay their minister $1800 a year, namely, Maple Valley, Claude, Erin and Caledon East.

Rev. E. B. Horne, D. D., L. L. D., of Renfrew, was nominated to the Chair of Church History in Knox College to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Prof. Ballantyne. Rev. W. J. Clark, D. D., Montreal, was nominated to the Moderatorship of the General Assembly and Rev. J. A. Matheson, B. D., of Mono Mills, to that of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston.

SOCIAL AT CALEDON

The Ladies' Aid of Knox Church, Caledon, will hold a pie social on Friday evening, March 17th, in the basement of the church. Hot supper served from 6 to 8 o'clock, after which a splendid programme will be given. Admission, aduts 25 cents; children, 15 cents.

PAIN IN HER ARM IS NOW ALL GONE

MRS. STANTON RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Woodstock Lady Whose Rheumatism Has Vanished Tells Why She Believes in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Woodstock, Ont, March 13th. (Special)—Mrs. John Stanton, who lives on R. R. 1 near here, is never tired of telling of the benefit she received from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"About four years ago I had rheumatism in my left arm," Mrs. Stanton states. "It was so painful I couldn't dress myself."

"I read about Dodd's Kidney Pills and what they had done for others, so I sent and got six boxes. They did me good right from the start. The pain is now gone, but I keep Dodd's Kidney Pills in the house as I have an occasional touch of lumbago and they help it a lot. They help my husband's head, too."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best known and most reliable of Kidney remedies. They heal the kidneys. Sound kidneys strain all the uric acid, the cause of rheumatism, out of the blood.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make healthy kidneys.

COMEDY AT LAUREL

"Star Bright," a three act Comedy Drama, will be given in the Town Hall, Laurel, on Tuesday, March 21st, 1922, under the auspices of the Laurel Epworth League. RECTOR IS INDUCTED

Rev. A. C. McCollum Receives Warm Welcome to Alliston.

The Bishop of the Diocese Performed Part of the Induction Ceremony and Archdeacon Ingles Concludes With an Able Sermon and Some Kindly and Practical Advice.

The induction of the Rev. A. C. McCollum, of Lloydtown, into the rectorship of the parish of Alliston and West Essa took place in St. Andrew's Church on Tuesday evening at 8 p.m.

At a union vestry meeting of the congregations of Alliston and West Essa held on November 24th last, Rev. Mr. McCollum received a unanimous call to be rector, which he accepted and which was honored by the Right Rev. Bishop Sweeney on February 27th last. Owing to very urgent business Bishop Sweeney had to return to Toronto by C. P. R. at 4.30 p.m., but before leaving he held a short service, performing part of the induction and giving a brief but earnest and pointed address on the laity. He left to the Venerable Archdeacon Ingles the duty of completing the induction ceremony at the evening meeting.

There was a very large congregation present in the evening. After the opening exercises Archdeacon Ingles entered the chancel. Introducing Rev. M. McCollum who was supported by Mr. Jethro Swaffield, the minister's warden, and Mr. Milton Murphy, the people's warden. The Archdeacon read the usual form of induction; Rev. Mr. McCollum read his declaration of loyalty to the faith; Rev. Dr. Whittaker, of Cookstown, read Rev. Mr. McCollum's appointment, and Mr. Swaffield handed the newly appointed rector the key of the church. Archdeacon Ingles then pronounced Rev. A. C. McCollum duly inducted with all authority and power as rector of the Parish of Alliston and West Essa.

Rev. Dr. Whittaker read the service and Rev. T. J. Drew, of Ivy, presided at the organ.

Archdeacon Ingles preached the induction sermon, taking as his text, the 11th, 12th and 13th verses of the 4th chapter of Ephesians.

"I congratulate you people," said the venerable Archdeacon, "on having appointed as your rector Rev. Mr. McCollum, a man who is in every way worthy of your confidence, who will prove a worthy minister among you as called in Christ Jesus. Do not expect your minister to do every thing in this parish; you have your part to take, as he has his. Work together, pray together, realize the responsibility you each must take, welcome all who come to your church and help in bringing all to Christ; seek out the lost sheep and lead them back to the fold."

In reference to the ministry he advised preaching the gospel of repentance; preach the new doctrine, but the whole gospel of Jesus Christ.

The Archdeacon preached a very forceful gospel sermon on the duties of minister and people.

Rev. Mr. McCollum thanked Archdeacon Ingles for the splendid sermon he had given them, also the other clergymen for coming and taking part in this service. When the newly inducted rector gets settled and will have some time to spare, a congregational reception will probably be given him and his wife by the members of Alliston and West Essa churches. — Alliston Herald.

RELESSEY

Skating is the order of the day or night around this burg.

This last week a few of the young people here attended the Play, "A Noble Outcast," at Rosemont on Friday evening, February 24th, and enjoyed a splendid performance.

Mr. R. J. McCutcheon is assisting Mr. L. E. Ewart, of Bolton, to move to his newly purchased farm near Newmarket.

Miss Cassie McFadden has returned to Orangeville.

Miss Elsie Haddock is visiting Shelburne friends.

We are pleased to learn that Miss Dorothy Avison was sudcessful in passing her music examinations with honours.

Miss Olive Coleman started to Business College this week.

Miss Emily McCutcheon spent last week with friends at Rosemont.

Miss Berniece Wilson, of Alliston, is the guest of Mrs. W. J. McGuire.

The young people here propose giving an old-fashioned social some time in the near future.

Leads English Radicals

PROTAGONIST of direct action, uncompromising opponent of the present economic order in Great Britain, opposed to the war in England as was Eugene Debs in America, friend of Soviet Russia, ardent advocate of the miners and their families, informed and skillful in discussion and acutely embarrassing to opponents because of his human sympathies and knowledge of the mining industry—such is Robert Smillie, leader of the British miners.

In order to personally know him personally I visited his home in Larkhall, near Glasgow, in mid-August, 1919, and during the same week a conference of the Scottish miners at Ayr by which he was signally honored.

The Smillies live in a miners' stone house, one of a long row of two-room cottages built end to end, flush with the sidewalk, and with gardens in the rear. The Smillies have added bath and sleeping rooms, but they live simply, like their neighbors, the miners with whom Mr. Smillie used to work. Mr. Smillie was not at home.

Mrs. Smillie is a typical Scottish mother—gentle, religious, devoted to her husband and nine children. Two of their sons were in the service, James, whom I found at home, had been gassed twice, and had been ill for three years as a result of shell shocks. Two other sons were conscientious objectors, and one of the two had been imprisoned. Mrs. Smillie told me that during the Boer War her husband had openly opposed the war, but that James, who was then a boy, was an ardent defender of the Empire.

One evening she sent James to the door to get the evening paper, an anti-Boer war journal. He returned without it. Questioned, he confessed that he had thrown it behind the door. Threatened with a punishment if he did not bring it at once, he said, "I will take the whipping, mother, but I will not get the paper." Mr. Smillie intercceded, and James was relieved from the odious task. Later James came to his father protesting against having to argue against two of his brothers on the rightness of the Boer War. He could hold his own, he said, with one of them, but it was not fair that he should have to face the two, and they older. Mr. Smillie took the lad's part.

The Smillies are members of Trinity United Free Church, and rent a family pew, but are not regular attendants. Mr. Smillie is absent a great deal, and Mrs. Smillie is taxed by the duties of her home. The pew is not, therefore, regularly occupied, although an older daughter is active in the church. One could discern a manifest and growing estrangement between the family and the church. The church did not seem to me to realize the significance of Mr. Smillie's membership.

At the Ayr conference I met Mr. Smillie personally. My journal for the day has this description:

He is tall, a little stooped, slender, dark-reddish hair, a little grey, deep-set eyes, bushy eyebrows, thoughtful, silent, finely drawn. He speaks with simplicity, precision, great earnestness, but quietly and with wisdom and force. I was impressed by his courage, earnestness, and capacity.

After the address of the new president, Mr. James Robertson, M.P., Mr. Smillie spoke to the delegates. "Labor," he said, "has a great work to do through the House of Commons. We must use political and industrial action at the same time, but it will be a long-time before we can give up direct action for political action. I have always been a peacemaker in Scottish mining, trying to keep men at work and to avoid loss of time."

Mr. Smillie then advised the delegates to avoid incidental strikes. He advocated the lightning strike, preceded by negotiations.

He went on to remark that "the main thing to keep in mind is our wives and children." (I observed that note in all his speaking. He was thinking of the wives and children of the miners more than of the mechanics of the Labor movement.)

Speaking of nationalization of the mines, he said: "We have made our case before the commission (the Sankey Commission) and are entitled to nationalization. Capitalists are fighting because they know that nationalization of minerals means the surface next, then the factories."

Mr. Smillie's injunction to Mr. Robertson, the new president of the Scottish miners, his own successor, was characteristic. He advised Robertson to rule with a strong hand. If he made a mistake, hold to it and apologize later. (Laughter.) His own power, such little as he had, was because of his earnestness, he stated frankly.

Dangerous Nettles.

Our own species of nettles are unpleasant enough to handle roughly, but some of the foreign ones are most formidable plants. Several of the East Indian forms are truly dangerous, for, after the first prickling sensation has passed away, it is often followed by that of hot irons being rubbed on the flesh, and the pain increases to such an extent that after hours—and sometimes days—the patient is seized with symptoms like those following influenza and lockjaw, while sometimes death results.

Miss Balfour, J.P.

Miss Alice Balfour, Mr. Balfour's youngest sister, has been sworn in as a Justice of the Peace for East Lothian. Mrs. Sidgwick, Mr. Balfour's eldest sister, was for many years principal of Newnham College, Cambridge, and is now bursar.

BIG FARM DEALS

Two big deals in farm property in the Arthur vicinity were closed last week. Mr. John Saunders purchased from Mr. Frank O'Donnell his 150 acre farm on the Townline north of the station. The price is reported to have been $12,000. The portion of the property known as the old O'Donnell farm has the most complete system of underdraining in this district, being served with a system of drains in accordance with a plan of the whole farm, prepared by a drainage expert. The property is also well built and well located. Another choice farm changed hands, when Mr. Michael Gallagher purchased Mr. William Goulding's 100 acre farm on the O. S. R. in Arthur Township, paying close to $13,000. This farm was at one time owned by Mr. R. T. Smith, who erected the splendid buildings now on the property. The house is one of the finest dwellings in the township and the barn and other buildings are also good. These are two of the best farms in the district.—Arthur Enterprise.

Nurse Recommended Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bothwell, Ontario.—"I was weak and run down, had no appetite and was nervous. The nurse who took care of me told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I am getting strong. I recommend your medicine to my friends, and you may use my testimonial."—Mrs. D. Maxwell, R. R. No. 2, Bothwell, Ontario.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old-fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, beneficial influence, and as it contains no narcotics nor harmful drugs it is a safe medicine for women.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

J. H. SLOAN'S SALE

A large crowd attended Mr. J. H. Sloan's Auction Sale on the Mono-Caledon townline, about three miles east of this town, on Wednesday afternoon of last week. Bidding was brisk and good prices were realized for the livestock, with the exception of horses, which were affected by the general dullness in the horse market. Cows were bid as high as $90 apiece and a three year old heifer was sold for $106. The sale realized in the neighborhood of $3,000. Auctioneer J. B. Irwin wielded the hammer with good effect. Mr. Sloan has been farming for four years and although he started in without any experience whatever of farm life he has made a success of the venture and leaves the farm with a good deal more money than he possessed when he started to farm four years ago. His plans for the future are indefinite, but for the present he and Mrs. Sloan intend to enjoy a few weeks' well-earned holidays.

PRESS a button and instantly any room in your house, your cellar, your stables, outbuildings, or driveway, is flooded with brilliant electric light.

The disagreeable task of filling and cleaning oil lamps, and dirty lanterns, is ended when your "F" Power and Light Plant is installed.

The engine can be belted direct to your cream separator, churn, pump, washing machine, and any other light machinery, thereby reducing the drudgery of many irksome jobs.

It also provides current for all kinds of electrical equipment.

A few cents worth of kerosene and oil a day will run the "F" year in and year out. Sturdily built, simple to operate, and the biggest time and labor saver on the farm.

Come in and see it at work, or send a post card asking for the catalogue which contains full information.

HIS MAIDEN EFFORT

R. J. Woods Expresses His Views in Speech in House of Commons.

Mr. R. J. Woods, U. F. O. member for Dufferin County, made his maiden speech in the House of Commons last week. The Hansard report of the address follows:—

Mr. Speaker, in rising to address the House for the first time, I wish as a member from the back concessions of rural Ontario, to make clear the attitude and conditions of the farmers in this province. I shall not detain the House at any great length. It is not my intention to discuss any question pertaining to the provincial government of Ontario, I shall not enter upon a discussion of the Hydro policy of Sir Adam Beck. But for a brief space of time I wish to deal with a few matters that have come under my observation, which are of interest to the farmers of this province.

I have listened with delight, as a newcomer to this House, to the debate as it has progressed so far. With some of the questions that have been brought forward I am heartily in sympathy; there are others, however, that do not meet with my approval, but I shall not take up the time of the House to discuss any minor questions that have been brought forward during this debate.

It is gratifying to me, and I believe to a great many people in this Dominion, to know that in the election campaign which terminated on the sixth day of December last the women of this country had an opportunity to cast their ballot. I think we, in this country, were long in coming to the point where we recognized the worth of the women of our land. I think we were very slow in granting them the franchise and according them their proper place as citizens of this great Dominion. They contributed no less a part than the men in the construction and pioneer life of this country. Many of them came to Canada from the Old Land when this country was a wilderness, and they helped their husbands hew out a home, and raised families which were a credit to this Dominion. They contributed their part in the home life, and also in the social and religious activities of the community. And yet, for years and years, they were deprived of the franchise. But at last the women have been accorded their proper place as citizens of this country, and I join with previous speakers in expressing gratification that this House is to-day honoured with the presence of a lady member, the hon. member for South-east Grey (Miss McPhail). Personally I feel somewhat honoured by having the privilege of occupying the same desk as our hon. lady member. I do not know whether that honour has been conferred upon me because of my good looks, or whether it is because I am a close neighbour of the hon. member for Southeast Grey. Whatever the reason may be I certainly deem it an honour to be permitted to sit in the front row in this Chamber and at the same desk as my fair colleague.

The recent Great War has brought about changes in the political attitude of many of the citizens of Canada, and I think it is because of that fact that so many farmer members occupy seats in the present Parliament, I well remember, and it will be in the recollection of many members of the House, that, but a few short years ago on our side roads and back concession lines, political contests were fought out largely on the lines of party politics. At that time both Liberals and Conservaives would raise the cry, "Stay with your party," and on many occasions neighbours, even though their interests were identical, would often be divided by party issues almost to the breaking point. I certainly think that the Great War through which we have passed is partly responsible for the change in that respect in the rural sections of our country.

The farmers have now become organized and I do not think any one will complain because of their doing so. They have long been organized and have long co-operated in the carrying on of commercial enterprises, and therefore it is only logical for them to advance a further step and to organize on political lines. Owing to that organization the farmers of this country have now a representation in Parliament such as they never had in the past. They have not embarked upon this political movement for the purposes of securing class legislation, although during the recent political campaign it was advanced that they had become associated for selfish purposes and to bring about laws favourable to their class. We are willing to admit that possibly there is just as much selfishness among the farmers as among any other class, but we are not willing to agree that they are more largely influenced by selfishness than any other portion of the community. We have entered into this movement in order to lay our views before the country and assist in the legislation of the Dominion. Surely it will be admitted that no persons are better able to represent the conditions of the farming industry than those who themselves are engaged in agriculture. The merchants of the country have a grasp of mercantile conditions, the manufacturers have an intimate knowledge of industrial necessities, and farmers are best fitted to understand and give expression to the conditions of farm life. We have, therefore, come here to help in legislating on broad and comprehensive lines and to explain as best we can the requirements of the farming community of Canada.

One thing we certainly require, and it is a necessity to which frequent allusion has been made—greater markets for our farm products. We heard a great deal of the depopulation of the rural sections of Canada, and especially of the rural sections of the Province of Ontario. Certainly the latter statement is true; the rural sections of Ontario are not nearly as well populated as they formerly were. If this be the case what is the reason for it? There must be some explanation when farmers leave the farm, when farmers' sons will not remain at home, but make their way to the great urban centres of the country. To my mind one great cause of that movement is the lack of adequate remuneration received by the farmers for their labor. The farmer's son is not going to remain on the farm when his city cousin receives a great deal more for his labors than he himself does. Therefore, in order to increase our farm population and augment the production on the farms, markets must be provided for our farm products. We are living in a comparatively new country, possessing immense agricultural resources, as yet undeveloped. On the great prairies of the West there are thousands of acres still uncultivated which could be made to produce in abundance: and even in rural Ontario—I mean, what is known as Old Ontario—the production could be greatly enhanced. But, as I said a moment ago, men leave the farms. They do not leave the farms because those farms are a gold mine; men will not run away from a gold mine. One thing that we need is larger markets, more extensive markets for the products of our farm. How are we going to get them? We are hedged in to some extent because we have to face the Fordney Bill passed by the great nation to the south of us. Then the embargo on our cattle in the Old Country has not yet been removed. We are hopeful that by and by it will be removed; but it is still a settled fact that that embargo remains against our cattle entering the Old Country, at least they have to be slaughtered at the point of entry, and it is a handicap to the farmers in marketing the cattle because it reduces their value. Then, as far as the United States' market, which is our most natural market, is concerned, we are hedged in by the Fordney Bill. We are looking to the present Government and hoping that they will be able to negotiate some agreement whereby we will have greater access to the market of the great nation to the south of us. True it is, that we had the reciprocity agreement brought before us in 1911. True it is that it was voted down by the people of the Dominion of Canada. True it is that many of we farmers are guilty in that we did not support that reciprocity agreement. But why was it not supported, or why was it turned down? To some degree the great issue was camouflaged, and other matters were brought into that campaign of 1911 to divert the minds of the farmers from the great issue at stake, and to side-track them in some way so that they would not support the reciprocity agreement. There was a cry of "No truck nor trade with the Yankees." There was the cry that if that agreement was brought about it would be a step in the direction of annexation, and matters were introduced into that campaign that should not have been introduced, and these things had a wonderful effect in connection with the vote of many farmers in this country. But we have a different viewpoint in regard to that matter to-day. You know that after the campaign of 1911, the United States Government saw fit to remove the duty on our live stock, and our live stock went to the United States' market free. Every farmer that raised stock and every farmer that was engaged in mixed farming is well aware of the result, which was that we got an increased price for our cattle and greater advantages in marketing our stock. But when the Fordney Bill was passed we were again hedged in, and, as no doubt many honourable members of this House are quite aware, the great Union Stock Yards in the city of Toronto at times were almost overstocked with cattle, and the market price of the cattle was low. Now we are looking to the Government and hoping that they will again undertake this task, as we believe they are contemplating, in order to bring about for the farmers of this country greater advantages and an open market in the country to the south of us.

The farmers have to abide by the law of supply and demand. The less of the production on the greater the supply and the lower the price. So that with our surplus products we have to compete with the open markets of the world. Just by way of illustration: About two years ago farmers in our immediate vicinity, and I think generally in the Province of Ontario, received very high prices for their potatoes in the spring of the year; some of them obtained $4 and even $5 a bag for them. We often heard people making the remark that the farmers were getting wealthy. What are the facts of the case? The facts are that they did not have the supply, and many of the farmers, even with the high price of potatoes, had to buy their seed to plant that year, and had to pay the high price of $4 or $5 a bag for their seed. What was the result the year following? The year following there was an abundant supply, and the price went away down, so that they were sold at from 15 to 25 cents per bag on the open market. I personally knew farmers who drew their potatoes out and dumped them in the field, because they could not sell them at all. We are face to face with competition, the law of supply and demand, and have to accept what our products will bring on the open market.

The farmers of this country are looking for a relief in taxation. That has been referred to on more than one occasion by hon. members of this House. I refer to indirect taxation through the protective tariff that is in operation in this country. We are not looking for any favors, but we are looking for a policy that will make it easier for the poor man to live, a fiscal policy for this country that will not make the rich man richer and the poor man poorer. We are looking for relief along that line, and as the hon. leader of the Progressive patry (Mr. T. A. Crerar) stated, we are looking for a revision of the tariff and we are looking for that revision to be downward.

In conclusion, I say that we, as farmers, are not concerned about politics. We are not here to build up any political party as a political party, neither the Liberal party, the Conservative party, nor the Progressive party. We are not here to build up any party as a party; we are here to support the Government or to support any party that will bring forward legislation that, we believe, will be in the interest of the great masses of this country. That is our object and our attitude as farmers, and that is the position which we occupy in this House. We want better conditions for the great masses of the people, and, as I said before, a fiscal policy that will not make the rich man richer and the poor man poorer.

MRS. J. T. WALKER

Mrs. J. T. Walker, an old and widely known resident of East Garafraxa township, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walton King, 35 Abbott Ave., West Toronto, on Thursday, March 16th, at the ripe age of 80 years. Mrs. Walker, whose maiden name was Mary Lamb, was born at Hespeler, Ont. While she was a girl her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Lamb, moved to East Garafraxa. She was married to the late Thomas Walker about 65 years ago and lived on lot 6, con. A., East Garafraxa, until the death of her husband in 1900. She afterwards made her home in Orangeville for several years, finally going to Toronto to spend her remaining days with her daughter. Deceased was a staunch member of the Methodist Church, lived an exemplary Christian life and was held in high esteem by the people of the community in which the greater part of her life was spent. She is survived by five sons and two daughters, namely, Mrs. King, in Toronto; J. B. Walker, of Amaranth; Chas. Walker, in Oregon; W. A., a farmer in East Luther; Harry and Clifford, Wauconda, Wash.; and Mrs. Geo. Markham, living in Kansas. John Lamb, formerly of East Garafraxa, but now living in the Peace River country, is a brother, and Mrs. Alex. Brown, of Toronto, is the only sister. The remains were brought here for burial, the funeral taking place to Greenwood Cemetery from the C. P. R. station on the arrival of the Saturday morning train from Toronto. Rev. H. L. Partridge conducted the service at the grave.

LUKE VAREY

Mr. Luke Varey, a well-known resident of the Mono Mills district, passed away at his home on the 4th line, east, Caledon, on Wednesday, March 15th. His funeral, which was under the auspices of the Orange Order, was very largely attended. Interment took place in St. John's Church Cemetery, 7th line, Mono, on Friday afternoon. Revs. D. G. Atkinson and S. Dunn Dinnick were the officiating ministers. Deceased was a member of Mono Britons L. O. L. No. 259. Mr. Varey is survived by a widow and three daughters, who have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

A BUSINESS CHANGE

A change has taken place in the firm of Matthews & Gilmore, cartage agents. Mr. Harry Gilmore has retired from the firm and is succeeded by Mr. W. A. Jenkins, late of Nokomis, Sask., but previously of Melville Cross. The new firm will be styled Matthews & Jenkins. Mr. Gilmore has no definite plans for the immediate future and will likely take a well-earned rest. As driver of the Orangeville bus he has won a warm place in the esteem of the travelling public by his kindly manner and unvarying courtesy.

TEAS STEADILY ADVANCING

"Teas—Advances from primary markets continue to indicate a strong situation with upward tendencies. Locally there are no changes but as stocks are not large there is a strong possibility for some advances as importers state spot prices are still far below cost of replacement."

The above statement in the "Canadian Grocer" of March 10th is authoritative. Those who understand the tea situation say that unless the price becomes easier on the primary market very soon the consumer may expect to pay 10 or 15 cents more a pound for tea.

MRS. WANLESS

Mrs. Wanless, an old resident of the township of Caledon, died at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Benj. Petch, Sunnidale Corners, on Wednesday, March 8th, 1922, in her 83rd year. Deceased was born on lot 3, 1st line, west, Caledon, and lived on lot 8, Centre Road, for many years after her marriage, but sixteen years ago left her native township and went to live with her daughter in Sunnidale near Stayner. Deceased was a daughter of the late Duncan McGregor. Of a family of four brothers and eight sisters, the only survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Duncan McIntyre, of Stayner, and Mrs. Johnston, of Toronto. Mrs. Wanless is survived by five sons and one daughter, namely, John, James and George Wanless, of Belmont, Man.; Duncan Wanless, of Toronto; Robert Wanless, of Caledon, and Mrs. Petch, of Sunnidale. The remains were brought to Inglewood Junction by train and then conveyed to Boston Mills Cemetery for burial.

MRS. URSILLA BEATTY

Hockley lost one of its oldest citizens last week in the person of Mrs. Ursilla Beatty, widow of the late Benjamin Beatty, whose death took place at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. A. Beatty, on Wednesday, March 15th. Mrs. Beatty, who was in her 86th year, had been in failing health for the last three years, but was only bedfast for five weeks prior to her demise. Deceased, whose maiden name was Ursilla Austin, was a daughter of the late Alexander Austin, one of the pioneers of Tecumseth township. On February 19th, 1856, she was married to the late George Beatty and lived with her husband on lot 24, 7th line, Mono, until his death on May 16th, 1860. On May 24th, 1862, she was married to the late Benjamin Beatty, of Hockley—no relative of her first husband. Mr. Beatty predeceased his wife six years ago. Mrs. Beatty is survived by a family of three sons and one daughter, namely, J. B. and W. J. Beatty, of Hockley; A. J. Beatty, Principal of Hess St. School in Hamilton, and Miss Ursilla Beatty, of Hockley. She is also survived by seven grandchildren and twenty-five great grandchildren. Mr. James A. Austin, of Tottenham, a brother, is the only member of her own family now living. Deceased was a quiet, industrious woman, devoted to her home and family and held in general esteem as a neighbor and resident of the community. The funeral, which was largely attended by neighbors and friends of the family, was held to St. John's Church Cemetery on Friday afternoon, Rev. J. A. Matheson, of Mono Mills, the family pastor, officiating at the house and grave. The pallbearers were the three sons and Messrs. Lndsay Irwin, Wm. Penelton and Alvin Austin. The floral tributes included a large wreath from the family, a spray from the grandchildren and a sheaf from the teachers of Hess St. School, Hamilton.

MRS. F. H. ARKELL

On Wednesday, March 15th, a highly respected resident of Orangeville passed to her reward in the person of Catherine Wilcox, beloved wife of Mr. Francis H. Arkell, First St. The late Mrs. Arkell was a daughter of Abiathar Wilcox and his wife, Elizabeth, who were active pioneers in the early days of the town and untiring workers in behalf of Methodism. Born in Orangeville she became early acquainted with the strenuous side of life as it existed in those days. She was associated with the Methodist Church and ever ready to assist in any good work of church or neighborhood that required a helping hand. Although her last illness was gradual in its approach and certain in its termination, her Christian fortitude, patience and faith were an unfailing support. She received much from the ceaseless love and devotion of a daughter's care. Through her social qualities and her open home she made many enduring friends, by whom she will be very much missed. Besides her bereaved husband, she leaves to mourn her departure one son, Kenneth, at Gilmour, Ont., and one daughter, Ethel, at home. A son, Edgar D., died in October, 1916. She is also survived by two brothers, Rev. I. Wilcox, of Hemlock, Mich., and Edwin D. Wilcox, of Uxbridge.

The funeral was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Friday afternoon, the services being conducted by the family pastor, Rev. H. L. Partridge, B. A., assisted by Rev. G. W. Lund, of Laurel. Many friends and neighbors gathered at the residence to pay their last tribute of respect to the departed one and to sympathize with the family in their bereavement. The floral tributes included wreaths from the Methodist Church W. M. S. and the Ladies' Aid Society of the same church, Mrs. Alex. Cooper, Mrs. Geo. Torrance, the Orangeville Women's Institute and Members of the Committee of the Orangeville Horticultural Society. The pallbearers were Messrs. Geo. Beswick, Wm. McConnell, E. J. Arthur, Thos. Wright, Dr. Bowles and Dr. Price.

Friends here from a distance for the funeral included Mr. Kenneth Arkell, Gilmour, Ont.; Rev. I. Wilcox, Hemlock, Mich.; Mr and Mrs. E. D. Wilcox, Uxbridge, Ont.; Mrs A. Galbraith, Mrs. A. Wilcox, Miss B. Wilcox, Mr. F. A. Wilcox and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hepton, Toronto; Miss Arkell, Mr. Geo. Torrance and Miss Torrance, of Caledon.

ORANGEVILLE'S BIGGEST STORE

DR. T. W. SIMPSON

On Wednesday, the 15th of March, there passed away at his home at Napanee, T. W. Simpson, M.D. Dr. Simpson was one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of the community. For years he had taken an active part, not only in his purely professional duties, but in all the interests and activities of the civic and religious life of the county, and any cause that had as its object the betterment of the community always found an ardent supporter in Dr. Simpson.

He was a member of the local Orange Order and of Union Lodge of A. F. & A. M. He had served several times on the Town Council, and had at one time been Mayor of the town. An ardent temperance worker, he never failed to get behind any and every movement which tended to that end.

As a practising physician he held the respect and confidence of a wide circle of friends and patients, and true to the best tradition of his profession, he made several trips into distant parts of the country during the severe rains and storms two weeks ago, even though he knew it was detrimental to his own health. It was when on these journeys that he contracted a cold, which gradually became more deep seated, and from which he failed to recover even though the best medical advice in the province was secured for his case.

He leaves to mourn his sad loss his wife, three sons and one daughter, all of Napanee. In his passing the community loses not only a capable, efficient and devoted medical adviser, but as well a loyal, courageous and public-spirited citizen.—Napanee Beaver.

Dr. Simpson, who was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Simpson, of East Garafraxa, practised medicine in Orangeville for some years shortly after graduating from College. He was a brother of Messrs. S. H. and C. W. Simpson and Miss C. G. Simpson, The Maples. Mr. J. H. Simpson, of Toronto, is also a brother.

AN ANCIENT PRAYER BOOK

Mrs. Endacott, wife of Sheriff Endacott, received an interesting and valued gift last week in the form of an English Church Prayer Book, printed in Edinburgh in 1802 by Sir D. H. Blair and J. Bruce, who are described as "Printers to His King's Most Excellent Majesty." On the fly leaf of the book is written the words, "Mary Batho, Her Book, October the 30th, 1808. Mary Batho was the great grandmother of Mrs. Endacott. The volume afterwards passed into the possession of her grandparents, Samuel and Mary Huxley, who came from Scotland to Canada many years ago. The book was sent to Mrs. Endacott by Mr. A. F. Campbell, of Calgary, onetime M. P. for the County of Peel.

SEPARATE SCHOOLS

At a meeting of Mono Mills L. O. L. No. 192, held on the evening of March 6th, 1922, the following resolution was passed unanimously:—

Whereas the Roman Catholics of Ontario are demanding changes in the Assessment Act, that would divide the school taxes paid by incorporated companies between the Public and Separate Schools on the basis of population, regardless of the religion of the shareholders; and

Whereas the Assessment Act as it now stands, secures to the Separate Schools of the Roman Catholic Church, all the taxes paid by incorporated companies that are represented by shares that can be shown to be held by Roman Catholics; and

Whereas the principles contained in the Separate Schools Act of Ontario were accepted by the representatives of the Roman Catholic Church in 1863 and 1867, as a final settlement of their claims for public money to support their religious schools;

Be it therefore resolved, that this Loyal Orange Lodge No. 192, Mono Mills, Ontario, make a solemn protest against the Government of Ontario granting such unwarranted concessions to the Separate Sectarian School System, to the grievous injury of the Public Non-Sectarian School System which would thereby be robbed of a large portion of its revenues and have their efficiency seriously impaired, and we urgently request the Premier of the Province not to reopen this Sectarian controversy, that rent the Province years ago and will again arouse bitter religious animosities if persisted in;

And be it further resolved, that we also solemnly protest against any action being taken, which would in any way interfere with the provisions of Regulation No. 17 of the Department of Education, which provides that the English language shall be the language of instruction in all Public Schools;

Further, that copies of this resolution be sent to the Premier, Hon. E. C. Drury, The Minister of Education, Hon. R. H. Grant, the local member of Provincial Parliament, the local press and the Sentinel.

Signed on behalf of Loyal Orange Lodge No. 192.

"FILL YOUR MEDICINE CHEST NOW"

Trouble never travels with a brass band, or employs any advance agents. Most of the accidents that occur come like a flash out of a clear sky:

A tumble down stairs.
A finger caught in a jam.
A wrenched ankle.
Burns that are agonizing in their pain.

These are only a few mishappenings that can be met, with quick relief, if the Medicine Chest is filled.

Let every home be equipped with a fair supply of the following:—

Bandages, Gauze, Absorbant Cotton, Adhesive Tape, Disinfectant "Solyol," Liniment, Burn Dressing, Hot Water Bottle, Syringe, Atomizer, Invalid Drinking Cup, Thermometer, Bed Pan, Rubber Gloves, and others too numerous to mention.

WHITTINGTON

Hello, Mr. Editor, spring has again struck our burg and many of the farmers are expecting to start seeding shortly.

We are glad to see that our pastor was able to conduct services on Sunday after the experience he had on the bad roads last week.

The Epworth League will meet as usual on Thursday night at 8 o'clock. Come ... come all.

Miss ... Spence has returned home after spending a few days in Toronto and reports a good time.

Miss Annie Kinsley is spending the week with Hamilton friends.

Sayings heard around our burg:—The roads are a little rough yet to motor to Toronto.—G. P.

Some county road from 20 to 25 sideline.—W. S.

The snow will soon be all gone off Bowling Green road.—A. P.

I certainly do feel lonesome this week.—W. F.

I'm glad the roads will soon be fit for the ...—J. W.

You f... ...s can have any night you like ... ...ve me Saturday night.—...

Oh, ... the fields were frozen pretty hard Sunday night.—H. K.

I think ... make a few more trips to T... J. S.

WALDEMAR

Wood... ... are the order of the day on ... Hill.

The ... passed out on the Old Grand ... quietly this year.

We notice that our Waldemar jitney did not make the return trip the other night.

Hark! ... I imagine I hear a sound ... wedding bells about the 9th.

Some of the village students seem very unfortunate in passing over pitch holes on their return journey.

Waldemar Young People's Society spent a pleasant time at Knox Church, Grand Valley, on Monday evening. A splendid lunch was provided, but, oh, you olive sandwich.

Miss March, of Harriston, spent the week-end with Miss Johnston.

I wonder why L. S. left the dance the other evening. He seemed out of sorts.

Some people like fancy daisies, but a tulip for me.

The Waldemar Women's Institute held the best dance of the season in the Hall on St. Patrick's Night. Thanks for the green paper, but in summing up the gayety of the evening we must come to the following conclusion:

We believe the girl of to-day to be of a certain jazzy type of mind—one who might be briefly described as the girl who is selfishly pleasure-crazy. She takes no interest in her home. It is just a boarding place and she the non-paying guest. She takes no share in the expenses of the home, because it takes all her earnings, and often some of her father's too, to buy expensive, though very rarely pretty, clothes for the street and dance hall. She knows nothing of household management and as for cooking she cannot boil water without burning it; when she marries she feeds her husband on canned salmon and cream puffs that she bought on the way home from the matinee. In winter she wears silk stockings and low shoes, with a fur coat; in summer crepe de chine, with loud camisoles—never gingham. She chews gum and uses her employer's time and telephone to discuss the latest jazz; her laugh is loud and she talks by the hour without saying anything; is frightfully self-conscious and thinks every man who looks at her is trying to flirt with her. With her a man's character is not what counts, but rather his ability to spend money. She is deplorably uninformed and flounders about helplessly if she attempts to converse about some topic of the day."

HILLSBURG

George Ellenton has moved to his farm on the 5th line. George will be greatly missed on the 9th.

Wedding bells are ringing on the 9th line. Cheer up, young ladies, your turn will come too.

Maple syrup making is the order of the day now that the robins have returned.

GLENCROSS.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Moffitt have settled in their new home on the Third Line. Best wishes for their future happiness are extended to the newly married couple.

Mr. Arthur Hayward has returned to his home near Woodstock. The people unite in wishing him health, wealth and prosperity, and an abundant yield of turnips next fall.

The new Mill will soon be sprinkling sawdust on all loiterers about the Third Line.

Mr. Kaufman, manager of Sligo Hill Lumber Company, spent a few days in Toronto last week.

Mr. Robert Brown left last Friday morning for Toronto on a visit to his sister.

The Irish were out on parade in full force on St. Patrick's Day. Shamrocks bloom in every glen.

SPRING IMPURITIES DUE TO POOR BLOOD

A Tonic Medicine a Necessity At This Season.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an all-year-round tonic for the blood and nerves. But they are especially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded with impurities as a result of the indoor life of the winter months. There is no other season when the blood is so much in need of purifying and enriching, and every dose of these pills helps to enrich the blood. In the spring one feels weak and tired—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give strength. In the spring the appetite is often poor—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills develop the appetite, tone the stomach and aid weak digestion. It is in the spring that poisons in the blood find an outlet in disfiguring pimples, eruptions and boils—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills clear the skin because they go to the root of the trouble in the blood. In the spring anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia, and many other troubles are most persistent because of poor, weak blood, and it is at this time when all nature takes on new life that the blood most seriously needs attention. Some people dose themselves with purgatives at this season, but these only further weaken themselves. A purgative merely gallops through the system, emptying the bowels, but does not help the blood. On the other hand, Dr. Williams' Pnk Pills enrich the blood, which reaches every nerve and every organ in the body, bring new strength and vigor to weak easily tired men, women and children. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills this spring—they will not disappoint you.

Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CAMILLA

Mr. Norman Rayfield, of Toronto, is spending a week at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Mann were in Toronto last week.

We are sorry to report the very serious illness of Mrs. Eliza Neil.

Miss McFadden and Miss Angeline Patterson, of Orangeville, spent Sunday at the latter's home here.

Miss Marguerite Cunningham, of Orangeville, was a guest at the manse over the week-end.

Mrs. John Turner and Mrs. Herbert Christian have returned home from Toronto.

Mr. George Rayfield was called to Galt last week owing to the death of his brother.

Miss Shepherd, Maple Grove, is now in charge of the post office.

Young People's Society held a very enjoyable St. Patrick's Social last Friday evening.

Mrs. E. J. Cobean, of Toronto, is visiting her brother, Mr. W. A. Henry.

Fred Turner is home from Toronto for a few days.

Mrs. John Buchanan has returned from Detroit, where she spent a month with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. James Buchanan were called to Hamilton last week on account of the illness of Mrs. Buchanan's sister.

Alex. Scott spent several days in Toronto last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson were in Toronto for a few days last week.

Dr. Charles Scott was home from Toronto over the week-end.

The Canadian Girls in Training Society held a Mother and Daughter Banquet in the basement of the church Saturday. Miss Lena Gallaugher was toast-mistress.

Miss Gordon, of Harriston, is teaching in our school since Miss Henry's resignation took effect. Miss Henry made many warm friends during her stay with us and was an exceptionally fine teacher.

ROWLEY—In affectionate and loving memory of Billy, son of Will and Mary Rowley, of Connor, who departed this life, on March 22nd, 1921.

A bud the gardener gave us,
A pure and lovely child;
He gave it in our keeping,
To cherish undefiled.

But just as it was opening
To the glory of the day,
Down came the heavenly gardener,
And took our flower away
To be with Him.
Sadly missed by Father, Mother, Temple and Earl.

ST. ANDREW'S Y. P. S.

At the Society's meeting on Monday night the Literary Committee put on an Irish night. Everything on the well-ordered programme was of an Irish nature. Miss Isabel Fife occupied the chair and after the opening exercises the gathering of young and older people was favored with an Irish vocal number by Miss Myrtle Gardiner. This was followed by a short sketch of the Life and Times of the famous Irish poet and song writer, Moore, by Mr. Murray McKitrick. "When Irish Eyes are Smiling," was the title of a splendid quartette by Misses Audrey McLean and Mary Hanley and Messrs. Carl and Will Hanley. Principal E. Hackett, of the Orangeville High School, who is a true son of Erin, gave a most interesting and humorous address on "Ireland and Irishmen." The programme closed with a humorous Irish song by Master Morley McLean. The meeting was largely attended. The schoolroom was tastefully decorated with shamrocks, a harp and other adornments of an Irish nature.

Next Monday night the Missionary Committee will have charge of the programme. The date set for the Society's annual banquet is Tuesday, April 4th. Members are asked to watch for particulars.

THE JUBILEE OF ORANGEVILLE METHODIST CHURCH 1872—1922

Here fifty years of smiles and tears,
Here fifty years of hopes and fears;
Here fifty years of penitence and prayer;
Here fifty years of joys beyond compare;
Here fifty years our God hath proved
His children, who have lived and loved;
Here fifty years the Saviour's grace
Has been offered to our race;
Here fifty years the Holy Spirit's power
Has fallen like a gracious shower
Upon the hearts and minds of men,
Bringing forth the heavenly grain;
For fifty years God's Word has been,
From pulpit here, made clear and plain;
For fifty years glad songs of praise
Have graced this house and filled this place;
For fifty years the children came
And learned to lisp a Saviour's name;
God's own were strengthened here, and in His might,
Went forth to battle for the truth and right;
For fifty years a Saviour's promise given
To welcome faithful souls to heaven;
Here fifty years of holy toil
Have fertilized the soil,
And bred within men's lives the leaven,
God's will on earth as done in Heaven.
Through fifty years of smiles and tears;
Through fifty years of doubts and fears;
Through fifty years of gains and losses,
Through fifty years of joys and crosses;
We come, with laurels on our brow, to-day,
Strong to serve and help, to love and pray;
And thank Him for preserving grace,
Who helped us hold for God, this place.

E. RYERSON YOUNG.

To The Orangeville Stewards
"The Encore Piece"

Of Stewards gay, a grand array,
Their swords and shields a-gleaming;
To keep in place, that merry race,
Those preachers, always beaming.

"Lord save from pride, we'll keep thy hide,"
They shout with joy becoming;
They tan the skin, like polished tin,
And hold it up for sunning.

And now to Robb they pass the bob,
For years and years a score;
Then pastures seen are living Green,
For twenty years or more.

And now behold, when drink is cold,
Or trickling like a backward rill;
The preacher's led behind the shed,
His drink comes through a Still.

Oh, Stewards, gay, a grand array,
The finest earth commands;
God bless your race, whose joy and place
Upholds the preacher's hands.

E. RYERSON YOUNG.

THE OLD WAY

Mary had a little cold,
It started in the head,
And everywhere that Mary went,
That cold was sure to spread.

It followed her to school one day,
'Twas not against the rule;
It made the children cough and sneeze
To have that cold in school.

The teacher tried to drive it out,
She tried hard; but—Ah-shoo-oo!
It didn't do a bit of good.
For teacher caught it, too.

THE NEW WAY

Mary had a little cold,
So she was isolated;
The doctor called, prescribed and saw
Her treatment regulated.

She must stay strictly in the house,
Eat little and perspire;
Then have fresh air and cooling drinks,
Do nothing that would tire.

The teacher caught no cold from her,
The school was not infected;
The laws of health were well observed,
The public were protected.

"THEY CERTAINLY DID HELP ME"

WHY PASCAL THEBEAU RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

New Brunswick Man Now in Good Health Advises all Sufferers from Kidney Trouble to use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Village St. Jean, Kent Co., N. B. March 20th (Special)—"Dodd's Kidney Pills certainly helped me."

Such is the emphatic statement of Pascal Thebeau, a well-known resident of this village.

"I was very ill of Kidney disease," Mr. Thebeau continues. "In the mornings I was so weak I could not get up before mid-day. I took three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and they did me a lot of good.

"Now I am well again and I advise any person suffering from Kidney disease to use Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are known in every corner of Canada as the old reliable Canadian Kidney remedy. They are known by the work they have done.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the remedy for sick kidneys.

EDUCATIONAL MEETING

About seventy-five school trustees and ratepayers of the county attended the annual meeting of the County of Dufferin Educational Association in the Town Hall, Shelburne, on Wednesday afternoon, March 15th. Mr. G. R. McWhirter, President of the Association, occupied the chair. The principal speaker of the afternoon was Rev. W. M. Morris, Secretary-Treasurer of the Ontario Trustees and Ratepayers Association. Mr. Morris spoke at some length on the Value of Education to a Nation. In the course of his address he pointed out that the Province of Ontario had $55,000,000 invested in its rural schools and spent $22,000,000 annually to run them. The average attendance was, however, only seventy per cent. of the children of school age. Mr. Morris instanced young, inexperienced teachers, holding an insecure and uncertain tenure of office and in some instances not qualified for rural leadership as one of the serious defects of the present rural schools system. After all only ten per cent. of the pupils of rural Ontario ever went beyond the grades of the rural schools. Should that be satisfactory to the parents of the rural districts and should they be content wih the present standard of efficiency of these schools. There should be equality of opportunity for every child in the province of Ontario. Mr. Morris emphasized the importance of medical inspection and technical training. Our boys and girls should be trained so that they will be fitted to get the most out of the top six inches of the soil and the most out of the mineral wealth of Canada. Canada is confronted with worldwide competition and it is therefore of the utmost importance that the Canadians of the future possess a thorough education and training. On the subject of Separate Schools Mr. Morris stated that it would be a tragedy if any class or denomination was allowed to set up a second set of secondary schools in this province.

Mr. Robert Reid, of Mono, Mr. Wm. McKelvey, Mr. J. A. Marshall, Mr. Horace Free, Mr. J. W. Hamilton, Principal Butcher, of Shelburne School, and others spoke or took part in an informal discussion following the address of Mr. Morris.

Officers were elected as follows: Honorary Presidents, R. J. Woods, M. P., T. K. Slack, M. L. A., Inspector W. R. Liddy, Warden Simpson; President, G. R. McWhirter, Colbeck; Vice-President, W. A. Wansbrough, Grand Valley; Secretary-Treasurer, A. D. McKitrick, Orangeville; Municipality Representatives—Amaranth, Mrs. John Scott; East Garafraxa, Laban Boggs; East Luther, W. E. Turner; Melancthon, Jas. Porter; Mono, J. A. Marshall; Mulmur, Horace Free; Grand Valley, W. A. Wansbrough; Shelburne, J. W. Hamilton; Orangeville, R. J. McConnell. Auditors, Dr. Price and W. C. McMillan, Orangeville.

WILLIAM A. SIMPSON

At his late residence, Gier Street, on Thursday, March 9th, William Alexander Simpson passed away after a brief illness of only three days. He was born in East Garafraxa on April 4th, 1859, coming to Amaranth with his parents when 11 years old. On December 19th, 1884, he was united in marriage to Eliza Ann Hinton, settling on lot 20, con. 10, Amaranth, then a forest. By their hard and faithful labours they cleared it into one of the best farms of the township. He served the township of Amaranth as councillor and deputy-reeve for five years and took an active interest in the welfare of the Conservative cause. In the fall of 1910 he moved to Grand Valley where he continued to take an active part in the town, both in business and municipal matters. He was a member of the Church of Christ for a goodly number of years. The funeral service at the house, which was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Jackson, of the Church of Christ, Fern Ave., Toronto, assisted by Rev. S. Lundie and Rev. G. H. Snell, Loyal Orange Lodge No. 256, of which he was a staunch member and a Past Master, conducted the service at the grave, Rev. J. Truax, W. M., taking that part.

The immense bank of flowers expressed the high esteem in which he was held by the whole community. One of the wreaths was from Alex. Hutchison, of Belwood, the first man for whom Mr. Simpson worked when a young man, and nicely expressed the fidelity and loyalty of Mr. Simpson in matters of business through life.

The late Mr. Simpson is survived by his wife, four sons, three daughters, one brother and three sisters.—Star & Vidette.

ADJALA MAN DIES

Townspeople and those of Adjala and Tossorontio were greatly surprised yesterday morning to learn that Mr. James Russell, of Adjala, had died in Toronto Tuesday evening. He had been a sufferer from chronic appendicitis and last week went down to Toronto to have the trouble removed by means of a surgical operation which was performed Thursday of last week. The operation was pronounced a success and Mr. Russell was apparently recovering nicely, the doctor being quite satisfied with his progress. Mr. John Russell, who went to the city with his brother and stayed for some days, came home feeling assured that his brother would follow him in the course of a week or two. Tuesday, however, word was received that Mr. Russell was worse. Mr. John Russell went down by the evening Grand Trunk train but did not reach the bedside of his brother before his death which occurred about nine o'clock. The body was brought to town by the C. P. R. train last night and taken to the home of Mr. J. T. Bowerman, from which place the funeral will be held this afternoon. Interment will be made in the Union Cemetery.—Alliston Herald.

Canada's Great Inland Seaport

—Montreal, with a population of almost one million, has but 915 rooms in modern fireproof hotels.

These cannot accommodate the visitors—travellers, business men and pleasure-seekers—who, day after day, week after week, month after month, visit Montreal. More than fifteen hundred of these people will be able to find accommodation—comfortable, luxurious accommodation—in the new "MOUNT ROYAL" Hotel, which will be open about October, 1922.

This new Hotel will have 1,050 rooms, stores and offices, as well as a great convention hall, together with all the other luxuries and necessities that go to make a thoroughly modern hotel.

It will cost approximately ten million dollars. A study of conditions in Montreal will convince the most sceptical that "THE MOUNT ROYAL" will fill a long-felt need, and will undoubtedly be a most profitable enterprise for its shareholders.

We are offering the 8% convertible debentures, carrying a bonus of 30% of Common Stock, of The Mount Royal Hotel Company, Limited, and shall be glad to send descriptive circular on request.

A CLOSE CALL

Dundalk citizens were aroused about 2.30 Thursday morning by the fire alarm when it was discovered that the "Norval" dwelling on the Gore, occupied by J. A. Grummett and family, was on fire. Smoke was so dense at the stairway exit in that way was blocked. Mr. Grummett was forced to lower his wife and five children in their night clothes by bed quilts tied together. The firemen and a number of citizens were soon on hand, and after putting up a splendid fight the blaze was got under control and the building saved. The fire started at the range in the dining room and appeared to work its way along mats to the front door, where the blaze was worst.—Dundalk Herald.

FARM FOR SALE

At the above time and place there will also be offered for sale the following valuable Farm, namely:—All and singular that certain parcel or tract of land and premises, situate, lying and being in the Township of Mono, in the County of Dufferin, and being composed of the East Half of Lot Number Four in the Eighth Concession, East of Hurontario Street, in the said Township of Mono, containing one hundred acres more or less. This farm is situated very conveniently to markets and railway stations, it is about eight miles from Orangeville, about six miles from Palgrave, about eight miles from Caledon East and about ten miles from Tottenham. The farm is conveniently situated to churches and schools, being about two miles from Mono Mills.

The soil is loamy. There is about eighty acres cleared and the balance in bush and pasture lands. There is said to be about ten acres of Rye and about ten acres seeded down and the fall ploughing for the most part is done. It is well fenced. There is a never failing stream of good water running through this farm and it is exceedingly well adapted for mixed farming. There is said to be a small orchard on this land.

There is a substantial dwelling house erected on the farm and there is a barn 40 by 60 with stone stabling underneath. There is also said to be a good driving house and hen house erected on this land. There is a good well conveniently situated near the house and barn.

The above farm will be sold subject to a reserved bid.

TERMS OF SALE—Ten per cent. of the purchase money to be paid at the time of sale and the balance can be paid within thirty days thereafter as follows:—$2,000.00 cash, and the balance of the purchase money may be arranged by giving a first mortgage on the said land, satisfactory to the Vendors.

For further particulars and conditions of sale apply to James A. Patterson, Orangeville, Ontario, or to Robert George Patterson and John McElwain, Executors, or to J. L. Island, Vendors' Solicitor, Orangeville, Ontario, or to the Clerk of the Sale, Mr. Samuel Patterson, Mono Mills, Ontario.

Zam-Buk WONDERFUL IN PILES

Mr. WILFRED ABBY 42, Lyall Avenue, TORONTO, writes: "On active service with the R.F.C. I contracted piles through sleeping on damp ground. Treatment by the M.O. brought no relief and various "pile remedies" I tried proved equally hopeless. Shortly after my discharge from the service a friend strongly advised me to get Zam-Buk. One box of the balm brought such benefit that I determined to continue the treatment. In a few weeks Zam-Buk caused the piles to completely disappear. All other sufferers should know of this wonderful herbal healer."

A FINANCIAL PUZZLE

The Village of Flesherton has an unusual financial problem on its hands. We read occasionally of municipal treasurers being short in their accounts, but in Flesherton's case the village treasurer claims that he has $900 or $1,000 more money on hand than the auditors can find any warrant for him having. According to the Flesherton Advance the mysterious surplus has been passed along from year to year without any person being able to discover where the money came from or to whom it belongs. Now the treasurer wants the matter cleared up. If the money belongs to him he wants to know it; if to the town, he wishes to know whence it came and who is responsible for the esistence of this puzzling municipal asset. It is suspecetd in some quarters that the surplus had its beginning in some miscalculation of hydro accounts about the time that hydro light and power made its advent in the municipality. In any event, says the Advance, 'It would be no nigger in the fence'—it would be a white man."

A TERRIBLE MIX-UP

An editor who filled up with hard cider undertook to get out a sale bill and write up a marriage ceremony while in a befuddled condition. He got the type mixed and the result was the following badly tangled piece of composition:—

William Smith, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Smith, was disposed of at public auction to Lucy Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Anderson, on my farm one mile east of this place, in the presence of seventy guests, including the following, to wit, two mules, twelve head of cattle. Rev. C. W. Jackson tied the nuptial knot, averaging twelve hundred pounds on the hoof. The beautiful house of the bride was tastefully decorated with twenty-five cream cans, one sulky rake, one feed grinder, one set of double harrows, nearly new, and just before the ceremony was pronounced the wedding march was softly given by one milch cow, five years old, one Jersey cow, carrying a bunch of flowers in her hands, looking charming in a waggon, five barrels of apples, two stacks of hay, one grindstone, dressed in crepe de chine and trimmed with one hundred bushels of seed. The groom is a well-known young man and has always stood well in the society circle of twelve Berkshire hogs, while the bride is an accomplished and talented teacher of a splendid flock of spring lambs, pedigrees furnished if desired. Among the many beautiful presents were a set of silver knives and forks, one spring harrow, one wheelbarrow, one go-cart and other articles too numerous to mention. The bridal couple left on an extended trip. Terms twelve months on approved joint notes; otherwise cash. Lunch will be served at the sale, after which Mr. and Mrs. Smith will go to live in their cosy little home on Dundas Street.

The friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Will Davis gathered at their home on Monday evening, March 6. After spending a few hours in games and music, and with lunch over, Mr. George Stewart read an address and Harold Lever presented Mr. and Mrs. Davis with a twelve-piece cabinet of silver, and to Baby Irene a brooch. Mr. and Mrs. Davis in a few well-chosen words, thanked the friends for their gifts.—Flesherton Advance.

After 8.30 the Evening Rate on Station-to-Station calls is only about half the Day-time rate.

"Bless you, son, for calling me up!"

"I did something to-day that, I'm ashamed to say, I have never done before," said a well-known business man—"I called my Mother on Long Distance. By Jove, she was glad to hear my voice."

"What with business, worry and responsibilities I've been neglecting her for years, and it took a load off my shoulders just to hear her happy, tremulous voice say "God bless you, son, for calling me up!"

But what about you and the mother who sits in the far away silence, perhaps hungering for a word from the son she loves?

Call her by Long Distance to-night and bring gladness to her lonesome heart. Let her listen again to the voice she knows so well, and it will repay you a thousand-fold to hear her say "God bless you, son, for calling me up!"

IN A GRAVEL SLIDE

Mr. Wm. Cope, one of the Cope Bros., who was the victim of the poisoning affair last summer, met with an accident one day last week which might easily have proved more tragic than the poisoning. He was at work in E. Bristow's gravel pit when a slide in the gravel buried him up to the knees. One of his arms was also caught and some time was required before he was dug out by his fellow workers. Fortunately, however, we understand that his injuries were but slight.—Arthur Enterprise.

While motoring from Kitchener to Preston, C. Schmalz, of the latter place, had his car stall and before he could get it started provincial officers came along, and finding he had eight cases of real beer in his machine, arrested him. He was brought to Galt and appeared before County Magistrate J. R. Blake, who imposed a fine of $500 and costs, which was paid.

Robert West, employed with Mr. George Kerr, Albion, had a close call on Thursday last. He was attacked by a bull in the barn-yard. The animal knocked him down, butted him around, stepped on him and otherwise maltreated him, and only the fact that the beast had been dehorned saved his life. The animal was finally driven off by Mr. Kerr and West was removed to the house where he was attended by Dr. Graham. No bones were broken and the injured man is rapidly recovering.

Last Thursday morning a deer was seen struggling in the snow on the farm of Mr. John Oliver, Old Durham Road, and on making an examination it was found to have one hind leg badly broken, supposedly by falling on ice. Mr. Oliver left it and phoned Mr. Plantt, game overseer, who ordered it to be killed and the carcass held for instructions from Toronto. However, on getting back to where the animal lay it was found to be dead from loss of blood. The carcass was taken care of.

Mrs. Julianne Vanderburg passed away at her home, lot 15, concession 5, King Township, on Wednesday afternoon, March 8th. Mrs. Vanderburg, whose maiden name was Julianna Foster, was born in the Township of Markham, Oct. 30th, 1830. In 1854 she married Stevan Vanderburg, and with her husband moved to the farm on the fifth concession, King, where she resided continuously until her death. Her husband predeceased her 35 years. Five daughters and one son survive her: Mrs. Angus McDonald, Mrs. Jas. Osborne and Mrs. C. Sheardown, Toronto; Mrs. Rockliffe, Sunderland, Brock Township; Agnes and Alexander at their home, Strange, Ont.

Could Not Eat

Constipation is caused by a torpid condition of the liver. Dosing with salts, castor oil, etc., to move the bowels, cannot afford more than temporary relief.

If you are to rid yourself of this ailment and the scores of annoying symptoms and diseases which come in its wake, it is necessary to get the liver right by such treatment as is suggested in this letter:

Mrs. Alvin Richards, R. R. No. 1, Seeley's Bay, Ont., writes:

"For two years I was afflicted with indigestion, and in the morning when I got up my breath was bad. I had a poor appetite, and just felt like eating certain foods. I used many different medicines as a laxative without benefit, and the doctor's medicine did not help me at all. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and found them better than anything I had ever tried. I can highly recommend them to anyone troubled with constipation or kidney troubles."

DEATH HAS LAST MOVE IN CHECKER GAME

Old Rivals Fell Asleep Over Board And One of Them Was Dead In the Morning.

When Irwin Kidd and Geo. Keyes, old rival checker players, fell forward in sleep over their checkerboard at Keyes' home near Hepworth last Saturday night, it was the last long sleep for Kidd. Mr. Keyes daughter put her father to bed late at night, but was unable to move his visitor, who slipped to the floor. She placed a pillow under his head and a blanket over him. He was dead when she came downstairs in the morning. He had apparently choked to death.

Kidd, a picturesque and well-known character of the Hepworth district, and famous as a barn framer for 40 years, was in the habit of visiting Keyes and very often in the evening they would light their pipes and fill their glasses and sit down to a campaign at the checker board. Saturday they played late, and when Miss Keyes looked in on them she found them both fast asleep and bowed over the board.

The coroner decided no inquest necessary. Keyes had no relatives in that locality.—Hanover Post.

OLD BOYS' NIGHT

Former Residents of Dufferin County Celebrate in Winnipeg.

Tuesday evening, March 14th, found close on to 250 former Dufferinites renewing acquaintances in the Royal Alexandra Hotel and having an old time evening's enjoyment in dancing, eating, song and story.

The commodious parlors and ball room on the second floor of the big hotel were placed at the disposal of the Duff in Old Boys and before six o'clo many had already arrived.

At the close of the dinner which was served at 6.30 a lively program consisting of vocal and instrumental music, toasts, speeches, etc., was presented by members of the Association.

The President of the Association, S. T. Newton, acted as Toast Master and seated with him at the head table were J. J. and Mrs. Rooney, Mrs. McKnight, Prof. and Mrs. G. A. Sproule, H. W. and Mrs. Watson, Col. Geo. Clingan, M. P. P., and Miss Clingan, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Graham, Dr. D. A. McCarten and Mrs. S. T. Newton.

The Chairman, in his remarks, drew attention to the fact that while Dufferin used to send out of the county, for eminent members of parliament to represent them, such as the Hon. Thos. White, Dalton McCarthy, etc., the County was now supplying members for several of the other provinces and meeting their own needs well.

He also drew attention to the fact that while Dufferin was for many years traditionally Tory, no less than six of the present members from Dufferin were Progressives and two Liberal, thus proving that the people of Dufferin do their own thinking.

The Toast to Dufferin was proposed by Rev. John Maxwell, while the Toast to "The Land we Live In" was proposed by Prof. Geo. Sproule and responded to by Col. Clingan, M. P. P.

Coupled with the Toast to the Ladies were the names of Dr. D. A. McCarten and Mrs. J. W. Barber, and needless to say, neither left anything out.

The special treat of the evening was J. T. Park's piccolo solos. Thirty years ago Joe was leader of the 36th Battalion Band and his music is even better than in the old days.

Miss Park's euphonium solos, "Then you'll remember me," "When you and I were young, Maggie," and "Silver threads among the gold," were also greatly appreciated and heartily encored.

Mrs. R. M. Neeley and Mrs. R. E. Wyman have endeared themselves to Dufferin County Old Boy audiences and as usual their solos afforded the greatest pleasure.

C. McLellan is a host in himself and a Dufferin Old Boys concert without his name on the programme would be from complete.

J. J. Rooney, the former President of the Association, travelled over 200 miles to be present, and the people were glad that did, for no one takes a deeper interest in the welfare of the Association than he does. He proposed the Toast to the "Pioneers" and then presented Mrs. McKnight, the oldest member, with a beautiful bouquet of roses.

At the beginning of the banquet a flashlight picture was taken and in addition to the Secretary, several pictures showed up well, notably those of Robert Gardiner and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jim House, formerly of Hornings Mills, R. G. McKeag, formerly of McKee's Corners.

At 8.45 the party repaired to the Ball-room, where a lively program of lancers, quadrilles, fox trots and one steps was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

J. H. Braden, who acted as floor manager, was in fine fettle and had no difficulty in getting even those who had forgotten some of the old familiar evolutions, to "choose their partners for the lancers," and not a few were heard to say, "well, they can talk as they like about their fox trots, but give me the good old lancers to put people in good humor and show them a fine time."

Excellent music was provided by the Braden orchestra and in the lancers, with Joe Park assisting on the violin, the greatest satisfaction was expressed by every one.

Following are the officers for next year:—

Hon. Presidents—Col. Geo. Clingan, D. M., M. P. P., E. A. August, M. P. P., and J. J. Rooney.
President—S. T. Newton
Vice-Pres—H. W. Watson.
Sec.-Treas.—C. E. Graham.
Committee—Mono, J. C. McNabb, J. H. Braden; Mulmur, Mrs. J. J. Rooney, H. Graham; Melancthon, Mrs. H. W. Watson, R. M. Neeley; Amaranth, Prof. G. A. Sproule, W. McNabb; East Luther, Dr. F. W. L. Hamilton, C. McLellan; East Garafraxa, Thos. Bruce; Grand Valley, George Watson, J. H. McClure; Shelburne, Mrs. J. T. Fisher, Mrs. W. J. Barber; Orangeville, Dr. D. McCarten, Mrs. H. M. Modeland; Rosemont, J. Cumberland.

MARRIED.

MOSSOP-McQUARRIE — In Toronto, on Wednesday, March 22nd, 1922, by Rev. D. T. McKerroll, Mr. Harry Mossop, formerly of Orangeville, to Miss Elva McQuarrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McQuarrie, of Erin.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Mrs. Benjamin Beatty, of Hockley, desire to tender their grateful thanks to their neighbors and friends for the kindness shown to them during the illness of their mother and the sympathy expressed so generally since their bereavement through her death.

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to tender my hearty thanks to the Nursing Staff of the Lord Dufferin Hospital for their kindness and the good care they gave me during my enforced sojourn in the Hospital. I also wish to most heartily thank Mono Mills L. O. L. No. 192, the Mono Mills Union S.S., and the Mono Mills Anglican Church for their kindness in sending me such beautiful flowers.

WILLIAM ARMSTRONG.

THE FARMERS' PAPER EVERY OTHER DAY.

The Farmers' Sun, which has been enlarged and improved, is now published EVERY OTHER DAY. This forward step was taken at the earnest request of Sun readers who wished a farm newspaper which would give a summary of world news, more frequent markets (for which The Sun is noted), together with a paper which is sympathetic to the farmers' viewpoint. All these are found in The Sun. No other farm paper equals The Farmers' Sun in the service it renders to its readers.

When you subscribe for a farm paper, subscribe for The Farmers' Sun, owned by the farmers, and published in their interests. The subscription price of the tri-weekly Sun is only $2.00 per year, or three years for $5.00 Why spend $5.00 for a City Daily when you get all you require through The Farmers' Sun for $2.00 per year. PRINCESS MARY'S WEDDING

The crowd at that event was large, but the number of people who have expressed a desire to see the humorous musical comedy, "The Arrival of Mr. Wright," bids fair to outnumber the attendance at any former event ever held in Orangeville. Remember the dates, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, March 28th and 29th.

SCARLET CHAPTER

Seven candidates were advanced to the mysteries of the degree at a meeting of the Orangeville District Scarlet Chapter at Erin on Tuesday night. The meeting was held in the Hall of Erin L. O. L. No. 112. Orangeville Companions who attended the meeting, making the trip by auto, were O. E. Banks, W. G. McBride, J. R. Hughes, Carl Hanley, B. McGuire, Geo. Collins, Fred Crisp, Thos. Harshaw and Adam Widdis. The visitors were hospitably entertained by the Erin brethren.

DRAMA AT ALTON

The Triangle Club of the Church of Christ, Hillsburg, will present their Three Act Drama, "The Fruits of Deception" in the Town Hall, Alton, on Wednesday night, March 29th, under the auspices of the Epworth League of Alton Methodist Church. The Hillsburg amateurs are clever actors and have an excellent play. The performance should draw a large house. Music will be provided between acts. Time of play 2½ hours. Curtain at 8.15 sharp. Admission, 35c.; children, 20c.

ORANGEVILLE ARENA, LTD.

Thursday and Friday evenings, April 20th and 21st, have been selected as the dates for the concerts of the Orangeville Minstrels, who are hard at work doing their bit to aid the above Company. More particular announcement later. In the meantime it is hoped that nothing else will be put on during that week to interfere in any way with the success of an organization, which is solely for the benefit of the town and its young people.

Absolutely no progress has been made in the matter of a site for the Rink, in spite of the endless amount of time that has been spent in efforts and negotiations to secure a suitable one. From the opposition that developes as soon as a site is proposed one would imagine that it was a glue factory or a slaughter house for a pork-packing business that was proposed. "The young people be damned; put your rink some place else," expresses the attitude of too many of the citizens.

BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SPRING

The spring is a time of anxiety to mothers who have little ones in the home. Conditions make it necessary to keep the baby indoors. He is often confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms and catches colds which rack his whole system. To guard against this a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. This will prevent colds, constipation or colic and keep baby well. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NESBITT-M'LEOD

Mr. R. Thompson Nesbitt, son of the late J. J. Nesbitt and Mrs. Nesbitt, of Caledon, and Miss Mary McLeod, daughter of Dr. Alexander McLeod, of Caledon East, were married very quietly at the Presbyterian Manse in Caledon East on Wednesday, March 15th, the bride's pastor, Rev. Mr. Lockhart, officiating. The happy couple left immediately afterwards on a two weeks trip to Detroit and Chicago. On their return they will reside on the Centre Road, Caledon. Their many friends unite in extending heartiest congratulations and good wishes.

LACROSSE MEETING

A meeting will be held in the Auditorium of the Public Library at 8.30 on Friday evening, March 31st, for the purpose of reorganizing the Dufferin Lacrosse Club. While it is of course too early to speak definitely of the composition of the team, our readers will be pleased to learn that the greenshirts are likely to have a senior calibre team again this season. Every enthusiast in town should be at the meeting on the 31st. Nothing like getting the Club away to a good start with lots of enthusiastic backing.

ATTENTION, YOUNG MEN

Don't be behind. Engage your young lady now to accompany you to Orangeville on Tuesday or Wednesday night, March 28th and 29th, to see the amusing musical comedy, "The Arrival of Mr. Wright." The young men will get a lesson on how to make love. If you miss this opportunity the other fellow may win your girl.

W. M. S. MEETING

St. Andrew's W. M. S. held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. John Park, Zina St., on Friday afternoon. The programme opened a fine address by Mrs. Clegg, based on the new study book, "The Planting of the Faith" and a duet by Mrs. Crowe and Mrs. Fleming. An invitation was received and accepted from the Methodist Church W. M. S. to attend their Easter Thank-Offering meeting in April. Mrs. Mahaffy was appointed delegate to the annual Presbyterial meeting in Dundalk next month.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The following dnoations are acknowledged and best thanks are tendered to the donors for their thoughtful generosity:—Mrs. R. Irvine, Grand Valley, fruit and pickles; Mrs. Jos. Jackson, Cardwell, eggs, fruit and pickles; Mr. G. M. Cruikshank, Mono, bag of potatoes; Mrs. Will Jelly, Bowling Green, maple syrup; Mrs. John Woodland, Mono, fruit; Mrs. McGrath, Orangeville, fruit; Mrs. J. J. White, Orangeville, fruit and pickles; Mrs. J. D. McMillan, Orangeville, fruit; Mrs. (Judge) Fisher, Orangeville, fruit; Mrs. John Johnston, Orangeville, pickles.

WILL GO FARMING

Mr. Wilbert Donaldson, who has been running the Mono Centre general store, has sold the stock and business to Mr. Lyman Waller, taking in payment Mr. Waller's 150-acre farm, part of lots 18 and 19, con. 5, east, Mono, and the farm stock and implements. Mr. Waller has since sold the store business and stock to Mr. William R. Allen, of Collingwood, who will take over the business about April 1st. We understand that Mr. Waller will likely move to Orangeville. Mr. Allen is a former Mono boy and was clerk in the Mono Centre store for the late J. A. McFadden a number of years ago. Mr. Donaldson has made a success of the business and as Mr. Allen has the necessary experience he should do well in his new venture.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The Orangeville Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. W. R. Liddy on Tuesday, March 28th, at 3 o'clock. Mr. E. Hackett, Principal of the High School, will deliver an address. Music by Miss C. Hulse. Everyone interested in Institute work is cordially invited to attend.

A BIRTHDAY GATHERING

(Inended for last week.)

A pleasant gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hall, of Alton, on Monday, March 6th, to commemorate the seventy-ninth birthday of Mrs. Hall's motner, Mrs. Henry Leader, and to wish her many happy returns of the day. Mrs. Leader was married to the late Henry Leader, of East Garafraxa, on January 25th, 1896. The union was blessed with a family of thirteen—five sons and eight daughters—all of whom are still living, with the exception of one daughter. Those of the children, who could at all conveniently come, were present at the happy gathering. The forenoon was spent in talking and music. A sumptuous dinner was then served, after which the afternoon was spent in music, singing and social conversation. A delicious tea was served early in the evening. Shortly afterwards the pleasant gathering dispersed, after all present had united in wishing their beloved and revered parent continued health, happiness and many returns of her natal day. Members of the family who were present were:—Mr. and Mrs. John Leader, of Hillsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Carson and their daughter, Gladys, of Orton; Mr. Wesley Leader, of Erin; Mrs. Alfred Filby, Mr. Geo. Leader and Mrs. Thos. Wells and daughter, Eva, all of Orangeville; Mrs. David Baker, of Fergus; Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Leader, The Maples; Mrs. Clem Cullen, of Mono; Mrs. Morton Ecken, of Melville Junction, and Mr. John Hall, of Alton, and four grandchildren. Mrs. Leader received a number of very pretty gifts and enjoyed the day and social gathering just as keenly as the younger people. During the day she was presented with a lovely bouquet of roses and carnations by Mr. Fred Russell.

At a meeting of the combined Presbyterian congregations of Bolton and Nashville it was unanimously decided to extend a call to Rev. Donald McKay, of Dorchester, to become their pastor. Rev. Mr. Moir, the Moderator of Toronto Presbytery, occupied the chair.

UNABLE TO WALK FOR A YEAR

Paralysis Entirely Relieved by "Fruit-a-tives"

The Wonderful Fruit Medicine

Paralysis is a break-down of the Nervous System and affects the victim in various ways. Sometimes, nervousness makes itself known by hysteria, insomnia, constant headaches, or it may be so bad that one is partially or completely helpless in some part of the body, just as Mrs. Heacock was.

SAULT STE MARIE, ONT.

"When I was twenty-eight years of age, my doctor advised me to have an operation, which I did and it proved very serious, leaving me weak and unable to walk for a year. Seeing your "Fruit-a-tives" advertised in the papers, I decided to try them. I continued to use them regularly, and today I am able to go about my house duties and care for my family".

MRS. J. W. HEACOCK.

Any form of Nervousness is often caused by, and is always aggravated by, Constipation, which poisons the blood, irritates the kidneys and inflames the nerves. "Fruit-a-tives" stimulates the action of liver and bowels, kidneys and skin—tones and sweetens the stomach—keeps the blood pure, and builds up the entire nervous system.

In a word, "Fruit-a-tives" has proved that it is the most scientific and effective remedy in the world for Nervousness or a disordered condition of the nervous system.

50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

CONNOR

(Intended for last week.)

Mr. Wilmer Palmer has purchased Connor store. We are glad to welcome such an enterprising young man in our midst and wish him every success.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mills entertained a number of their friends on Saturday evening. All reported a good time.

Mr. Melville White has bought a house in Toronto and intends removing there shortly. Mr. and Mrs. White will be missed by their numerous friends.

The young people of Connor gave their Play, "Deacon Dubbs," in Palgrave on Tuesday, March 7th. Excellent music was rendered between acts by Mr. B. Barry, of Loretto, accompanied by Mrs. J. M. McCoy, of West Toronto. The Play was followed by a short dance. Everyone seemed to enjoy the evening.

A number of our young people spent a very enjoyable time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Atkinson on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lyons and family have moved to their new farm. We are glad to have them with us again.

GRAND ORANGE LODGE

Dufferin County was well represented at the Grand Black Chapter and the Provincial Grand Orange Lodge meetings held in Sarnia last week. The County Master, Deputy County Master and County Secretary were in attendance and were supported by at least one representative from most of the Primary Lodges in the county. In addition to the usual business transacted at the annual meeting of the Provincial Grand Orange Lodge, there was valuable discussion on the matter of the attempt of the Roman Catholic bishops to obtain further financial support for their Separate Schools, and strong resolutions were passed against the granting of these concessions and also against the suggested abolition of the right of appeal to the Throne. Two cablegrams were forwarded to Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George and Sir James Craig, protesting against the coercion of Ulster. The large City Hall was crowded at the public meeting and hundreds were turned away for lack of standing room. Splendid addresses were given by H. C. Hocken, M. P., Hon. W. D. MacPherson, Major Hartt, Dr. W. J. Edwards and others. The True Blue and Orange Orphanage's appeal was urged by Bro. W. M. Fitzgerald and others, and a splendid response was secured. In the election of officers of the Grand Black Chapter, our County Master, W. Bro. T. H. Bullock, was elected to the office of Associate Deputy Grand Master on the first ballot. We congratulate Sir Knight Bullock and the Mono Mills Preceptory, of which he is a member, upon the signal distinction conferred upon him. Bro. Geo. H. Hunt, of Grand Valley, was re-elected Grand Censor.

MRS. HECTOR M'VANNEL

After an illness from internal trouble dating from last fall, part of January and all of February being spent in hospital in Toronto under treatment, Elizabeth A. Miller, wife of Hector McVannel, departed this life on Wednesday, March 8th, at her home, west half lot 32, con. 6, Amaranth, in her 53rd year. Deceased was the daughter of the late John W. and Mrs. Miller, and was born at Stoney Creek, Ont., in 1869. When her father and his son Robert (both since deceased), came to lot 26, Tenth Line, Amaranth, about the year 1887, deceased came with them. At Hamilton, in September, 1892, she was married to Hector McVannel. Mr. and Mrs. McVannel lived on lot 2, con. 4, S. W. T. & S. R., Melancthon, until 1905, when they moved to the west half of lot 32, con. 6, Amaranth. The husband, one son and two daughters survive: Grace, who has been teaching school at Duchess, Alberta, and Louise (formerly of Shelburne Post Office staff) and Clifford, at home. The aged mother and three brothers also survive: Myers Miller, Pine Bluff, North Carolina; Benjamin Miller, Munson, Alberta; John W. Miller, Teppin, B. C. The funeral, which took place to Shelburne Cemetery, Saturday afternoon, was largely attended. The service at the house and grave was conducted by Rev. A. E. Thornley, and at the service at the house favorite hymns of deceased were sung by members of the choir of Knox Church. The pallbearers were Bruce, Milton and Milford McVannel, A. E. Williams, John J. Hammond and Samuel McVannel.—Economist.

CHIROPRACTIC

Is Your Greatest Friend

Thousands of people are finding full restoration to health in Chiropractic adjustments, and why should you not be equally successful. Science is always on the move, and none has made more rapid progress than the Science of Chiropractic and for no other reason than its success to combat disease and give relief to suffering humanity. Investigate its merits. Get your information first hand from your Chiropractor, then you get it correct. Others may be misleading. A few Adjustments will convince you that Chiropractic will correct the cause of your disease, and put you in possession of good healthy conditions. If you are afflicted in any way, acute or chronic, visit your Chiropractor, have the cause removed and enjoy good health and happiness.

Mr. Gideon Moore, of Mt. Forest, has purchased Mr. Lorne Lowes' 117 acre farm, lot 5, con. 12, Peel, and will get possession April 1st. The price paid was $7,500.

Little girl in Windsor picked up three $20 bills which a poor working man had accidentally dropped, and which hundreds of people had passed unnoticed on the street. She was suitably rewarded.

An extensive robbery of jewelry and other valuables at the residence of A. I. Wright, Brockville, was reported. The thief or thieves entered the house through a cellar door during the absence of the family.

Says the Bruce Herald and Times: "Up Temiskaming way a hardy settler has been grievously disappointed and annoyed because they would not allow him to get married on the strength of a hunter's license he had bought and paid for.

F. Gerow and A. Sutherland, of Rossport, were attacked by a band of timber wolves on the ice near Port Arthur, and Sutherland was obliged to spend a night in a tree on Quarry Island. Gerow made better time and escaped.

To be erroneously reported dead while enjoying good health was the experience of a prominent man of Delhi on a recent Sunday. The report rapidly spread, and in response to telephone inquiries neighbors of the supposedly dead man rushed to the house, to be met at the door by the man himself, his face lathered for a peaceful Sunday morning shave.

The Royal Victoria Hospital, Barrie, is to benefit to the extent of over $25,000 by the will of the late Fred Underhill. The sum of approximately $105,000 is eventually to be divided in equal portions among four charities: The Royal Victoria Hospital, Barrie; the General Hospital, the House for Incurables, and the House of Providence, Toronto.

Cheltenham was visited by a bad fire last week when the planing mill belonging to Andrew Henderson was completely destroyed, with a loss of $5,000, only partially covered by insurance. The fire was started by the gasoline engine which runs the machinery, backfiring. In smothering the flames with rugs from his car, Mr. Henderson was badly burned. The mill, with all machinery, equipment, tools, 300 feet of lumber and two engines, is a total loss. The efforts of the villagers saved five homes in the vicinity of the mill, as well as the mill storehouse.

NURSE THINKS NOTHING BETTER

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Advised for all Women in Poor Health

Toronto, Ontario.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years and it is the only patent medicine I ever recommend. I am a nurse and if I find a woman is in poor health I always tell her to take it. Although you know that doctors and nurses do not use patent medicines I must say that I think there is nothing better than your Vegetable Compound. When I first took it many years ago, I was so tired when I got up in the morning that I could not eat, and when I went to bed I was too tired to sleep. My mother-in-law told me that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was just what I wanted so I tried it and only took two bottles when I felt better. Since then I have found that there is nothing that makes me feel so well, for it seems to build my system right up. I don't know any other medicine that has done so much for women."—Mrs. W. H. Parker, 19 Wellesley Ave., Toronto, Ontario.

Women testify again and again that they have been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound "after other medicines have failed." It has been tried for nearly fifty years and not found wanting.

If you are suffering from any of the various ailments which accompany female weakness try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In her seventy-seventh year Mrs. Angus McEachern passed away on Saturday, March 11th, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hiram Fisher, lot 8, 5th line, Erin.

J. Charles, of Anderdon, during the temporary absence of himself and family from home, was robbed of $311, which he had put away after selling his used car.

"Pete," the much-loved black cat which for years held sway over the mice in St. Thomas City Hall, was so seriously injured by a passing street car that he had to be shot.

In the $10,000 suit of S. W. Matthews, of Collingwood, against the counties of Perth and Wellington, liability was found, but judgment reserved as to amount of damages.

Ten girls and nine boys were born in Barrie during the month of February. In the same period there were two marriages and sixteen deaths, including two by violence.

Fourteen thousand dollars must yet be raised to complete the total cost of the new Burford High School, recently built for $67,774.79, including building, grounds and equipment.

Peel Township is interested in the case of Bartholemew Farrell, born there, who is now in a hospital at Syracuse in charge of an expert masseur. Two years ago when Mr. Farrell was working in a Syracuse bakery, a pan of dough, thirty pounds in weight, fell squarely on his head, paralysing his power of speech.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the sawmill of the Kastner Lumber Co., of Wiarton, a week ago Monday night. Heavy snow and a strong northwest wind kept the fire from spreading to the yards in which there were about $40,000 worth of lumber. The loss on the mill is estimated at between $5,000 and $6,000, covered by insurance.

C. R. Knight was tendered a banquet in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his undertaking the leadership of the choir of Alliston Methodist Church. Mr. Knight was also presented with a conductor's baton of silver-mounted walnut, and Mrs. Knight received a bouquet of carnations and Miss Isabel Knight a bouquet of daffodils.

A GOOD IMPRESSION

"I'd like a word with you before you leave, Clay."

The young fellow started and his color changed, but he took a chair by the window and waited. The others of the office force went out, casting at the waiting figure glances of curiosity, in one or two cases, tinged with commiseration. The employer and the newest employee were left alone together.

Mr. Bishop did not seem in a hurry to speak. He glanced at some letters on his desk and signed his name to one or two. Then he swung around and faced a very anxious youth.

"It's two weeks to-morrow since you came to us, I believe."

"Yes, sir. I hope," said the young fellow, his troubled voice contradicting the word he made use of, "that my work has been satisfactory."

Mr. Bishop did not satisfy his natural curiosity on that point. "How many times in those two weeks have you polished your shoes?"

"Polished my shoes?" Clay repeated blankly.

"Yes."

"Why, I—I'm not sure."

"The collar you are wearing was evidently not clean this morning. Do you know, Clay, what pleased me most about your appearance the day you applied for the position?"

"No, sir," Clay stammered.

"It was your look of neatness. Of taking pains with yourself, your clean, fresh, well-groomed appearance."

"I can't afford to wear my best clothes every day."

"No, but you can afford to have your old suit pressed when it needs it, and to have the spots scoured off. You can afford to wear clean linen and to keep your hair well trimmed and your shoes polished. Now, be frank. Didn't you spend considerable time and also strength and pains fixing yourself to call on me, so that you would make a good impression."

"Yes, sir, I did," the boy acknowledged helplessly.

"Well, Clay, there's one thing I want you to keep in mind. If you get a position by making a good impression, you must keep right on making that good impression in order to keep the place. That's all. Good-night."—Jackson Innes.

MEDICAL INSPECTION

Resume of the Work Done in Neighboring County of Peel.

In 1917-18 the Department of Agriculture was instrumental in bringing to the County of Peel properly qualified medical doctors and nurses to make a careful inspection of school children. Fully ninety per cent. were found to be suffering from preventable or curable defects, many of which, by prompt attention, might be removed and health and happiness restored.

Through the Women's Institute, medical and dental clinics were organized at Alton, Port Credit, Malton and Erindale. Some three hundred children were successfully treated at clinics. Mention should be made also of small clinics held from time to time by prominent medical men of Albion township, through which somewhat over two hundred children have been freed from their handicap.

A School Nurse carried on work in Toronto Gore township in 1918-19. Two series of visits were made. Later, doctors and school nurses were secured from the Departments of Agriculture and Education to make surveys from time to time in various parts of the county.

Their findings showed that it was plainly necessary to have more health teaching and constant health supervision in our public schools. The County Council did not see its way clear to support the measure proposed to supply the need. The Peel Women's Institute (as a demonstration project and in memory of the late J. W. Stark, to whose efforts the beginning of the work was due) undertook to support a school nurse for one year. It was continued for almost a year and a half.

During that time 132 school visits were made, 3005 pupils given a first, and 1994 a general classroom inspection. Six thousand two hundred and thirteen defects were found. There were 125 terminated cases reported, and 512 tooth brushes sold to children. The Demonstration Nurse, who followed, picked up 346 terminations.

The financial burden was too great to be wholly borne by the Women's Institute indefinitely. The whole County was receiving the benefit, although there was not a branch Institute in every section.

In the meantime, the supervision of school nursing service was taken over by the Department of Education. They outlined a policy, whereby, for every school board giving ten dollars per classroom in support of such work, the Department granted an equal amount. Divisions known as units were made of sections, each one to include not more than thirty-five or forty classrooms. Peel County for this year has been divided into two units. The Southern unit contains Brampton, the lower part of Chinguacousy, Cooksville, Streetsville, Port Credit and all rural schools in Toronto Township—in all, 42 schools, or 65, the largest school in this unit, which cludes the upper schools in Chinguacousy, with Albion, Caledon and Toronto Gore Townships. Bolton is the largest school in this unit which has 48 schools and 53 class rooms.

A grant of $1000 was received from the County Council and to date school boards have responded quite well with donations, while others are still to be heard from. The necessary supplies have been placed in each school. Transportation is the largest item of expense.

In Brampton last Fall, the averting of an epidemic of diphtheria was due to the school nurse. An outbreak of a very contagious skin disease was prevented in another school. Much relief work has been done this winter, and in both units some six hundred tooth brushes have been sold to pupils.

Since September 20th, Miss M. I. Galbraith, working in the Southern unit, reports: 166 school visits; 5909 inspections; 350 home visits; 388 terminations; 7 consultations and 5 exclusions for communicable disease.

Miss E. M. Hanna, working in the Northern unit since November 9th, reports: 92 school visits; 1346 inspections; 335 home visits; 251 terminations and 31 consultations. The transportation is a difficulty in both cases. Greater distances lie between schools in the north, while in the south schools are over-crowded.

The time is coming when a school nurse will be considered quite as needful to our rural education as the teacher.

AFTER A FRANCHISE

Dover Oil Company Planning to Begin Drilling in a Couple of Weeks.

The Dover Oil Company is planning to commence drilling for gas on its property near Inglewood in a couple of weeks. So sanguine is the Company of a sucessful outcome from the drilling operations that its officials are already taking steps to apply to the municipal councils of Brampton and Orangeville for franchises to supply these towns with gas for domestic purposes. If the development of the Inglewood well proceeds according to expectations the Company figures that it will not be many months until it will be in a position to quote the citizens of Orangeville and Brampton very attractive rates for gas for lighting and other domestic purposes.

Saturday afternoon a couple of auto loads of our citizens visited the well on the Henry farm near Inglewood in company with some of the officials of the Company. They were both surprised and pleased with the convincing proofs furnished them of the existence of an abundant supply of gas. The well has been capped, so that the waste which has been going on for years, without any diminution of the flow of gas, has been checked and controlled. When the stop was turned and a match applied to the escaping gas a jet of flame shot some twenty feet into the air and continued to burn steadily until the jet was closed. The color of the flame was an opalescent blue and there was absolutely no odour, an evidence of the purity of the escaping gas. The flame was intensely hot and the visitors were supplied wih first-hand proof of the existence of abundant pressure.

We are informed that the well on the Henry farm has been visited by many persons, who are authorities on gas and oil wells and that the authorities have agreed that it is a really remarkble find. A drilling outfit will be set at work on the property just as soon as weather conditions permit. The Company has secured the services of a drilling expert and a first-class outfit and expects to make rapid progress once operations are under way. One man, who is an authority on the subject, predicts a large flow of gas of commercial value at a depth of 800 to 1000 feet. There is, of course, the element of chance in oil operations everywhere, but the history of this important industry elsewhere has shown that if a well turns out a successful producer it means fortunes for the lucky investors. Even a small investment will bring an immense return if the well turns out to be a big producer. It takes faith and courage to put money into an enterprise ahead of development but this would seem to be the time of opportunity in the case of an enterprise such as the one now getting under way at Inglewood. Any of our readers who may be sufficiently interested to desire further information about this well and its prospects may have their desire gratified by interviewing Mr. J. S. Monroe, the Field Manager, at the Queen's Hotel, or Mr. J. M. McNaughton, one of the Orangeville directors of the Dover Oil Company. Either of these gentlemen will be pleased to give any information in their possession regarding the Company, the field or the pending development.

TEN AUTOS DESTROYED

Allenford Garage and Its Contents Fall Prey to Flames.

The village of Allenford, a few miles west of Owen Sound, suffered one of the most severe fires in its history Wednesday morning, March 22nd, when the garage of J. H. Temple was destroyed by fire and along with it were nine automobiles and one truck. Batteries to the number of 15 and other equipment in the garage are also a total loss. The fire was noticed about 8 o'clock in the morning and had gained such headway that nothing could be done to save the building or contents. The villagers quickly rallied to the scene and prevented the fire from spreading any farther.

Those who suffered the loss of cars were, H. Diebel, a truck and a Ford coupe, Dr. Urquhart, K. L. Fothergill, Dan McDougall, Dr. Hammond, J. Montgomery, James Elliott, Frank Brigham and the owner. Various other people suffered the loss of batteries, which were in storage.

The owner had started a fire in the stove as usual in the morning and had then left the building. In some manner, while he was absent, the fire started and had gained considerable headway before being discovered. There was practically no insurance on the building or contents so the loss will be a heavy one.

BOUGHT TWO THIS TIME

The two harness shops in town, owned by the veteran Mr. Peter Fleming and Mr. Robert Robson, have been sold to Mr. George Moore, of Toronto, who was at one time in business in Orangeville. Mr. Moore will consolidate the businesses and continue it in the shop of Mr. Fleming. Mr. Fleming has been in business in Brampton for forty-six years.—Peel Banner.

George's many Orangeville friends wish him every success in his latest venture.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR THE SPRINGTIME

Do Not Use Harsh Purgatives—A Tonic is All You Need.

Not sick—but not feeling quite well. That is the way most people feel in the spring. Easily tired, appetite fickle, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression.. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble.

Do not dose yourself with purgatives, as so mny people do, in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you this is true. What you need in the spring is a tonic that will enrich the blood and build up the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do this speedily, safely and surely. Every dose of this medicine helps to enrich the blood, which clears the skin, strengthens the appetite and makes tired, depressed men, women and children bright, active and strong. Miss S. L. McEachren, Nairn P. O., N. B., says: "I have been in the habit of taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the spring and they keep me in the best of health. I think it is entirely due to the use of these pills that I always have such good health."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HOME FROM ENGLAND

Mr. Arthur Spratt and his daughter, Miss Spratt, have returned to Inglewood after a visit of three months in London and elsewhere in the British Isles. They returned on the C. P. R. liner, Minnedosa, and had the bad fortune to have a very stormy trip. So tempestuous were the seas that eleven days were spent in making the trip across, where as it is usually accomplished in seven days. Contrary winds prevailed throughout the voyage. A great deal of damage was done to the glass and light fittings of the boat. Mr. Spratt and his daughter had a very enjoyable visit in England, where he still has two brothers living.

ANOTHER CASUALTY

The Hepworth Progress, which has been published at Hepworth, a Bruce County village, for many years, has been obliged to suspend publication. This makes one more addition to the rather formidable casualty list of country newspapers during the last few years. Mr. W. R. Kinch, who has edited The Progress for several years, has decided that running a newspaper in a small village is an unprofitable investment.

ARE WE BIG ENOUGH?

For sometime now the Methodist and Presbyterian churches, through their Co-operating Committees, have been doing their utmost to unite rural congregations, where they are more or less dependent on the Sustentation and Augmentation Funds of their respective churches. Reasonable and practical schemes have been launched and many of these weak charges vote in favor of the union scheme, but one lone charge votes against and thereby throws a "monkey wrench" into the whole scheme and blocks the movement, unless some other charge is found, which will keep the fifty-fifty basis between the negotiating churches. Now, Mr. Editor, are we big enough to forget the fifty-fifty basis where the cause of the Kingdom would seem to demand immediate action? Sir, why keep up churches that are not needed? Why have church cemeteries that are a disgrace? Why send men when they are not needed where one would do much better work than two? Why send money where it is unwisely spent? Why cause divisions where there should be co-operation? Why perpetuate a local vision where there ought to be a world vision of a world gospel? Should we not say to our people, merge with your sister church? We know we shall lose in members and suffer a temporary financial loss, but we shall surely enlarge our place in the great world task. Go, put your talents, your money, your soul, and a bigger soul, into the larger task; assist your Church to become a world asset; give to some man a man's job and if he doesn't measure up to the world task you, yourselves, have assumed, "fire him."

Yours truly,
C. J. BAILEY.

TOO GOOD A SHOT

Allandale Man Fined $2.00 and Costs For Shooting Neighbor's Dog.

A. G. Walker, of Allandale, was fined $2.00 and costs in the Police Court for shooting and killing a pet dog owned by Mr. Edwards, also of Allandale.

It appears that for some time the offending canine had been annoying Walker's chickens and he had warned the owner of the dog about it. On March 9th Dorothy Edwards, the little eleven year old daughter of Mr. Edwards, had wandered into Mr. Walker's premises, followed by the dog. Seeing the chickens, and unaware of his coming doom, the dog began chasing them. He chased one into a pond of water and it was drowned, and pulled the feathers out of many more. Mr. Walker came out and vainly endeavored to scare him off and his efforts being unavailing, went back into the house and procurred a gun. He took a crack shot, which proved fatal.

Dorothy Edwards and a playfellow, Clifford Nelson, testified as to seeing the shooting. Mr. Walker claimed that it was not his intention to wilfully kill the dog, but merely to scare him off.

"You were too good a shot," said Magistrate Clark.

Understanding the situation thoroughly and being in sympathy with Mr. Walker and his grievances, His Worship nevertheless fined the offender $2.00 and costs, amounting to $7.50, as it is against the law to kill a dog owned by a neighbor.

CRITICISM FOR MISS M'PHAIL

Mr. E. J. Cobean, one of our Toronto subscribers and formerly general merchant and postmaster at Camilla, was not very favorably impressed by Miss Agnes McPhail's recent address in Orangeville. In a letter to The Banner he speaks of the address as "one of the most foolish political speeches I ever read. One would think that she tried to stuff the farmers with the idea that all things were paid out of the six inches of soil on top of the earth, but when she has been at Ottawa for a short time she will learn to make a more sensible speech. Miss McPhail doesn't know that the manufacturers of Toronto alone pay more income tax and Government excise tax than all the farmers of Ontario put together. The T. Eaton Co. and the Kemp Manufacturing Company pay two million dollars, alone, not counting the rest of the city of Toronto. I hope Agnes will give you a more sensible speech the next time she goes to Orangeville. Little Willie down at Ottawa will learn her how to do it. It is a good thing that we have two such good men as Hocken and Ex-Mayor Church there. If the U. F. O.'s do not change their way of voting we will have another Quebec in Ontario and another trouble the same as there is in Ireland. Who wouldn't pity the poor boys in view of what they have to contend with there. If Ireland only had Sir Edward Carson's good men, who were there before the war, there would be none of this Sinn Fein trouble in Ireland now."

FELL UNDER WAGON

An English boy, in the employ of Mr. Jackson Holmes, lot 2, con. 4, east, Mono, met with a painful accident on Monday of last week. He was drawing out manure and after he had finished throwing off a load in the field he stepped out on the tongue of the wagon in order to get the lines. The horses took fright and ran away throwing the young chap off the tongue between the wagon and the team. Two of the wheels passed over his body inflicting severe bruises, but fortunately without breaking any bones. Dr. T. H. Henry attended to the lad's injuries.

Miss Hazel Morrow,
Orangeville, Ont.

Dear Hazel,—

Your friends of The Maples Women's Institute desire to take this opportunity to express their regret at your approaching departure from this neighborhood and to wish you every success and happiness in the noble calling to which you have decided to devote your life.

We also wish to express our keen appreciation of the excellent service you have rendered as Secretary of our Institute. Your work has been done in a manner that gave satisfaction to every officer and member and you have, at all times and under every circumstance, evinced a sincere desire to do whatever you can to further the interests of our Society.

And, now, Miss Morrow, it is our wish that you accept this necklace as a tangible expression of our love and appreciation and also of our united wishes for your future happiness.

Signed on behalf of The Maples Women's Institute.
Orangeville, March 22nd, 1922.

CALEDON

The Ladies' Dramatic Club, of Caledon, are to be congratulated on the success of the Play, "The Spinsters' Convention," given by them in the Town Hall, Caledon, Wednesday, March 22nd. The Hall was filled to its capacity; proceeds, some sixty-six dollars, to be given in aid of the Public Library. The ladies all excelled themselves as actresses. Their gowns were elaborate and ancient, quite in keeping with the convention. They were surely a beautiful sight, when some twenty spinsters came on the platform to welcome the bachelors and audience with their greeting song. Caledon has always been noted for its production of plays. The President wishes to thank all who contributed so willingly of their services and talent to make the Play a success. Thanks are also due for the dainty lunch which was served after the Play. We all join in wishing the ladies success in their undertaking for the future.

RICHARD WELWOOD

The death of Richard Welwood, a well-known and highly respected resident of the township of Caledon, took place at his late home, lot 19, 4th line, east, on Sunday, March 19th. Deceased had been in poor health since last fall owing to a general breakdown of the nervous system. The end, which was not unexpected, came quite peacefully and without pain. The subject of our sketch was born near Macville, Albion township, his father being one of the pioneer settlers of that township. After teaching school for fourteen years in different parts of Ontario, Mr. Welwood took up farming on the 4th line, Caledon, where he has resided ever since. In 1875 he married Annie Forster, of Linwood, Ont., who died four year later. In 1880 he married Ann Eliza Dolmage, of Trafalgar township, who survives her husband. In religion the deceased was a Presbyterian. Through his social qualities and kindly, genial nature, he made many enduring friends, who extend their sincere sympathy to the bereaved widow and family. Besides his widow he leaves to mourn his departure a family of four sons and two daughters, namely, W. G., of Elm Creek, Man.; R. S. and J. E., of Magnolia, Alta.; Elgin, at home; Mrs. John Holmes, of Allan, Sask.; and Mrs. A. Moore, of Whitechurch, Ont. The surviving brothers and sisters are Robert, of Owen Sound; Joseph, of Wingham; John, of Caledon; W. S., of Bolton, and Mrs. R. Minnons, of Thessalon, Ont. The funeral, which was largely attended, took place to St. Andrew's Church Cemetery, Caledon, on Tuesday afternoon, March 21st, the Rev. Mr. Lockhart, of Caledon East, officiating, assisted by the Rev. S. Dunn Dinnick, of Mono Mills. The pallbearers were five nephews and one son-in-law, Cecil, Herb and Wm. Welwood, Harry Coupland, Wm. Albertson and Arthur Moore.

Among the friends from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. A. Moore, Whitechurch; Mrs. Jos. Welwood, Wingham; Mr. J. Dolmage, Streetsville; Mrs. T. Stevenson, Miss Winnifred Hill, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. John Falconer, Wingham, and Mr. S. A. Albertson, Oakville.

WILLIAM LEWIS

Mono Mills village and district lost its oldest citizen last week through the death of Mr. William Lewis, who passed away on Wednesday, March 22nd, at the ripe age of 85 years and 8 months. The late Mr. Lewis was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis and was born in the County of Armagh, Ireland, on July 18th, 1836. He came to Canada with his parents when eleven or twelve years of age, the family settling on the east half lot 9, con. 7, Mono, shortly after their arrival in this country. As a young man Mr. Lewis was engaged as clerk with the late Jos. Alexander, a general merchant in Mono Mills, then a much busier and more populous village than it is to-day. He was subsequently with the late John Harris, who later became the Treasurer of Caledon township. Afterwards Mr. Lewis formed a partnership in the general store business with the late W. J. Mills, of Mono Mills. For some years past he had been living retired in the village. On September 14th, 1887, the subject of our sketch was married to Elizabeth Cullen, daughter of Stephen and Sarah Cullen, of Flesherton, the marriage service being performed by Rev. Thos. Cullen, a brother of the bride. He is survived by his widow and one son, Mr. C. W. Lewis, of Toronto, Mrs. John Cobean, of Port Elgin, Ont., is the only sister living and Messrs. James Lewis, of Morris, Man., and Thomas Lewis, of Orangevlle, are the surviving brothers. The late Mr. Lewis was a man of fine character and high ideals. As a citizen he enjoyed the respect and confidence of the whole neighborhood. As a neighbor he was kindly, obliging and always willing to extend a helping hand to those in trouble or distress. He was a staunch member of the Presbyterian Church and had been an elder in Mono Mills Presbyterian Church since June 1st, 1890. He was also treasurer of the church for upwards of thirty years, resigning the position a few years ago on account of failing health. In politics he was a strong Conservative. There was a large attendance of the neighbors at the funeral, which was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Friday afternoon. Rev. J. A. Matheson, the family pastor, conducted the services at the house and grave. Rev. S. Dunn Dinnick, of the Methodist Church, assisting at the church. A number of beautiful floral tributes bore mute testimony of the esteem and sympathy of friends of the family. The pallbearers were a nephew, Mr. James Lewis, and five elders of the Mono Mills, Mono East and Adjala Presbyterian churches, namely, Messrs. D. N. Potter, Isaiah Hammond, W. J. Dodds, W. A. Donaldson and James Drummond.

ROBERT J. M'NICHOL

Robert J. McNichol, a resident of Toronto for 40 years, died on Sunday, March 19th, in his 73rd year, at his late residence, 92 Humberside Ave. Born in Alton, Ont., the late Mr. McNichol went to Toronto when a young man. He was a Presbyterian and an Oddfellow. Surviving are his wife, two sons, Everton and Arthur, and one daughter, Miss Gertrude, all of Toronto. He also leaves one brother, Thos. McNichol, of Erin, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Coulter, of Alton.

HUGH M'KITRICK

His Orangeville friends learned with sorrow of the sudden death in Toronto last Thursday of Hugh McKitrick, formerly a well-known resident of this town. Deceased, who lived at 326½ Queen St., west, was employed at the Cherry St. shipyard. He had not been feeling any too well but had breakfast and went to work Thursday morning as usual. About eleven o'clock his fellow workers noticed him sitting down, but thought he was taking a few minutes' rest. A little later his foreman called to him to come and give his comrades a lift with a beam they were about to raiseinto position. He received no response and going to where McKitrick was sitting was horrified to discover that life was extinct. Death, which had been almost instantaneous, was due to heart collapse. The deceased, who was 57 years of age and unmarried, was a son of the late James McKitrick, at one time owner of the farm in Amaranth now owned and occupied by Mr. William Morrow. Before moving to Toronto he spent several years with the Dufferin Light and Power Company and was in charge of their power house east of Hornings Mills for a time. The surviving members of the family are three brothers, Jonah, of London; Joseph, of Shelburne, and Thomas, of Toronto, and two sisters, Mrs. Bartlett, of Toronto, and Mrs. Varcoe, of Burk's Falls. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, the funeral taking place from the C. P. R. station to Greenwood Cemetery upon the arrival of the Toronto train Saturday morning. Rev. T. H. Stewart had charge of the burial service. The pallbearers were the three brothers and three nephews, Joseph and David McKitrick and Ernest Varcoe, all of Toronto.

WILLIAM KIDNEY

Another of Mono's pioneers has passed to his eternal rest in the person of William Kidnie, who died on Monday afternoon, March 22nd, at the ripe age of 89 years. His death, which occurred at his home in Mono Centre, was the result of a gradual weakening of the system from old age, the end coming quite suddenly from heart collapse. Deceased was able to walk from his place at the dinner table to his couch only a few minutes before his death.

The late Mr. Kidnie was born in Ireland, but came to Canada at an early age, settling, first in Albion, and afterwards on lot 24, 3rd line, east, Mono, where he resided until seven years ago, when he retired to Mono Centre. He was of a quiet disposition, though possessed of his share of Irish wit. Kindly and sympathetic, he was a man who was ever ready to help in times of need and sickness. In politics Mr. Kidnie was a Conservative. He was a regular attendant at St. Matthew's Anglican Church as long as his health permitted.

In early life the subject of our sketch married Miss Mary Scott, of Palgrave, who proved a faithful wife, caring tenderly for her aged husband until the last. In addition to his wife he is survived by a family of five, one daughter, Mrs. W. J. Coleman, of Relessey, and four sons, John, of Toronto; Thomas, of Alliston; William G., on the homestead, and Robert, at home. All the members of the family were present at the largely attended funeral, which was held on Wednesday afternoon following his death to Burns' Church cemetery in Mono Centre. Rev. Wm. Coutts officiating at the house and grave. The oak casket in which the remains reposed was borne to its last resting place by six former neighbors and friends, namely, Messrs. Fletcher Stewart, Wm. McFarlane, Wm. Heaslip, Richard Holmes, Wm. Ewing and Richard McFadden. The floral tributes included a broken wheel from the family.

John McLeod Sr. is home doing some repairs around his house.

The jazz band has returned to town for the summer.

Our last week's reporter seems to have been in a somewhat carping frame of mind and must have been thinking of getting married or doing something else equally desperate, when he was at such pains to unburden his mind regarding the frailties of the members of the gentler sex. He should remember that it is not what the young lady should be, but what the young man ought to be, that makes life happy and worth while living.

IN MEMORIAM

RAEBURN—In memory of our dearly loved one, William A. Raeburn, who entered into rest April 2nd, 1920.

Just a thought of sweet remembrance
From a memory fond and true;
Just a token of affection,
And a longing still for you.

WIFE AND LITTLE SONS.

MARTIN—In affectionate and loving memory of Muriel, daughter of Thornton and Mildred Martin, who passed away April 3rd, 1921.

God knows how much we miss her,
He counts the tears we shed,
And whispers "hush," she only sleeps,
Your loved one is not dead.

In heaven there was a vacant seat,
An empty crown was there,
The angels' eyes were turned to earth
In search of one the crown to wear.

They fell on one too good for earth,
On one we loved so dear,
They took her to her home above,
And left us lonely here.

Sadly missed by Father, Mother, Sister Jean, and Grandad.

SPEERS—In loving memory of John Armstrong Speers, who departed this life in Watrous, Sask., on March 17th, 1919.

This day recalls sad memories
Of our loved one laid to rest;
Those who think of him to-day
Are those who loved him best.

We miss you as the time rolls on,
It seems but yesterday
Since you left us here so lonely,
And no farewell word could say.

Three years have passed—though out of sight,
You are never out of mind;
You are cherished in the memories
Of those you have left behind.

MONO COLLEGE.

The last meeting of the Mono College Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. F. C. Island on Thursday afternoon, March 3rd. After the opening exercises there was open discussion on several lines of business. It was voted by the members that the Branch vote $30.00 to the Lord Dufferin Hospital and $15 to the True Blue Orphanage, this being part of the proceeds of the Bazaar and Homemade Baking Sale held last December. The programme included a Paper on "Being Busy" by Mrs. G. E. Island. Many useful suggestions were mentioned. A vocal solo by Miss Darraugh, instrumental duets by Mrs. Bowles and Mrs. Liddy and an instrumental solo by Miss Myrtle Marshall were excellently rendered and received with hearty appreciation. The meeting was brought to a close by repeating the Lord's Prayer.

TEA SHORTAGE MEANS HIGHER PRICES

During the war teas reached a very high level of cost largely owing to shortage of shipping. In 1919 and 1920, greatly increased production and unlimited shipping resulted in enormous quantities of tea reaching every market in the world, and a consequent fall in the cost ensued. So serious did the situation become in India, Ceylon and Java that the various growers agreed to decrease their output during 1921 by 20 per cent. This agreement was kept and the world is now faced by a shortage of tea, which has resulted in the market climbing week by week for the last eighteen months, until it has now reached a level fully 15 cents a pound over that of October 1920.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to our neighbors and friends for the kindness and sympathy they have shown in so many ways since our bereavement through the death of the late William Kidnie.

Mrs. Wm. Kidnie and Family.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Owing to the date set for the monthly meeting falling on Good Friday, the April meeting of the I. O. D. E. will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Z. Henry, Zina St., on Friday, April 7th, at 2.30 p.m. The architect's plans for the proposed hospital addition will be in the hands of the officers for a few days prior to this meeting, so that any who wish to do so may have an opportunity to examine them before the meeting. As the plans will be discussed at this meeting a full attendance of the members is earnestly requested.

Clean ashes would be very acceptable for filling in the vacant lot immediately south of the Hospital. Let it be understood, however, that garbage is not wanted.

It is our pleasant duty to acknowledge the receipt of a cheque for $30.00 for the Building Fund from the Mono College Women's Institute. We thank the ladies of this Institute most heartily for their continued loyal help and support.

We also wish to express our gratitude to the ladies of The Maples Institute for their interest and support. The following donations have been recently received from members of this Institute:—dusters, fruit, pickles, Mrs. Nelson Black; fruit and pickles, Mrs. John Cole; fruit and pickles, Mrs. J. W. Hoare; pickles and fruit, Mrs. I. O. Reid.

Our thanks are extended to Miss Edith Jenkins for the gift of a chicken and to Mrs. Henry for two dozen eggs.

REJECTED

Proposed Church Union in Arthur Will be Dropped for the Present.

After having been carefully dealt with at several meetings, and given a generous amount of discussion generally throughout the town, the project for a union of the Arthur Methodist and Presbyterian churches was definitely rejected at a meeting on Monday evening of the members of the governing bodies of both congregations. The committee appointed to prepare a basis of union which should be presented to the two congregations to be voted upon, had gotten only as far as the simple and fundamental regulations, but they proved sufficient to wreck the whole project. The committee recommended that the selection of the church be left to a representative of the Methodist Conference, a representative of the Presbytery, and a third party to be chosen by the first two. When the decision of these three was received, the congregation vacating their church, should then have the privilege of choosing the first pastor. This occasioned lively discussion in which it became evident that both denominations believed that they had just the ideal church and were unwilling to give it up. However, some of the delegates declared themselves satisfied to accept the choice of the people in the matter, whatever it might be. A vote of the meeting was then taken by secret ballot. Ten from each congregation, twenty in all, were eligible to vote; ten were favorable, eight unfavorable and two did not vote. A motion to drop the matter was then unanimously carried and local church union in Arthur will go no farther for the present. Mr. D. Brocklebank occupied the chair.—Arthur News-Enterprise.

THE JOKE ON THEMSELVES

These was a hedge between the Taylor house and the Jarvey house, but Joe Taylor and Ben Jarvey had made a little passageway at one end for their own use. One day Ben and Joe made a rush at the same time for the opening in the hedge. Of course they met—and right in the hedge at that. They scrambled to their feet, laughing.

"I'm coming to tell you," panted Ben, "that I've got to go to Aunt Ellen's on an errand; but I'll soon get to work on my wood box.

"I'm coming to tell you," Joe was puffing, "that I've got to take a pattern down to Mrs. Miller; but I'll soon get to work on my wood box."

They laughed again, for both had spoken in such a hurry that it sounded like one boy.

The reason for their hurry was a taffy-pulling party at the schoolhouse that night and two wood boxes to be filled before they could start.

"Well, off we go," said Ben. "And the first one that gets his wood box filled can help the other."

Then they counted three and were off.

Mrs. Miller was out, and she took a long time to come in. When at last Joe was free he scurried home.

"Ben has beat me back and finished filling his box, I suppose," he thought.

When he reached home he darted round the hedge and called, "Hello, Ben! Got your box most full?"

"Ben hasn't come yet," Mr. Jarvey called. Maybe his aunt asked him to run an errand for her."

Joe hesitated. "Well," he said, "I believe I will fall to and fill his box. Then when he comes back we'll fill mine together."

He went to work with a good will. Every minute he expected to see Ben rush up; but no Ben appeared.

Finally he stacked the last armful of wood and gave himself a shake. "If I don't hurry to my own wood box it's good-by taffy-pulling," he panted, and made a bolt for home.

Just as he reached the hole in the hedge some one came plunging through from the other side. The two met violently and a second later were sprawling on the ground.

"Ouch! That you, Joe?" called Ben's voice.

"Wow! Yes, it is," answered Joe.

Laughing and grunting, they picked themselves up unharmed.

"All serene!" Joe sang out. "I got back first Ben, and I've filled your wood box."

At the same instant Ben exclaimed, "I got got back first, Joe, and I've filled your wood box."

They stared at each other for a moment, and then they shouted with laughter.

"Oho!" exclaimed Ben. "I did your job, and you did mine."

"And now both boxes are filled!" cried Joe. "Hurry, it's most time we were pulling taffy!"

JOSEPH SIAUD RECOMMENDS THE DODD'S REMEDIES

Has no Trouble With His Kidneys, Even When the Weather Changes, Since Using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Duck Lake, Sask., March 27th, (Special)—Joseph Siaud, a well-known resident here, is a firm believer in the Dodd's Remedies.

"I believe I have the right to buy," Mr. Siaud says. "For I have given them a thorough trial."

"I have used 44 boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and 46 boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and they have done me a lot of good. I don't feel any sore from my kidneys now even when the weather changes.

"To anyone suffering from Kidney disease or Dyspepsia I recommend the Dodd's Remedies. Give them a trial before trying any other."

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets give good digestion. Dodd's Kidney Pills make pure blood. With good digestion and pure blood good health is assured.

Ask your neighbors about the Dodd's Remedies.

HARPER-ROLLEY

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the parsonage, 107 Lee Ave., Toronto, on Saturday, March 18th, when Henrietta Rolley, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rolley, Palgrave, and Norman W. Harper, Bolton, were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed by Rev. G. H. Purchase. The bride was charmingly attired in a pretty beaded gown of blue canton crepe with hat to match and caried a bouquet of bridal roses. Mr. and Mrs. Harper will reside in Toronto after April 1st.

TO AVERT INFLUENZA

New York's Health Commissioner has outlined "what the public must do to avoid an epidemic of influenza and pneumonia" as follows:—

Respect the law against spitting.

Landlords and janitors must supply sufficent heat in buildings.

Cover mouth and nose when sneezing; the spray is more dangerous than bullets.

Wash hands before eating, and avoid placing fingers in nose or mouth.

Don't use public towels or one used by another member of your family.

Don't use glasses or dishes used by another unless washed in boiling water.

Children should be kept from parties and similar places where people congregate.

Ventilate your rooms. Keep them at 68 degrees Fahrenheit. Don't overheated.

FARES PLEASE

To some people the art of life consists in evading the fare. Some steal a ride. On the lowest rung of the social ladder they are called tramps. Higher up they are often called clever.

Some ride on a pass. This pass is handed to them by others, usually ancestors, in the shape of money, position, or talent. Some one else pays their way, and they accept it complacently as the proper thing. No sense of debt goes with it. Fortunately, such a free trip in a Pullman is no longer regarded as so praiseworthy an achievement as it once was. The inheritance tax, the income tax, the corporation tax, each in a loud stentorian "Fares, Please."

Some ride on a child's ticket. They pay half fare. To the world's demand for a strong man's stint of work and service they pleadingly insist that they are only twelve years old and must be let off with giving to the world a half portion of their share. They do not ask to be carried to the skies on flowery beds of ease, all they ask is to be allowed to go in a perambulator.

Some pay. These are the ones who make the world morally solvent. They take no delight in dodging. Their lives are lifted out of triviality and insignificance by the ennobling power of a great obligation.

—Halford E. Luccock.

Husband (angrily)—I was a fool when I married you.

Wife—Aren't you a fool still?

Husband—No, I am not.

Wife—Then you should congratulate me upon my success as a reformer.

PRACTICAL FORESTRY

There has been so much fruitless discussion regarding the conservation of our remaining wood supply, and reforestation, and so little actually accomplished, and the situation is so alarming, owing to the tremendous devastation by the Spruce bud worm and forest fires, that I am moved by the urgency of the situation to make the following offers, applying in the Provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Quebec.

$1,000.00 CASH PRIZE

(Open to any citizen of Canada.)

A prize of $1,000.00 divided as follows: $500.00 first prize; $200.00 second prize; $100.00 third prize, and $100.00 fourth prize, for the best essay on the regulation of the Forest Fire menace, with suggestions for the enactment of laws for the prevention of the same; or for any other methods for the protection and retention of our home grown forests for our home industries, judges to be the two Provincial Foresters of Quebec and New Brunswick, the Dean of the Faculty of Forestry of the University of Toronto, and the Director of the Dominion Forestry Branch; essays to be mailed to my address on or before June 1st, 1922, prizes to be awarded and paid July 15th, 1922. For the deep and information of those who are not familiar with this particular subject, I will mail my bulletin on conservation free on application.

In the Province of Nova Scotia—

A prize of $250.00 in cash for the best municipal or town forest plantation, plantations to be made this spring and prize to be awarded September 15th, 1922, the judges to be the Commissioner of Crown Lands of Nova Scotia and Professor M. Cumming, of Truro.

A prize of $250.00 in cash to the Chief Fire Ranger whose district shows the most efficient organization and best results, and showing proportionately the least fire loss as determined by his activity in fire fighting, and application of the best preventative methods, the prize to be awarded and paid on the 30th day of November, 1922, and the judge to be the Commissioner of Crown Lands of Nova Scotia.

A cash bonus of $2.00 per acre to the farmers of Nova Scotia for every acre of spruce or pine seedlings planted by them on their farms the coming spring of 1922, no one farmer to be paid a bonus on more than 100 acres, so as to distribute the plantings as widely as possible over the province. Location and method of planting must be approved by Government Forester of Nova Scotia if one is appointed, otherwise, by Mr. Barnjum' Forester, to insure satisfactory results.

In the Province of New Brunswick—

A prize of $250.00 in cash for the best municipal or town forest plantation, planting to be done this spring, and prize to be awarded September 15th, 1922, the judges to be the Minister of Lands and Forests of New Brunswick, the Professor of Forestry, University of New Brunswick and the Provincial Forester, of New Brunswick.

A prize of $250.00 in cash to the Chief Fire Ranger whose district shows the most efficient organization and best results, and showing proportionately the least fire loss as determined by his activity in fire fighting, and by the application of the best preventative methods, the judge to be the Provincial Forester for the Province of New Brunswick, prize to be awarded and paid on November 30th, 1922.

In the Province of Quebec.—

A prize of $250.00 in cash for the best municipal plantation, planting to be done this spring, and prize to be awarded September 15th, 1922, the judges to be the Minister of Lands and Forests of Quebec, the Director of the School of Forestry, Laval University, Quebec, and the Chief Forester of Quebec.

A prize of $250.00 in cash to the Chief or District Fire Ranger whose district shows the most efficent organization and best results and showing proportionately the least fire loss as determined by his activity in fire fighting, and by the application of the best preventative methods, the judge to be the Chief Forester of Quebec, and prize to be awarded and paid on November 30th, 1922.

Strength

Strength of muscle does not indicate strength of nerves. On this account many people who look healthy enough suffer from nervous troubles and cannot understand what is ailing them. Sleeplessness and irritability are among the early symptoms. Indigestion and tired feelings soon follow.

Read this letter from an Ontario man:

Mr. W. L. Gregory, Charles St. E., Ingersoll, Ont., writes:

"I had been troubled for quite a while with indigestion. At times there would be a twitching of the nerves of my stomach; and I also found it difficult to get a good night's sleep. I am a moulder, and owing to the nature of my work my system became run-down. I took a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and found great benefit from this medicine. They did me a great deal of good. I have not been bothered at all with indigestion since, and can sleep much better. I have recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to many of my friends, as I think it splendid for anyone run-down and needing a tonic."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto

TOO LATE

He entered a restaurant and ordered two soft-boiled eggs." As he opened the second new-laid egg the bachelor noticed some writing on the shell. Of course he read what the thing had to say. It ran like this:—

"I am a farmer's daughter, seventeen years of age, blonde hair and brown eyes, height and weight just about right and complexion the same. If this should meet the eye of some young man who desires to wed a merry but industrious country girl, let him communicate with"—and then followed the merry country girl's name and address.

Well, the young man was so pleased that as soon as he had eaten his egg he rushed off and telegraphed to the girl. He got his answer that evening. She wired:—

"You are too late. Was married six years ago and am now the mother of five."

SUCCESS NUGGETS

More men fall through ignorance of their strength than through knowledge of their weakness.

You may succeed when others do not believe in you, but never when you do not believe in yourself.

If you do not like a man, what is the use of telling him so? It only makes him dislike you.

Dollars are vulgar until filled with character.

If the aim of life be right, it can not in detail be much amiss.

Let a man get the idea that he is being wronged, or that everything is against him, and he cuts his earning capacity in two.

Better believe yourself a dunce and work away than a genius and be idle.

Jacob could toil seven long years for Rachel and endure all sorts of hardships, without grumbling or feeling drudgery in his work, because he had a motive.

The moment others see that money grabbing is your dominant passion, then the bud of your nobility perishes.

The world is full of people who are skimming around the edge of their ambition.

Armenia in Peril

ARMENIA will in a short time cease completely as a geographical expression unless the League of Nations takes immediate action in Asia Minor to remind the Turk in a very tangible way that respect for the lives of others is as essential to Asiatic as it is to European civilization.

Paxton Hibben, F.R.G.S., in the New York Times, quotes the murderous dictum of Talat Pasha that the only way to dispose of the Armenian question is to kill all the Armenians, and remarks that on this basis the Armenian question is well on the way toward a settlement. The offensive of the Turkish Nationalists against the young Armenian Republic, which began on September 22 on a 400-mile front, has ended with the result that the republic has ceased to exist, save as a fugitive thing. Mr. Hibben then outlines and enumerates the principal points of the armistice which the Armenians were forced to sign on November 7. He says:

"(1) The Armenian troops which had been driven from Alexandropol, the great railway centre of the Armenian Republic, must withdraw from the west bank of the Arpa river which they still held.

"That meant, in plain words, that the remnant of the defeated Armenian army must cross the frontiers between the Republic of Georgia and Armenia into the Georgian province of Akhalkalaki. There is no place else to withdraw to.

"(2) The Turkish forces during the peace negotiations are to occupy Alexandropol and a territory within a radius of ten kilometres about that city.

"That means that the one great railway junction of Armenia, without possession of which Armenia can neither be fed, armed nor defended, is to remain in Turkish hands, together with the central storehouses not only of the Armenian army, but of the American Near East Relief Committee, upon which the Armenian population depends for victuals. It means also that the former Russian barracks that once quartered 90,000 Russian soldiers and that now house 10,000 Armenian children under the care of the American women workers of the Near East Relief become Turkish property, together with the fortifications of the town which defend them from attack.

"(3) In return for these concessions and as a pro-forma sop to the world's opinion, the Turkish forces guarantee to maintain order and preserve the individual safety of all persons in Alexandropol.

"This may well mean the same kind of protection of the Armenians as that which resulted in the massacre of 12,000 in Marash last spring and 10,000 in Hadjin a few months ago.

"Less complete, perhaps, than the defeat of Wrangel in the Chimea, the disaster which has befallen the Armenians has taken place with far more warning to the rest of the world. There has not been one moment for the past two and a half years that the Armenians have not cried out their helplessness and their defencelessness to all who would listen. In 1918, when the British stripped the Fortress of Kars of some 600 pieces of artillery and sent them to Denikine, who later surrendered them to the Bolsheviki, the Armenian Government protested. Two years later, by private subscription, they raised $1,250,000 and purchased in England small arms and artillery to replace that which the British had taken from them in 1918. Sixty per cent. of this order reached Armenia—and in it not a piece of artillery.

"By contrast the Italians were selling and delivering arms and ammunition to the Turks.

"Since July of 1919, when the Turkish Nationalist movement first got under way in Anatolia, it has grown with the full knowledge and acquiescence of both Italians and French. I have seen wagon loads of arms shipped into Samsoun under the very nose of the British Control Officer, bound for the interior and Mustapha Kemal's army. Without these supplies the Turkish Nationalist movement could not have lasted a day. With them Armenia has been crushed.

"The attack upon the Armenian Republic was a concerted effort of both the regular Turkish army, whose armistice line was 304 miles long, twenty-five miles on an average back of the old Russo-Turkish frontier, and the Mohammedan Tartars of the Soviet Republic of Azerbaijan, with whom the Armenians have had a bitter boundary dispute ever since the dissolution of the transcaucasian Federation, March, 1918."

A Chaplain's Test.

Among the many stories told of Frederick the Great is one which concerns his method of selection of a Court chaplain. The candidate was called upon to preach before his sovereign, and was told that his subject would be given to him as he entered the pulpit. Accordingly a sealed envelope was handed to the preacher, which, on being opened, was found to contain nothing but a blank sheet of paper. The clergyman was, however, equal to the occasion, for he took as his text "Out of nothing God created all things," and preached, we are told, a very powerful discourse.

The Bee-Martin.

A remarkable bird found in Mexico is the bee-martin, which has a trick of ruffling up the feathers on the top of its head into the exact semblance of a beautiful flower. When a bee comes along to sip honey from the supposed flower it is snapped up by the bird.

Depend on the Condition of Your Hens

Only properly cared for Baby Chicks make healthy Hens. The first two weeks of a baby Chick's life is the most important period in the bird's existence.

WODEHOUSE BABY CHICK FOOD

is not only made from the finest ingredients but has also a medicinal value possessed by no other Chick Food. Your Chicks fed on WODEHOUSE for the first two weeks will be equal in weight to other birds three weeks old.

WODEHOUSE CREAMEAL FOR CALVES

The only calf meal made containing milk powder. It is equally nutritious as cows milk. It is economical too, as the milk saved in feed can be used for other purposes. Many stockmen feed Creameal to pigs at weaning. Pigs weaned on Creameal are not retarded in growth as with other foods.

This is the time of year when the feeding of

BROTHERS FOUGHT

East Luther Stirred Over Culminating Act of a Twelve Year Old Feud.

George Mournahan, a middle-aged East Luther farmer, was in a pitiable condition, when he crawled to the door of a farmhouse close to the highway near Colbeck between eleven and twelve o'clock on Saturday night and called to the occupant to let him in. When the door was opened he was half covered with blood from an ugly wound on the right side of his head and his clothing was bedraggled with the mud and mire through which he had crawled to get to the house. It transpired shortly that the badly injured man had been assaulted and beaten, on the highway, and that his assailant was his own brother, Henry Mournahan, also a farmer in the same neighborhood.

It is said that there has been bad blood between the Mournahan brothers for a number of years and there are stories of a stabbing affray twelve years ago in which one of the family only escaped death, because the blade of the knife in the hands of his assailant chanced to strike a watch that he was wearing. George Mournahan, who is widely known as a successful horse breeder and exhibitor at fall fairs, was in Grand Valley on Saturday with a load of pressed hay. Another brother took the team and wagon home at night and George rode home in a buggy with a neighbor, who lived about a mile and a half nearer Grand Valley. When they reached the neighbor's place the man, who was afterwards so severely man-handled, got out, said good night, and started to walk home. On the way he met his brother, Henry, coming from the other direction. What occurred is known only to the two men, and so far neither one has shown any disposition to talk very freely. George states that the first he knew he was struck from behind and knocked down. Partly recovering consciousness he started to drag himself toward a nearby house, followed by his assailant, who continued to belabor him fiercely until he had almost reached the door of the house. The fact that Henry has a badly swollen and discolored optic does not seem to fit in any too well with this story of the fracas. Dr. Berwick, who was summoned to attend to George's injuries, found that his patient had been struck a heavy blow over the right side of the head, apparently with some blunt instrument. The Dr. states that the blow might easily have proved fatal had it struck an inch higher on the head. Mournahan has had several lapses into semi-conscious condition since the doctor was called in and was in a pretty serious condition for a day or so.

Magistrate Tate, of Grand Valley, when apprised of the facts, issued a warrant for the arrest of Henry Mournahan on a charge of unlawful assault with intent to do grievous bodily injury. It is said that the Grand Valley constables declined to tackle the job of arresting Henry. There may have been some good reason for their failure to execute the warrant, but at any rate a message was sent to High Constable Marshall, who went up on Monday, resorted to the subterfuge of representing himself as a cattle buyer, in which role he managed to get in touch with the man he wanted, and placed him under arrest without any trouble. Later in the day he was taken before Magistrate Tate, who remanded him until next Tuesday, when the hearing will take place before Magistrate Hugh Falconer in Grand Valley.

The affair has created a tremendous sensation in East Luther, where the principals are well-known. There are several members of the Mournahan family in the Colbeck district, all successful and prosperous farmers. They are excellent citizens in every way, but have been described as hot-headed Irishmen and hasty, unreasoning temper is probably responsible for much of the present trouble.

CALEDON.

The recent rains have taken the frost out and we are having our spell of bad roads.

The "Spinsters' Convention," put on by a local Club, on Wednesday evening last, was a very successful event. All the characters were well represented and the funds of the Library increased by $6.50.

Mr. R. J. Speers, our mail courier on No. 1, has been laid up with a very severe cold, but is now improving and will be on his route in a few days.

Mr. John Petch has had a very severe case of pneumonia and his friends here had a rather anxious time lately but we are pleased to know he is now improving.

Mr. William Moffatt, who has been visiting friends in Erin, Orangeville and Toronto, has returned home.

Mr. W. J. Atkinson, who represents The Dover Oil and Gas Co., spent a day last week with his mother.

Mis Tillie Arkell has returned home after attending the funeral of her sister-in-law, the late Mrs. Frank Arkell.

Owing to the bad roads and weather the meeting of the Young People's Society was postponed until next Tuesday night.

Are we to have a new store in Caledon?

BLOUNT

Every person in this vicinity is busy preparing for the spring work.

Milton Dodds has been overheard singing, "I know what it is to be Lonesome."

Clifford seems to be progressing as a student on the 6th line.

We would like to know where Elmer spent last Sunday.

If Jim Crombie intends buying the ring.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to publicly express our thanks to our neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and since the death of the late Richard Welwood. Their thoughtfulness and the help they gave us in the time of our bereavement will always be gratefully remembered.

A TRIP WEST

High Constable Marshall had not planned to take a trip West this year, but he is making one nevertheless. He left town last night for Saskatoon to bring east a young man named Clifford Montgomery, formerly a resident of East Luther, who is wanted on the charge of seducing a girl of sixteen years. The girl in question worked with a farmer in the neighborhood where Montgomery lived. The offence is said to have been committed shortly after the New Year and about six weeks ago Montgomery decided he would like to see the West. A telegram from E. T. Sparkman, Inspector of the Saskatchewan Provincial Police, informed the authorities here of the young man's arrest.

MOSSOP-M'QUARRIE

Mr. Harry Mossop, a former Orangeville boy, and Miss Elva McQuarrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McQuarrie, of Erin, were married quietly in Toronto on Wednesday, March 22nd. The interesting event took place at the Presbyterian Manse, 19 Lee St., the Rev. D. T. McKerroll officiating. The bride was attired in a neat travelling suit of navy blue with hat to match and white fox fur. After the marriage ceremony the happy couple partook of luncheon in the Walker House, leaving later in the day on a honeymoon trip to London, Detroit and other points west. On their return they will reside at 435 Annette St., West Toronto. The Banner joins with their numerous friends in wishing the happy young couple a long, happy and prosperous journey through life.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Edith Jones, of Elora, spent the week-end with Mrs. Ellen Watt.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Taylor, of Toronto, spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McGillivray.

Mrs. J. H. Murphy, Centre Road, Mono, is visiting at her parental home at Maxwell for a week.

Mr. Donald Sutherland, of Toronto, was the guest of Orangeville friends over the week-end.

Miss Irene Henry is spending a three weeks vacation with her sister, Mrs. H. F. Reid, of Hamilton.

Mr. Russell Rawn and Misses Lena and Ruby Reid spent last week-end visiting with friends near Caledon East.

Miss Lorna and Mr. J. J. Magill, of Brampton, were the guests of their sister, Mrs. A. W. Dods, over the week-end.

Mrs. D. A. Cameron and Mrs. A. E. Cameron attended the funeral of their uncle, the late K. J. McNichol, in Toronto last Wednesday.

Miss McCurry, of North Bay, is visiting her friend, Mrs. Brown, at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Cooper, Zina St.

Miss Nora Young, of Toronto, is visiting with her grandmother, Mrs. McKinnon, for a couple of weeks.

Miss Norma Henry, daughter of Township Clerk and Mrs. W. A. Henry, of Mono, is home from Toronto, where she has been attending the Conservatory of Music.

Mrs. (Dr.) T. A. Carson and little son, Jim, of Toronto, are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. John Kearns, and other friends here. Dr. Carson is expected here for the week-end.

Joe Cushing, the stalwart defence player of The Dufferins, was in town on Tuesday. Joe is looking fine and fit and will likely line up with the greenshirts again this year.

Mr. John T. Elliott, of Pickering, paid Orangeville and Mono relatives a short visit last week. Mr. Elliott is leaving this week for Arcola, Sask., where he is planning to spend the summer.

Mr. James Lewis, Warden of Bruce County, and his sister, Mrs. Clark, of Paisley, attended the funeral of their uncle, Mr. William Lewis, of Mono Mills, and visited their cousins, James F. and George Drummond, of Adjala.

Mr. W. J. Bailey left for Eyebrow, Sask., on Tuesday morning to look after his extensive farming interests in that district. "Bill" will be missed by the local bowlers this summer. However, he expects to be back in the fall in good time for next winter's curling.

SHOWERS FOR BRIDE

Last Saturday afternoon the Girls' Auxiliary of St. Mark's Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Robinson, West Broadway, and presented Miss Blanche Cameron, a bride-to-be, with a silver cake basket. Miss Cameron has been President of the Auxiliary for the last six years.

Saturday evening the officers of the Dufferin Agricultural Society presented Miss Cameron with a cut glass water pitcher and glasses and on Monday afternoon a number of her lady friends tendered her a generous aluminium shower at her home on First Ave. Miss Cameron has been one of the Lady Directors of the Agricultural Society for several years and has also officiated as a judge at Orangeville and other Fall Firs.

SUCCESSFUL COMEDY

Large Audiences Pleased With the Performance, "The Arrival of Mr. Wright."

Tuesday and Wednesday nights large audiences witnessed the performance of the bright and vivacious musical comedy "The Arrival of Mr. Wright," in the Orangeville Opera House. The production was staged by local talent under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Andrew's Church. Good singing, pretty dances, animated and witty dialogue and laughter provoking situations featured the performance, which was an unqualified success in every respect. The stage setting was ingenious and attractive, the many hued roses, arrayed in profusion at the rear of the stage, making a most pleasing background for the production. Bert Hadley, a Yale student mistaken for Mr. Wright from Arizona, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Fernley and their three daughters, Mr. Albert Fernley, their son, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hampton Hawley and their three daughters, Mr. Gilbert Leander De Payster and Mr. Fritz Van Horn, a couple of youthful lovers, were the central figures in the comedy. In their younger days Jasper Fernley and Bob Wright, two lifelong friends, had promised that if they married and were blessed with children, the one having a son and the other a daughter, they would do their best to bring about a marriage between them. Mr. Fernley received a letter from Mr. Wright, informing him that his son, who happened to be somewhat eccentric, would arrive at his home on a certain date. In the meantime young Wright was killed by a fall off a horse. His cousin, Bert Hadley, was instructed by letter to break the sad news to the Fernley family. When he arrives and attempts to perform his mission, Fernley, who was acquainted with young Wright's eccentricities, concluded that the boy was attempting to put across a practical joke and insisted upon treating him as the real Wright. The misunderstanding led to other misunderstandings and many amusing situations, which those taking part in the performance developed in skilful manner. There were two scenes in the play, both staged on the lawn of the Fernley summer home, one in the afternoon and the other in the evening, a few hours later. A Rose Tree Festival and the accompanying songs and dances made an admirable introduction to the second scene.

The part of Bert Hadley was admirably taken by Mr. Charles Reid, whose acting and singing made a most favorable impression. The role of Mr. Jasper Fernley was filled by Capt. W. J. Adams, who acted the part and spoke his lines with the skill of a professional actor. As Mrs. Fernley, Mrs. H. A. Dorrance gave an admirable representation of a cultured by extremely deaf lady. Mr. Christie McCauley made a fitting comrade for Mr. Fernley in the role of Mr. J. Hampton Hawley, the lifelong friend of Fernley and the father of the Hampton girls. The three Fernley girls were represented by Misses Ina Porter, Mary Hughes and Leila Hamilton and the three daughters of the Hampton household by Misses Mildred Forbes, Myrtle McCauley and Myrtle Gardiner. The young ladies looked sweetly winsome and acted their parts with grace and ease. Miss Sadie Watson made an excellent chracter in the role of Mrs. J. Hampton Hawley. Dr. G. H. Campbell displayed real interpretative ability in the difficult role of De Payster, the monocled and very correct Englishman, hopelessly in love with Miss Beatrice Fernley and ready to fight a duel, if need be, with his supposed rival for the heart and hand of the charming young lady. A lover of a different type was Mr. Fritz Van Horn, Corinne's Dutch admirer, who brought down the house by telling his prospective father-in-law, "I vill support you as long as you supports me." The role was skilfully taken by Mr. Ernest Lemon. Robert McLagan showed versatility in the part of Jack Fernley and was equally at home in the altogether different role of Jack Preston, or "Cousin Jack." Tom, Dick and Harry, the three College chums of Bert Hadley, were admirably represented by Will Hanley, Murray McKitrick and Norris Hughes. Much of the fun of the performance was furnished by the village police force, Hi, Si and Zeb, who convulsed the audience with their funny stunts. The parts were taken by Blake Fairbairn, Neil Crowe and Norris Hughes, Neil being in charge of the force. Later in the evening Neil and Blake made another hit as members of the village choir, with the ubiquitous Neil in the role of choir leader and Fairbairn as the big, bass singer. Songs by Charlie Reid, Will Hanley and Miss Mildred Forbes, a duet by Misses Gardiner and Hamilton, the College boys' quartette and a number of choruses added charm and variety to the programme. Two of the prettiest of the special features were a Butterfly Dance by Misses Mary Hughes, Ina Porter, Dorothy Fisher and Helen Wheelock and the Rose-Kiddies Dance by Little Misses Margaret Willoughby, Nan Marshall, Marguerite Arnott, Margaret Irwin, Aileen Daniels, Joyce Walker, Ruth Hughes, Helen Hughes, Kathleen Connell and Luella Johnston.

The advent of a band of suffragettes, appropriately costumed and carrying their banner, created no small stir in the audience and the passionate declamation of their leader, Madame Pan Crust, created general merriment, the more serious passages also furnishing food for reflection, particularly on the part of the male portion of the audience. In the end the militant champions of the cause and rights of the weaker sex were put to ignominious flight by the unexpected appearance of a tiny mouse set at liberty on the stage by the fun-loving Hadley. Mrs. Dr. G. H. Campbell showed real elocutionary ability as Madame Pan Crust and her address was delivered in effective style. Her party of suffragettes consisted of Mesdames G. H. McLean, W. W. Marshall, H. Watt, Mrs. E. H. Sproule and A. Bremner and Misses Watson, Jessie Campbell, McArthur, Phair and Kannawin. The same ladies appeared later in the evening as the village choir, being reinforced in the latter part by Mr. A. M. Ellis and Mr. Blakie Fairbairn. The Orangeville orchestra provided a fine musical programme before and between acts, Mrs. Russell Morrow acting as the accompanist. Mrs. (Dr.) Campbell played the music for the dances and songs.

The Ladies' Aid are to be highly complimented upon the success of their production. Much credit is also due to Mrs. Campbell, the President of the organization, who took a very active part in the selection of the caste and the arduous working of training. Much of the credit for the finished manner in which the Play was presented must go to Mr. A. J. Markey, of the Ne Ville Productions, Limited, who very kindly gave the ladies the benefit of his experience and wide knowledge in the closing rehearsals. Mr. Markey, many of our readers will remember, had charge of "The Lotus Moon" performance here a few weeks ago.

ANSWER UNFAVORABLE

Premier King Will Not Promise a Dominion-wide Prohibitory Enactment.

Premier W. L. Mackenzie King told a Dominion Alliance delegation on Tuesday morning that there was no possibility of the Government introducing a measure of total prohibition during the present session of Parliament. The Premier assured the delegation that the Government was prepared to take any necessary steps to assist the Provinces in enforcing the law as it stands at present, but that there was no possibility of the introduction of a general prohibitory enactment at the present session. He felt that an attempt to force total prohibition during the present sitting of the House might deal a serious blow to the temperance forces in Canada. For the Government to go before the House of Commons with a prohibitory measure, knowing as little as it does at present of the views of the individual members of the House in regard to the great question brought forward by the delegation, might be fatal to the very result which the delegates desired to achieve. He assured the delegation that he and his colleagues favored temperance, but added that he himself did not favor prohibition in anything. Any thing that the Government could do to help along the prohibition movement would be done, but the Federal Government should have an opportunity to study the matter and determine which of the various methods of restriction was the most desirable and worked out the most effectively.

RUSSIAN FAMINE FUND

In the Orangeville churches next Sunday, April 2nd, a special appeal will be made for contributions for the Russian Famine Fund. The Fund is being raised especially for the purpose of assisting to save the millions of Russian children, who have been brought to the last extremity through the famine. There is no doubt, whatever, of the need. On this point we shall only quote the words of the Rt. Hon. Lloyd George, Prime Minister of Great Britain, who has said:

"In the Russian famine we are witnessing the most terrible devastation that has afflicted the world for centuries. It is estimated that 35,000,000 people will require relief. I am sorry to say that such news as we have received points to a most appalling catastrophe. This is so appalling a disaster that it ought to sweep every prejudice out of one's mind and only appeal to one's emotion, pity and human sympathy."

Assurance has been given that all relief will reach its destination without interruption or delay. Free transportation of supplies is also assured. The Orangeville churches are aiming at raising at least $500.00 to help in the humane task of saving the children of war-torn, famine-stricken Russia.

TREMENDOUS ADVANCE IN TEA PRICES

The Tea Market has advanced since last May fully 15 or 16 cents a pound in London, Colombo and Calcutta.

SPRING WEATHER HARD ON BABY

The Canadian Spring weather—one day mild and bright; the next raw and blustery, is extremely hard on the baby. Conditions are such that the mother cannot take the little one out for the fresh air so much to be desired. He is confined to the house which is so often over-heated and badly ventilated. He catches cold; his little stomach and bowels become disordered and the mother soon has a sick baby to look after. To prevent this an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets should be given. They regulate the stomach and bowels, thus preventing or banishing colds, simple fevers, colic or any other of the many minor ailments of childhood. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ECCENTRIC FIN

Walked Right Into Clarkson Homes and Right Out Again.

Jonathan Blom, described as a burly Finlander, was brought to jail in Brampton, by High Constable Rutledge, of Port Credit. He got his trial before P. M. Burgess at the Port on March 15th.

The eccentric Finn told the Court that he had tired of living in Toronto doing nothing and had come to Port Credit to "smash things up and revive his brain."

Jonathan's smashing-up had consisted of breaking a plateglass window at the Motor Sales and Machinery Garage, breaking into John McClelland's store, and entering two houses at Clarkson.

Evidently he had not a covetous disposition. From McClelland's store he took only a botle of "painkiller" and a tin of talcum powder. Thus armed he entered the garage, after smashing the glass with his fist, and was looking at the shining new automobiles when the moving of a man upstairs warned him it was high time to continue his march.

At Clarkson he rang the bell of a house and when the maid answered he brushed past her, walked upstairs, down again, and out into the open air. This process was repeated at another house.

Magistrate Burgess, not very sure of Jonathan's sanity, sentenced him to 90 days at Brampton jail, where he will be under medical supervision. —Post Banner.

LACROSSE MEETING

A meeting will be held in the Auditorium of the Public Library at 8.30 on Friday evening, March 31st, for the purpose of reorganizing the Dufferin Lacrosse Club. While it is of course too early to speak definitely of the composition of the team, our readers will be pleased to learn that the greenshirts are likely to have a senior calibre team again this season. Every enthusiast in town should be at the meeting on the 31st. Nothing like getting the Club away to a good start with lots of enthusiastic backing.

NOTTAWASAGA DRAINAGE

Twenty Thousand Acres of Land Would be Spared Submerging.

A delegation from Simcoe county had an appointment with the minister of public works for Ontario in Toronto last Thursday afternoon. The mission was to try to persuade the government to make a grant for lowering the rapids in the Nottawasaga River and draining the land adjacent thereto in Sunnidale and Vespra townships, where 20,000 acres are annually submerged. The delegation was composed of Reeves James Martin, Sunnidale; Jardine, Nottawasaga; Wilson, Vespra; Dutton, Tay; and D. Quinlan, Barrie. Messrs. Quinlan and Dutton also had an appointment with the reforestation department relative to planting trees on the 800-acre county reserve at Antem Mills. The Nottawasaga river overflow is an old question. It is believed that if the government will start operations for the drainage, commencing about Jack's Lake, to an extent producing results, that landholders in the townships can be persuaded to take a further interest in the matter in a manner that will eventually free the large tract from the overflow menace and bring the land to tillable, producing soil. —Alliston Herald.

Mr. A. Newns has sold his farm of one hundred acres, lot 19, third line, east, Chinguacousy, known as the Peter Speirs homestead, to Mr. William Craig, of the fourth line. The price is reported as $8,700.

ORANGEVILLE ARENA, LTD.

Thursday and Friday evenings, April 20th and 21st, have been selected as the dates for the concerts of the Orangeville Minstrels, who are hard at work doing their bit to aid the above Company. More particular announcement later. In the meantime it is hoped that nothing else will be put on during that week to interfere in any way with the success of an organization, which is solely for the benefit of the town and its young people.

Absolutely no progress has been made in the matter of a site for the Rink, in spite of the endless amount of time that has been spent in efforts and negotiations to secure a suitable one. From the opposition that developes as soon as a site is proposed one would imagine that it was a glue factory or a slaughter house for a pork-packing business that was proposed. "The young people be damned; put your rink some place else," expresses the attitude of too many of the citizens.

WHAT IT COST TO DISCOVER AMERICA

The cost of the discovery of America, according to recent investigations, may safely be put at $7,000 or so, notwithstanding the tradition that Queen Isabella parted with many of her finest jewels to raise funds for Columbus. Two of the three ships that started on that wondrous voyage, the "Pinto" and the "Nina," were captained by two brothers, Martin and Incente Pinzon, who paid all the expenses attached, as well as the ships themselves.

Historical accounts show that Columbus, in his capacity of commander of the expedition, received 1,500 pesetas a year, or about $300; the sailors received the sum equivalent to $2.50 a month, or about 8 cents a day. The cannon on all three ships cost 14,000 pesetas, approximately the cost of firing a modern gun, while the total cost of outfit and wages was given at 30,000 pesetas. The account covers the time between August, 1492, and March, 1493.

"How's this?" asked the lawyer. "You've named six bankers in your will to be the pallbearers. Of course it's all right, but wouldn't you rather choose some friends with whom you are on better terms?"

"No, Judge; that's all right. Those fellows have carried me for so long, they might as well finish the job."

A New Yorker was spending a night at a hotel in a Southern town, and told the colored porter that he wanted to be called early.

CEMETERY LITIGATION

That the affairs of Greenfield Cemetery are to find their way into the courts now seems probable. A writ issued by one of the shareholders against the trustees has brought matters to a head. On Monday afternoon the matter was discussed by some twenty or more of those interested in the cemetery and a resolution was passed to the effect that the settling of he claims of the creditors should be left to arbitration, both parties taking the necessary steps to bind them to abide by the finding of the arbitrators, who should be three in number, one appointed by the plot holders, one by the trustees and one by the creditors. Mr. D. Brocklebank was mentioned as the arbitrator for the plot holders, and Mr. D. T. Small was appointed to sign the arbitration on their behalf.

However, on the following day the arbitration plan was dropped. The trustees, after further consideration, decided that the arbitration was unfair to them and that they would make their appearance as required by the writ and let the whole matter go to the courts for final and complete settlement.—Arthur News-Enterprise.

WILL VOTE ON LOCAL CHURCH UNION

The project of local church union, which last week seemed to have received its quietus for the present at least, was not long in effecting a quick recovery to vigor and vitality. The recovery was brought about by a sort of ultimatum agreement which was signed by members of both Methodist and Presbyterian congregations. The agreement prepared for the Presbyterians, after setting out at length reasons why union in Arthur was desirable, declared in effect that if a reasonable proposal of union from the Methodist Church was declined by the Presbyterian body in Arthur, the signers of the agreement would withdraw from the Church and join the Methodists. The agreement signed by the Methodists was just the same with the names of the churches transposed.

On Monday evening, the session of St. Andrew's Church again discussed the matter and the decision was reached that a vote of the congregation should be taken. Printed ballots will be distributed next Sunday. On the ballot the three questions will be:—Are you in favor of the union of the Methodist and Presbyterian congregations of Arthur? Which is your choice of church to be used in event of union? Will you agree with the majority on the church to be used if contrary to your choice?—Arthur News-Enterprise.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Brampton Bridge Collapses, Tumbling Man, Team and Load Into Etobicoke.

If there is one spot in the town against which the Etobicoke has a spite when it goes on a rampage, it is the bridge crossing the creek at the entrance to M. C. Sackrider's property.

Some time ago Town Commissioner Moore viewed the bridge and pronounced it quite safe for traffic.

On Saturday last, when W. J. Gowland was hauling cinders into the Sackrider property, he had just drawn his team onto the bridge, when the lower side of the bridge gave way. The flood had evidently undermined the foundations, causing the bridge to sag.

Gowland was fortunate enough to jump clear of the wagon, as it crashed through into the water, but the horses went right down into the water.

Willing hands turned in at once to get the poor beasts out, and the harness was cut away. It took some determined work to get them to the bank, when it was found that they were prety badly cut up.

Mr. Gowland received many congratulations this week on his narrow escape, and sympathy in the accident to his team.—Conservator.

J. E. Henderson, late Principal of Durham School, died last week, in his 33rd year. He was a son of Mr. Simon Henderson, of North Erin.

At Sombra four young lads were discovered as they attempted to break into a freight-car containing merchandise. They ran away, but arrest will follow.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

The Daylight Saving Question is up again. Toronto changes its clocks May 14 and again September 17. It's all right where it's popular, says the Owen Sound Sun. Otherwise it is irritating and confusing. Any one who likes can practice daylight saving without changing the clock by going to bed at dark and getting up and at it again with the sun. There is some word of the railways adopting it again this year, which will be an inconvenience except in the few cities where it is in vogue. Unless it can be made general, Daylight Saving is more a hindrance than a help.

"Len" Smith, of Toronto, will retire from the Presidency of the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association and will likely be succeeded in that office by Ernie Doyle, of Newmarket.

PROPERTY CHANGES

David Taylor, who has been a resident of the village for two or three years, has had the call of the farm ringing in his ears for a long time and answered the summons last week by buying the Robert McDonald farm from James Crane, paying $7,200 which was the price Mr. Crane gave. He gets possession at once.

Mr. Crane in turn bought Sam'l T. Platt's 135 acres on the 3rd con. giving $8,750 and gets immediate possession.—Star & Vidette.

The doctor coughed gravely, "I am sorry to tell you," he said, looking down at the man in the bed, "that there is no doubt you are suffering from smallpox."

The patient turned on his pillow and looked up at his wife.

"Julia," he said in a faint voice, "if any of my creditors call tell them that at last I am in a position to give them something."

"Daddy, dear, cooks going to leave," said the minister's daughter, "and I simply can't think how we'll ever get another."

"Dear, dear. That seems a pity. Couldn't you—er—well—"

"Oh, it's no use. She's not honest, so I've told her to go."

The minister brooded over his succulent cutlet.

"Scripture asserts, my dear," said he; "that if a man takes away thy coat, let him have the cloak also."

"Exactly!" replied the clergyman's daughter. "I found her stealing potatoes, so I've given her the sack.

CHIROPRACTIC

Is Your Greatest Friend

Thousands of people are finding full restoration to health in Chiropractic adjustments, and why should you not be equally successful. Science is always on the move, and none has made more rapid progress than the Science of Chiropractic and for no other reason than its success to combat disease and give relief to suffering humanity. Investigate its merits. Get your information first hand from your Chiropractor, then you get it correct. Others may be misleading. A few Adjustments will convince you that Chiropractic will correct the cause of your disease, and put you in possession of good healthy conditions. If you are afflicted in any way, acute or chronic, visit your Chiropractor, have the cause removed and enjoy good health and happiness.

SCIATICA FOR YEARS BUT IS WELL AGAIN

WHY C. LACHANCE RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Quebec Man Relieved of Long Suffering Shouts Praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Petite Vallee, Gaspe Co., Quebec, April 3rd (Special) — Mr. Charles Lachance, a well-known resident here, is shouting the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I had sciatica and rheumatism," Mr. Lachance states. "My trouble started from a cold. I perspired freely with the least exertion. My limbs swelled.

"Then came the sciatica and rheumatism and for five years I was a sufferer.

"I took six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Now my health has come back and I tell everyone who suffers from sciatica, rheumatism or Kidney trouble to use Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. They put the kidneys in condition to strain the uric acid out of the blood. Without uric acid in the blood there can be no rheumatism or sciatica.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make healthy kidneys.

QUEER FEELINGS AT MIDDLE AGE

Women Should Know How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps at This Trying Period

Sheboygan, Wisconsin.—"I was run down, tired and nervous. I could not even do my own housework, could not sleep at night and all kinds of queer thoughts would come to me. Finally I gave up going to the doctor and a friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After the first bottle I could sleep better and I have kept on improving ever since. I have taken seven bottles now and am so happy that I am all over these bad feelings."—Mrs. B. LAMSER, 1639 N. 3rd St., Sheboygan, Wisconsin.

For the woman entering middle age Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can be of much benefit. During this time of life certain changes take place which sometimes develop into serious trouble.

Melancholia, nervousness, irritability, headache and dizziness are some of the symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a natural restorative, especially adapted to assist nature in carrying you safely past this time. Why not give it a fair trial?

Be generous towards the failings of others, but reckon severely with your own.

Be generous in your forgiveness of those who have wronged you. Those need it most who ask it the least, while your heart cannot rest with bitterness within.

Be generous in your praise of another's merit or success. That both pleases him and puts you farther on the road of attainment.

Be generous with your hopes, for the stock will never run out as long as they are drawn from the promises of God.

Be generous in your allowance of time for the cultivation of the soul. The day is never tedious with those who know how to do business with God.

Be generous with the wages that you pay. Not what you can get the work done for should be the guide, but what it is worth to you to have it done.

Be generous with reverential and benevolent alms and practices on the Lord's Day.

Be generous with your love, for it cannot exceed and it grows by giving. Love never faileth.

Be generous in your companionship. Those who need you most are waiting your approach and wonder at delay.

SENIOR AGAIN

Dufferins Held Rousing Meeting in the Library Auditorium on Friday Night.

The Dufferin Lacrosse Club got off to an encouraging start at the annual reorganization meeting held in the Public Library Auditorium on Friday night. The enthusiasts were out in full force and showed that there is still lacrosse enthusiasm to burn in this stronghold of the national game. Regarding the series on which the energies of the Club should centre this year there was only one opinion and that was that the Club should enter a senior team again. Officers were elected as follows:—

Patrons—Judge McCarthy, Judge Fisher, J. M. Dods, C. R. McKeown, C. R. Wheelock, Principal Hackett, Principal Firth and S. H. Rutledge.

Honorary Presidents—Dr. T. H. Henry, B. McGuire, J. W. Aiken.

Honorary Past President—James Armstrong.

President, Dr. R. W. Rooney; 1st Vice-President, E. C. Clark; 2nd Vice-President, E. G. Bingham; 3rd Vice-President, C. V. Jeffers.

Secretary—Bert Booth.

Treasurer—Fred Golden.

Executive Committee — Raspin Scott, Dr. G. H. Campbell, Dr. Zinn, Clyde Gordon, Chas. Gillespie, W. C. Hopkins and E. H. Sproule.

Delegates to O. A. L. A. Convention—Blaney McGuire, Raspin Scott, Clyde Gordon, Dr. G. H. Campbell, E. G. Bingham, James Armstrong, Bert Brown, Wm. Stephens, Blythe Brown and Dr. Zinn.

The meeting decided to enter four teams in the O. A. L. A. this year—senior, intermediate, juvenile and midget. Steps will also be taken to foster the game among the younger boys by organizing either a ward or school league. This work was entrusted to a Committee consisting of Principal Firth, J. Z. Henry and C. V. Jeffers.

EASTER CONVENTION

Much interest is being manifested in the forthcoming Annual Convention of the Ontario School Trustees and Ratepayers' Association, which will be held in Toronto during Easter week. Last year this Convention was attended by upwards of fifteen hundred trustees from all parts of the Province. The outstanding feature of the work of this organization is the County or Township Convention, where local educational problems can be freely discussed. The Association does not aim to advance any particular scheme in the administration of the school, but rather to provide the means whereby the people may take a more active part in determining the development of our system of education. All the people are interested in such matters as health education and supervision, equality of educational opportunity, more matured and experienced teachers, free secondary schools, technical and vocational training and the Adolescent School Attendance Act.

The Easter Convention may be very aptly described as the Provincial Educational Parliament. Inspirational addresses will be given by outstanding speakers from Canada and the United States. Many resolutions will be presented for discussion. School trustees from all parts of the Province will come together to study the school system and suggest improvements. The Convention affords an opportunity to get together that no School Board can afford to miss, for education is one of the big problems in Ontario to-day.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S RALLY

The Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Church entertained the young people of the Anglican Methodist and Baptist churches at a Rally and Social in the school room of the Presbyterian Church on Tuesday night. In the neighborhood of two hundred young people attended the affair and spent a most enjoyable evening together. The large attendance and the spirit of unity and goodwill so strikingly manifest gave reason to hope that the Rally will be made an annual event, which will be made to serve the commendable purpose of bringing the different young people's organizations of the town closer together and getting their members better acquainted with one another. Following the dedicatory prayer by Mr. R. W. Ellis, the assemblage was treated to a vocal solo by Mr. Clarence McConnell. President Murray McKitrick of St. Andrew's Society then extended a hearty welcome to the visiting young people, expressing the hope that all would benefit by coming together and have a pleasant time as well. Mr. Russell Morrow followed with a delightful saxaphone solo, which met with deserved appreciation and applause. The special speaker of the evening was Mr. C. A. Myers, Associate Secretary of the Young People's and Sabbath School Department of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Mr. Myers is a very pleasing speaker, who interjects enough humor into his remarks to make him easy to listen and follow. His theme, very appropriately, was "young people having a good time." God, he said, wanted us to have a good time in life. Man's chief purpose is to glorify God and to enjoy Him all through life. If young men and women were going to enjoy their work and life when they reached mature years then they must master whatever work they plan to make their life work. Mastery is necessary to success and enjoyment in any kind of work. It was a mistake to think that having a good time depended upon something outside of one's self. Young people would find a good time in themselves by achieving through Christ pure, true and strong lives and in their work by doing something that would be of assistance to others. Young people should also find joy and pleasure in their friends and in clean and uplifting associations.

The programme was brought to a close with a pleasing duet by Misses Sadie Watson and Ruth McGuire. The remainder of the evening was then given over to games, singing and a social time, after which a lunch was served. The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of Auld Lang Syne. Before the gathering dispersed a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the young people of St. Andrew's upon motion of Mr. Wilson McConnel, President of the Methodist Epworth League, seconded by Miss Ruth Shaw, of St. Mark's A. Y. P. A.

LABOR TROUBLES ON TEA PLANTATIONS

The high wages paid to workers on the tea plantations in India and Ceylon during the war, and the present scarcity of the leaf, have led to a constantly increasing price of good tea. It is rumored that the cost of producing tea, which has advanced between 12 and 16 cents a pound during the last eighteen months, will soon make necessary a general increase in retail prices.

WM. H. GULLEY

William H. Gulley, a well-known resident of this town, died rather suddenly at his home on East Broadway on Tuesday, March 28th. Deceased, who was 67 years and 6 months of age, had been going about as usual until a very short time before his death. His demise was caused by hardening of the arteries. The late Mr. Gulley, who was a son of Richard Gulley and Mary Ann Milford, was born in Brampton. Shortly after his birth his parents moved to Erin and subsequently to the 15th line, East Garafraxa, where he spent his boyhood. About thirty years ago he moved to Mono township, where he farmed until five years ago, when he retired to Orangeville. The late Mr. Gulley was a quiet, industrious man and was held in general respect as a neighbor and citizen. He was a lifelong Liberal and had been identified with the Presbyterian Church in recent years. Some thirty years ago he was married to Miss Annie Stinson, who had come to this district from Ireland a few years before their marriage. His widow survives to mourn his loss. He also leaves a family of two sons and two daughters, namely, Milford, of Sundridge, Ont.; Richard, of Palgrave; Mrs. Wilson Duke, of Caledon, and Miss Sarah at home. An infant daughter died on May 24th, 1902, at the age of 3 years. The brothers and sisters are Mrs. William East, of Fergus; Mrs. G. J. Marshall, in Alberta; Mrs. R. N. McEwen, Fleming, Sask.; Mrs. A. R. Taggart, Vancouver, B. C.; Mrs. Howard Reynolds, Winnipeg; Mrs. John Nodwell, East Luther; Miss Lizzie Gulley, Grand Valley; George, Victoria, B. C.; Thomas, Greenwood, B. C.; John, of Edmonton, and Richard, of Toronto. The funeral, which was quite largely attended despite the stormy, disagreeable weather, was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Thursday afternoon. Rev. F. W. Mahaffy conducted the services at the house and grave. The floral tributes included a broken column from the family and a large wreath from the Dods Knitting Co. The pallbearers were Messrs. John A. Skelton, Chas. Reid, Abe. Reid, Fred Morton, John Nodwell and a brother, Richard Gulley.

HUSBAND AND WIFE

AGED MONO COUPLE UNITED EVEN IN DEATH.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bracken Called Away, the Former on Sunday and the Latter on Thursday of Last Week.

In the passing of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bracken last week there has been removed from the township of Mono two of its early pioneers. After living and labouring in love together for upwards of fifty-five years they entered the higher field of service within a few days of each other. The last summons came to the aged husband on Sunday, March 26th, and on Thursday, March 30th, the loving wife, worn by physical infirmity and heartbroken over the loss of the loved and trusted partner of the joys and sorrows of a half century, closed her eyes on earth's scenes and passed peacefully away to that unknown bourne that lies beyond the valley of death. In life they had lived much together and had found mutual happiness and content in the presence of one another. Now that life's race was run it surely was fitting that they were not to be long divided even by death.

The late Hugh Bracken was born on the 5th line, Caledon, on April 1st, 1841, and had therefore, almost completed his 81st year when called by death. When quite a young man he moved to his late home, lot 10, 1st line, east, Mono, which was at that time almost a bush farm. In 1868 he married his wife, who maiden name was Jane Anne McHugh, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael McHugh, of Caledon East. At the outset of their married life the young couple had to contend with many of the difficulties and hardships that were the common lot of the early settlers in this part of Ontario. Industry and perseverance brought their reward and as the years passed they had the satisfaction of seeing the forest succeeded by fertile grain and pasture lands, a comfortable brick dwelling house and commodious farm buildings.

While Mr. Bracken was a successful and prosperous farmer he was by no means self-centred in his interests. Until a few years ago he took an active interest in the religious life of the community. He was a staunch and lifelong member of the Anglican Church and served as Warden of Herald Angel Church at Cardwell for many years. He was also a firm believer in the value of education as a factor in rural life and fought many a good battle in the interest of the "little red school." In politics he was a faithful follower of Conservative principles, yet his sense of justice and righteousness always transcended anything that savoured of mere politics. He was a just and loving father, a worthy husband and his keen sense of humour and his unfailing good-will made him an excellent neighbor.

In his helpmate the late Mr. Bracken had a most admirable coworker and companion. Mrs. Bracken was possessed of a most loving and unselfish disposition and was an ardent lover of the home and all that concerned the welfare of the family life. In her younger days she was a gifted singer and was choir leader in her home church. She sang at the opening services of the Anglican churches at Mono Mills and Relessey (St. Paul's). She was Honorary President of the Women's Auxiliary of Herald Angel Church, where she loved to serve "in the days of her strength."

The venerable couple are mourned by a family of six sons and two daughters. These are Messrs. John R., Hugh James and William H., of Mono, Thomas H., of Caledon; Rev. Geo. R., Assistant Rector of St. Anne's Church, Toronto; Mrs. S. B. Griggs, of Laurel; Mrs. Thornton Irwin, Medicine Hat, Alta., and Dr. Bonar Bracken, of Grand Valley. The late Mr. Bracken is survived by one sister, Mrs. Edward Jenkins, of Mono, and Mrs. Bracken by one sister, Mrs. Hodgson, of Toronto, and three brothers, Principal McHugh, of Brampton, John McHugh, of Mt. Forest, and Christopher R. McHugh, of Oak Park, Chicago.

The funeral of the aged husband and wife was held on Saturday afternoon, the interment taking place in the family plot in the Forest Lawn Cemetery. The funeral service, which was very largely attended, was held in Herald Angel Church at Cardwell. Rev. Capt. T. H. Stewart, rector of St. Mark's Church, Orangeville, officiated and was assisted by Rev. H. A. Bracken, rector of St. David's Church, Toronto, a nephew. The pallbearers for Mr. Bracken were four grandsons, Harold Bracken, Osborne Bracken, Hugh Griggs and Richard Griggs, and two nephews, George Jenkins and Arthur Bracken. The pallbearers for Mrs. Bracken were her two brothers, Thomas and John McHugh, two of the sons, John R. and Thomas H. Bracken, and two nephews, Geo. M. Judge and Christopher R. Hodgson.

Among the tributes of love and sympathy were two beautiful floral wreaths from the congregation and choir of St. Anne's Church Toronto, two large wreaths from the congregation and Women's Auxiliary of Herald Angel Church and a wreath from Miss Marie Jackson, the faithful nurse during the last illness of the departed couple.

ALTON

There will be a Baptismal service in the Methodist Church on Good Friday, April 14th, when Rev. H. L. Partridge, B. A., Chairman of the Orangeville District, will deliver an address to the parents and friends. Everybody welcome.

Dunlop Double-Life, High-Mileage Cord and Fabric Tires Will Save You More Money Than Ever

Compared to a few years ago tire users are getting easily double—and even more than double—the mileage in the tires of to-day.

Ten, twelve and fifteen thousand miles are just average mileages to-day. And the records on the road show that Dunlop Cord Tires and Dunlop Fabric Tires are even exceeding these mileages.

With Dunlop big mileage you have rock-bottom prices and paramount tire quality—tire quality that is accepted as standard to-day, and which other makers are vainly striving to duplicate.

When you can get a tire with prestige back of it like DUNLOP, and with practically an unlimited guarantee, why chance your life on a second-rate tire at any price?

In Dunlop Cord Tires you have "Traction" and "Ribbed" to choose from.

In Dunlop Fabric Tires you have "Traction," "Ribbed," "Special," "Clipper," "Plain."

SHE FOUND RELIEF AFTER FIVE YEARS

An Ex-Service Man Tells How His Wife Found New Health.

"I wish to testify," says Mr. R. A. F. Hughes, of Hamilton, Ont., "as to the efficiency of your Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the following reasons:

"When I returned home in May, 1919, after nearly five years' absence on army service, my wife had changed from a healthy, robust woman, to one whose life was a burden and ordinary duties almost impossible. Through war worries, loneliness and other factors contributed through my unavoidable absence, her health had been steadily undergoing what I might describe as an undermining process, for years.

"I was fully aware from her letters that I would not find her the same woman, but, when I reached home, I was terribly shocked to find her in the condition she was in. Her healthy color had changed. She seemed bloodless and her skin was sallow. She was weak and listless, and with difficulty moved about the house. She hardly ever moved out of the house as she became short of breath and feared she would fall during one of her dizzy spells, which she said were becoming more frequent.

"The day I arrived home I visited our doctor, who is an old friend, and, later through his advice, consulted with another physician of this city. Everything was done that could be done, and many medicines were prescribed and faithfully taken. As these were of no avail I trusted that time alone would suffice to build up what gradually had been undone in the course of five years. After twelve months, conditions had become worse. Then I decided on change of air, gave up my position in the city and moved to the country. Even this did not do any good. I think it added to her depression.

"One day a friend visited us and as a result of their conversation my wife made up her mind to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"I had not much faith in what I did, but I procured three boxes. This happened nine months ago. I was surprised to hear my wife say, after about the tenth day, 'I believe these pills are doing me good.' A week or so after that I certainly believed they were, for I saw color returning to her cheeks and the sallow, unhealthy color disappearing. The pills were certainly doing what you claim they will do, and of her own free will she continued them for about three months. At the end of this time she seemed quite a different woman. Life was worth living. The listlessness had gone and she could walk up the steep hill, which is half a mile long, leading to our house, without the slightest inconvenience. At this stage she discontinued the pills and she is just as well now as ever she was.

"Now sir, I want to say I have every faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as I have had proof, and I believe that what this medicine did for my wife, it can do for others."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2:50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

EASTER THANK-OFFERING MEETING

St. Andrew's Church W. M. S. will hold its Easter Thankoffering meeting in the Sunday School Room of the Church on Thursday evening, April 13th, beginning at 8 o'clock. Miss W. Warren, who is home from Honan on furlough, will give an illustrated address on her work in the Orient.

RUSSIAN FAMINE FUND

The appeal made in the churches of the town on Sunday last for contributions to the Rusian Famine Fund met with a very liberal response. In St. Andrew's Church the contributions amounted to $218 and in the Methodist Church to $206 or upwards and in St. Mark's Church to $200 or over. It is expected that these amounts will be augmented next Sabbath by belated or delayed subscriptions. Altogether the response speaks well for the interest and liberality of the churches of the town.

A SUCCESSFUL SALE

The sale of the farm stock, implements, etc., belonging to the estate of the late Geo. Howitt, of Mono Mills, was held on Monday afternoon of last week and attracted a large crowd. Everything was sold, excellent prices being realized in most instances. A self-binder, which Mr. Howitt bought seven years ago for $150, was knocked down for $152, two dollars more than the purchase price when new. At that the purchaser made a good buy, owing to the difference in the prices of farm implements to-day and prior to the war. A manure spreader, bought a couple of seasons ago for $240, was sold for $170. Cows brought as high as $83 each. The sale realized over $2,000. Mr. Jas. A. Patterson conducted the sale in his usual satisfactory manner.

At St. John's Church, Mono Mills, next Sunday, at 11 o'clock, the Celebration of the Holy Communion will be held. Preacher, the Rev. D. G. Atkinson. Subject, "The Meaning of the Bread." All are welcome.

CALEDON

The many friends of Mr. John P. McKim were sorry indeed to hear of the painful and distressing accident which befel him last week. Mr. McKim was in the stable alone attending to his stock when a steer became frightened and kicked him on the leg, breaking the limb and knocking him down. He was found some time afterward, suffering great pain and in a very helpless condition. Dr. Thomas was summoned and reduced the fracture but Mr. McKim will be laid up for some time. He is doing as well as can be expected.

Mr. Henry Dodds, who has been staying with Mr. Geo. Giles of late, had the misfortune to break his arm by falling down stairs, when he became confused after blowing out the light when retiring on Wednesday night. Mr. Dodds is under the Dr.'s care and is now doing nicely.

The very sudden demise of Miss Marjorie McLeish, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McLeish, has cast a gloom over our community. Miss Marjorie was in her usual good health until Sunday, when she suddenly became violently ill. Dr. Thomas was summoned and pronounced it a case of acute indigestion, and all that could be done was resorted to, but in spite of their best efforts their patient passed away early Monday morning. Mr. and Mrs. McLeish and family have the most profound sympathy of the entire comunity in their very sad bereavement. The funeral on Wednesday, to the 4th line cemetery, was very largely attended, the many floral offerings bearing testimony to the love and respect in which the deceased was held.

The death of Mr. William Petch came as a shock and a surprise to our neighborhood on Tuesday morning. Mr. Petch had not been enjoying very good health for some time, but it was only on Sunday last that he was considered to be seriously ill, but pneumonia developed and he passed away on the above date. Mr. Petch was born in Aurora 69 years ago and has farmed in Chinguacousy, Garafraxa and in Caledon for the last 25 years. He leaves a widow three children and two brothers, Henry George at home, and J. C., of Toronto to mourn the loss of a faithful husband and kind father. The interment took place on Thursday to Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

The Union Young People's Society held a very successful meeting on Tuesday night. It was Missionary night and Miss Braiden was in charge of the program, which was well up to the usual high standard. Next Tuesday is Social night when all are invited to come expecting some surprises.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Nesbitt returned home from their honeymoon trip which was spent in Chicago, and have taken up their residence on the County Road.

Mr. Norman Widdis has moved to Alton and the house thus made vacant will be occupied by Mr. Mann, who is to start storekeeping here.

Mr. A. McCormick has moved to his newly purchased farm.

Our newly weds are arriving back in the neighborhood again. We welcome them home.

We are pleased to see Miss V. Warnock back in town again.

Misses K. and T. McCormick have arrived home after a two weeks vacation amongst relatives near Alliston and Tottenham.

Mr. T. Jones is back to the Bachelor's Apartments again.

Our young post office clerk is wearing a very fetching smile these days. What's the joke, Ed.?

Mr. "Pat," of Cataract, was the innocent object of much merriment when he appeared at the Station on April 1st with an April Fool card pinned on his back. However, there is a good old motto that says there is nothing so wholesome as a good laugh. Ha, ha.

Mr. F. McCarty is visiting relatives in Alliston.

Cheer up, Dan, your "bachelor days" will not last forever.

A PRESENTATION

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Morrow, Amaranth, was the scene of a pleasant social gathering on Wednesday night, March 22nd, when the ladies of The Maples Women's Institute and other friends met to bid farewell to Miss Hazel Morrow, prior to her departure for Toronto to train for a nurse in Grace Hospital. During the evening Mrs. I. O. Reid, President of the Institute, presented Miss Morrow with a necklace with diamond centre, and Mrs. W. E. Prust read the following appreciative address:—

Miss Hazel Morrow,
Orangeville, Ont.

Dear Hazel,—

Your friends of The Maples Women's Institute desire to take this opportunity to express their regret at your approaching departure from this neighborhood and to wish you every success and happiness in the noble calling to which you have decided to devote your life.

We also wish to express our keen appreciation of the excellent service you have rendered as Secretary of our Institute. Your work has been done in a manner that gave satisfaction to every officer and member and you have, at all times and under every circumstance, evinced a sincere desire to do whatever you can to further the interests of our Society.

And, now, Miss Morrow, it is our wish that you accept this necklace as a tangible expression of our love and appreciation and also of our united wishes for your future happiness.

Signed on behalf of The Maples Women's Institute.

Orangeville, March 22nd. 1922.

Miss Morrow made a neat and feeling reply. A very enjoyable evening was afterwards spent in dancing and other amusements, lunch being served shortly before midnight. Miss Morrow will be greatly missed in The Maples neighborhood and also in Orangeville, where she is very well-known amongst the young people.

BISHOP FALLON AND THE SCHOOL AT PENETANG

The Roman Catholic hierarchy would be strongly in favor of "Public" schools providing the priests and nuns were given a free hand to run them and the Protestant taxpayers were compelled to support them. The sort of a "Public" school in which the Roman hierarchy believe is to be found at Penetanguishene, Ontario. Bishop Fallon referred to this school in his reply in the press to the Toronto Board of Education, when he wrote:—

"In Penetanguishene there was—and is yet— a Public school conducted in entire conformity with the laws and regulations, quite non-sectarian; yet the Protestant ratepayers withdrew and formed a Protestant separate school."

In Penetanguishene, the Roman Catholic church has stolen the Public school machinery. The official Public school is the Roman Catholic school, and the Separate school, which is more like the Public schools in other places, is maintained entirely by Protestants, and is one of the six separate Protestant schools in the Province. The Protestant Separate school is a necessity because of the way the priests and nuns have manipulated and controlled the official Public school. The Separate (Protestant) school is really the only Public school in Penetanguishene, although it is not officially recognized as such by the Department of Education.

In the official Public school at Penetanguishene, which Bishop Fallon commends and which, he alleges, is observing the educational laws in every particular, the following conditions exist:—

The principal of the school is called the "Mother Superior," and she wears the full regalia at all times.

Six of the teachers are nuns and they are also clothed in the distinctive black garb of a Roman Catholic Sisterhood during school hours, the same as in any convent.

All the lay teachers are also Roman Catholics.

All the pupils are children of Roman Catholic parents.

The school is closed on Roman Catholic church holidays.

All the trustees are Roman Catholics.

The "Public" school is purely Roman Catholic, and even the insignificant duty of ringing the bell at recess is performed by a nun. The Protestants of Penetanguishene do not agree with Bishop Fallon when he says that this school is observing the Public School laws of Ontario. It was never intended that such a sectarian institution should be called a "Public School," because it is not public in any sense of that term. The nuns are all under vows of poverty and they cannot hold money in their individual names. They all live together and it costs them practically nothing to live, while Roman Catholic lay teachers, who are idle, are clamoring for positions in the Public schools, because, they say, they want to earn a living at their profession.

The Public School at Penetanguishene is the only kind of a "Public" school that will ever satisfy the Roman Catholic church, but when Bishop Fallon alleges that that school is observing all the laws and regulations, he only reveals his own peculiar conception of, and respect for, the educational laws of Ontario.

The "Public School Board" at Penetanguishene naturally disapproved of the stand taken by the Toronto Board of Education against the demands of the Roman Catholic bishops, and they actually sent a resolution to the Toronto Board expressing their views. The members of the Toronto Board of Education, knowing the situation in Penetanguishene, and that the "Public School Board" there was a purely Roman Catholic body, properly attached as much weight to the resolution as if the communication had come direct from Father Murray, or even from Bishop Fallon himself. The priests and nuns have captured the name "Public," and they get Public School funds, but the school they operate at Penetanguishene is Separate and sectarian just the same.—Orange Sentinel.

AN INTERESTING COMPARISON

An interesting report has been made by the officials of the Carleton county jail which has a bearing on the influence of the Public and Separate school systems. The Roman bishops denounce the Public schools as godless. The late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in his speech on the Autonomy bills of 1905 attributed the prevalence of crime and divorce to the godless Public schools.

Such statements are completely refuted by the figures given for Carleton county for the year ending September 30th last. These statistics indicating the number of inmates of the jail of the various religions show the following:—

Roman Catholics	477
Anglicans	82
Presbyterians	72
Methodists	24
Other religions	39
Protestants	217
Roman Catholics	417

The population of Carleton county (including Ottawa) given by the census of 1911 shows that there are 45,926 Roman Catholics and 55,673 Protestants. So the Roman Catholics with 45 per cent. of the population are represented in the jail by almost 70 per cent. of the inmates.

If that is what the teaching of the Roman Catholic religion in the Separate schools produces, the sooner we have one school—which the bishops call godless—the better it will be for the morals of the nation.

The provincial authorities have decided to widen the span of the bridge over the Grand River at Belwood, and will make it 150 feet instead of 110, and the bridge will be of steel instead of concrete.

THE CONTINENTAL LIMITED

One of the World's Finest Long Distance Trains

The history of the railroad in Canada makes interesting reading. While it is one of the comparatively modern institutions, few have made greater strides in development than it.

Some of our oldest inhabitants may still remember when the first steam locomotive was imported and tried out, and undoubtedly many can recall the time when railway service was very crude and meagre.

Records show that the first railway charter in Canada was granted in 1832. In 1836 the first railway, which was sixteen miles long, from La Prairie on the St. Lawrence to St. John on the Richelieu, was opened for traffic. The rails, unlike the solid steel ones of to-day, weighing 100 lbs. to the yard, were of wood, with a strip of steel spiked on the top. The first year of operation, horses were used, but in 1837 a steam locomotive was imported and put into service. Ten years later there were only 54 miles of road open for traffic. However, in 1853 there began a great era of railway construction, bringing in its wake development and colonization. To-day the people of Canada, in their Canadian National-Grand Trunk Railways, own over 22,000 miles of road, the greatest railway system in the world.

With the passing of the years and the ever increasing mileage have also come many changes in railway equipment. From the rakish little engine used in 1853, modern invention has evolved the mighty Pacific type of locomotive, weighing 407,700 lbs., and having eight powerful driving wheels, 69 inches in diameter, used to-day. Wooden construction has given way to solid steel construction, and to-day the great transcontinental flier, "The Continental Limited," operated by the Canadian National Railways, is equipped with practically all the comforts and conveniences of a modern hotel. This premier train provides a daily transcontinental service in both directions between Montreal and Vancouver, and is called "The Continental Limited," as signifying that it travels across the continent.

To keep up this daily service via Ottawa, Winnipeg, Saskatoon and Edmonton, it is necessary to maintain 14 trains, 10 of which are in active service all the time, the other four being used as guard trains. To equip the trains actively in service it takes 10 locomotives, 30 baggage or express cars, 10 colonist cars, 10 tourist cars, 26 standard sleepers, 10 dining cars and 10 observation-compartment cars—in all about $3,500,000 worth of equipment. A crew of 190 men is needed to operate these trains.

The route of "The Continental Limited" traverses six of the provinces of the Dominion. From Montreal it passes through the famous Cobalt mining district and the pulp forests of Northern Ontario, via Ottawa, North Bay and Cochrane, to Winnipeg, thence continuing across some of the richest farm lands of the prairie provinces via Saskatoon and Edmonton. It then proceeds through the Northern Canadian Rockies via Jasper and Mount Robson Parks and follows down the Fraser Valley to Vancouver.

THE OPEN ROAD

You know that you are deficient in knowledge of many things which you should know, to be considered intelligent.

Year after year you put off from time to time the set period you think you must have to learn more of these subjects and you still continue to put off.

Why not plan out for one night a week during this year.

One night a week devoted to your particular study would accomplish much.

Self denial will enter in. Perhaps there will be a big party the very first or second evening you set to begin the mastery of your study.

What will you do—postpone the study again?

What are you in earnest about, study or personal pleasure?

You may find kind friends to help you put through if it becomes known that you are willing to sacrifice a personal good time for work.

But do not blame your kind friends for deserting you and your cause if you are found wanting on account of too much devotion on your part to a "good time."

And if you knew that a very much more lucrative job were at the end of the road after you have acquired this additional knowledge would you not be more than ever anxious to pursue the subject?

It requires regular and systematic study and a serious mind concentrated on the thing in hand. Can you qualify?

Nervous exhaustion leads to distaste for food. The nerves of the stomach are weak, digestion fails and you become generally upset and out of sorts.

The secret of complete restoration is in getting the nervous system fully built up.

Mrs. R. Cheney, 208 Richmond St., Chatham, Ont., writes:

"I was troubled with indigestion, which caused me many sleepless nights. I would be in terrible distress at times, and would get no relief for two or three hours. For sixteen months I ate nothing but Shredded Wheat biscuits, as I dare not eat anything else. I did not know what to do, as I had tried so many different remedies, as well as doctors' medicines, without gaining permanent relief. Finally I got some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and while on the second box noticed that I was improving. I continued the treatment until I am now fully restored, and have returned to my regular diet. My husband has also taken Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with splendid results, so we are glad to recommend it to others."

THE OWLS IN THE ATTIC

A California gentleman from the city purchased a big country home that had been vacant several years. After spending a large sum for improvements, he moved in to find that the rats made his nights hideous and the gophers destroyed his lawn, garden and trees as soon as they were planted. To add to his discomfort, a half-dozen barn owls chose his house for a meeting place. They flapped, stamped, fought and hissed on the roof, and in the attic, while the rats, in increasing numbers, scurried, squealed, and fought in his bedroom and kitchen. One night the exasperated man went out with his gun to fire at an object in the moonlight, and with a dull thud a heavy body fell on the verandah roof.

When morning came, he climbed into the attic to find an open window leading out to the verandah, where he found the big owl he had killed, but, on the floor under the rafters of the attic, another blinked her big eyes to see what danger was near. She left her nest with two white eggs to crowd into a corner. The eggs and the bird did not interest the man so much as the materials of the nest, built of bits of fur and bones of his enemy, the rat. The attic floor was strewn with bits of dried rat skins and bones. He now understood and stroked the hissing, frightened bird affectionately. That night a half-dozen owls celebrated for hours, flapping, hissing and stamping, but the disturbed sleeper only smiled. He was glad his friends were having a good time.

After another week the noises of the house ceased, not a rat or a mouse was to be seen, the only sound heard in the night was a gentle swish of wings mingled with low hisses: the noisy shrieks had gone with the squealing and scurrying rats.

Fearing that his friends had gone, he returned to the attic one evening to find the mother owl guarding two funny little balls of whitish gray cottony down, with hooked beaks and tiny talons resembling those of the big fellow he had killed, and reminding him of two tiny white monkeys huddled in a corner for warmth.

He snapped out his light to watch. Noiselessly an owl friend entered with supper for the little family. The meal was a big gopher.

The man watched an hour while owl friends brought into the attic six gophers, a rat, and seven field mice.

Now the two little owls have grown up, and the owner smiles and wishes they were a dozen. His fields lawn and garden are free of gophers, rats and mice.

MATERIAL FOR GOD'S WORKING

Good results require good material. How, then can God expect to get good results from sin-saturated human nature? A Confucian proverb quoted by the Chinese says, "You cannot carve rotten wood." And God himself says of human nature, as a result of Adam's fall, that it is "rotten" through and through. "There is none righteous, no, not one"; or as the Westminster Confession puts it, our first parents by their sin became "fully defiled in all the faculties and parts of soul and body," and all mankind thereby became "uttery indisposed, disabled and made opposite to all good, and wholly inclined to all evil." What can God do with such material? Nothing. He says, except to do away with it and replace it by a new creation that is good indeed. When we receive Christ as Saviour, there comes to pass the supernatural new birth; for "if any man is in Christ, he is a new creature; the old things are passed away; behold they are become new." And when this born-again man puts himself fully and unreservedly into the hands of the Lord for His supreme control, God can do wonderful things with that new life. Not "rotten wood" now, but "the life that is Christ" is at God's disposal for His working and workmanship; and the results will cause God himself to rejoice.

"Have Thine own way, Lord!
Have Thine own way!
Thou are the Potter,
I am the clay.
Mould me and make me
After Thy will,
While I am waiting
Yielded and still."

TO-MORROW

These things shall be—a loftier race
Than e'er the world hath known shall rise
With flame of freedom in their souls,
And light of knowledge in their eyes.

They shall be gentle, brave and strong,
To spill no drop of blood, but dare
All that may plant man's lordship firm
On earth, and fire, and sea, and air.

Nation with nation, land with land,
Unarmed shall live as comrades free;
In every heart and brain shall throb
The pulse of one fraternity.

New arts shall bloom of loftier mould,
And mightier music thrill the skies,
And every life shall be a song,
When all the earth is paradise.

BILL AND MARY ANN

Correspondent Wants Weddings Reported After This Manner.

"As we have not heavy life or accident insurance we are not likely to adopt the suggestion of a correspondent and change our phraseology of marriage write-ups. We did get funny at a bridegroom's expense when we started out in the newspaper business and after that experience have no notion of experimenting in Western plains marriage. Our correspondent writes:—

"A wedding took place on Thursday last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tumbleweed between Bill Bachitt and Mary Ann, eldest daughter of the aforementioned parties. The bride looked triumphantly happy while the groom resembled a criminal being tried for manslaughter. In fact, he would never have been there, only for the foresight of Mary Ann driving over personally and bringing him. The doorway (at which Bill cast many longing eyes) was guarded by the oldest brother of the bride. The bride was attended by her sister but didn't seem to need any assistance, while Bill was supported by his hired man and a pair of shoulder straps. The poor fellow seemed to be under the influence of the bride. The bride was prettily attired in a costume of cheese-de-clothe while the groom had on a pair of King of the Road Overalls and an excellent smock to match. Round his neck he had a bran new red handkerchief, which showed off to perfection the silky pallor of his complexion. The bride was given away by her father in a very bare-faced manner, for he was heard to say that Mary Ann was too much like her mother. The presents seemed to resemble a job-lot, but everybody seemed to think they were quite good enough for Mary Ann, for she was anything but popular. All the sympathy seemed to be for Bill. The groom's present to the bride was the wedding certificate, with which she seemed greatly relieved, to the bridesmaid a lovely veil of mosquito netting and to his best man he promised to pay him his summer wages, providing Mary Ann didn't spend them on the honeymoon trip. As there were not enough chairs to go round the guests stood up to an excellent repast of bread and gorgonzola. There was no one present to play the wedding march, so the old favorite "I wish I were single again," was very feelingly rendered by the groom in an effort which brought tears to the eyes of everyone present, excepting Mary Ann. The honeymoon and most of their cash will be spent amid the beautiful scenery of Kirkella.

HOSPITAL NOTES

As intimated in last week's issue the April meeting of the I. O. D. E. will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Z. Henry, Zina St., on Friday, April 7th, at 3.30 p.m. The architect's plans for the proposed hospital building are in the hands of the officers, so that any members who wish to do so may have an opportunity to examine them before the meeting. As the plans will be discussed at this meeting a full attendance of the members is earnestly requested.

We are grateful to Mrs. Henry Speers of Caledon, for a generous donation of fruit and pickles.

Miss Barclay, Superintendent of the Hospital was called to Guelph last Thursday on account of the critical illness of her mother, who we regret to report, passed away on Friday. The sympathy of the Daughters of The Empire, the hospital staff and citizens of Orangeville generally is extended to our Superintendent in the great sorrow that has come into her life through the loss of a loved and revered parent.

—Mr. James Curtis, William St., has moved out to his farm north of Camilla.

—Mr. Geo. Wilkins, local real estate agent, has sold the Amos Fuller house and property on Fead St. to Mr. Lyman Waller, who has just moved to town from Mono. The purchase price was in the neighborhood of $4,000.

Spring is Here!

And with Spring comes house-cleaning. You will want to cleanse the walls as well as the floors of your rooms this Spring. The most sanitary—as well as the most pleasing—way to do this, is by repapering.

April is the month of home renovation. Just as Nature now puts on her new robe, so, too, does the provident householder renovate the walls of each room, that is dilapidated, with a coating of fresh Wall Paper.

This Spring, in particular, we are anxious you should drop in and look over our New Stock of Patterns just received.

And, really, it is remarkably inexpensive. Let us suggest a scheme of decoration and quote you a price.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith spent a couple of days in the city this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fairbairn and little son, Donald, are visiting friends in Windsor this week.

Mrs. A. Dalgleish, of Toronto, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Dalgleish, Wellington St.

Ex-Warden H. H. Hilborn was in town on Saturday attending a meeting of the County U. F. O. Executive.

Miss Byfield, of Toronto, formerly of the High Schol staff here, renewed acquaintanceships in town on Saturday.

Mrs. R. J. Keys, of West Toronto, was visiting her sister, Mrs. Angus Forbes, Wellington St., over the week-end.

Mrs. G. H. Niebel, John St., is visiting friends in Boston, Mass. Mrs. Niebel may be away from town most of the summer.

Mrs. James Dodds returned last week, after spending two months with relatives in and near London. Miss M. Dodds, of Primrose, visited her over the week-end.

Miss Hazel Morrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morrow, of Amaranth, left on Monday morning for Toronto, where she will train for a nurse in Grace Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Montgomery have returned home after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Hebden, of Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Glassford, of Caledon.

Mr. H. A. Hunter and Miss Clara Hunter were the guests of their sister, Mrs. W. G. Kearns for a few days last week prior to leaving for their home in Medicine Hat, Alta. They have been spending the winter in Hamilton.

—From coast to coast Tanlac is known and honored and millions have taken it and pronounced it the greatest medicine of all times. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ont.

BIBLE CLASS ORGANIZED

The young men of the Laurel Presbyterian Sunday School have organized a special class known as the Y. M. A. B. Class. The Class will meet in connection with the Sunday School. The officers are:—

Honorary President, Rev. J. R. Bell; President, Wilmer Trimble; Vice-President, Clarence Menary; Secretary, Clifford Bryan; Treasurer, Albert Bryan; Teacher, W. B. Grosskurth; Assistant Teacher, J. A. Hughes; Correspondent, Earl Cook.

A FINE SALE

Mr. P. B. Norris, The Maples, held one of the big Auction Sales of the year on Tuesday of last week. The attendance was very large and good prices were the order of the day. Cows sold as high as $100 and over, a cow and calf brought $110, sheep sold as high as $17 each and two year old cattle were bid to $62.00 apiece. Altogether the sale realized within a few dollars of $4500 and Mr. Norris has something like 250 bags of potatoes yet to sell. Geo. McAlister handled the sale in his usual breezy style.

KEEP BABY WELL IN THE SPRING

Mothers who have little ones in the home find the Spring a time of great anxiety. At this season conditions make it necessary to keep the baby indoors. He is often confined to overhead and badly ventilated rooms and catches colds which rack his whole system. To guard against this a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. This will prevent colds; constipation or colic, and keep baby well. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MOURNAHAN CASE SETTLED

When the Mournahan case was called for trial before Magistrate Falconer in Grand Valley on Tuesday the Magistrate suggested that an effort be made to effect a settlement, pointing out that a settlement was desirable in view of the fact that the two men concerned in the assault are brothers. The suggestion was favorably received and with the assistance of Mr. T. H. Hamilton as mediator the brothers managed to compose their differences. The assault charge against Henry was dropped and the case was at an end so far as the court was concerned.

PRESBYTERIAL W. M. S.

The Eighth Annual Meeting of the Orangeville Presbyterial Women's Missionary Society will be held in the Presbyterian Church in Dundalk on Wednesday, April 12th. There will be morning and afternoon sessions, beginning at 11 a.m. and 1.30 p.m. One of the main items of the afternoon programme will be an address by Miss W. Warren, of Honan. The business for the day will include reports of the year's activities from the Secretaries of the various Departments, the election of officers and consideration of the by-laws of the Presbyterial.

—Nature intended that you should eat what you want. You can do it if you take Tanlac. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ont.

CANADIAN CLUB

The Annual Meeting of the Canadian Club of Orangeville will be held in the Auditorium of the Public Library on the evening of Friday, April 7th, at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

SOCIAL AT LAUREL

On Friday evening last Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hughes, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. W. Curry, entertained the members of the Sunny Circle and the Y. M. A. B. Classes in their usual pleasing manner at their home in Laurel village. Early in the evening both Classes held business meetings, after which everyone enjoyed a delightful programme of games, contests and music. The host and hostess, with the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Curry, then served a sumptuous lunch, consisting mainly of good old-fashioned pancakes and maple syrup. After a very hearty vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Hughes for their kindness, the young people dispersed, but not in time to escape the "April Fools," which beset the village at exactly 12.01 a.m.

PILES

Zam-Buk A GRAND REMEDY

That dull never-ending pain.

MRS. C. Hanson, of the Commercial Hotel, Poplar, B.C., says: "I found Zam-Buk a grand remedy for piles. I had suffered for years, and the burning, smarting pains were so intense that at times I could scarcely walk, and I was severely weakened by loss of blood.

"I underwent a surgical operation in The Sacred Heart Hospital, Spokane, but within twelve months the piles grew again, as painful as ever.

"Ointments, hot poulticing and so-called 'cole cures' did no good, but I found Zam-Buk immediately soothing. It gave wonderful relief. When, as I kept on the treatment, the piles began to disappear, I became a happier and different woman. I used six boxes of this herbal Zam-Buk, in all, but the obstinate and painful disease was thoroughly overcome.

MY PILES WENT 3 YEARS AGO and I haven't had the trouble since."

Use Zam-Buk for soothing away any morbid irritation or smarting pain. It is instantly effective. Whether the trouble be piles, itching eczema, or an obstinate wound, sore, ulcer, burn or scald, Zam-Buk kills disease germs, and grows new healthy skin in a wonderful way.

Zam-Buk's refined herbal essences act on the surface as well as the outer tissues. They soothe, purify and heal the skin, and clear away Spring pimples, blotches and sores, as by magic. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25, all chemists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. TRIAL SAMPLE free (send 1c. stamp if this paper is mentioned).

JOHN P. CAESAR

Mr. John Caesar "crossed the bar" on the morning of the 27th of March. Deceased was in his 88th year and spent all of his life in Caesar's neighborhood in Chinguacousy. Mr. Caesar was one of those citizens who, by virtue of their many useful qualities, are the glory of their country. In religion a consistent member of the Methodist Church, in politics a strong adherent of the Reform party, he was both in religion and politics a shining example of intelligent membership, coupled with a tolerant outlook on other bodies in both spheres whose viewpoint was divergent from his. Eighty-eight years is a long, long sojourn by the family fireside, and memories will cluster thickly round the vacant chair. Deceased's wife predeceased him some years ago and two sons, James, at home, and Lawson, of the entomological professorial chair in Guelph College, and four daughters, Mary and Margaret at home, Mrs. Parsons, of Mt. Dennis, and Mrs. Fickel of Clearwater, Man., are left. The Rev. Mr. Laycock performed the ministrations of his church for the dead, and burial took place on the 29th in Providence Cemetery.

MRS. JOHN BANKS

Annie Shaw, wife of John Banks, of Davidson, Sask., formerly of Laurel, died at her home at Davidson on March 16th, after a short illness. Mrs. Banks was a daughter of the late Joseph Warden Shaw, and was born sixty-seven years ago in Brock, Ontario county, where her father kept a general store. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Banks was a school teacher, teaching in Mulmur and Amaranth townships and in the High School at Fergus and the Normal school in Toronto. In 1881 she married John Banks, of Laurel. She resided at Laurel till 1911, when, accompanied by her family, she went to Davidson, where she has since resided. Besides her husband, Mrs. Banks is survived by one daughter and six sons: J. Sidney, of Shelburne; Percy and Robt. C., of Hazenmore, Sask.; Flora (Mrs. Frank Barker), Carbon, Alta., and Stanley, John and Harvey at home. Three sisters and one brother also survive: Mrs. Jennie Kearns, Mrs. Harriet Johnston and Mrs. Bessie McDonald, of Toronto, and Mr. Jas. Shaw, of Regina, Sask. Her decease will be regretted by many friends both at Laurel and Davidson.

ORANGEVILLE ARENA, LTD.

Thursday and Friday evenings, April 20th and 21st, have been selected as the dates for the concerts of the Orangeville Minstrels, who are hard at work doing their bit to aid the above Company. More particular announcement later. In the meantime it is hoped that nothing else will be put on during that week to interfere in any way with the success of an organization, which is solely for the benefit of the town and its young people.

Absolutely no progress has been made in the matter of a site for the Rink, in spite of the endless amount of time that has been spent in efforts and negotiations to secure a suitable one. From the opposition that developes as soon as a site is proposed one would imagine that it was a glue factory or a slaughter house for a pork-packing business that was proposed. "The young people be damned; put your rink some place else," expresses the attitude of too many of the citizens.

Albert Hellyer, Esq., Police Magistrate, presided at Mount Forest, over a case of interest to those who use electricity as well as those who do electric wiring. Mr. John Morris, a local electrician, was charged by Inspector W. J. Hay, of Orangeville, with making extensions and other alterations in a building without having a permit. He was fined $20 and costs, $33 in all, or two months in jail.

MAY SEPARATE

Town of Brampton Dissatisfied With Treatment It Is Getting From Peel County.

A special meeting of the Town Council was called by Mayor Beck on Tuesday evening at 7.30 for the purpose of receiving and discussing the report of the committee appointed at the last meeting of Council to investigate and report on the advisability of having the town separate from the County.

Prior to the Council meeting the committee met, and Mayor Beck explained that he had conferred with Major Kennedy as to the necessary procedure, who stated that it would be necessary to have a private bill put through the Legislature, and expressed his willingness to introduce the bill if the Council decided to take such action. He stated that the following day was the last day this session on which private bills could be introduced. Mr. Beck explained that this was the reason for calling a special meeting to deal with the subject.

The Committee decided to present a unanimous report favoring separation, in order to bring the matter before the whole Council for thorough discussion, and therefore recommended:

"That the Solicitor be instructed to take the necessary steps to have a private bill prepared and presented at this session of the Legislative Assembly, authorizing the town to submit a by-law to the ratepayers to ratify separation from the County."

While the Council was in discussion in Committee of the Whole, Major Kennedy telephoned from Toronto that before a private bill of this nature could be introduced, it must be advertised for six consecutive weeks in the Ontario Gazette and in the local papers. It was therefore obviously impossible for the Council to take immediate proceedings.

The whole difficulty arises over the fact that the County Council levies on the town annually about $8,000 for good roads purposes, and may, legally, return to the town a portion or all that amount provided it shall be spent upon what is known as connecting links between roads assumed on the County Good Roads system. These connecting links, in so far as Brampton is concerned, represent only Queen Street East and West, roads which have been built and paid for by the ratepayers of Brampton. It is, therefore, impossible for the town to spend money on connecting links except in the case of repairing or resurfacing, but apparently the County Council is still unwilling to assist, even to this extent. As stated before, there is no legal machinery at present for compelling a return of part of the appropriation, and it has been felt for some time that the Town Council should use the only means at their disposal, that of separation, as many other municipalities have found it necessary to do. It is a point worthy of note that, while a number of municipalities have withdrawn from different counties, none of them have ever taken steps to reunite, which they may do at the end of any period of five years.

His Worship Mayor Beck was firmly of the opinion that the town should separate, and enumerated many of the advantages in decreased taxation which would result. This opinion appeared to be held by a majority of the members of the Council.

The Committee was instructed to go very thoroughly into the matter, and secure the experience of Oshawa, Owen Sound and other towns which have separated, with a view to having first hand information on the subject. Councillor Beatty expressed himself as opposed to spending any of the people's money on joy rides around the country, but it was pointed out to him by the Mayor that he had not seen any bill yet presented from members of the delegation sent to Toronto to interview the Minister of Highways, and that probably this committee would not incur very much liability. Deputy-Reeve Warr thought the matter of sufficient importance to warrant the committee going to some expense if necessary, as information is much more satisfactory when investigation is conducted by direct contact with those who have had experience along the lines of the matter under discussion.

In the event of a decision by the Council in favor of separation, a by-law to that effect must be submitted to and be approved by the ratepayers of the town, before it would come into effect. It is more than probable that such action will be taken at the next municipal election.—Conservator.

A CLOSE ELECTION

Oldtime Contest in County of Simcoe

The first election to fill the seat for the neighboring county of Simcoe was held in July 1823. Simcoe was a separate constituency for parliamentary purposes. Wm. B. Robinson was the candidate on the ticket of the Family Compact, and John Cawthra, of Newmarket, was his opponent. Some very oldtimers might remember it. The tale is gleaned from Hunter's records of Simcoe County.

Anyhow, there was but one polling place for the whole election. It was at Holland Landing and Geo. Lount was returning officer. The poll was kept open a week. The candidate, Robinson, kept open house at Phelps tavern to furnish free feeds and drinks to the free and independent voters; Cawthra did likewise at Johnston's Landing.

A soldier who had served with Wellington in the Peninsular campaign had received a grant of land in the county and settled on it. He came out to vote and took quarters at Robinson's booth in Phelps tavern. After feasting and drinking and making as much noise as a small army, he started off on the last day of the election to the polling place. A crowd of loafers followed to see how he woud vote. Of course, voting by ballot had not been introduced. The voting took place at a wicket, high above the ground, and approached by a small stairway leading up to a platform in front of it. After voting the elector descended by another stairway. The veteran soldier mounted the rostrum. Asked how he desired to vote, he answered: "I vote on this," throwing down the patent deed of his land with a flourish. "But what candidate?" he was asked.

"Oh, Cawthra," he exclaimed in a loud voice.

A fierce and threatening outcry arose from the gang. The soldier stood in danger of getting hauled down and mobbed. Then, turning to the crowd he said: "Gintlemin! I served under Wellington. My general larnt me to feast on my inimies, and be damned if I haven't done it."

Cawthra was elected by nine votes at the first election in Simcoe County.

FARMER'S WIFE REGAINS HEALTH

Gives Credit to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fork River, Manitoba.—"I saw in the newspapers where Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing so much good to women, and as I needed something I began to take it. I used to be very sick but I am not now. I live on a farm in the homestead district and we have to do all our own work. I tell all the women I see what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound does for me. I think it saves me from going to a doctor and is the best medicine women can take."—Mrs. Wm. Coultas, Fork River, Manitoba.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for the ailments peculiar to women. It is prepared from medicinal plants, with care and accuracy. It can be taken by women of any age.

Women make a serious mistake in allowing themselves to become so weak and nervous that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

Such symptoms as pains and irregularities, all-gone feelings, backache, headache, hot flashes, nervousness, with a general run-down condition, indicate some form of female trouble.

The Vegetable Compound has brought relief to thousands of women suffering from such ailments. Let it help you.

Leonard Buchanan, of lot 32, con. 2, W. H. S., Mono, while engaged in separating cream, received a sudden shock and surprise when the separator seemingly exploded with great violence, distributing the entire contents of the supply tank and separator discs in all directions. Mr. Buchanan was turning the machine when the accident occurred but escaped injury. He is at a loss to account for the strange happening and even yet has not been able to locate the cause of the explosion, which broke the centre controlling rod of the machine and otherwise put it out of business.

HOME

Home! A magic word. When we speak of it, is seems to be like a bewitching strain from the harp of memory.

Spurgeon said:—"Home is the grandest of all institutions." It is the keystone of the arch. No other place in all the world holds more sacred and helpful asociations. The earliest influences for molding opinions and forming habits cannot be over-estimated or superseded. In it is the real test of character. A bully at home will make a tyrant among men. A boy who is rude to his sister will, by and by, be discourteous to someone else's sister. The son who is a tyrant to mother will after a while lord it over the fair one who becomes his wife. Home is the place for the smaller courtesies of life. How much they mean! A kind father, a loving husband, a dutiful son, a courteous brother—not obsequious not churlish, not effeminate, but thoughtful, manly and polite. Our highest efort ought to be to please and gladden the family circle. Those nearest to us have stronger claims upon us than any other. To be considerate and gracious of speech toward those of our household is life's purest joy and highest service. Rudeness and incivility ought to have no place in the home. Home-life ought not to be a drudgery. There is toil and care, the daily routine and daily wear, but withal there should be a sweet content, quiet trust and buoyant hope.

"Make home a hive where all beautiful feelings
Cluster like bees and their honey-dew bring;
Make it a temple of holy revealings,
And love its bright angels with shadowy wing.
Then will it be, when afar on life's billows,
Wherever your tempest-tossed children are flung,
They will long for the shade of the home sweeping willows,
And sing the sweet songs which their mother had sung."

INSTANTLY KILLED

TRAGIC DEATH OF WILLIAM LEGGATT, OF ADJALA, ON SUNDAY EVENING.

Struck By Radial Car on Lake Shore Road—Died a Few Seconds After Accident.

Consternation and gloom were created by the startling news of the tragic death at Toronto on Sunday evening of William Leggatt, a middle-aged Adjala farmer, well-known in Orangeville. Mrs. Leggatt's sister-in-law, Mrs. J. M. McCoy, of West Toronto, had been visiting at the Leggatt homestead near Connor last week. When she returned home on Saturday night Mr. Leggatt accompanied her to the city for a short visit. He spent Sunday at McCoy's and with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Darraugh, former residents of Orangeville, and late in the afternoon, left for the home of his nephew, Dr. H. C. McClelland, on the Lake Shore Road. Just after he dismounted from a westbound car at Stop 17 on the Lake Shore Road, opposite the home of his nephew, he was struck and almost instantly killed by a York Radial car travelling toward the city. Bystanders carried the badly injured man to the front lawn of Dr. McClelland's home, where he expired almost instantly. The fatality occurred about five o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Leggatt, who was very hard of hearing, did not hear the approaching car when he got off the car on which he had ridden out from the city. He attempted to cross the tracks to reach his destination and in doing so stepped directly in the way of the eastbound car. Dr. Conn, a coroner, was summoned and empanelled a jury, which viewed the remains and the scene of the fatality. The body was then removed to Miles' Undertaking Rooms. The car was driven by Motorman John Ayling, New Toronto. County Constables Atcherley and Simpson investigated the circumstances and gave their version of the tragic affair at the inquest in the Municipal Hall in Mimico last night.

The late William Leggatt, who was 56 years of age, was one of the best known farmers in the south end of Adjala. He was a son of the late Joseph Leggett, one of the early residents of the Connor district and had spent his lifetime in the neighborhood. He was a quiet, industrious man, well-thought of as a neighbor and citizen and was a respected and useful member of the community. His sudden and tragic death has created widespread sorrow and profound sympathy for the grief-stricken widow and family. Mrs. Leggatt is a daughter of the late John McCoy and is also a life-long resident of the Connor neighborhood. There are three sons, Lloyd, Norval and McCoy, the youngest a lad of fourteen years. Mr. R. J. Leggatt, First St., is a brother and the only surviving member of the family. Mrs. T. J. Robinson, Zina St., is a cousin of Mrs. Leggatt.

The remains were brought home via Tottenham on Monday morning. The funeral, which was one of the largest ever held in the Connor district, took place on Tuesday afternoon, interment taking place in Tottenham cemetery. A short service was held in the bereaved home on lot 5, con. 2, Adjala, by Rev. J. A. Matheson, of Mono Mills, the family pastor, assisted by Rev. S. Dunn Dinnick, of the Methodist Church. There were many beautiful floral tributes, mutely eloquent tokens of the grief and sympathy called forth by the sad occurrence. The pallbearers were four brothers-in-law, Messrs. Alex. McElwain, E. J. Darraugh, Jas. Drummond and Ed. Lloyd, and two nephews, Joseph and Milton Leggatt. A memorial service will be held in Adjala Presbyterian Church next Sunday evening.

Spring is Here!

And with Spring comes house-cleaning. You will want to cleanse the walls as well as the floors of your rooms this Spring. The most sanitary—as well as the most pleasing—way to do this, is by re-papering.

April is the month of home renovation. Just as Nature now puts on her new robe, so, too, does the provident householder renovate the walls of each room, that is dilapidated, with a coating of fresh Wall Paper.

This Spring, in particular, we are anxious you should drop in and look over our New Stock of Patterns just received.

And, really, it is remarkably inexpensive. Let us suggest a scheme of decoration and quote you a price.

JOHN GOLDEN

Orangeville lost a well-known citizen last week in the person of John Golden, who passed away at his home on McCarthy St. on Friday last after a lingering illness. Deceased had been in failing health for the last year or longer and had been bedfast since early in January. The late Mr. Golden, who was in his 69th year, was born on lot 6, con. 2, Amaranth, and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Golden, pioneer settlers in that township. He farmed in his native township until twenty-six years ago, when he disposed of his farm and moved to Orangeville. After moving to town he engaged in the farm implement business and was agent for The McCormick Harvesting Machinery Company for some twelve years. Mr. Golden was married twice. His first wife, who was a daughter of the late George Robinson, of East Garafraxa, died in 1886. Some years later he married Miss Annie Donaldson, daughter of the late Robert Donaldson, of Reading. His widow and a family of six sons and three daughters survive to mourn the loss of a devoted husband and a kind and affectionate parent. The members of the family are Mr. J. E. Golden, of Buffalo, N. Y., who has been here with his father for the last two months; Messrs. Holly and John H. Golden, of Cumberland, Md.; Mrs. C. O. McHugh, Montreal; Mrs. Robert Laird, Toronto; Mr. Stanley Golden, Toronto; Mr. Herb P. Golden, of Milwaukee; Mr. Fred Golden, of the staff of the Orangeville branch of the Bank of Commerce, and Miss Greta Golden, of Los Angeles, Cal. The sons and daughters were all home for the funeral, which was held to Greenwood cemetery on Monday afternoon and was largely attended by citizens of the town and Amaranth friends of the family. Rev. T. H. Stewart, rector of St. Mark's Church, had charge of the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were Col. Arthurs, M. P. for Parry Sound, Sheriff Endacott and Messrs. J. E. Booth, E. A. Robinson, J. D. Torrie and W. C. McMillan. A carriage was required to convey the many beautiful floral tributes, so expressive of the sorrow and sympathy of the family and friends of the departed man. The late Mr. Golden was a quiet man, who possessed a genial, kindly nature and was well thought of as a neighbor and citizen. The sympathy of the community is extended to the widow and family in their time of sorrow.

HAZEL MAY IRWIN

Miss Hazel May Irwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Irwin, died at her home on Mill St. on Sunday, April 9th. Deceased was in her 19th year and had been in very delicate health for several years. She had, however, been very well this winter until about two weeks ago, when she and other members of the family were laid up with an attack of the flu. About a week ago Miss Irwin contracted pneumonia. In her weakened condition she was in no state to withstand this dread malady. She spent practically the whole of her last week on earth in an unconscious condition, the only intelligible words she uttered having reference to her Lord and Master. On Sunday afternoon the end came and the devoted girl passed peacefully away to be forever at rest. The deceased leaves to mourn her loss her father and mother, three sisters, Mrs. J. E. Hillock, Caledon; Mrs. W. H. Woods, Weston, and Miss Gladys at home, and three brothers, Wilfrid A., Caledon; Samuel B., Toronto, and Mark, Ottawa.

The funeral, which was quite largely attended despite the bad roads and disagreeable weather, was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. F W. Mahaffy, the family pastor, conducted the services at the house and grave and a number of the members of St. Andrew's Church choir led the singing of the hymns at the house. The floral tributes included "Gates Ajar" from the family, wreaths from L. O. L. 635 and Nurse Austin, and sprays from Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Campbell, Winnipeg, Miss Della Darraugh, Alliston, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sharpe, Toronto, little Audrey Hillock, Caledon, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. White, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Masters, Mrs. Snell and Miss Phair, Miss Gwen Parsons and St. Andrew's Sunday School. The pallbearers were the three brothers, two brothers-in-law, Messrs. J. E. Hillock and W. H. Woods, and a cousin, Joseph Irwin. The sympathy of their many friends is extended to the sorrowing parents and family.

THE PENNY BANK

The pupils of 45 schools deposited $59,562.85 in The Penny Bank during January 1922, and $51,225.04 during the month of February 1922, making a total of $110,787.89 for the two months. Cornwall headed the list with an average of 93 cents per pupil, Guelph coming second with 80 cents per pupil.

TEA PRICES RISING

Rumour has it that the labor unrest and general dissatisfaction in India, the largest tea producing country in the world, have made production so expensive and hazardous that a general rise in prices may be expected in the near future. The estimated consumption this year will be much larger than the crop available.

JOHN HARKIES

John Harkies, a resident of Orangeville for sixteen years, passed away at his home on John St. on Saturday after a long illness from heart trouble and asthma. Mr. Harkies had been quite seriously ill for the last three or four weeks and his demise was not unexpected. Deceased, who was 58 years, 5 months and 27 days of age, was born in the neighborhood of Port Credit. The family afterwards moved to Mono Mills, where he resided until he came to Orangeville. He is survived by a widow, Miss Ellen Shinnaman prior to marriage, and a family of two sons and five daughters. One daughter, Mrs. W. G. Clark, lives at Dundas, Ont. The other members of the family, Henrietta, Lena, Ella, Dorothy, John and William, are at home. William and Charles Harkies, of Brantford, the former at one time town engineer in Orangeville, are the surviving brothers. The sisters are Mrs. Frank Marshall and Mrs. John B. Kearns, Orangeville. Mrs. John Gartley, West Toronto, Mrs. W. Beatty, Seattle, and Mrs. Robert Cox, Seaforth. The funeral was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery at 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, Rev. T. H. Stewart conducting the services. The pallbearers were Messrs. Frank Marshall, John Gartley, Alex. Donaldson, Jas. A. Patterson, Wm. Shinnaman and W. G. Clark.

Friends present from a distance were Mrs. Wm. Harkies, Brantford; Wm. Shinnaman, London; Mr. and Mrs. John Gartley and son, James, West Toronto; Mr. Alex. Donaldson, Wingham, and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Clark, Dundas. The sympathy of all the friends and neighbors goes out to the bereaved widow and family.

MRS. ELIZA NEIL

It is with regret that we chronicle the death of Mrs. Eliza Neil, of Camilla, who passed away on Saturday, March 25th, in her 77th year. The late Mrs. Neil was the youngest daughter of John Frame Sr., who died about the year 1886. She was the niece of the celebrated Dr. Robert Frame and Hugh Frame, the father of Mrs. Janet Heatherington. Mrs. Neil was born in the city of New York on May 20th, 1844, and when about seven years of age came to Mono with her parents and her brothers, Robert and John Frame, and her sister, Margaret Frame. At the age of 21 years she was married to Alexander Neil, who died in the year 1875. They had a family of five sons, three of whom are still living, namely, John, of Chicago, Ill.; Alexander Grant, of Brantford, N. D., and Robert P., a dentist in Calumet, Mich., all of whom were home at the time of their mother's death. Mrs. Neil belonged to a longlived family, the combined ages of the members of her own family and five uncles and aunts—eleven persons in all—aggregating 931 years, an average of over 84 years and 7 months. Deceased was highly thought of and her genial companionship will be greatly missed in her home community. Her relatives and many friends mourn the great loss they have sustained in her death.

The funeral was held from her late home in Camilla on Wednesday afternoon, March 29th, interment taking place in Burns' Church Cemetery, Mono Centre. Rev. Wm. Coutts, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Camilla, conducted the funeral service.

JAMES DENNISON

ABBOTSFORD, B. C., March 15th—The death of Mr. James Dennison occurred at his home in Abbotsford at 12.20 on Monday morning. The late Mr. Dennison had been in declining health since the 9th of January, being nine weeks ill. He sank rapidly during the last few days, and shortly after midnight he passed peacefully away surrounded by his near relatives and friends, at the advanced age of 82 years. He was born in Peel County, Ontario, on the 3rd of April, 1840. In that neighborhood he lived nearly all his life. He was a carpenter by trade, engaged in bridge-building and contracting in different kinds of woodworking operations. On the 8th of January, 1863, he was united in marriage with Miss Amanda Bull, who died 37 years ago. They had a family of nine, of whom five died in early youth. The following survive to mourn the loss of their father; Mrs. G. F. Zeigler, Mrs. J. K. McMenemy, of Abbotsford, and Mrs. E. A. Thompson, of Vancouver. There is also one son, Mr. William Louis Dennison, of Columbus, Ohio, U. S. A. Eight years ago Mr. Dennison came west to Abbotsford and made his home with his daughter, Mrs. J. K. McMenemy, and family, where he spent his years of retirement in great comfort. The late Mr. Dennison was a man of great energy and activity in his earlier life, had remarkable health and strength, unselfishly sought to be independent, was unwilling to be a source of trouble to any one and was a valuable citizen, assisting in every good work. He was a consistent member of the Methodist Church for a great many years and was a regular worshipper so long as he was able to attend.

The funeral services were held in the Presbyterian Church on Tuesday afternoon conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. Robertson, who preached from the text "The hoary head is a crown of glory, if it be found in the way of righteousness." Prov. 16:31. The hymns sung were old favorites of him who is gone, "There is a Land that is Fairer than Day" and "Shall we Gather at the River?" The audience was composed chiefly of old friends and relatives.

The pallbearers were particular friends viz., Messrs. T. J. Milsted, J. T. Gambel, J. Higginson, A. Thompson, L. McNeill and N. Wahlman. The remains were interred in the Hazelwood Cemetery at St. Nicholas.

HIGH-MILEAGE—DOUBLE-LIFE

Dunlop leadership in Tiredom is most manifest. Mileage records almost unbelievable are piling up all over Canada.

The Special Mileage-Making Process, which is the basis of our Fabric Tires, has worked wonders.

Perfect shape and balance, stronger side walls to resist curb and rut abuse, special wear-resisting anti-skid tread, etc., add the last touch to popularity, to the full a tire that has long stood in high favor.

Dunlop "Cords" made good from their inception.

These tires taught motorists to expect more resiliency, greater air space, larger amount of material, better carrying capacity—in short, bigger mileage, and that is the standard by which all Cord Tires are judged to-day.

BOWLING MEETING

The annual meeting of the Orangeville Lawn Bowling Club will be held in the Auditorium of the Library Building on Wednesday night, April 19th, at 8 o'clock. All bowlers are requested to be present.

BLOUNT

The Blount Women's Institute held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Miss Mabel Huskisson. Despite the inclement weather there was an excellent attendance of the ladies. The programme consisted of songs by Mrs. Wm. Allen, Miss M. Dodds and Miss Monaghan, and instrumental music by Mrs. Geo. Huskisson and Miss Nellie Pierson. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in quilting a quilt. A dainty luncheon was served before the close of the meeting. The next meeting will be held in the Blount schoolhouse. All the members are urgently requested to be present as the officers are to be elected for the ensuing year.

HONOUR ROLL

St. John's Church, Mono Mills, Sunday, April 16th. Special Easter services. Subject, "The Resurrection." Preacher, Rev. D. G. Atkinson. All are welcome.

WALDEMAR

Getting ready for seeding is the order of the day around our burg.

We are glad to see Mr. R. Rodgers out again after his rather lengthy illness.

Mr. Harry Lovell has returned to our town for the summer.

Mayor Boyle is doing some fancy stepping down at the Mill these days.

We are sorry to learn of the rather severe illness of Mrs. S. Jackson at the home of her brother, Robert Osborne, of the village.

The Presbyterian Church of this place has decided not to hold divine service during the month of April.

Mr. Robert Rodgers, of East Luther, paid our burg a flying visit last week.

Mrs. J. A. and Miss Ruby McLeod visited friends in the city last week.

Mr. J. A. Butler, our garage man, is getting ready for a big rush of work this summer.

Wedding bells are getting louder on the ninth line.

Mr. Cyril Hewitt left on Monday to take a position with the C. P. R. Bridge Department.

CAMILLA

Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd have moved into our community. We extend them a hearty welcome.

The Neil brothers have returned to their respective homes after attending the funeral of their mother, the late Mrs. Eliza Neil.

We are sorry to lose our general storekeeper, Mr. Alex. Mann, but glad to learn that he is still a resident of the community.

A large crowd attended the Y. P. S. meeting on Saturday night. An interesting debate took place on the subject, "Resolved that Consolidated Schools would be a Benefit to the Community." The subject was well argued on both sides, the affirmative winning by a narow margin.

Miss Norma Henry has again commenced to give music lessons at Camilla.

All roads will lead to Camilla on Friday evening, April 21st, when the Y. P. S. will stage the Play entitled "The Fruits of His Folly."

In looking over last week's Banner we concluded that the Camilla scribe must be a modern Rip Van Winkle, waking up one beautiful April morning and thinking modern thoughts about ancient events. We hate to doubt the veracity, but his imagination is wonderful. We cannot help but wonder why his brain is dusty. Perhaps he ponders too much over the events that don't happen around Camilla. We suggest a trip to Hamilton as a possible cure.

On dit:—

Considering the poor sleighing a week ago Sunday it was no wonder that Norman C. had to leave T. Gallaugher's at an early hour.

Mr. Peterson visited Miss Chrona Lundy over the week-end.

As we look around it seems like old times when Frank Turner wanders up the Centre Road.

We wonder if Andrew and Harold still anticipate good times during the holidays.

Mrs. Jennie Stewart has gone to Moose Jaw, Sask., for the summer.

Miss E. McNaughton has returned home from a pleasant visit with friends in Hamilton and London.

In the passing away of Mrs. Eliza Neil, this community loses one of its most beloved and highly respected members. The gentle attributes which dominated her character spoke in tones of broadest sympathy and kindly interest in her intercourse with others. She has made her home with her niece, Mrs. Alex. Bell, for some years. Besides Mrs. Bell she leaves to mourn her loss three sons, John, of Chicago; Dr. Robert, of Calumet, Mich., and Grant, of Brantford, North Dakota, all of whom were here for the funeral. We extend sincerest sympathy to those bereaved.

The members of the Ladies' Aid and Women's Institute met at the manse a week ago Saturday and presented Mrs. Mann with a beautiful silver sugar bowl and spoon, in appreciation of her many sterling qualities, and regret at her departure. The Canadian Girls in Training presented Miss Elizabeth Mann with a fine book. She was a general favorite and will be much missed.

The Y. P. S. held a successful debate on Consolidated Schools last Saturday night. The affirmative, taken by Arthur Curtis and Miss Gordon, was the winning side.

UNSIGHTLY PIMPLES AND FACE ERUPTIONS

In the Spring Most People Need a Tonic Medicine.

One of the surest signs that the blood is out of order is the pimples, unsightly eruptions and eczema that come frequently with the change from winter to spring. These prove that the long indoor life of winter has had its effect upon the blood, and that a tonic medicine is needed to put it right. Indeed, there are few people who do not need a tonic at this season. Bad blood does not merely show itself in disfiguring eruptions. To this same condition is due attacks of rheumatism and lumbago; the sharp stabbing pains of sciatica and neuralgia; poor appetite and a desire to avoid exertion. You cannot get rid of these troubles by the use of purgative medicines—you need a tonic, and a tonic only, and among all medicines there is none can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for their tonic, blood-improving, nerve-restoring powers. Every dose of this medicine helps make new, rich blood which drives out impurities, stimulates every organ and brings a feeling of new health and energy to weak, tired, ailing men, women and children. If you are out of sorts give this medicine a trial and see how quickly it will restore the appetite, revive drooping spirits and fill your veins with new, health-giving blood.

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DEATH OF MRS. BARCLAY

At an early hour Friday morning, March 31st, 1922, the death took place of Mrs. Elizabeth Barclay, widow of the late David McKenzie Barclay, of Eramosa, at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. John Sloan, 17 Strange St., Guelph. The late Mrs. Barclay, who had reached the age of 76 years, had been in failing health for the past years, but it was only within the last two weeks that her condition grew serious, and she was called by death on Friday morning. Born in Aberdeen, Scotland, deceased came out to Canada when a child and settled with her parents in Garafraxa. After her marriage she moved to Guelph Township, and later to Eramosa, where she spent the greater part of her life. She has been residing in Guelph with her daughter, Mrs. Sloan, Strange St., since last fall. There are left to mourn her loss, one sister, Mrs. Robert McAdams, Sarnia; six daughters, Mrs. K. A. Brown, and Mrs. J. H. Grady, Vancouver; Mrs. E. Pattison, Victoria, B. C.; Mrs. John Sloan, Guelph; Mrs. T. Forsythe, Eramosa, and Miss May Barclay, Superintendent of the Lord Dufferin Hospital at Orangeville; also two sons, Delorme, of Eramosa, and David, on the old homestead.

CONNOR–M'BRIDE

A pretty wedding took place in the home of Mrs. M. Connor, 267 Withrow Avenue, Toronto, Wednesday, April 5th, when Miss Viola M. McBride became the bride of Mr. Thos. F. Connor in the presence of their immediate relatives. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. I. Hunter. The bride, who was given away by her eldest brother, was attired in a smart blue travelling suit, with hat to match, fox fur and a corsage bouquet of sweet peas and roses. She was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Reta Connor, and the groom by the bride's brother, Mr. Victor McBride. After the ceremony the happy couple left for a short honeymoon. On their return they will reside in their new home, 2085 Gerrard Street East.

MAY–PENNY

At Victoria Presbyterian Church, Toronto, the marriage took place quietly of Gladys E., eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Penny, to Mr. Edward E. May, youngest son of Mrs. S. E. May, 88 Annette St., Toronto. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. T. L. McKerroll, the pastor of the young couple. The bride, who was attended by her sister, Margaret, looked charming in a blue serge suit and fox furs, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. Mr. R. Eaton was best man. A reception at the home of the bride's parents, 5 Alpine Ave., followed the ceremony, Mrs. Penny receiving in brown Canton crepe. Mr. and Mrs. May left later for their new home at 119 Medland St.

DOBBYN–ANDERSON

A quiet wedding was solemnized in First Methodist Church, Brandon, on Wednesday, March 22nd, when Mr. R. H. Dobbyn was joined in marriage to Miss Lizzie Anderson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Anderson. Rev. A. R. Maunders officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Dobbyn returned to their home here on Friday—Melita, Man., New Era.

The New Era also gives the following report of a shower in honor of Miss Anderson prior to her marriage:—

On Saturday, March 18th, a very novel kitchen shower was given when a number of Golden Link Rebekah Lodge, No. 7, gathered at the home of Mrs. Roy Davis, in honor of Miss Lizzie Anderson. After playing games and other stunts, Mammy Judy was led in, dressed in a fine array of kitchen towels (hot dish, mits, pot holders), and bearing a basket of other articles too numerous to mention. The towels were embroidered in suitable designs, which made Mammy look very novel indeed. She was presented to the bride-to-be, Mammy saying these words:

Lawsey Massey, looker, hyere,
What I'se braught you honey,
I'd take de close right off mah back
To make your kitchen sunny.

Miss Anderson was taken very much by surprise, and almost too full to reply. This shower shows the high esteem in which Miss Anderson is held among her Sister Rebekahs. Lunch was then served, after which "She is a jolly good fellow" was sung. We wish her long life and happiness.

The young people of the neighborhood also presented Miss Anderson with a number of useful gifts in a beautifully decorated umbrella, and other friends presented her with miscellaneous gifts in a tastefully decorated wagon, drawn by two little girls dressed as brides.

The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Anderson, are former residents of the Camilla neighborhood in Mono.

LAUREL

A special Union Good Friday service will be held in the Presbyterian Church at 8 o'clock. This is the day when we commemorate the death of our Lord, and surely we could not do better than attend Divine Service in memory of such an event. Everyone in the community is invited to attend.

Mrs. J. S. Wallace, who has been confined to her bed for a couple of weeks, is, we are glad to report, gradually improving.

Miss Edna Langtree is able to be around again after being indisposed for over a week.

Mr. Jackson Hamilton presided at the Epworth League meeting on Monday night, when a round table conference was held on the work of the League in the community. Next Monday night a Missionary Rally will be held, when Rev. A. E. Owen, B. A., of Shelburne, the District Secretary of young people's work, will give an address. You should hear him. All are invited. Come and make this a real rally. Refreshments will be served.

The choir of the Methodist Church were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Johnston on Tuesday evening, last, when, after a short practice, a real enjoyable time was had by playing several amusing games. The hostess provided a most dainty and delicious lunch, which, to say the least, was appreciated by all present.

Next Sunday being Easter Sunday the choirs are preparing special music for the occasion, also special Easter messages wil be delivered by the Pastors. Everybody should be in their place at church on the glad Easter day. The Epworth League of the Methodist Church are purchasing Easter lillies with which to decorate the church. These will be sent to the "shut-ins" after.

MELANCTHON STATION

(Intended for last week.)

Beautiful spring has come once more and all nature seems to be a-glow. Several have tapped their maple trees and report a copious flow of sweet, strong sap—sweeter than in former years.

Quite a number of the farmers have had Dan Martell, with his sawing machine, cutting their summer's wood.

Melancthon is to have a portable sawmill started a little east of the village, on the Gallaugher property. Messrs. Watson and Kitchen will operate the enterprise, which has been much needed since the late Mr. Sloane gave up the milling business a few years ago.

Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. Geo. Barrett visited Toronto friends.

Mr. S. Sawden, of Toronto, is visiting his brother, James Sawden, here.

Mr. John Waters has rented the farm on the Gravel Road, below the 5th line corner, from Adam McKibbon, for a term of years and has moved thither. Mr. Dobson, of Toronto has purchased the Waters farm from George McComb, who bought it a short time ago. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Carson have rented the Waters farm, which, in pioneer days, was known as the LaVell farm.

Our neighbor, Mr. Jas. Sawden, had the misfortune to lose a valuable three year old steer from indigestion.

If Melancthon became notorious in former days for fire-bugs and murderers, we are recovering our reputation in these later days, for this township has the unique distinction, to which it is doubtful if any other township in the Dominion of Canada can make a similar claim, viz., of having supplied three members of parliament at the same time, namely, R. J. Woods, M. P. for Dufferin; R. H. Halbert, M. P. for North Ontario, and T. K. Slack, M. P. P. for Dufferin, all from the good old township of Melancthon.

HILLSBURG

(Intended for last week.)

Wallace Nodwell, younger son of Robt. Nodwell, of the 14th concession, East Garafraxa, passed successfully through an operation for appendicitis at the Orangeville Hospital last Saturday, and is progressing favorably at this time of writing.

Miss Mary McFee is confined to bed with a severe illness from bronchial pneumonia, but is reported to day somewhat better.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Turner, Mrs. Norris Huxley, Wm. Barbour, of the 9th con., Erin, and Miss Myrtle Hall, have severe colds at present. Nearly all the rest of the village are coughing or sneezing.

Last Friday, March 31st, two of our people were called by death in the decease of Jas. Rodgers and Charles Gilleat. The late Mr. Jas. Rodgers was buried at Huxley's cemetery on Saturday afternoon, April 1st. The funeral of the late Charles Gilleat took place on Sunday afternoon, April 2nd, Rev. F. C. Harper officiating at the services at the house and the graveside in both cases. The late Charles Gilleat was of English birth, being born at Coxhill, Lanchashire, on Sept. 18th, 1843. On his arrival in Canada he came to Hillsburg in 1868, where in the following year he married Miss Sarah Green, who, with three of their children, predeceased him. The only surviving son is William, at whose home in the village the deceased died last Friday night. The funeral services were private, but many citizens attended to pay their last respects to the memory of another oldtimer thus called away. Messrs. Wm., Jas., Sidney and Norman Cox and Wm. Cox Jr., and Norman Potter were the pallbearers. Interment took place at Huxley's Cemetery.

MRS. WM. H. FERGUSON

An old resident of Amaranth township in the person of Annie Bell Dunlop, widow of the late Wm. H. Ferguson, died at the residence of her son, Chas. Ferguson, 1842 Queen Street East, Toronto, on Tuesday, March 28th, after a brief illness. Deceased was born in Ayrshire, Scotland, her parents coming to Canada when she was quite young and settled on lot 19, 3rd con., Amaranth township, on the farm now occupied by Wm. Farnell. She was married in Amaranth to Wm. H. Ferguson, who died twenty-five years ago. For about eight years past she had been spending the winters with members of her family in Toronto and the summers with members of her family in Amaranth. Five sons and four daughters survive: Charles, Toronto; Herbert, in Saskatchewan; James, John and Thomas, in Amaranth; Mrs. R. J. Lewis, Morningside, Alta.; Misses Margaret, Lavina and Agnes, Toronto. Mrs. Chas. Kinsley, Amaranth, is a sister. The funeral took place to Shelburne cemetery Friday afternoon from the residence of her son, John A. Ferguson, lot 27, 6th line, Amaranth. The service was conducted by Rev. J. A. Reddon, of Laurel. The pallbearers were Adam Shepherd, Jas. H. Bell, John Sproule, Alex. Rintoul, Wm. Rintoul and Jos. Kinsley. The following were the floral tributes: Pillow, the famiy; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ferguson; pillow, the grandchildren; spray, Geo. McBeath; wreath, the Curry family; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Harrison; spray, Messrs. James and Wm. Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Sime; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Witherspoon; spray, Miss E. Kennedy; spray, W. J. Clarke; spray, Miss C. Honnis.—Free Press.

LAUREL

(Intended for last week.)

Despite the fact that the sun crossed the line on March 21st, and the elements disturbed themselves to such an extent that a real blizzard raged from the north, yet "Star Bright" shone most brilliantly in Laurel Town Hall that same evening, much to the delight of the capacity audience that filled the Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hamilton, for the time being, became Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Bright, the heads of the Bright household. Star, in the person of Miss Pearl Trimble, and Miss Lettie Morrow as Sunshine, were the two daughters of the Bright family, and proved to be all that their names suggested, a veritable star and sunbeam. "Sunny" ever saw the beautiful side of things and made her influence felt on the lives of all with whom she came in contact. Miss Mary Adams, as Bird Denton, was a pleasing young college girl and took her part with great credit to herself. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gray, as Jake and Melinda, kept the house in raptures throughout the evening. It took Jake thirteen long years to get up courage to tell "Lindy" that he wanted her to tie his green neck tie. Jackson Hamilton and Ernest Richardson were the two Mr. W. W. Smiths, and were continually being taken for the wrong person, the former, playing the part of a private detective, was constantly in hot water, as he was taken first for the new preacher, then the doctor, then the assessor, then as Bird Denton's lover. Tom Nelson was the villian in the play, and although it was a difficult part to play, he took it with ease and credit. Altogether the performance was pronounced "one of the best" each one being well adapted to their parts which they took with delight to the appreciative audience present. Many requests have been made that it should be repeated, and Dame Rumour is credited as saying that it will be repeated some time soon. The play was given under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church. An orchestra of six pieces added much to the enjoyment of the evening by playing betwen acts. The League wishes to publicly thank the members of the orchestra for their kindness in so doing.

Mr. A. D. Harrison, who for the past three years has been assisting Mr. W. R. Grosskurth, has moved his family to Dundalk, where he is starting up business for himself.

In both churches last Sunday the facts of the great famine in Russia were laid before the people by both pastors, and we understand that quite generous responses were made to the appeal. For any who were not out last Sunday and who would like to make a contribution to this most worthy cause, they may do so by putting it in an envelope, marking it "Russian Famine Fund," and putting it on the plate next Sunday.

Miss L. Morrow was home to Dundalk over Sunday and we understand went on to Toronto on Monday.

Miss Olive Pratt, who has been home for the past six weeks, left this week to continue her training in Grace Hospital, Toronto.

At the Ladies' Aid meeting held at the parsonage two weeks ago, a presentation of a beautiful fruit dish was made to Mrs. A. D. Harrison on the eve of her departure for her new home in Dundalk. Mrs. Harrison has been Secretary of the Aid during the past year, and will be greatly missed from the organization and church.

IN MEMORIAM.

COURTNEY—In loving memory of our dear brother, Pte. W. J. Courtney, who was killed in action somewhere in France on April 5th, 1918.

We pictured his face returning,
We longed to clasp his hand;
But God has postponed the meeting,
'Til we meet in a Better Land.

He lies in a grave in a far-off land—
A grave that we may never see;
But as long as life and memory last,
We will remember thee.

SANDBAGGING THE ALPHABET

One little boy in the Belgian District, India, learned to read and write while herding cattle. He carried with him, when he went to the pasture, a bag of sand. While the herd was grazing, he would spread his sand on a smooth place and call another shepherd boy, who knew the alphabet, to come and teach him.

As the cattle ate their way from field to field, he bagged his sand and repeated the proces. In this way the boy learned to read and write. He is now a Christian. It is from such plucky youngsters that Sunday-school teachers and Day School teachers are recruited.

These schools must do their beneficent work with almost no buildings. In most villages the idol temple is used if it is large enough. The pupils sit on the ground. The teacher may have a box or an old chair. When slates and pencils are not available, the children spread sand upon the ground and use the index finger for pencil. The work in this district is much hampered for lack of buildings and equipment.

Charles Brock, aged 56, sailor and fisherman, of Port Dover dropped dead while waiting for a car.

I'm So Tired

Fatigue is the result of poisons in the blood. So when the kidneys fail to purify the blood one of the first indications is unusual and persistent tired feelings and pains in the back.

Neglected kidney troubles lead to years of suffering from rheumatism or develop into such fatal ailments as Bright's disease.

The kidney action is promptly corrected by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills — the best known regulator of kidneys, liver and bowels.

Mrs. John Ireland, R.R. No. 2, King, Ont., writes:

"I was a great sufferer from severe headaches and bilious spells. I tried a number of remedies without obtaining any benefit until I was advised to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. These completely relieved me and made me feel like a new person. I am very grateful to Dr. Chase's medicines for what they have done for me, and you may use my letter for the benefit of others."

WANT HIGHWAY CHANGED

Land-owners residing on the 2nd line, west, and 25 sideroad, Mono, recently petitioned the Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Works and Highways, asking his consideration to the diverting of the route of the Provincial Highway now being constructed in that township. The original plan provided that the highway was to extend from Orangeville to Primrose, via the Prince of Wales Road. Work is now completed as far as Elba Corners. We are informed that some of the property owners north of that point have seriously objected to the further extension of the highway north, and are refusing to meet with the necessary requirements. Thereupon the petitioners above referred to asked that the highway be diverted at Elba Corners one concession west, thence via the Second Line, west, to the north townline. The petition was received unanimously by all those whose property skirts the proposed route, and was recently forwarded to the Hon. F. C. Biggs. It is said many thousands of dollars can be saved the province by adopting the course outlined by the petitioners, who are awaiting with interest the final decision of the Hon. F. C. Biggs in the matter.—Free Press.

THAT INSTITUTE MEETING

(Intended for last Issue.)

"Well, I'll be blessed! There's that old phone again and me up to the elbows in dough. It can just ring away there." But, meanwhile, in spite of swearing grim vengeance on the phone, Mrs. Morrison had dipped her fingers into the flour saucer, cleared them of dough, and in her best telephone voice, carried on her side of the conversation.

"Hello! Yes, this is Mrs. Morrison."—"Is that you Belle?"—"Are you going—?" "Well, no! I think I won't go—". "I'm baking and then there's a churning and—" "Well, yes, I know a person might stick in the house forever—" "Yes, I'll ring up before I leave so that we can meet at the corner—" "Goodbye."

"There now! I'm going to the Institute meeting with Belle Carson after all. I just wonder if I am a silly goose to lose the time," thought Mrs. Morrison. "Hadn't I just decided this morning I couldn't go today and besides I had a headache. If Chrisie Sloan hadn't come in for a few minutes yesterday I'd never dreamt of being too busy to go. Somehow Chrisie always puts a damper on our Institute. Thank goodness the telephone saved me this time."

Chrisie Sloan was such a busy person. She had no time for "Institoot Meetins'" she boasted. It was alright for people that liked gadding about and talking about their neighbors to attend the meetings, but as for her—she was busy from morning to night and believed in so such newfangled affairs. No woman who tended her house and kept up with her work had any business attending an "Institoot." No, indeed! Especially in housecleaning time. Of course she didn't stay very long with Mrs. Morrison, for as she expressed it: "I'm so busy."

Isn't it wonderful how many Chrisies we have in this old world—people who are too busy to cultivate the friendship of their neighbors and who cannot spare one afternoon a month to refresh their own souls as well as uplift the social and moral standing of their own little neighborhood. What an influence they can exert, in a wrong direction, too.

I said Mrs. Morrison was baking when the phone rang. But you should have seen her now, cutting out cakes with a vengeance, to the strains of "Away down upon the Swanee River," a smile on her face that would delight the heart of any photographer. Work—well I guess she did. Everything was done by noon and a good dinner on the table, when her husband announced twelve o'clock by a great scraping and stamping of feet at the back kitchen door. Joe was as good as any dinner bell. He seemed to know exactly when it was time to eat.

"Well, I'll be hanged! What's on to-day? Hair all combed up in the latest and your good boots on!" greeted Joe in his big hearty way. "Oh, you are going to the meeting after all? That's right. What's the use of scraping around after dust and cobwebs all your days? No, you needn't walk. I'll hitch old Bess for you. She is just aching for exercise. But don't overheat her. (This was a standing joke, for Old Bess never was known to exert herself in all her twenty years) Let's eat now, then you can get on your finery and I'll have the rig at the door in no time."

As Mrs. Morrison set up the potatoes and meat from the stove her countenance showed no change, but her heart sang within her to know that her Joe was anxious and willing to see her attend the meetings.

In a few minutes the buggy was at the door and Joe was tucking the robe around the good wife, and, like all men, his last expression was: "Now, don't stay too late." Old Bess seemed to enjoy the warm, bright day in April as well as Mrs. Morrison, as she jogged along to the corner where Belle was already waiting. Then before the two happy passengers had had half enough time to plan and discuss their spring work and infinite number of like interests, the faithful old driver had them safely landed at their destination.

Such a splendid meeting it was. Each member had made a block for the Orangeville Hospital Quilt. There they were—those blocks of all shades and sizes. I'm afraid, too—spread out on the clean kitchen floor to be viewed and talked over and then finally sewed together by the older women. The quilting was to take place at the May meeting. Next on the program was a very instructive Paper on "Gardening," a discussion of housecleaning, a very humorous recitation and the usual friendly and helpful exchanging of ideas, forming of new friendships and strengthening of old ones. How quickly the time flies and before they know where the afternoon is gone, lunch is served, and a happy crowd of women start out for home once more, so much younger and so much more courageous and able to attack the old everyday round of work.

That evening, while sitting around the stove after the chores were finished, with Joe comfortably filling his pipe with the best McDonald smoking tobacco, Lizzie Morrison told him all that she had learned at the Institute—how Mrs. Craig had told her that soda would cure quinsy if taken right at the start—how the Institute was sending a bunch of flowers to poor old Mrs. Brown, who was ill with the "flu," how she was going to get garden seeds through the Institute this year, etc., finishing up with: "Oh, Joe! I do enjoy the Institute. It just seems to be an inspiration for me in every way," and, believe me, Joe enjoyed it, too. I just know he did.

All next week Mrs. Morrison kept pondering over that phrase of Chrissie Sloan's. She knew the reason now why the Sloan girl left home early—They were starved and stunted in an atmosphere of "We're so busy."

ROSEMONT

(Intended for last Issue.)

As we have not seen anything in The Banner for some time of what is going on around Rosemont, I thought I would take a stroll about and see some of the people. Shortly after I landed in Alliston I met Harry Moore, Rosemont's garage man. Of course he asked me to go with him and I did so. We were coming near the village when we met Trueman Moore. Harry said it was Council meeting time now and Trueman had some business to attend to. In view of this we did not detain him. When we reached Rosemont I said I would go up to George Gilmore's for dinner. George told me that his boys had both started to go to see the girls. He thought Joe had big notions on the Third Line, but was meeting with some opposition. After dinner Gordon said he was going south and would give me a ride. We had only gone a short way down when we met Sherman Hall on his way to a sawing bee at J. McDowell's. He admitted that he had burnt some and had a right to cut some more. When we got down to the Corner I asked Gordon where he was going. He said either to Relessey or Mono Centre, he didn't know which. I stopped at The Globe and to my surprise found that Claude Hall was still keeping on fires. He informed me that Milton Armstrong was going to Welland to finish his course in law if things didn't soon brighten up. I also asked about George Armstrong and someone told me that he was holidaying in Toronto now. I thought I would go on south and on the way met Wilfred S., who said he was in the horse dealing business now and thriving well. I next asked for Vernon and he said that he and Art Caldwell were away north deer hunting. I had not gone far when I met Austin Patterson, who expressed the opinion that the sleighing was very thin and added that he had decided to return and get the buggy. I sure enjoyed the ride with Austin. He told me all about the Sixth Line and about Philip being away to Mono Centre and about expecting Reuben along any time. After we had changed vehicles I accompanied Austin along the Seventh Line and there we saw Clifford beating it off to Rosemont and John to Violet Hill. I got a ride from the Sixth Line with Harold Robinson, who stated that he had farther to travel now, but a better road. After I had parted company with Harold I walked to Shelburne and took the train to the city.

SHARES GETTING VALUABLE

Stock in the Caledon Lake Company is becoming increasingly valuable as the years go by. A couple of decades ago the Company could not find it an easy matter to sell its stock, although the share price was then very much less than it is to-day. The other day the last share in the treasury was sold to a local buyer for $500 and the Company could make a few more sales at the same figure if it had the stock to dispose of. At present the capital of the Company consists of 81 shares, but we understand that steps are being taken to secure a new charter with a larger capitalization. So many new cottages have been built at the Lake in recent years that cottagers can now have a delightful social time as well as enjoy the cooling breezes, fishing, and boating that constitute some of the place's attractions as a summer resort.

THE CANADIAN CLUB

The Orangeville Canadian Club held its annual meeting in the Auditorium of the Public Library on Friday night. Mr. T. S. Parkinson, President for the past year, occupied the chair. After the reception and discussion of reports from the different officers the election of officers for the ensuing year was proceeded with. The new officers are:—

Hon.-President, T. S. Parkinson; President, Jack M. Aiken; 1st Vice-President, C. R. Wheelock; 2nd Vice-President, C. V. Jeffers; Secretary, J. E. Sutherland; Treasurer, C. A. Lamon; Literary Correspondent, A. D. McKitrick; Directors, Capt. Firth, U. W. Christie, Capt. Stewart, A. A. Hughson, E. Hackett. It was decided to postpone the annual banquet of the Club until next autumn, when it will be held for the purpose of opening next series of meetings.

Mr. John S. Lacon, Amaranth Station, announces the engagement of his daughter, Mary Amelia, to Mr. Percy A. Crawshaw. The marriage will take place during April.

WATCH FOR "JUNGLE LAND" NEXT WEEK

The date of the Kellogg "Jungleland" campaign advertising has been set forward one week, April 18th to May 3rd, instead of April 11th to 25th.

The demand for Kellogg's WAX-TITE Corn Flakes with the "Jungleland" book for children has already been so great and so far exceeded expectations, that the Kellogg Toasted Corn Flake Co., of Toronto, find it impossible to take care of the orders received to date and at the same time produce sufficient goods to get proper distribution in this locality. The first advertisement will appear in this paper next week.

ARCHIVES OF ONTARIO TORONTO

LOCAL NEWS.

—Building operations are getting nicely under way in town.

—See and hear The Minstrels in the Opera House on April 20th and 21st.

—Build up your system and feel fine all the time by taking Tanlac. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ontario.

—Mr. Robert Holmes is busy altering and enlarging the dwelling house on the northeast corner of Second St. and Third Ave. Mr. Holmes will have quite a commodious dwelling when he is through.

—Why mope around, half sick and listless, when health and strength are yours for the asking? Take Tanlac. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ontario.

—Workmen have the ground broken for the foundation of the new residence Dr. Bowles is erecting on West Broadway. The Dr. is building on the south side of the street just east of Mrs. Sherman's residence.

—The last Concert of the season, but not the least, and it's for the Rink.

—Mr. I. W. McArdle, formerly law partner of the Hon. I. B. Lucas, of Markdale, has been elected Grand Master of the Grand Orange Lodge of Alberta. Mr. McArdle is a graduate of the Orangeville High School.

—As Mr. H. A. Duke, treasurer of the local Council of the C. O. C. F., has removed to Toronto, members of the Order are asked to pay their dues to Mr. B. McGuire, who is acting as Secretary-Treasurer in Mr. Duke's stead.

—Gerry Sanderson is busy putting up a lower storey on the stone cottage near the north end of Second St. The addition will make a big improvement to the appearance of the house and will enhance its value very materially as a dwelling.

—Mosquitos made their advent on Monday night, about six weeks earlier than they usually do.

—Orangeville Spring Assizes will commence on Monday, April 24th, with Mr. Justice Riddell presiding.

—Laugh! Yes, and forget your aches and pains and troubles, when enjoying The Minstrel jokes and songs.

—Remarkable weather for April. Sunday and Monday the heat experienced here was of the real summer variety.

—Mrs. Wm. Braiden, Mill St., who has been in very poor health all winter, was able to be up town on Tuesday for the first time in two months.

—Tickets, please! Help The Minstrels help the Rink people to help the children to be able to help you.

—Mr. W. C. Hopkins is at work in his office again this week after three weeks' absence owing to illness. Mr. Hopkins was laid up with a severe attack of the flu.

—Laugh! Yes, and you won't stop it soon, when you see and hear The Minstrel Follies and the Scotch Negro.

—The Bell Telephone Co. had 3271 poles down during the last sleet storm. If these were all on one line they would cover a stretch of about seventy miles.

—And no outsider is carrying away a big percentage of the proceeds. One ticket, two tickets, five tickets and your presence at The Minstrel Show will encourage those who give their time and energy free.

—Every ticket you buy for The Minstrel Show helps to keep that boy or girl of yours off the street and out of questionable places.

—Frogs have been indulging in their usual spring serenade every night this week. Their land cousins, the toads, were also hopping about on the walks just as lively as they are wont to after a midsummer shower.

—This is April fair day.

—Sunday next will be Easter.

—Friday will be Good Friday and a public holiday.

—Country roads were very bad over the week-end, but they are improving now.

—Mr. and Mrs H. A. Duke have taken up their residence at 712 Gladstone Avenue, Toronto.

—A special offering will be taken in the Crawford's Church of the Mono Mills Methodist Circuit next Sabbath in aid of the Russian Famine Fund.

—The heavy rain on Monday night worked a miricle in the appearance of the town lawns. The grass in many instances was quite green on Tuesday morning.

—His friends will be glad to learn that there is some improvement in the condition of Mr. Geo. Allen, Zina St., who has been seriously ill with erysipelas for the last two weeks.

—Miss Minnie Washington, of Farmington, was successfully operated on for tonsils and adenoids in Lord Dufferin Hospital last week. Drs. Eyles and Rooney performed the operation.

—Maple syrup is not so plentiful this spring, although a certain amount is making its way into the local market. The price varies from $2.25 to $3.00 and some farmers are asking $3.50 for their product.

—Robert Densmore, a farmer living near Grand Valley, was badly injured in a bush accident on Monday. The unfortunate man was struck by a falling tree. It is reported that both arms and both legs were broken

—If you suffer from biliousness, constipation, headache, nervousness, sallow complexion, loss of appetite, bad taste in mouth, Tanlac and Tanlac Vegetable Pills will certainly straighten you out. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ont.

—Miss Marie Dodds, of Caledon, a student at the High School, had the misfortune to fall from the horizontal bar in the gymnasium on Tuesday, breaking her left collar bone. Dr. T. H. Henry reduced the fracture and the injured girl is doing nicely.

—The Shelburne Economist has started its twentieth year under the management of the present publisher, Mr. T. F. E. Claridge. Mr. Claridge issues a bright, newsy paper, that keeps right abreast of the times. The Banner extends its congratulations and wishes its cotem continued prosperity.

PERSONAL MENTION

HOSPITAL NOTES

An interesting programme was provided at the monthly meeting of The Daughters of The Empire at Mrs. J. Z. Henry's residence on Zina St. on Friday afternon. The numbers included a piano duet by Misses Marguerite Arnott and Marian Kearns, a Paper on the Life of Dr. Drummond, the widely known Canadian author and poet, by Mrs. J. E. Smith, a solo, "Sunrise and You," by Miss Kathleen Reid and the reading of Dr. Drummond's "The Habitant," by Mrs. W. C. Hopkins. There was an excellent turnout of the members and much interest was evinced in the programme and other proceedings.

The Linen Committee would be very grateful for cash donations to help augment the stock of hospital linen.

Mrs. C. R. McKeown has shown her customary interest and thoughtfulness by the timely gift of a linen tablecloth. We are also grateful to Mr. James Norris for the gift of four dozen eggs.

UNION W. M. S. MEETING

Members of the Women's Missionary Societies of the Anglican, Baptist and Presbyterian churches of the town were the guests of the ladies of the Methodist Church W. M. S. at a most enjoyable meeting in the schoolroom of the Methodist Church on Thursday afternon. Mrs. G. Beswick, President of the Methodist W. M. S., presided. A neatly phrased address of welcome was given by Mrs. Partridge and was responded to by greetings from the visiting societies, presented by Mrs. Endacott for St. Mark's Church, Mrs. Banks for the Baptist Church, and Mrs. Mahaffy for St. Andrew's. The programme included prayer by Mrs. Avison, choruses by the Methodist W.M.S. ladies, instrumental music by Mrs. Bowles and Mrs. Liddy, a Scripture reading and explanation by Mrs. Kearns Sr., and an address by Mrs. Sibley, wife of Rev. W. E. Sibley, a missionary in China, on the work of the Methodist Church in West China. The judicious use of a map of the Methodist Church field in West China made it much easier for the audience to grasp the importance of the work and the extent of the territory covered. Special interest attached to Mrs. Sibley's visit to Orangeville from the fact that her husband was at one time a student in the High School here. The programme was followed by lunch and a very pleasant social time. In the neighborhood of one hundred ladies attended the meting.

ORANGEVILLE ARENA, LTD.

As already announced the Concert by the Orangeville Minstrels in aid of the new Rink will take place on Thursday and Friday, April 20 and 21, in the Opera House. See posters for particulars as to tickets and plan of hall. Some forty people are taking part and are being trained by Mr. J. E. Jessop. Splendid support has been given during the past winter to concerts by home talent and it is hoped that this Concert will receive even better patronage, for all the proceeds will stay in town. Besides, the object is one that should appeal to every parent and to every person interested in the welfare of the community. If the present attempt to secure a Rink fails through lack of support, then it will likely be years before an attempt is again made.

Progress is at last being made toward securing a site, and the prospects at the moment seem good. Some of the newest rinks in other towns are being inspected and altogether things look much brighter than they did. If only the general public will back up the efforts of the Directors an up-to-date Rink is assured for next winter, but persistent, united efort is still needed.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS ALWAYS IN THE HOME

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she always keeps a supply on hand, for there is nothing to equal them in keeping children well. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach, thus driving out constipation and indigestion, colds and simple fevers and making teething easier. Concerning them, Mrs. Saluste Pelletier, St. Dumas, Que., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past ten years and am never without them in the house. They have always given the greatest satisfaction and I can gladly recommend them to all mothers of little ones." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or direct by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ANOTHER BIG SALE

The unfavorable condition of the roads did not prevent a large crowd from gathering for Mr. Thos. W. Huston's Auction Sale on the Centre Road, Caledon, on Friday afternoon. Bidding was spirited and Mr. Huston realized satisfactory prices for nearly everything that came under the hammer. A purebred Shorthorn cow realized $225 and a grade cow was knocked down for $125. Plymouth Rock fowl sold for $2.25 apiece. It is estimated that the sale realized in the neighborhood of $4,000. Auctioneer Jas. A. Patterson was in charge and showed his customary skill and judgment in the conduct of the sale.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

A memorial Service will be held in Adjala Presbyterian Church at 7 o'clock next Sunday evening for the late William Leggatt, who met his death so tragically in Toronto on Sunday evening. Rev. J. A. Matheson, the pastor, will have charge of the service.

—Schools will close today for the Easter vacation.

YET THE BELL RINGS

A press agent, travelling ahead of a circus, called on the owner of a general store, the only merchant in a little town.

"Brother," he said, "when the show gets in town we'll have the usual parade. And I want to rent you advertising space during the parade."

"Whereabouts?" the storekeeper asked.

"On the elephant. He's the greatest thing in the procession. I'll paint your name on each side of the elephant, and there won't be a man, woman or child for miles around who won't see your ad."

"There's not one of 'em don't know me already," replied the merchant, "and, what's more, they all trade here. Why should I advertise? I don't need it."

The circus man reflected. He looked across the street and felt stumped. He looked up the street and decided that he was stumped. Then, he looked down the street, as far as the church. Then he turned to the storekeeper.

"Nice church down there," he said. "How long has that been there?"

"Forty years, I guess," said the merchant, "and most everybody around here is a member."

"That church has been there forty years," said the circus man, "and most everybody in town belongs: and yet they ring the bell every Sunday morning.—New England Printer.

How to Grow New Skin!

Nothing is more wonderful than the human skin. It breathes through tiny mouths called pores. If it is kept whole and strong it improves the entire bodily health.

Those who know most about the complex structure of the skin appreciate the care that must be taken in deciding what is the safest, purest and best dressing to apply in time of accident or disease.

Much scientific thought and experiment was expended in the search for an ideal natural healing substance, but it has actually been found at last, in Nature's own storehouse of medicinal herbs.

Never in the world's history has there been another preparation like zam-buk. Amongst other virtues, it possesses that rare quality of actually growing new skin in Nature's own way.

A MIRACLE BEFORE YOUR EYES.

Healing the injured and diseased tissues by this precious herbal balm is a miracle that may be performed before your own eyes. Children remember zam-buk best for its great power in soothing and healing their hurts, whilst in the treatment of eczema, ringworm, chronic sores, ulcers and poisoned sores, zam-buk powerful antiseptic and tissue-building properties ensure success; again, many thousands have zam-buk alone to thank for their complete release from torturing piles.

Differing fundamentally and in action from all ordinary ointments, zam-buk is free from animal fats and mineral compounds. It is highly refined and contains no ingredient which the skin cannot readily absorb. A fifty-cent box of zam-buk may save you dollars in doctors' bills. It is a unique preparation with a wonderfully wide range of usefulness.

MRS. ROBT. M'CULLOCH

East Luther lost one of its pioneers on March 17th, in the death of Mrs. Robert McCulloch, after only a few days illness. She was a daughter of the late James Raney, of Esquesing, and came to Luther 47 years ago with her husband, settling on a bush lot, which is now one of the fine homesteads in this part. Their first year's experience was one of real hardships and disappointment—in loneliness, in crop failures and in the monotony of life. But, eventually success crowned their efforts. Deceased retained her membership in Grand Valley Presbyterian Church from the early days, the pastor, Rev. S. Lundie, conducting the funeral service. She had many of the kindly attributes of a true womanly instinct, devoted to her family and deserved respect shown by her friends. Besides her sorrowing husband she leaves five sons and two daughters: Thomas W., of Hespeler; James, near Brampton; Mrs. D. L. Gear, of East Garafraxa; John, of Amaranth; William, George and Jean at home. Mrs. E. W. McCulloch, of Grand Valley, Mrs. McGinnis, of Toronto, are sisters, and Wm. Raney, of Marquis, Sask., is a brother. The funeral took place on the 20th ult., to the Union Cemetery, Grand Valley, four sons and two nephews, James A. McCulloch and Alex. Raney, acting as pallbearers.—Star & Vidette.

ALGIERS MORE INTERESTING THAN PARIS

That, at Any Rate, is Opinion of Rochester Young Lady.

"Algiers is the place for interesting sights; Paris is, of course, the places for clothes, and Spain is the place for trouble," said Miss Melba Elizabeth Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm K. Gray, of 96 Chili avenue, commenting this morning on her 10,000-mile trip throughout the Eastern Hemisphere, from which she returned yesterday.

"How did you find living conditions in the countries which you visited?" she was asked.

"Oh, everything was lovely, and we didn't have a bit of trouble, except in Spain—that's a terrible place, and we couldn't get anything fit to eat."

"Did you like Paris?"

"It was wonderful—of course we did lots of shopping, but clothes are much more expensive than they are here. But I think I like Africa best. There are so many funny-looking people, and the most peculiar streets you can imagine. We had a guide who took us all through the native quarters, where women with the most gorgeous eyes stared at us as though they thought us as funny as we thought them. I don't know whether the women of Algiers are pretty or not, except for those wonderful eyes, because they always wear a veil over the lower part of their faces."

Miss Gray talked enthusiastically about the first royal wedding she had ever seen. She, together with the other members of her class from Miss Merril's School at Oaksmere, N. Y., were fortunate enough to secure excellent seats in Westminster Abbey for the marriage of Princess Mary to Lord Lascelles. "It was all very beautiful and thrilling," said Miss Gray, "and the Princess was the most charming bride I have ever seen."—Rochester, N. Y., Times-Union.

ORANGEVILLE ARENA, LTD.

Thursday and Friday evenings, April 20th and 21st, have been selected as the dates for the concerts of the Orangeville Minstrels, who are hard at work doing their bit to aid the above Company. More particular announcement later. In the meantime it is hoped that nothing else will be put on during that week to interfere in any way with the success of an organization, which is solely for the benefit of the town and its young people.

Absolutely no progress has been made in the matter of a site for the Rink, in spite of the endless amount of time that has been spent in efforts and negotiations to secure a suitable one. From the opposition that developes as soon as a site is proposed one would imagine that it was a glue factory or a slaughter house for a pork-packing business that was proposed. "The young people be damned; put your rink some place else," expresses the attitude of too many of the citizens.

Announcement to the Public

Because of the changed conditions in Business Affairs, I have been reluctantly compelled to withdraw my Delivery Wagon in order to reduce avoidable Expenses and meet present day competition.

I have reduced the Price of Bread, Cakes and Goods that we make ourselves, and am now selling Bread for 16c. a Large Loaf at the Store.

This Firm has served the Community for Thirty Years with the best Goods that could be produced and we are here to continue to do so and wish our Customers to understand that this change is to enable us to meet the changing conditions, which prevail in the business world of to-day.

All Phone Orders will receive our Prompt Attention and will be delivered as usual.

Give your Ford a square deal

THAT a Ford will stand anything is a popular belief based on the remarkable performance of Ford Cars and Trucks under the most adverse conditions. But there is one thing a Ford will not stand—the use of spurious parts.

Never permit a fake part to be used. Your Ford will repay you in longer life and better performance. If your car has already suffered from this cause let your motto from now on be "never again."

We use genuine Ford Parts exclusively and make a point of keeping for your inspection the old parts that we remove.

YOUNG MOTHER NOW STRONG

Her Mother's Faith in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Led Her To Try It

Kenosha, Wisconsin.—"I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My mother had great faith in it as she had taken so much of it and when I had trouble after my baby was born she gave it to me. It helped me so much more than anything else had done that I advise all women with female trouble to give it a fair trial and I am sure they will feel as I do about it.—Mrs. FRED. P. HANSEN, 562 Symmonds St., Kenosha, Wisconsin.

A medicine that has been in use nearly fifty years and that receives the praise and commendation of mothers and grandmothers is worth your consideration.

If you are suffering from troubles that sometimes follow child-birth bear in mind that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's medicine. It is especially adapted to correct such troubles.

The letters we publish ought to convince you; ask some of your women friends or neighbors — they know its worth. You will, too, if you give it a fair trial.

AUDITORS' REPORT

In accordance with the provisions of sub-sections 19 and 20 of section 56 of the Bank Act, 1913, we report to the shareholders as follows:—

We have audited the above Balance Sheet and compared it with the books and vouchers at Head Office and with the certified returns from the Branches. We have obtained all the information and explanations that we have required, and are of the opinion that the transactions of the Bank which have come under our notice have been within the powers of the Bank.

We have checked the cash, and verified the securities represented by the investments of the Bank, at its Chief Office and principal Branches at a date other than that of the certification at the Chief Office on the 28th February, 1922, and found that they were in accordance with the entries in the books of the Bank relating thereto.

In our opinion the Balance Sheet, as properly drawn up, exhibits a true and correct view of the state of the affairs of the Bank according to the best of our information and the explanations given to us, and as shown by the books of the Bank.

The Hamilton Hydro-Electric Board has an overdraft at its bank of $285,000. The announcement came somewhat as a shock to members of the City Council and ratepayers, who recalled that the board has announced a surplus every year.

At a mass meeting of 200 Ukrainians of the Niagara district held in Thorold, views were exchanged on the treatment that has been accorded that country, and it was decided to forward to the Genoa Conference a statement of protests and demands.

At the last meeting of Grand Valley Council it was decided to purchase half a car of road oil, Mount Forest taking the other half. By this way a saving of 4c a gallon is made, and an additional saving in freight and putting the oil on the road is anticipated.

Spring is Here!

And with Spring comes house-cleaning. You will want to cleanse the walls as well as the floors of your rooms this Spring. The most sanitary—as well as the most pleasing—way to do this, is by re-papering.

April is the month of home renovation. Just as Nature now puts on her new robe, so, too, does the provident householder renovate the walls of each room, that is dilapidated, with a coating of fresh Wall Paper.

This Spring, in particular, we are anxious you should drop in and look over our New Stock of Patterns just received.

And, really, it is remarkably inexpensive. Let us suggest a scheme of decoration and quote you a price.

DAVID WATSON

An Old Resident of Orangeville and Caledon Called to His Eternal Reward.

Mr. David Watson, one of our oldest citizens, answered the last summons on Thursday morning last. The end came peacefully and quietly, following a long season of bodily weakness and infirmity, aggravated by partial loss of eyesight. The mind, however, continued bright, alert and retentive almost to the last. The late Mr. Watson, who was the son of James Watson, a Glasgow weaver, was born in Esquesing township on the site of the present town of Georgetown in 1836 and was therefore in his 87th year when overtaken by death. He came to these parts when a young man and about the time of his marriage to Miss Annie Craig, of Lisburne, Ireland, who came to Orangeville with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Craig, when a child, settled on lot 24, 1st line, east, Caledon, where he farmed successfully for many years. Seventeen years ago Mr. and Mrs. Watson retired from the toil and cares of farm life and came to Orangeville to spend the evening of life, taking up their residence on Second Ave., where they have resided ever since. On January 25th, 1921, the venerable couple had the rare pleasure of celebrating their diamond wedding. The event was honored by a delightful family reunion, in which not only the sons and daughters but grandchildren and great grandchildren were privileged to participate. On this happy occasion Mr. Watson, who was even then in very feeble health, replied to the congratulations and good wishes of the members of his family and other friends, in a speech that was described as bright, humorous and delightfully reminiscent.

The late Mr. Watson was a man of excellent judgment and considerable foresight. As an agriculturist he was industrious, progressive and successful. A man of strict honesty he enjoyed the respect, confidence and esteem of the neighborhood in which the greater part of his life was spent. In his intercourse with his neighbors he was always fair, kindly and ready to lend a helping hand to those who had the misfortune to be in trouble of any kind. He was a staunch member and a liberal supporter of the Presbyterian Church and a regular attendant at St. Andrew's Church here as long as his health permitted. In politics he was a Liberal of the George Brown school. Mr. Watson was a man who took a keen and intelligent interest in public affairs, whether in the municipal field or in the larger sphere of general politics. He is survived by his wife and a family of five sons and two daughters, namely, James M. Watson, Woodstock, Ont.; Jos. J. Watson, Mono Road; John T., David A. and W. C. Watson, farmers in Caledon township; Mrs. J. B. Walker, Amaranth, and Miss Sadie Watson, at home. The presence of a large number of citizens and former Caledon neighbors at the funeral service on Saturday afternoon indicated the regard in which the deceased was held and the sympathy so generally felt for the bereaved wife and family. Service was held at the house by Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, the family pastor, interment taking place in the family plot in the Forest Lawn Cemetery. The palbearers were six grandsons, Messrs. Basil Watson, Lorne Watson, Harold Watson, Cresswell Walker, Clarence Watson and Wilfred Watson.

HENRY MADILL

Oldtime friends hereabouts will regret to learn of the death of Mr. Henry Madill at Britannia in the lower end of Peel County on Monday evening of last week. The end came after a lengthy and trying illness. The late Mr. Madill was born in Caledon upwards of seventy years ago, his parents being among the pioneer settlers in the Albion neighborhood. He removed to the First Line, east, Toronto township, about twelve years ago and of late years had resided with his son, Wilmer, who operated the farm. He is survived by his widow and one son. Deceased was a staunch adherent of the Methodist Church and a Conservative in politics. Interment took place in Britannia cemetery on Wednesday, following service in the Britannia Church. Rev. Mr. Petch was the officiating minister.

FRANCIS RIDLEY

There passed away on Friday, April 14th, another of the town's oldest residents in the person of Mr. Francis Ridley. Deceased was born in Durham, England, 83 years ago, and came to Canada when twenty years of age. He married Miss Matilda Trimble, of Chinguacousy, in 1864, who predeceased him four years ago. Deceased came with his family of four children to Orangeville in the year that the narrow guage railway entered. He conducted a butcher business on Broadway for a number of years.

The late Mr. Ridley is survived by a family of three sons, namely, David R., of Pilot Butte, Sask.; Simon S., of Brampton, and John W. at home, and two daughters, Mrs. Geo. Temple, Caledon, and Mrs. R. A. Sanderson, Orangeville. He also leaves seventeen grandchildren and twenty-one great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held from the residence of his son, Church St., to Greenwood Cemetery on Sunday April 16th, at 2.30 o'clock, Rev. H. L. Partridge officiating. Six grandsons acted as pallbearers. They were Messrs. Thos., Norman, Frederick and Leonard Sanderson, Francis Ridley and T. A. Temple.

Those who attended the funeral from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Leichman and family, of Baxeter, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Ridley, Brampton, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Temple and family, of Hamilton, and Messrs. W. and F. Trimble and Miss A. Trimble, of Toronto. (Brampton papers please copy.)

THE O. A. L. A.

Four Hundred Delegates Attended Good Friday Convention in Toronto.

Friday's Convention of the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association was a record breaker in point of attendance and enthusiasm. There were about four hundred delegates in attendance and the interest evinced in the proceedings was of the keenest character. There was a spirited contest for the Presidency of the Association, the position going to W. J. Hanley, of Toronto and formerly of Orillia, who won from Len Wallace, last year's Vice-President. Dave Ingram, of Brampton, a member of the 1921 Council, was elected Vice-President and Arnold Smith, of Weston, was given the Second Vice-Presidency by acclamation. Mr. Raspin Scott, one of the mainstays of the Dufferins' defence field, was re-elected to the Council. The complete list of officers is as follows:—

President, W. J. Hanley, Toronto; First Vice-President, Dave Ingram, Brampton; Second Vice-President, Arnold Smith, Weston; Secretary, James Labbett, Toronto; Treasurer, William Harcourt, Toronto; Council, S. Dankert, Hanover; G. Farr, Hamilton; A. A. Fleming, Chatham; Thos. Humphreys, Toronto; E. Harrison, Mimico; H. Karn, Sarnia; P. J. Kelly, Campbellford; O. McKinstrey, Bradford; Raspin Scott, Orangeville; A. Tudhope, Orillia. Auditors, Dan Rose, Toronto; Percy Lancaster, Havelock; Peter Hocking, Toronto.

The following extracts from the report of Secretary James Labbett will give our readers a good idea of the scale on which the Association conducted its activities last year:—

Total number of certificates issued	1607
Number issued in 1920	1023
Increase	584

These were distributed as follows:

	Teams	Certificates.
Senior	8	193
Intermediate	34	712
Junior	18	178
Juvenile	17	139
Midget	8	135

Treasurer William Harcourt's report read in part:

I have much pleasure in pla ing before you this, my first report as Treasurer of your Association, for the year 1921. In the summary you will note that I have proportionately divided the general receipts and disbursements between the different series, thereby showing the profit or loss in the operation of each series.

The total receipts amounted to $2,733.41, of which $854.52 was carried forward from 1920, thus leaving $1,878.89 as net receipts for 1921.

NOTHING TO EQUAL BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mrs. Georges Lefebvre, St. Zenon, Que., writes: "I do not think there is any other medicine to equal Baby's Own Tablets for little ones. I have used them for my baby and would use nothing else." What Mrs. Lefebvre says thousands of other mothers say. They have found by trial that the Tablets always do just what is claimed for them. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and thus banish indigestion, constipation, colds, colic, etc. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario.

RADIO IN ORANGEVILLE

Friday night a number of our citizens had the pleasure of seeing a wireless telephone in operation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sproule, First St. The operator was Mr. Lloyd Hinton, of Toronto, a relative of Mrs. Sproule. Mr. Hinton was in town for a holiday visit and brought the instrument with him from the city. He installed it in the dining room and got into touch with the outside world by the simple expedient of connecting two wires, one from the instrument to a water pipe on the outside of the house and the other to a nearby tree. Early in the evening the listeners were able to hear part of the programme of a concert in progress in Schenectady, N. Y. Later in the night they were regaled with the Toronto Daily Star's Eastertide service and still later at night were in connection with Philadelphia for a time. The writer had the pleasure of listening to the violin number that formed part of the Star service programme. The instrument could be heard very distinctly, the different notes being easily distinguishable. Needless to say the new form of entertainment was greatly enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Sproule's guests. This, we think, is the first time that the wireless telephone has been in use in Orangeville.

Long Distance to the Rescue

"What shall we do, George? There goes the last train, and the children will be alone all night. We simply can't have that; Betty is such a nervous child, and Bobby's always hunting for matches to make Indian bonfires with. It's dreadful."

"Well, Mary, you can't get home to-night. That's all there is to it."

"But we must do something. They may set the house on fire."

THIS MAN COULD NOT WALK A MILE

WILLIAM GRAHAM SHOUTS THE PRAISES OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Hurt in 1919 He Searched in Vain For the Remedy He Needed Till He Started to Use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lindsay, Ont., April 17th (Special)—Mr. William Graham, who lives at 162 Queen St. here, is shouting the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills. And when he tells the reason why the story is truly wonderful.

"I was hurt in 1919," Mr. Graham states, "the nerves in my right leg and arm were paralysed. I was in such shape I could not walk a mile. I could not go out at night as I would be sure to fall over.

"I tried eleven doctors and used different liniments but got no benefit. Then I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and they did me a lot of good. Now I can walk fifteen miles. I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all sufferers."

Dodd's Kidney Pills put the kidneys in shape to strain all the impurities out of the blood. That means pure blood. Pure blood means good circulation and that means new strength carried to all parts of the body.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make strong, healthy kidneys.

WALDEMAR

The roads are drying up fairly good now. The cars will soon be out.

Miss Zilla McLeod spent Easter at home.

We are glad to see Jim and Biney home once again.

THE MAPLES

The regular monthly meeting of The Maples Women's Institute will be held in the Community Hall on Thursday, April 20th, at 2.30 p.m. The roll call will be answered by a minute speech. Other items of the programme will be a reading by Miss Hazel Morrow, vocal solo by Mrs. Black, Paper, selected, by Mrs. Gordon Cole, recitation by Mrs. Clare Reid. Everybody welcome.

MONO PARISH

Services will be hled next Sunday as follows:—

St. John's Church, Mono Mills, 11 a.m., subject, "A Great Preacher." All are welcome.

St. James' Church, Hockley, at 3 p.m., subject, "The Empty Tomb.," Minister, Rev. D. G. Atkinson.

CALEDON.

Easter was marked by the churches here in a very special way on Sunday. In the Methodist Church Rev. J. F. G. Morris preached a splendid sermon on "The Resurrection" and Mr. Bert Clark furnished a solo in his usual very capable manner. In the Presbyterian Church Rev. J. Burkholder was in his best form and delivered two very interesting and helpful sermons. Mr. Samuel Rayburn sang a solo which was much appreciated and in the evening Mrs. Rayburn and Mr. McPetridge sang a duet and Miss Myrtle Rayburn, soloist from WestMooreland Methodist Church, delighted the large congregation with their splendid voices.

Misses Grace Currie and Dollie Sutton were visitors at their mother's over the holiday.

Miss Ruby J. Laughlin, of Strathroy Collegiate teaching staff, is visiting under the parental roof.

Mr. Wesley Nesbitt met with a painful accident at a wood bee at Mr. Geo. Baxter's on Thursday last, when he had his thumb almost severed by a buzz saw. Dr. Thomas attended the injured man and has hopes of saving that useful member.

In a match with Snelgrove Hunt Club on Good Friday our boys lost the first contest by a narrow margin, but in the second event Mr. Ben Harrison and Frank Johnston were very outstanding. The latter never missing a bird, which won the bout for Caledon and proved him to be the best shot on the field. Congratulations Frank.

Our Young People's Society held a very enjoyable meeting on Tuesday night. The "Church" was the topic. Excellent papers were given by Mr. Merdith McKim and Jas Hillyard and a splendid address by Rev. J. F. G. Morris. Three more meetings have been arranged for, when it has been decided to close for the summer

A DEPENDABLE PAPER

When you subscribe for a newspaper there are two essential points to be taken into consideration. First, make sure that you subscribe for a paper friendly to your interests, one whose friendship has been proven. Second, a newspaper that is fearless editorially, always dependable and with farm markets reports that are as nearly accurate as possible. Such a paper is The Farmers' Sun, Toronto, owned, and published three times a week by the farmers in the interest of the farmers, 156 issues for only $2.00. You should have this sure friend in your home.

LEGGATT INQUEST

Jury Brought in Verdict of Accidental Death.

A verdict of accidental death with a rider recommending that an approved type of fender be added to the equipment of radial cars was returned by the jury at the conclusion of the inquest into the death of Wiliam Leggatt, of Adjala, who was struck and instantly killed by a city bound radial about five o'clock on Sunday afternoon, April 9th. The inquest was held by Dr. H. R. Conn in the Municipal Hall in Mimico on Wednesday night, April 12th.

Edward Ayling, New Toronto, motorman on the car that struck Leggatt, was the chief witness. Ayling stated that the deceased was walking along the Highway about 200 feet ahead of his car when he first noticed him. He blew his whistle and when his car was within 15 or 20 feet of the man, he noticed him step toward the tracks. He at once applied his brakes and stopped the car within half a car length of the point at which Legatt was struck.

William Park, Fred Lajoie, Allan Cooper, W. Phillips and W. Parcells, all passengers on the car, corroborated Ayling's evidence, Dr. J. R. Serson told the jury that death had been directly due to hemorrhage and concussion. The evidence of Dr. H. C. McClelland, a nephew of Mr. Leggatt, was to the effect that the deceased was very deaf and would have been quite unable to hear the approach of the car. Dr. McClelland testified that Mr. Leggatt was about 57 years old.

The verdict of accidental death was reached after the jury had been out for about twenty minutes. E. J. Murphy, K. C., Assistant County Crown Attorney, examined the witnesses.

The Alton Mission Circle and Auxiliary held their joint meeting in the basement of the Methodist Church on Wednesday evening, April 12th. A splendid program was given, opening with a hymn which was followed by prayer, after which Miss Dorothy Cockerill sang a solo. A Paper was then given, "How to attain our objectives, your work and mile," by Miss Kathleen Erskine. Miss Margaret Lemon then rendered a piano solo which was preceded by the responsive reading of the Song of Victory by all present. Miss Berths Lowe read a Paper entitled "The Offering." Then a trio was given by Mrs. T. N. Meek, Mrs. S. Lowe and Mrs. E. McArthur. The offering was then taken up. Miss Evelyn McConnell gave a splendid reading entitled "She had no other plan," followed by a hymn and the benediction

DIGESTIVE TROUBLES CAUSE MUCH DISTRESS

Are Nearly Always Due to Thin, Watery Blood.

Do not think that because your stomach is easily upset you are the victim of some serious malady. One of the most common causes of indigestion is anaemia, or thin, watery blood. In fact it has become generally recognized that healthy activity of the stomach is impossible unless the blood is rich and red.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been found valuable in cases of indigestion, nervous dyspepsia and stomach weakness, just because they are a blood builder and nerve tonic. The rich red blood following their use not only imparts a healthy digestion, but carries color to the cheeks and lips, and gives vigor to the muscles. One important point to remember is that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no harmful drugs or opiates and are thus to be preferred to preparations that merely stimulate for a time. Before you begin worrying unnecessarily about your state of health, try the tonic treatment of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You will be surprised to see how rapidly your appetite returns and your debilitated system revives. Miss Sarah Farquhar, North Brookfield, N. S., who has proved the value of these pills in cases of this kind says: "For a long time I was a sufferer from indigestion, which seemed to carry with it a complication of other troubles. Every meal brought misery with it, as the eating was followed by severe pains in the stomach, causing at times nausea and vomiting, and at other times an accumulation of gas that caused severe palpitation of the heart and a smothering sensation. The result was that my general health was seriously affected and the least exertion would tire me out. I had taken much medicine, but did not get more than temporary relief until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I took for a considerable time, with the result that I now enjoy every meal and am no longer distressed after eating. I find myself in every way enjoying better health, and I cheerfully recommend these pills to similar sufferers."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario.

LIFE SERVICE SUNDAY

The Presbyterian Church in Canada has set apart April 23rd as Life Service Sunday. The addresses by the pastor of St. Andrew's Church will assume the form of an "appeal for recruits for Life Service." Young people are urged to be present at both services.

CARD OF THANKS

"There Goes the Last Train!"

Long Distance to the Rescue

"What shall we do, George? There goes the last train, and the children will be alone all night. We simply can't have that; Betty is such a nervous child, and Bobby's always hunting for matches to make Indian bonfires with. It's dreadful."

"Well, Mary, you can't get home to-night. That's all there is to it."

"But we must do something. They may set the house on fire."

"Listen! Here's the drug-store. We'll call up Annie by Long Distance and ask her to go over and stay with the children."

"Oh, what a relief!"

Simple isn't it? Long Distance is the friend in need, always at hand, always ready to put you in touch with family, friends and business.

THIS MAN COULD NOT WALK A MILE

WILLIAM GRAHAM SHOUTS THE PRAISES OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Hurt in 1919 He Searched in Vain For the Remedy He Needed Till He Started to Use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lindsay, Ont., April 17th (Special)—Mr. William Graham, who lives at 162 Queen St. here, is shouting the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills. And when he tells the reason why the story is truly wonderful.

"I was hurt in 1919," Mr. Graham states, "the nerves in my right leg and arm were paralysed. I was in such shape I could not walk a mile. I could not go out at night as I would be sure to fall over.

"I tried eleven doctors and used different liniments but got no benefit. Then I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and they did me a lot of good. Now I can walk fifteen miles. I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all sufferers."

Dodd's Kidney Pills put the kidneys in shape to strain all the impurities out of the blood. That means pure blood. Pure blood means good circulation and that means new strength carried to all parts of the body.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make strong, healthy kidneys.

WALDEMAR

The roads are drying up fairly good now. The cars will soon be out.

Miss Zilla McLeod spent Easter at home.

We are glad to see Jim and Biney home once again.

Mr. Thomas Elgie, of Grand Valley, is working on Wm. Lovell's section now.

THE MAPLES

The regular monthly meeting of The Maples Women's Institute will be held in the Community Hall on Thursday, April 20th, at 2.30 p.m. The roll call will be answered by a minute speech. Other items of the programme will be a reading by Miss Hazel Morrow, vocal solo by Mrs. Black, Paper, selected, by Mrs. Gordon Cole, recitation by Mrs. Clare Reid. Everybody welcome.

MONO PARISH

Services will be held next Sunday as follows:—

St. John's Church, Mono Mills, 11 a.m., subject, "A Great Preacher." All are welcome.

St. James' Church, Hockley, at 3 p.m., subject, "The Empty Tomb., Minister, Rev. D. G. Atkinson.

CALEDON.

Easter was marked by the churches here in a very special way on Sunday. In the Methodist Church Rev. J. F. G. Morris preached a splendid sermon on "The Resurrection" and Mr. Bert Clark furnished a solo in his usual very capable manner. In the Presbyterian Church Rev. J. Burkholder was in his best form and delivered two very interesting and helpful sermons. Mr. Samuel Rayburn sang a solo which was much appreciated and in the evening Mrs. Rayburn and Mr. McPetridge sang a duet and Miss Myrtle Rayburn, soloist from WestMooreland Methodist Church, delighted the large congregation with their splendid voices.

Misses Grace Currie and Dollie Sutton were visitors at their mother's over the holiday.

Miss Ruby J. Laughlin, of Strathroy Collegiate teaching staff, is visiting under the parental roof.

Mr. Wesley Nesbitt met with a painful accident at a wood bee at Mr. Geo. Baxter's on Thursday last, when he had his thumb almost severed by a buzz saw. Dr. Thomas attended the injured man and has hopes of saving that useful member.

In a match with Snelgrove Hunt Club on Good Friday our boys lost the first contest by a narrow margin, but in the second event Mr. Ben Harrison and Frank Johnstern were very outstanding, the latter never missing a bird, which won the bout for Caledon and proved him to be the best shot on the field. Congratulations Frank.

Our Young People's Society held a very enjoyable meeting on Tuesday night. The "Church" was the topic. Excellent papers were given by Mr. Merdith McKim and Jas Hillyard and a splendid address by Rev. J. F. G. Morris. Three more meetings have been arranged for, when it has been decided to close for the summer

A DEPENDABLE PAPER

When you subscribe for a newspaper there are two essential points to be taken into consideration. First, make sure that you subscribe for a paper friendly to your interests, one whose friendship has been proven Second, a newspaper that is fearless editorially, always dependable and with farm markets reports that are as nearly accurate as possible. Such a paper is The Farmers' Sun, Toronto, owned, and published three times a week by the farmers in the interest of the farmers, 156 issues for only $2.00. You should have this sure friend in your home.

LEGGATT INQUEST

Jury Brought in Verdict of Accidental Death.

A verdict of accidental death with a rider recommending that an approved type of fender be added to the equipment of radial cars was returned by the jury at the conclusion of the inquest into the death of Wiliam Leggatt, of Adjala, who was struck and instantly killed by a city bound radial about five o'clock on Sunday afternoon, April 9th. The inquest was held by Dr. H. R. Conn in the Municipal Hall in Mimico on Wednesday night, April 12th.

Edward Ayling, New Toronto, motorman on the car that struck Leggatt, was the chief witness. Ayling stated that the deceased was walking along the Highway about 200 feet ahead of his car when he first noticed him. He blew his whistle and when his car was within 15 or 20 feet of the man, he noticed him step toward the tracks. He at once applied his brakes and stopped the car within half a car length of the point at which Legatt was struck.

William Park, Fred Lajoie, Allan Cooper, W. Phillips and W. Parcells, all passengers on the car, corroborated Ayling's evidence, Dr. J. R. Serson told the jury that death had been directly due to hemorrhage and concussion. The evidence of Dr. H. C. McClelland, a nephew of Mr. Leggatt, was to the effect that the deceased was very deaf and would have been quite unable to hear the approach of the car. Dr. McClelland testified that Mr. Leggatt was about 57 years old.

The verdict of accidental death was reached after the jury had been out for about twenty minutes. E. J. Murphy, K. C., Assistant County Crown Attorney, examined the witnesses.

Everybody be prepared for the clean-up day.

Mr. Charles Porter, of Woodbridge, has assumed the managership of the Sterling Bank here.

Mr. Doug. Simpson and Mrs. T. Peacock, of Toronto, are visiting their parents here.

Miss Olive Dods and Miss Ina McLaughlin spent the week-end at their respective homes.

Get behind and push for clean-up day.

We were glad to see Bill Alexander in town for the week-end. We congratulate him on his success in obtaining a position as bookkeeper and stenographer with a new Toronto firm.

Mr. Yuill Sr. was a week-end visitor in town.

The Women's Institute are co-operating with the village trustees to launch a big clean-up day to beautify our village. Watch for further particulars.

The Alton Mission Circle and Auxiliary held their joint meeting in the basement of the Methodist Church on Wednesday evening, April 12th. A splendid program was given, opening with a hymn which was followed by prayer, after which Miss Dorothy Cockerill sang a solo. A Paper was then given, "How to attain our objectives, your work and mile," by Miss Kathleen Erskine. Miss Margaret Lemon then rendered a piano solo which was preceded by "the responsive reading of the Song of Victory by all present. Miss Berths Lowe read a Paper entitled "The Offering." Then a trio was given by Mrs. T. N. Meek, Mrs. S. Lowe and Mrs. E. McArthur. The offering was then taken up. Miss Evelyn McConnell gave a splendid reading entitled "She had no other plan," followed by a hymn and the benediction.

Mrs. John Erskine and daughter, Kathleen, have returned home after spending a few days in Toronto.

Messrs. Margaret and Gertrude Sinclair have returned home after spending a few days in Toronto.

Mrs. J. R. Simpson has returned home after spending a few days with friends in Toronto.

Mrs. N. Dorrington spent the holiday with friends in Brampton.

Miss Julia Palmer spent the holiday with friends in Toronto.

Mr. F. Johnston, of Galt, spent the holiday with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson spent the holiday with the latter's mother, Mrs. McKinnon.

Both churches report excellent Easter services last Sunday. The music and sermons were of first-class order and were much enjoyed by all.

Watch for the Play "The Turn of the Tide," in the Town Hall, Alton, on Friday evening, April 28th, under the auspices of the Town Hall, and given by the Alton Dramatic Club. Come and enjoy a real treat. Admission, 35 cents and 15 cents.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

On Monday evening, April 24th, the annual election of officers will be held at the Epworth League meeting in the Methodist Church. The newly elected officers will take charge on May 1st, 1922, and will hold office until April 30th, 1923. Thanking all members, adherents and friends of the Society for their generous support in the past and hoping that all will continue to take an interest in the work of the Epworth League in Orangeville, the retiring Executive hands over the reins of office to the Executive-elect.

DIGESTIVE TROUBLES CAUSE MUCH DISTRESS

Are Nearly Always Due to Thin, Watery Blood.

Do not think that because your stomach is easily upset you are the victim of some serious malady. One of the most common causes of indigestion is anaemia, or thin, watery blood. In fact it has become generally recognized that healthy activity of the stomach is impossible unless the blood is rich and red.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been found valuable in cases of indigestion, nervous dyspepsia and stomach weakness, just because they are a blood builder and nerve tonic. The rich red blood following their use not only imparts a healthy digestion, but carries color to the cheeks and lips, and gives vigor to the muscles. One important point to remember is that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no harmful drugs or opiates and are thus to be preferred to preparations that merely stimulate for a time. Before you begin worrying unnecessarily about your state of health, try the tonic treatment of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You will be surprised to see how rapidly your appetite returns and your debilitated system revives. Miss Sarah Farquhar, North Brookfield, N. S., who has proved the value of these pills in cases of this kind says: "For a long time I was a sufferer from indigestion, which seemed to carry with it a complication of other troubles. Every meal brought misery with it, as the eating was followed by severe pains in the stomach, causing at times nausea and vomiting, and at other times an accumulation of gas that caused severe palpitation of the heart and a smothering sensation. The result was that my general health was seriously affected and the least exertion would tire me out. I had taken much medicine, but did not get more than temporary relief until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I took for a considerable time, with the result that I now enjoy every meal and am no longer distressed after eating. I find myself in every way enjoying better health, and I cheerfully recommend these pills to similar sufferers."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario.

LIFE SERVICE SUNDAY

The Presbyterian Church in Canada has set apart April 23rd as Life Service Sunday. The addresses by the pastor of St. Andrew's Church will assume the form of an "appeal for recruits for Life Service." Young people are urged to be present at both services.

THE TORTURE OF INDIGESTION

Thousands Made Miserable By This Trouble

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Relieves It

What is Indigestion and what causes it? As you know, solid food must be changed into a liquid by the stomach before it can be taken up as nourishment by the blood.

The stomach acts as a churn. It is covered by a strong, muscular coat and lined with a soft, delicate membrane which secretes the Gastric Juice which digests or dissolves solid food.

When food enters the stomach, the muscular coat squeezes and presses the food from end to end, or churns it, with the gastric juice to dissolve or digest it.

But—if the stomach muscles are weak—or if the dissolving fluid is poor or insufficient—then food cannot be digested properly and you have Indigestion.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" is the most wonderful medicine in the world for strengthening the stomach muscles and providing an abundance of pure, full-strength dissolving fluid to completely digest every meal. "FRUIT-A-TIVES" does this because it keeps the kidneys active, the bowels regular and the blood pure, which insures pure Gastric Juice.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" will correct your Indigestion or Dyspepsia and enable you to enjoy every meal. Try it.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa

UNDER ONE BOARD

"The first step in the reorganization of the railways," Hon. W. C. Kennedy, Minister of Railways, stated in the House of Commons on Tuesday, "will be the establishment of a single representative Board of Directors for the unified control and co-ordinated operation of the Government owned lines. This Board, the Minister added, would be given the direction and control of the Grand Trunk Railway properties, the Canadian Northern Railway, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, the Transcontinental Railway and the Intercolonial Railway and Prince Edward Island Railway and branch lines. This meant placing under the direction of this Board properties in which the people of Canada have invested more than a billion and a half of dollars. An idea of the magnitude of the system could be gathered from the fact that last year the country's railway executives had spent $343,458,420, whereas the total expenditure of the Dominion of Canada on consolidated fund account for the year was $362,600,000. The Minister also told the House that he proposed at an early date to ask for a special committee of the House to investigate the freight rates problem. This Committee would be given full power to summon the heads of the railways and to gather all available information.

The Halton-Peel House of Refuge Commission has rented Miss Newhouse's farm of 45 acres adjoining the Refuge property. They pay $1,500 for five years or $300 a year. Miss Newhouse retains the residence and the buildings.

LEVEL OF LAKES RISES IN MARCH

Each is Still Below Average for 10 Years.

Though each of the Great Lakes was at a lower level in March than in the similar month a year ago, and was below the average of the last 10 years, all except Superior, they were higher than in Feb., according to the monthly summary of the United States lake survey office, Detroit. Stages of each of the lakes in feet above mean sea level in March and in February were as follows:—

Lakes	March	Feb.
Superior	601.35	601.43
Huron-Geor. Bay	579.40	579.23
St. Clair	573.96	573.25
Ontario	245.08	244.70
Erie	571.39	571.17

Lake Superior is .08 foot lower than in February, .20 foot lower than a year ago, .1 foot below the average stage of March of the last 10 years, .94 foot below high stage of March, 1901, and .69 foot above the low stage of March 1911.

Lakes Michigan-Huron are .17 foot higher than in February, .50 foot lower than a year ago, .66 foot below the average stage of March of the last ten years, 8.55 feet below the high stage of March, 1886, and .29 foot above the low stage of March, 1895. During the last ten years the March level has averaged .1 foot higher than the February level, and .3 foot lower than the April level.

WHY GOOD ROADS?

Good roads bring higher rental incomes.

Good roads mean higher land values.

Land owners should lead the road improvement crusade. Good roads mean more dollars in their pockets, and more pleasure for their families.

Good roads save time in hauling. Time is money.

Hauling costs are lowered by good roads, because the size of the load is limited by the worst spot in the road.

Good roads mean social improvement. "No man liveth unto himself alone," but bad roads tend toward rural isolation.

We can live but once. Why not enjoy the chance to go where we please, when we please? The motor-car and good roads make all distances short.

Town pleasures and country pleasures are only a stone's throw apart if joined by good roads.

The country boys and girls are less likely to leave the farm if good roads bring the neighbors nearer.

Bad roads are a detriment to the farmer, but they are worse for the farmer's wife.

Well kept roads mean better rural schools. Our country boys and girls are entitled to as good school facilities as our town children enjoy.

The doctor has a better chance to save lives if good roads shorten the distance from the office to farm.

Profit, pleasure, and public spirit demand improvement of the roads. We want 365-day roads.

Headache

Recurring headaches usually come from an exhaustion of the nervous system, and they do not disappear until the vigor of the nerve cells is restored by such upbuilding treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Temporary relief by use of powders is often obtained at an enormous expense to the nervous system and the general health.

Get the nerves right and the headaches will not return.

Mrs. W. J. Pearse, Nunn St., Cobourg, Ont., writes:

"My system became run-down and I suffered greatly with pain in my head. This was so severe that I would have to bind a cloth tightly about my head so that I could get my work done. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after taking the first box I found quite an improvement in my condition. I continued using them until I had taken about seven boxes, and they strengthened and built up my system splendidly, completely relieving the pain in my head."

ASKING GOD TO HELP

Some of our old pagan notions about religion seem to persist in a truly remarkably way. For instance, any man whose thought of God was at all Christian would hardly feel that he needed to ask Him to interest Himself in this old world of ours and in the difficult task of making it better, and yet, if you will notice, quite a little of our praying is right along that line. It is waste breath, surely. If He were not interested and committed in a way that we can know nothing about, what hope could there be in the situation? we may ask. He requires no importuning, and there is never a danger that He will forget or get indifferent. But there is a danger that we will. And the prayer that we ought to make every day is, that we might be kept intelligently interested, unhesitatingly and unreservedly devoted to the great concerns and purposes and ideals that never for one moment pass out of His thought and planning. No, God does not require ever to be asked to help, but how often do we need to pray the prayer that we might have the wisdom and far-sightedness to see what needs to be done, and the courage and loyalty and devotion to set about the doing of it!

CHIROPRACTIC

Is Your Greatest Friend

Thousands of people are finding full restoration to health in Chiropractic adjustments, and why should you not be equally successful. Science is always on the move, and none has made more rapid progress than the Science of Chiropractic and for no other reason than its success to combat disease and give relief to suffering humanity. Investigate its merits. Get your information first hand from your Chiropractor, then you get it correct. Others may be misleading. A few Adjustments will convince you that Chiropractic will correct the cause of your disease, and put you in possession of good healthy conditions. If you are afflicted in any way, acute or chronic, visit your Chiropractor, have the cause removed and enjoy good health and happiness.

GRANGER

Hello! Mr. Editor, here I am again.

As I was holidaying last week there was no news from our burg.

Mr. S. Lewis visited at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. Brinkman, Violet Hill, last week.

Lost ...—Wandered away from home last we... Last seen down west of Camilla looking for T. Buchannan's.

Our teacher, Miss E. Gallaugher, is home for Easter holidays.

You might hear Frank humming to himself, "O, my heart is sad and dreary every where I roam."

Perry reports a big time at Primrose dance but not as good as Mono Centre.

We think spring is here for good this time as all the birds are back and with them came the hobos, as one blew into this section on Good Friday peddling post-holes and patent medicines, but owing to the earliness of the season, there was poor demand for the former, but those that were lucky enough to get a supply of his medicine can vouch for the wonderful change it could make in a short while.

Making syrup and sawing wood is the order of the day.

We would like to know who got lost around Geo. Boyle's.

You might hear Truman, any day, singing "Come to my arms Nora, darling."

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Caledon East has an Athletic Association officered as follows:—Hon.-President, Geo. Atkinson; President, W. A. Boyce; Vice-Pres., Wm. Toase; Sec.-Treasurer, W. B. Cannon; Football Manager, John Hulse; Lacrosse Manager, T. R. McCartney. Caledon East has always been a strong football centre and expects to have a good team again this season. Lacrosse has an enthusiastic following and there are enough players in the village to place a good team in the field.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness during the illness of our father, the late Francis Ridley.

TEA GOING UP

The unrest in India has caused more or less serious labor troubles on the tea plantations, and has resulted in the price of tea rising constantly for the past year. Between October 1920 and to-day costs have advanced between 12 and 15 cents a pound. As the crop is much less than estimated consumption this year, it is probable that the price will go still higher.

HILLSBURG

A joint meeting of the Junior Farmers' Improvement Association and the Junior Women's Institute was held in the Town Hall here on Tuesday evening, April 4th. About eighty young people were present. After the usual business had been transacted Mr. Goldwin Burt gave an interesting account of the Ontario Junior Farmers' Convention held recently in Hamilton, which he and the President attended. This was followed by an interesting programme, which included a debate, "Resolved that Woman's Influence is Greater than Man's." The affirmative was ably taken by Miss Maude Orr and Miss Elsie Thomson and the negative by Mr. Earl Moore and Mr. Dan McDougall. The judges gave their decision in favor of the affirmative. Music was furnished by the McLachlan orchestra and a recitation was given by Miss Olive Miller. The President afterwards called on several of the boys for two minute speeches. Community singing was then enjoyed by all, after which refreshments were served.

CALEDON EAST

Fall wheat, clover and rye are looking well in this district.

Mrs. Fred Toase is moving to Hamilton in another fortnight. We regret her departure.

The heavy rain on Monday night and Tuesday morning of last week did a good deal of damage to our streets. On Main St. the roadway was flooded from Parsons Ave. as far south as the G. T. R. tracks. Cellars were flooded in the south part of the town, many of them for the first time in quite a number of years.

Freight traffic on the G. T. R. is said to be the heaviest this spring in the history of the road.

Mr. John T. Phillips, one of our oldest citizens, celebrated his 80th birthday a couple of weeks ago. Mr. Phillips has been a resident of Caledon East for 42 years. He is still hale and vigorous and looks good for another twenty years. His many friends join in extending their congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. John Hulse, of Dundas, has bought the Bradley property and will move to Caledon East about May 1st.

The maple syrup run was very poor in this district this spring. Very little syrup has been offered for sale on the local market.

A Lady True Blue Lodge was organized in the village on Wednesday night of last week with a membership of 51. Several additional members are expected at the next meeting. A number of city members of the Order motored out from Toronto and helped to organize the Lodge. One load missed the way and went right through to Orangeville before they discovered they were on the wrong road. At that they arrived in Caledon East in pretty fair time.

Business has been quite brisk in the village lately. Our merchants report an excellent Easter trade.

FARMERS OF DUFFERIN

I have made arrangements to keep in stock at my Chopping Mill, on East Broadway, Gunn's Hog Meal. This Meal is 60 per cent. protein. 100 lbs. to 10 bushels of Chop will finish a 200 lb. Hog one month earlier than can be done with the best grain grown on the farm. No indigestion or crippled hogs when this is used. I have also Gunn's celebrated Calf Meal in 50 lb. bags. Give the calves a chance. There is money in them. No occasion to have them suck the cow. Skimmed milk, with this Meal, 25 per cent. protein, answers the purpose. A trial is convincing. BABY BLOWN IN FRONT OF TRAIN

While her mother was posting a letter in the pillar box at the railway station at Oakville Baby Dorothy Jane Caroline Strome, who will be just two years old in June, was blown in front of a Canadian Pacific freight train which was racing towards Toronto. The mother, Mrs. David Strome (nee Etta Legate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Legate, north of Shelburne), had left the baby carriage only for a moment or two to put the letter in the mail box, access to which was blocked by a truck laden with luggage. Suddenly a gust of wind from the south got under the hood of the perambulator and blew it with its precious cargo on to the tracks. Several car lengths away the train, hauled by a powerful mogul, was bearing down on the tot. There was a grinding of brakes as the engineer applied the emergency, people screamed, and the mother stood for an instant as though paralyzed and riveted to the platform. Then she recovered control of herself and dashed on to the tracks, snatched the infant from the carriage. A moment later the engine crashed into the carriage, smashed it, and it was carried fifty yards along the line to the road just east of the station. Mrs. Strome was afraid that her feet would get caught in the rails when she jumped down to rescue the baby. She had just got clear of the track when the buggy was struck. All night she was more or less delirious, dreaming that a train was killing her baby.

Quickest for Healing

A cut sustained in the workshop, a sore which is unattended, results say in inflammation or blood-poisoning. You have to lay off for a day or two and it counts when pay-day comes round. Zam-Buk insures you against such loss!

A little antiseptic Zam-Buk promptly applied to any flesh wound or injury prevents disease infection and risk of festering and ulceration, and takes away smarting pain and promotes quick healing.

At home a box of Zam-Buk is ever so useful. The baby's nasty rashes, the older children's cuts and bruises, the inevitable burn, or scald—for all these, as well as for more serious skin troubles, such as eczema, ulcers, ringworm, etc., Zam-Buk is the unrivalled remedy.

Mr. J. W. Besnard, 539, Craig St. E., Montreal, writes:—"Two of my fingers were so severely crushed that the doctor said they would have to be amputated. I decided to try Zam-Buk first, and applied the balm daily. Within a few weeks the injury was completely healed. My fingers were saved." 50c. box, all dealers.

Zam-Buk

Grand Valley Lawn Bowling Club has reorganized. The officers are:—Hon.-President, Wm. Buchanan; President, W. O'C Ahern; Vice-President, M. W. Berwick; Secretary, W. H. Mutrie; Directors, F. Sargent, S. Gamble, Wm. McKinley, E. J. Bennett, W. L. Craig, T. Watson, Alfred Menary. It was decided to hold an elimination tournament on Wednesday and Thursday, July 19 and 20, the affair being left with J. A. Richardson, W. H. Mutrie, J. E. McIntyre, E.J. Bennett and T. Watson. The annual fee is $6.00.

PILES

Do not suffer another day with Itching, Bleeding, or Protruding Piles. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once and afford lasting benefit. 60c. a box; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Sample Box free if you mention this paper and enclose 2c. stamp to pay postage.

Eases Kitchen Work

To Women Who Do Their Own Work: Suppose you could save six minutes every day in washing pots and pans—two minutes after every meal. In a month, this would amount to a saving of three hours of this disagreeable but necessary work. This saving can be made by using SMP enameled kitchen utensils, as their smooth sanitary surface will not absorb dirt or grease. No scraping, scouring or polishing is needed when you use Diamond or Pearl Ware. Soap, water and a dish-towel is all you need. Ask for

SMP Diamond or Pearl WARE

Diamond Ware is a three-coated enameled steel, sky blue and white outside with a snowy white lining. Pearl Ware is enameled steel with two coats of pearl grey enamel, inside and out.

Give your Ford a square deal

THAT a Ford will stand anything is a popular belief based on the remarkable performance of Ford Cars and Trucks under the most adverse conditions. But there is one thing a Ford will not stand—the use of spurious parts.

Never permit a fake part to be used. Your Ford will repay you in longer life and better performance. If your car has already suffered from this cause let your motto from now on be "never again."

We use genuine Ford Parts exclusively, and make a point of keeping for your inspection the old parts that we remove.

Get the Cream of the Trade

"What lovely styles! How do you manage to get all these, delightful novelties?" said the new customer as she looked around her.

"I got tired of seeing my customers boarding the trains to buy elsewhere, first because I didn't have some novelty that was being advertised."

"Whenever a new style makes a decided hit, the wholesaler or manufacturer's salesman calls me on Long Distance, and tells me about it, and I order a few."

"I haven't seen prettier veils, smarter stockings or gloves, georgette-crêpes or ginghams anywhere. And I see you have the new music, too. How perfectly splendid. They leave me no excuse at all for going up to town to buy."

That's just one of the many things Long Distance does for small-town merchants, enabling Dry Goods, Hardware, Grocery, Paint and Shoe Stores to obtain new styles immediately and cater to the progressive people in their town — the cream of the trade.

ORANGEVILLE ARENA, LTD.

On Monday evening, April 24th, there was a very representative meeting of some seventy-five shareholders, called for the purpose of deciding on and of purchasing a site for the Arena. The President, Mr. J. B. Adamson, presided, and briefly laid before the meeting the various sites under consideration. These were: 1st, at the south-west corner of Patricia Park, which could be got free; 2nd, at the south-east corner of the Park, and including a lot belonging to Mr. Mills; 3rd, a lot just south of Col. Preston's, generously offered free by Judge McCarthy; 4th, a lot belonging to Geo. Foster, just south of the railway where it crosses John St., and 5th, the site to the east of the bowling green, negotiations for which have been in progress for months. This latter has been the site generally favored by the shareholders and those present were much pleased when Mr. Rutledge reported that he had been busy that day and had secured options on all the properties concerned in this site. This was progress, indeed, and the meeting unanimously instructed the Executive to go ahead immediately with the purchase. With our live solicitor, Mr. C. R. McKeown, on the job, that can very soon be done, and then the way is clear for a straight-away building of the rink, for no real difficulty is anticipated in raising funds and building the Arena.

At the meeting a motion was put through thanking those who had voluntarily assisted with the very successful concert last Thursday and Friday in aid of the funds for the Arena. It is expected that the net proceeds will pay for cost of charter and other organization costs. Credit was given, too, to those who, in the nature of things have to put on a charge, for the very moderate amounts they did charge. The officers and directors feel much encouraged by this voluntary aid, and take it as indicating the whole-hearted assistance they will get in the future.

The gloom of discouragement which hung over the site question so long, has now given place to the bright sunshine of a sure optimism.

Spring is Here!

And with Spring comes house-cleaning. You will want to cleanse the walls as well as the floors of your rooms this Spring. The most sanitary—as well as the most pleasing—way to do this, is by re-papering.

April is the month of home renovation. Just as Nature now puts on her new robe, so, too, does the provident householder renovate the walls of each room, that is dilapidated, with a coating of fresh Wall Paper.

This Spring, in particular, we are anxious you should drop in and look over our New Stock of Patterns just received.

And, really, it is remarkably inexpensive. Let us suggest a scheme of decoration and quote you a price.

The Sun-Times will appear as an evening paper.

TEA GROWING VERY EXPENSIVE

The very high wages that have to be paid to workers on the tea plantations in India and Ceylon, due to social and political unrest, has caused the price of tea to rise consistently in the primary markets and in London. This influence is now being felt farther along the line and it is to be expected that the price of tea will increase to the consumer in the near future.

In Toronto a few weeks ago a reckless driver ran a car at an almost unlawful rate that was certain to result in death. He killed a man and was found guilty of manslaughter. Recently a woman was found guilty of causing the death of a young woman by an illegal operation. The man who was killed did not want to be struck at all. The girl who was killed wanted the operation and probably would have preferred death to exposure to the charity of her sex. The man who recklessly killed the other man was punished by 23 days in prison. The woman, who caused the girl's death, was sentenced to 12 years in the penitentiary. The man was single. The woman is married and leaves two daughters behind. And it's hard to understand.

CAMPLIN VS. ROBINS

At the last sitting of the Beeton Division Court a suit between Wm. Camplin & Son, a Beeton business firm, and Messrs. T. and B. Robins, of Adjala, excited considerable interest. The action was brought to recover a certain sum due on alleged transactions which were spread over a number of years. For the defendants it was shown that they never adopted any business methods in any of the transactions which took place as far back as 1914 and depend purely on their memories regarding every event. Certain notes of varying amounts were produced and which were satisfactorily accounted for in the matter of renewals and payment, but there was a certain sum of $98.00 which plaintiff alleged was in no way covered definitely by note, but was involved in the transaction of renewals and business. Accruing interest was also covered by this amount. Evidence was given to this effect and in view of the inability of the defendants to produce records bearing on the several transactions a sympathetic effort was made by Counsel and His Honor to explain many of the points which were at issue.

Mr. Wm. Camplin and Son carry on a partnership business and have also done business individually, consequently many of the deals which took place did not find a record on the books of the firm, but statements were submitted showing in detail many of the items covering a long series of transactions. The honesty of the defendants was never questioned by plaintiffs who, it was known, were making every effort to meet their liabilities and who admitted many of the business deals which took place and the sums involved. The rate of interest—6 per cent—was not considered extortionate when the lengthy period was taken into consideration. The Court made some slight modification of the claim and handed down judgment for plaintiffs for $70.20 and costs.

FINED $200

On Tuesday morning Magistrate Falconer fined Willis Fleming, an Orangeville young man, $200 and costs on a charge of having liquor in his possession in a place other than his private residence. The charge was lodged by License Inspector Robinson. Mr C. R. McKeown, K. C., who defended the accused, gave notice that he intended to appeal from the Magistrate's finding. Mr McKeown will base his appeal on the ground that the prosecution introduced evidence after prosecution and defence had closed their cases. This evidence was in the form of an affidavit as to the result of the analysis of the contents of the bottle seized by the Inspector. This evidence, Mr. McKeown holds, was not admissible under the rules of court practice. The defence lawyer also maintains that even were the evidence in question admissible it should not have been allowed in affidavit form as this deprived the defence of any opportunity to examine the witness as to the accuracy of his conclusions and the method whereby they were arrived at.

STUDENTS WIN MEDALS

At the March test examinations of the Commercial Department of the Orangeville High School Misses Laura Gillespie and Mildred Youmans won bronze medals for speed and accuracy in typewriting. These medals are presented by The Underwood Typewriting Company and are awarded when students attain to a set standard in speed and accuracy. This is the first time the medals have been won by students in the High School here. The Commercial Department is proving a valuable addition to the School and results have already shown that the Board acted wisely in making provision for this work.

BURNED TO DEATH

Shocking Accident Befal Camp Borden Airman Near Waldemar Sunday Evening.

Military Airship Collided With Tree Just After Take-Off—Pilot's Companion Injured, but Escaped From Burning Machine.

Flight Lieutenant H. L. Holland, of the Militia Department, Ottawa, was killed, and Flying Officer Owen, also of Ottawa, was injured, when the large military airship in which they were travelling fouled a tree and crashed to the ground about six o'clock on Sunday evening. The tragedy occurred on George Gamble's farm about a mile east of Waldemar and some eight miles west of Orangeville. Flight Lieutenant Holland, who was in charge of the Ottawa Air Station, left the Federal capital on Friday with his companion and flew to Camp Borden in a two-seater D. H.-Four machine with a Rolls-Royce engine. Between three and four o'clock Sunday afternoon they left Camp Borden for London, where they purposed taking photographs for the Government. They were flying over Waldemar, when the water pump stopped working and the airmen descended to have it repaired. Experiencing unexpected difficulty they wired to Camp Borden for assistance. Another machine was sent down and after the needed repairs had been made the two machines prepared to return to Camp Borden as it was then too late in the day for Capt. Holland and his companion to proceed to their destination. The ground where the landing had been made was soft and muddy and the machine driven by Holland made a bad take-off, the soft earth causing it to swerve from its course. It had no more than left the ground, when it crashed into the branch of a tree, lurched violently and then crashed to earth a distance of fifty or sixty feet. As it struck the ground the machine burst into flames, the gasoline having ignited. Holland was entangled in the wreckage and was burned to death. Lieutenant Owen, although painfully injured, managed to get clear of the burning airship. He made a heroic effort to extricate his comrade, but was unsuccessful in his attempt. The body of the unfortunate aviator was removed to Grand Valley, where it was placed in charge of the undertaker. Dr. Campbell, who was at once summoned from Grand Valley, attended to the injuries of Lieut. Owen. According to the physician the injured man is suffering from severe shock, a badly scratched face and a number of minor bruises and contusions. He was transferred to the private pavilion of the Toronto General Hospital on Monday. The airship, which was equipped with a wireless outfit, is a total wreck.

The tragedy so unnerved the crew of the second plane from Camp Borden, that they declined to attempt to make the trip home on Sunday night. The machine remained in the field on the Gamble farm until Monday afternoon, when it was manned by another crew and taken back to the Camp Borden hangars.

The late Captain Hubert L. Holland was employed by the Air Board in civilian capacity. He is a son of W. H. Holland, 307 St. George St., Toronto. Mrs. T. C. Keefer, of Ottawa, is a sister, and Major Gerald A. Holland, a brother. He is married and has one daughter, a few months old.

Captain Holland resided at 452 Rideau Street. He went overseas in 1916 with the Cyclist Corps, which was disbanded in England. He then joined the Royal Air Force and was sent to Italy in 1917, where he flew continuously till the armistice. He won the Military Cross and the Italian Croix de Guerre. Returning to Britain, he joined the Royal Canadian Air Force, and when it was disbanded in 1920 he came to Canada and obtained a position with the D. S. C. R., being sent to Halifax in charge of the mechanical transport. He was later appointed to the Air Board, serving first at Camp Borden and later at Ottawa. He was in charge of the Rockcliffe Aerodrome at the time of his death. Deceased was educated in Ashbury College, Ottawa, and in the Royal Military College, Kingston. The flight, in which he lost his life, was the first he had undertaken this year.

Monday afternoon the Air Board at Ottawa issued the following statement regarding the fatality:—

"Capt. Holland left Ottawa on Friday afternoon accompanied by E. R. Owen, photographic officer of the Air Board, to proceed to London, Ont., to undertake some photographic operations in connection with the city survey being made by the Geodetic Survey branch of the Department of the Interior. They reached Camp Borden en route on Friday evening. It had been intended to continue the journey on Saturday morning, but adverse weather conditions intervened. By Sunday afternoon the weather was again favorable and Capt. Holland proceeded, intending to land at London on Sunday evening, so as to be ready for photographic work on Monday morning. Engine adjustment necessitated a landing near Waldemar. After making adjustments the machine again started and while taking-off collided with the branch of a tree and fell to the ground. Capt. Holland was killed instantaneously, and Mr. Owen suffered injuries which, it is beieved, are not serious."

Prest-O-Lite Superiority Proved by Actual Test

IN the toughest side-by-side battery test that could be devised, the Prest-O-Lite Storage Battery demonstrated its superiority beyond question. This test was staged in a cold storage plant, where the best two batteries out of six submitted were selected.. One was a Prest-O-Lite. Both batteries were chilled for 17 hours in ten below zero temperature. Then each battery was, in turn, hooked up to a new, stiff, eight-cylinder engine and allowed to spin it to the limit of the battery's power and endurance.

At the finish of 3 successive trials, with from one to three minutes between each, the score stood:

FOR PREST-O-LITE		FOR COMPETITOR
237 seconds	132 revolutions	142 seconds	75 revolutions
25 seconds	10 revolutions	13 seconds	5 revolutions
10 seconds	4 revolutions	7 seconds	3 revolutions
15 seconds	5 revolutions	9 seconds	3 revolutions

This clean-cut, decisive victory, is convincing proof of the superiority of Prest-O-Lite Batteries for power, endurance and reserve force.

If you need a new battery, let it be a powerful Prest-O-Lite—the battery that will give surest starts, brightest lights and practical freedom from battery bother.

MONO COLLEGE

Mono College Women's Institute will hold their regular meeting in the Auditorium of the Public Library Orangeville, on Thursday, May 4th, at 2.30 p.m. This will be the annual business meeting and a full attendance of members is requested.

BOWLING GREEN

The Bowling Green Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Will Black on Wednesday, May 3rd, at 2.30 p.m. The subject, "Living a Life is More than Making a Living," will be taken by Mrs. Harry Whaley. Roll call is to be answered by a topic for next year's program.

LAUREL

The annual meeting of the Women's Institute will be held in the basement of the Methodist Church on Thursday, May 4th, at 2.30 p.m. The business for the past year will be reviewed, officers will be elected and the financial report will be submitted and considered. All ladies are invited to attend.

CAMILLA

The annual meeting of the Camilla Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. Coutts on Wednesday afternoon, May 3rd, at 2.30 o'clock. The topic, "Suggestions for Making Our Institute More Profitable," will be taken by Mrs. McKim. Reading by Mrs. Alex. Lundy. Election of officers. Roll Call answered by My Favorite Flower. Music by Miss Elizabeth Mann.

CALEDON.

The Caledon Women's Institute will hold its annual meeting in the Caledon Township Hall on Wednesday afternoon, May 3rd, at 2.30 o'clock. Miss McIntosh, of Brampton, the District Secretary, will be present and will give a Talk. There will also be a program in addition. All the members are requested to be present at this meeting.

The Caledon Women's Institute wish to thank the gentlemen who assisted so ably in the cleaning up of the cemetery recently.

The Sewing Course given in the basement of the Presbyterian Church under the auspices of the local Women's Institute was very successful and proved quite instructive. The Class was filled to capacity, eighteen ladies taking the Course. All who took part were much benefited by the Course and instruction given. Miss L. Petty, of Toronto, was the demonstrator.

The backward weather has delayed work in the fields. Some plowing has been done but nobody appears to have caught the planting fever yet.

Our Union Young People's Society held a very successful meeting on Tuesday night. The Stubbs orchestra furnished some excellent music, Miss Bell gave a reading, "Deny Your God." Miss Clara Rayburn a splendid violin solo and Rev. J. Burkholder a paper on "The Mormons." A mock trial has been arranged for in the near future.

Mrs. R. T. and Mrs. J. J. Nesbitt visited Toronto friends over the week-end.

Miss Beatrice Hillyard, who is training for a nurse in a hospital in St. Catharines, and who is at her home in Cataract now owing to the illness of her father, visited her cousins and aunt on the Centre Road last Sunday.

This is housecleaning time and the women are giving things a general going over. Mr. Wilson Hughson, of Orangeville, has been doing some fine jobs of paper-hanging around here. Wilson can always please the ladies.

The members of the Sewing Club met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas and showered Mrs. R. T. Nesbitt, one of our new brides, on Wednesday evening last. A splendid social evening was also spent.

Caledon U. F. O. Club held a very enjoyable dance in the Town Hall on Friday night.

Mr. John McCormick, U. F. O. shipper, loaded two cars on Tuesday.

NEURALGIA AND SCIATICA

Caused by Starved Nerves Due to Weak, Watery Blood.

People think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may effect any nerve of the body. Different names are given to it when it effects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease is the same. The cause is the same, and the remedy to be effective, must be the same. The pain of neuralgia, whether it takes the form of sciatica, or whether it affects the face and head, is caused by starved nerves. The blood, which normally carries nourishment to the nerves, for some reason no longer does so and the excruciating pain you feel is the cry of the nerves for food. The reason why the blood fails to properly nourish the nerves is usually because the blood itself is weak and thin.

When you build up the thin blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, you are attacking neuralgia, sciatica and kindred diseases at the root. The value of these pills in cases of this kind is shown by the experience of Miss Beulah M. Fairweather, Cumberland Bay, N. S., who says: "A few years ago, following an attack of measles, I was left in a badly run down condition. I was weak and very nervous, and had no appetite. A doctor was called in and gave me medicine, but it did not help me. My blood was thin and my hands and my feet were always cold. Then to add to my misery I was attacked with neuralgia, from which I suffered greatly. I was reduced to a mere skeleton, and did not care whether I lived or not. I was in this deplorable condition when I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It was some time before I could notice any benefit from the pills, but before a half a dozen boxes were used there was no doubt that they were helping me. Then I got six more boxes and before they were done, I was once more enjoying good health and am now strong and healthy. I shall always feel grateful for what the pills have done for me, and urge all weak people to give them a trial."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HANDED A LEMON

Owen Sound Not Satisfied With Rearrangement of G. T. R. Passenger Service.

Owen Sound delegates went to a meeting with G. T. R. officials at Palmerston a few weeks ago in an endeavor to secure better train facilities for this city. They got the promise of a fast train from Palmerston to Toronto connecting with the trains from the branch lines north of Palmerston. It is understood that this train is to be put on the run on May 1st.

But there was a great big joker in the arrangement, and one that will not be received by the business men at the end of the branch lines with any degree of rejoicing. Instead of the south bound afternoon train leaving at 2.15 as at present, this train will leave at 1.30, or just 45 minutes earlier. It will arrive here at 1.05, thus allowing passengers who come to Owen Sound only 25 minutes in which to do their business if they are to return home the same day.

A person coming here from Tarn or any other place along the line, would have to stay overnight in order to do business at all. Twenty five minutes would not permit of a person walking up to the business section and making more than the speediest purchase, and still get back to the station in time to get the train south. This arrangement is absolutely against the business interests of Owen Sound and every other town situated at the head of the various branch lines.

With only 25 minutes of a schedule stop here the citizens of near by municipalities who come here on business, will have to use some other conveyance than the Grand Trunk Railway. Motor bus services that will permit a reasonable time in Owen Sound in which to do their business will benefit by the change of time, but no one else will.

The business men of Owen Sound should make a joint protest against such treatment of local business interests. The Board of Trade should take the matter up, and so should the city council.

There is another matter that should be taken up by the various public bodies—that is a better train service to and from Wiarton. This service is about as bad as could be, from a business point of view and could be easily remedied without any great expense. Unless it is gone after with a will to secure the service, putting force behind every punch that is made for it, it will not come. But if continued aggressive action is maintained, something will be attained.

This section of the country is not getting the railway service that it is entitled to from its position as a revenue producer, and it is time that the railways knew it. We have disgraceful stations, and the train service is entirely too occasional.—Owen Sound Sun-Times.

ALTON

Friday, May 5th, will be observed as Clean-Up Day in our village. Our citizens are urged to observe the day by tidying up and puting their grounds in shipshape. Let one and all do their bit to make our pretty burg neat, trim and attractive as possible.

The Girls' Baseball Club will hold a Dance in the Town Hall on Friday evening, May 5th. Some two hundred invitations have been issued and a jolly time is expected.

GEO. R. PATTULLO

Death Claims Notable Citizen of Oxford County.

One of Ontario well-known figures passed away on Sunday evening in the person of George Robson Pattullo, who died in Woodstock Hospital as the result of a partial stroke sustained about three months ago. He had been Registar of Oxford county for 36 years, and was active right up to the time of his death.

Not only Provincially, but nationally was the late Mr. Pattullo well-known among the older generation of Canadian politicians. Away back in the time of the Premiership of Hon. Alexander Meckenzie in the 70's Mr. Pattullo was for five years organizer of the Liberal Association. He was appointed to the Registrarship of Oxford county during the Provincial regime of Sir Oliver Mowat, whose close and intimate acquaintance he was.

Mr. Pattullo was born in Caledon, Peel county, in 1845. Early in life he removed to Blenheim township, Oxford county. He received his education at the grammer school in Woodstock and at the University of Toronto. Finishing his education, he taught shcool for a time, then took up journalism as a profession, and in 1870 became Editor and proprietor of The Paris Transcript. Later in the same year he became head of The Woodstock Sentinel, and afterward, with his brother, the late Andrew Pattullo, took over the Sentinel-Review.

He became Registrar of the county in 1886, and held this position until his death.

In his day Mr. Pattullo was regarded as one of the leading journalists of the Province.

On two occasions he opposed the late Hon. James Sutherland for the North Oxford seat in the House of Commons. The first time in 1878, and again in 1882. Mr. Sutherland was successful on both occasions. Mr. Pattullo was one of the representatives of the Ontario Government in the disputed territory in the days when the boundary question was a big issue in Provincial and Federal politics.

He was the first secretary of the Queen Victoria Park Commission at Niagara Falls.

Notable in connection with Mr. Pattullo's career is the degree of note attained by members of his family. Of four sons, one, J.B. Pattullo, K. C., is a Vancouver, B. C., lawyer; Hon. T. T. Pattullo is Minister of Lands in the British Columbia Governement, and George Pattullo is the well-known short-story writer. The fourth son, Andrew, resides in Muskegon, Mich.

There were eight children, all of whom survive. Besides the four sons already mentioned there are four daughters: Mrs. A. W. Ballantyne, 34 Dunvegan road, Toronto; Mrs. R. A. Bowie, Brockville; Mrs. Kate Foster, Woodstock, and Mrs. Harry Lownsborough, Woodstock.

The late Mr. Pattullo was a cousin of Messrs. Joseph and Kenneth Pattullo, of Orangeville.

AUTHORESS DIES

Miss Marjorie Pickthall Was Widely Known For Her Writings.

Miss Marjorie Pickthall, Canadian poet and novelist, succumbed to the effects of an operation in the General Hospital in Vancouver on Wednesday afternoon, April 19th. At first her condition gave every indication of recovery and so far improved that she was able to attend to correspondence and receive visitors, but a dislodged blood clot became embedded in a vital organ and she died almost instantly.

Marjorie Pickthall was born in London, England, in 1883. When seven years old she came to Canada and lived in Toronto until recently. She began her literary career with the sale of her first story at the age of 15. Her work as a novelist attracted world-wide attention and her poetry brought credit to Canada. Her latest novel, "The Bridge," promises to rival in popularity this year's sensation, "If Winter Comes."

MRS. JAMES HANNA

Mrs. Hanna, widow of the late James Hanna, of Marsville, passed away at the home of her son, Mr. Henry Hanna, Wellington St., on Tuesday, in her 78th year. Her death was preceded by a severe illness, which was borne with patience, cheerfulness and Christian fortitude. The late Mrs. Hanna, whose maiden name was Helen Johnston, was born in Old Cambus, Berwickshire, Scotland. When she was a girl of seven years, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Johnston, emigrated to Canada, settling at Beverley, near Galt, where they resided for a year before moving to the township of East Garafraxa, where they farmed successfully for many years. After her marriage to James Hanna the subject of this notice took up her residence in the village of Marsville, where her husband died some twenty-two years ago. Mrs. Hanna was an exemplary living Christian woman and an excellent neighbor. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church and a regular worshipper in Bethel Church at Price's Corners until she came to Orangeville with her son a little over two years ago. Her loss is mourned by a family of two sons and one daughter, namely, James Hanna, Toronto; Henry Hanna, Orangeville, and Mrs. C. T. Gilleland, St. Catharines. William Johnston, of Marsville, is the only brother still living and Mrs. Jos. Collier, Orton, an only sister. The funeral will take place from the home of her son here to Price's Corners Cemetery at 2 o'clock this (Thursday) afternoon. There will be a short service at the house at 1.30 and also service in Bethel Church, Price's Corners, at 3 o'clock.

HILLSBURG

(Intended for last issue.)

The series of Rifle Matches held in Hillsburg by the Rifle Club during the past winter was the most successful in several years. The Club has a membership of twenty and there were usually from fifteen to eighteen in competition at each match. Some of the highest scores in the history of the organization were shot from a rest. Stanley Dyer made the excellent score of 192 out of a possible 200 at 75 yards, and Herb Dyer made 193 out of the same possible at 60 yards, which was almost as good. This means that these marksmen made clean scores of hitting a one inch circle with eight consecutive shots each at the distances already named. The rifles used had a 24 inch barrel and were fitted with plain Lyman sight. A series of six matches of off-hand shooting was also held at which some excellent scores were made.

Barrie's tax rate this year is 43.75 mills. This is a slight increase over last year, but will be equalized by assessment.

A plucky rescue was made at Bridgeport, a small village near Kitchener, when eight year old Jack Grey plunged into the Grand River and pulled out Donald Reichert, his six year old companion.

Some farmers in the Beachville district, near Ingersoll, have commenced seeding operations. Where this is being done the land is of a pronounced rolling nature, and perfect natural drainage has left the soil in fine condition.

NEWS NOTES

Heavy load of stone dragged a team of horses into a lime kiln near Hespeler, causing their death.

An important sale was made in Harriston, when Mr. Harry Ward disposed of his bus, baggage express and general cartage business to Mr. Robt. Stephenson, liveryman, who gets possession on May 1st.

Suffering from a fracture of both legs, Denis Fournier was carried into Hull Police Court on a stretcher to give evidence against Percy Webster, who was charged with running him down with an automobile.

A report has just reached Markdale that a young man, married about six months ago, has received a sentence of 14 years, at a mock trial in North Bay, for being intoxicated.—Standard.

Mr. Sam Blackburn, foreman in the Mount Forest Representative office, a week ago Tuesday afternoon, had his left hand caught while operating one of the small presses. The little finger was so badly crushed that it had to be amputated.

A new marble pulpit of Gothic architecture is to be installed in St. Mary's Cathedral, Kingston, in a short time, as the gift of Miss N. Gardiner, of California, in memory of her brother, Robt. G. Gardiner, who was a member of that parish.

The editor of the London Express went to the United States, bought about $225,000 worth of machinery, and was called on to pay income tax because he did business in his three weeks' stay. That is a grand scheme for preventing resuscitation of business.

—Tanlac is sold for $1.00 at Fairbank's Drug Store.

Preparations are now under way at the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph for the opening of a cannery, which will be the largest in operation at any government institution in Ontario, and which will supply canned fruits and vegetables for all other institutions in the province.

During the electrical storm in Wellington county on Monday evening, the Damascus Methodist Church was struck by lightning. The belfry of the church was struck and the bolt passed down through the auditorium, ripping off some boards, but fortunately, no fire was started.

Fox farming on Prince Edward Island last year produced an income nearly as great as that from the combined fish and dairy business of the island. The increase in young foxes from about 3000 pairs of adults was 7500. Pelts brought about $200 each, and the ordinary price for a pair of breeders was $600.

District Representatives in Ontario report to the Department of Agriculture that farm wages offered vary from $20 to $25 a month, with board, for partly experienced men, and around $35 a month for the average farm worker with experience, while well known and reliable hands get some advance on the latter figure.

A meeting of the Wellington County Press Association will be held at Drayton on Friday, May 5th. Some important topics of particular interest to the craft will be up for discussion. It is an event that is usually both enjoyable and profitable. Publishers from neighboring counties are also invited to be present.

Magistrate Craig heard a novel case in which one Arnprior man entered action against another because the latter did not affix a stamp to a cheque sent to the former. The defendant's evidence was that to the best of his knowledge he had put a stamp on the cheque, but the magistrate ruled against him and imposed a nominal fine of $2.—Arnprior Chronicle.

The London Advertiser says it surely is an inspiring thing to see a string of able bodied young men, some of them in knee pants, sitting on a bench having their shoes shined for them at 10 to 15 cents a throw. The Renfrew Mercury comments as follows:—"You're right, brother, We're glad to know that we are not the only one who still indulges in that fine old indoor sport of shining our own shoes." It should be mentioned that the Mercury editor wears spats which leaves very little boot to polish.—Carleton Place Canadian. Yes, and his shining shoes are made of patent leather.

SUFFERED YEARS WITH ECZEMA

"Fruit-a-tives" Cleared Her Skin

POINTE ST. PIERRE, P.Q.

"I suffered for three years with terrible Eczema. I consulted several doctors and they did not do me any good.

Then, I used one box of "Sootha-Salva" and two boxes of "Fruit-a-tives" and my hands are now clear. The pain is gone and there has been no return.

I think it is marvellous because no other medicine did me any good until I used "Sootha-Salva" and "Fruit-a-tives", the wonderful medicine made from fruit".

MARSVILLE

(Intended for last week.)

(Intended for last week.)

Times have been quite dull around our little burg of late, a lot of people think, but after they read this they will change their minds. So here are a few of the most important facts:

The roads have been almost impassable these last few weeks but are getting dried up again, which is greatly enjoyed by every one.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Jas. Edwards recently and a large crowd turned out for the purpose of making clothes as well as many other articles which are to be sent in aid of the Russian famine fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Grasely and little son are over from Hamilton visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Potter.

Our well organized Litery Society and Progressive Euchre Club has closed down for this season. We hope they will start again next winter as it is great enjoyment for the young people during the long winter evenings.

I suppose the dances are all over for this season. The last one was held on Friday night when a crowd of about one hundred couples hoed it down to the gay and excellent music of the London Harpers. Never mind boys, winter will come again.

I wonder how the bunch that challenged the Euchre Club, felt the other night, when they got well trimmed?

Miss Cassie Bogers left recently to take up a course at the Orangeville Business College. We wish her every success.

Mr. Robert Mann and son, Elgin, are still busy sawing on the 12th line.

Most of the sick people around our neighborhood are able to be around again.

What we would like to know:

If P. Hogins and J. R. have rented an apartment building in Alton.

If James Byers is going to get his new car this spring.

If the exchange stables are still going to continue on the 13th line. Now is the time to turn your old drivers in for new ones, boys.

Why J. F. Drives that flashy outfit up the 13th line so often.

If Hazel B. is going to join the Donaldso norchestra.

What kind of wire fence is W. Donaldson going to put along the broad road. We hope it will make a difference and that our road master will keep it in better repair.

If Star B. is going to keep batch this summer. Hard luck, Stan.

If Herb Howlitt has left our village for good. He says an Olive makes a sweet pickle. Good boy, Herb, not bad pickling.

Why Wes. M. likes Gray better than any other color.

If Wm. T. is going to charge 35c per rod for fencing this summer. It is worth it Bill.

How many cords of wood do J. Forgraves and James C. cut in one day?

Why Earl M. talks of Flossie in his sleep.

If F. A. and Harold B. will go out joy riding this year, and come home on the run.

Why Gladys M. likes an Elgin better than a Waltham.

Why Bill Lane's mind wanders toward the 13th line.

If J. Boggs had to get his horse shod lately to make the hill.

If Holly N. is going to keep the 12th line padded this summer.

If E. Nedwell has to climb those river hills to be a saint.

Why Sam C. likes Orangeville better than Marsville.

If Vic A. is going to have the ice cream parlour running this year.

Why Elgin M. and B. Price like hanging around the lane.

If Geo. Brown is going to drive the Marsville bus this summer.

If J. Rennick is going to get the water system installed since his well caved in.

Why Annie McGowan likes May better than June.

If M. Hawes is still looking after the ferns.

If Mark P. and A. H. intend making their fortunes farming this year.

If there is any nice looking young girl around here who is looking for a nice young husband about 60 years of age, long whiskers cut off short, very dark hair, mostly grey, about seven feet 4 inches tall, weighing about eighty pounds, kindly correspond with the undermention. All correspondence will be kept strictly confidential. Please send photo if possible and I will return it not satisfactory.

Quick action is the only hope when kidney disease appears.

There is a whole train of dreadfully painful and fatal ailments which soon follow any neglect to get the kidneys right. Among others are rheumatism, lumbago, Bright's disease, hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure.

In Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you will find a treatment which is both quick and thorough.

Mr. C. E. Raymus, Lindale, Alta., writes:—

"I was a great sufferer from kidney disease and lame back for more than a year. A friend of mine one day told me of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and acting upon his advice I tried them. After I had taken one box I felt better, so I continued until I had used five boxes. By this time I felt as well and strong as ever, and am glad to recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to anyone suffering as I did."

THE SPINSTERS' BALL
MONO CENTRE

The Spinsters held a little show
In Mono Centre Hall;
They sent out invitations
To imitate a ball.

At 10 o'clock the fun began,
And every one felt funny;
The crowd consisted of forty-four,
And the monkey took the money.

You should have seen the crowd
That flocked up from the Glen;
The Hockley wolves and gadabouts,
But there came no gentlemen.

A few of the names I now tell you,
To see if you know any;
Of good looking girls there were a few,
But of boys there were not many.

John Conn was a useful boy,
To all he was a hope and joy;
Now listen, girls, this I have heard,
That Johnny wants to cage a bird.

While W. Conn, so tall and neat,
Was dancing the young ladies off their feet;
His fair spouse, from out of the corner,
Started to toddle with big Tom Horner.

Clarence and Earl, our fiddlers bright
Both took a trip on that memorable night,
To get their esteemed from a far away shore,
To trip out a night on a half-waxed floor.

Harold Marshall was trying his best
To dance to the tune of "Feather Your Nest;"
These spinsters were after him all the way through,
And when none of them got him, they were all feeling blue.

Gordon, from Rosemont, was also there,
Dancing with maidens both dark and fair;
One from Relessey and one from the Third,
His mind isn't settled as to which is the bird.

Ellis Stinson, from the county town
Was driving somebody's girl around;
A broken heart someone will bear,
If her mind's not made up, who's love she will share.

Jackson Woods, our hero fair,
Was stepping around, causing a stir;
But the air soon cooled, which lifted a load,
He was dancing with a lass from the Centre Road.

I'll tell you a secret, don't tell where you heard,
Theodore Wilson's a lonely bird;
He's trying his best to strike a match,
He says he's tired of having to batch.

Carman came to this makeshift shine,
With a little lass from up the Sixth line;
Frank Wooder and his teacher came too,
To teach the spinsters some new step to do.

Clinton McCutcheon we failed to see,
Everyone wondered where he could be;
But hurry up, Clinton, and find your mate,
Take my advice, lad, it's getting late.

The supper sandwiches had not butter,
And cakes were scarce of lard,
While Billy Conn was serving this,
He said "'By Japers' these are hard."

THE PRINT OF BABY FINGERS

There it was on a broken pane of glass—the print of a baby's hand. To escape a sudden downpour of rain, I had sought refuge in an old, deserted house. While the storm raged, I explored my crude, but kindly shelter. In a corner, among a heap of rubbish, I had found this tragic reminder of another's sorrow. The bit of glass had been rudely framed, and, on the lower edge, these words had been written by a hand that trembled most pitifully: "This is all that I have left now."

What a pathetic biography was here! What a glimpse of a heart all bruised and broken! I lingered, musingly, before this token of grief.

There had been the birth of a child. A woman had gone down to death's river, and had there waged heroic battle!

And the child had lived its brief day. It had looked in pleased wonder on a world full of entrancing mystery. No doubt it had laughed in its beautiful way, and spoken its first little word.

And then the child had died, even while it was yet early morning. No doubt friends came to comfort the mother in her bereavement. Perhaps some one read a verse from God's Book and told of Christ's love for little children. And, oh! I wonder if these words touched the wound in this mother's heart or broke the midnight of her gloom!

Then came sad, lonely days, when the mother lived alone with her grief. The house seemed so silent and empty now! The music of baby's laughter and the soft pressure of baby's fingers—these no longer were!

And then came the day when, with brimming eyes, she discerned the print of baby's hand on the window-pane. With pathetic eagerness her poor heart had fed upon this reminder of her little child.

As I mused, the sun came out in all of its splendid glory. The storm was over now. The refreshed world was smiling in the sweet embrace of fragrant summer. And as I went my way, I said in my soul: "Perhaps her storm also passed, and her dark day ended, not without hope! Perhaps she looked up through rifted clouds to a blue place in the sky—where baby fingers beckoned!"

THE DOVER OIL COMPANY, LIMITED

(NO PERSONAL LIABILTY)

Capital $1,000,000. Par value $1.00 per share.

WE NOW HAVE THE GAS.

In an actual producing (sweet) Natural Gas Well on 900 acres of leased property in the Caledon Mountains (at Inglewood) with a volume of 106,000 cubic ft. per day and a pressure of 60 lbs.

Several Larger Gas Wells will be sunk, the first of which IS JUST STARTED and pipe lines to Brampton, Orangeville and Georgetown are under consideration. But this is just one of four attractive holdings.

(See others below.)

LARGE FLOW OF GAS IS STRUCK AT DOVER

Tools Are Hurled Hundreds of Feet Into Air—Depth Is 3,165 Feet.

Chatham, Dec. 23—The Union Natural Gas Company of this City has struck a wonderful gas well on the farm of William Dupnette, 4th concession, Dover township, according to a statement made public this morning by the officials. The well is leased by the Company and will be connected to the existing pipe-line systems.

Gas was struck at a depth of 3,165 feet. The drillers were carrying on routine work yesterday afternoon when suddenly they heard a tremendous roar and an immense volume of gas poured out of the well-head, throwing the apparatus all over the field and hurling tools and equipment many hundreds of feet into the air. It was with some difficulty that the flow was restrained sufficiently to commence the work of turning the gas into the line.

Late this afternoon F. W. James, General Manager of the Union Natural Gas Company, said, "The well looks good to me." Asked whether or not the volume was greater than in previous wells, he replied in the negative. He stated that another well is being drilled on the Myers farm some distance away from Duphette farm.

From Toronto Globe, Dec. 24, 1921.

The above well is on adjoining farm to Dover Oil Company's property.

The Dover Oil Fields are about to feel the stimulus that comes from an accession of interest on the part of the public. Mr. A. W. Parks, the president of the Oil Springs and Gas Company, one of the oldest oil companies operating in the province, and Mr. J. H. Anderson, the vice-President of the same concern, were in this city yesterday on their way home from a visit to the property of the Dover Oil Company, Ltd., where, they say, they found a good pressure of dry and pure gas. They were so well impressed with what they saw that they have secured several leases on farms surrounding the Dover and these it is their intention to prove, if in the near future Mr. J. S. Munro, who located the first lease in the section mentioned, is well satisfied with the outlook.

—Mail & Empire, Jan. 21, 1922

A 4 TO 1 OPPORTUNITY

Here are four excellent properties all to benefit the Dover Oil Co.'s shareholders. A limited stock offering at $1.00 per share at present.

OUR CALEDON GAS WELL

DOVER OIL CO.'S FLOW OF GAS IS PROMISING

The Dover Oil Company expects, the middle of next month, to commence upon a second well, and Mr. F. L. Snively, of Hamilton, has just been at the property to make the necessary location.

Mr. Snively found the pressure at the first well running 60 pounds of gas, or a flow of 106,000 feet a day. The gas is particularly pure and the equal of any to be found elsewhere in the province.

Mr. Snively is of the opinion that the Dover Company has a most promising future.—Mail & Empire, Feb. 15th, 1922.

NATURAL GAS

Eighteen thousand cubic feet of natural Gas is equal to one ton of coal for heating purposes. Some idea therefore of the immense value of a gas well may be gathered when you consider that the present price in Eastern Ontario is eighty cents a thousand cu. feet and each gas well produces one million cubic ft. per day would give a revenue of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars per year at that price.

DOVER OIL COMPANY'S PROPERTIES

in Ontario

ALL UNDER ONE MANAGEMENT

200 acre Lease in Dover Township adjoining the producing properties of the Union Natural Gas Co., where the deep flowing Gas and Oil wells are located.

150 acre Lease Belle River with 12 wells drilled. These wells will be put on the pumps immediately giving the Company a revenue from the start.

690 acre Leases near Orangeville, Ont., consisting of six separate leases about six miles north east of Orangeville, Ont. The leases are all located on the Anti-cline running through Orangeville as described by Dominion Government Geologists.

900 acres Leases at Caledon, Ont., consisting of six leaseholds near the Caledon Club. On one of these leases a gas well drilled ten years ago which was left to flow open for two years when it was capped and to-day the pressure roar when released can be heard half a mile away. This well was drilled to a depth of 1400 feet and would require to go about 400 feet further to the Trenton, where a heavy flow of gas should be found.

Immediately this new gas well comes in at possibly 700 or 800 feet, up goes the price of shares. Buy now at $1.00 and make 50 per cent. Remember we have the gas NOW, not hunting for it.

ONE CASE

Slim Bill of Fare at the Spring Assizes on Tuesday.

The Dufferin County Spring Assizes took place in the Court House here on Tuesday before His Lordship, Mr. Justice Riddell. The docket was unusually slim, consisting of a single civil case. Had our one-time townsman, W. N. Irwin, been on the scene, he would have been pleased to describe the situation that confronted the Court and legal talent by the inelegant but expressive phrase, "a skimpy chicken."

As there was no criminal business Sheriff Endacott followed the time honored custom of presenting the Judge with a pair of white kid gloves. The Grand Jurors had been notified some days ago that it would not be necessary for them to attend the court.

Although the petit jurors had been summoned for one o'clock His Lordship opened the Court at 10.30 a.m., shortly after arriving in town on the morning train. Enough jurors were present in the court room to secure a jury for Scott vs. Tipling, the only case down for trial. This was a slander action brought at the instance of Miss Scott, of Toronto, formerly a school teacher at Honeywood, against Robert Tipling, a Honeywood blacksmith. Plaintiff claimed that the defendant had made statements in conversation with other parties that reflected on her chastity and moral character. Defendant denied positively that he had ever made the statements complained of and further averred that he had no reason to make any statements of this nature. Some seven or eight witnesses were examined. The jury evidently believed that the weight of the evidence was with the plaintiff for they brought in a verdict in favor of Miss Scott, who was thereupon awarded the nominal sum of $5 in damages, which is the largest sum that can be awarded in an action of this kind brought specially for the vindication of character. The verdict, however, carries costs and the defendant will therefore have to bear the expenses of the suit. The Judge was very severe in his condemnation of the statute which limited the amount of damages in actions of this class to a nominal sum. He reported as declaring that it was "miserable" legislation. Mr. W. D. Henry, of Lucas & Henry, Markdale, acted for the plaintiff and Mr. C. R. McKeown, K. C., for the defendant.

The jurors who sat on the case were:—D. Broderick, D. Broderick, Harvey Curry, E. C. Clarke, Jas. R. Clarke, Henry A. Coutts, J. W. Burk, Elgin Duke, John Graham, J. W. Grahame (foreman), Wm. Henderson and Robt. J. Irvine.

The Court closed about four o'clock in the afternoon.

ARCHDEACON RIX

Former Rector of St. Mark's Receives Important Appointment.

In recognition of many years of faithful service in the Diocese of Caledonia, Archbishop Du Vernet has appointed Rev. G. A. Rix to be Archdeacon of Prince Rupert and Rev. W. F. Rushbrook to be honorary canon of St. Andrew's Pro-Cathedral. This will mean that Canon Rix will rank next to the bishop of the diocese and Canon Rushbrook next to Archdeacon Rix. The appointments will cause no change in the conduct of the church work here and Archdeacon Rix and Canon Rushbrook will continue in the same capacities as in the past.

Archdeacon Rix has been here for nine years and in that period has done valuable service as canon of St. Andrew's Church. Before coming to Prince Rupert, Archdeacon Rix was clergyman at Orangeville, Ontario, and prior to that dean of Wycliffe College and assistant clergyman in the Church of the Redeemer, Toronto, concurrently.

Canon Rushbrook is a pioneer clergyman of the diocese and over ten years ago took up his first post in the district as deacon at Port Essington. Some years ago he took up the duties as rural dean in charge of the Prince Rupert missions on the launch "Northern Cross," on which he visits periodically outlying places in the district, conducting services. His energetic and far-reaching work in the district is well known and appreciated.—Prince Rupert, B. C., Daily News.

Archdeacon Rix will be well remembered by many of our readers as the well-loved rector of St. Mark's Church here for a number of years. Canon Rushbrook was formerly rector of the Hillsburg parish.

THE ORANGEVILLE MINSTRELS

Yes, it was the last, but by no means the least of the many concerts that local talent has put on in the Orangeville Opera House last winter and this spring. Large and appreciative audiences welcomed the efforts of the minstrels at the performances on Thursday and Friday nights. The hits were as a rule to the point and very applicable in most instances, although perhaps a few of the audience did not quite see the point about "Chewing gum," "keeping the shoes on," "the still" and other allusions designed to set forth characteristics or peculiarities of citizens of the town. The Minstrels are to be commended on the sombreness of their colour, the distinct carrying quality of their voices and the vigour with which the chief performers did their stunts. Perhaps in real life no one ever saw a nigger with quite the figure of George McLean, or quite the get-up of E. C. Daniels, but they played their parts to perfection nevertheless. The conductor and trainer, Mr. J. E. Jessop, is to be commended on the thoroughness with which his work was done and the perfect manner in which the performers had prepared their parts. The different numbers were all well-received, but the old-fashioned "square dance" fairly brought down the house. The antics of the "female" dancers were especially mirth-provoking. Walter Dahl and Armour Robinson have since been heard to express the wish that they had been born real girls. The net proceeds of the two entertainments will be handed over to the Arena Company and will just about defray the cost of securing the charter for the Company and other organization expenses.

Those taking part in the "Show" were Geo. H. McLean, J. E. Jessop, W. Clowes, E. C. Connop, Dr. W. J. Price, Howard B. Cox, Harvey Curry, Ross Curry, E. C. Daniels, A. M. Ellis, Robt. Horley, J. Trelford, Will Porter, Stuart Porter, Carl and Will Hanley, Herb Leggatt, Earl Stevenson, Frank Jackson, Walter Dahl, Auric Aiken, Armour Robinson, Geo. Williams, Vernet Armstrong, Leonard McCabe, H. Cameron, Norris Hughes, Christie McAuley, G. B. Hayes, Lloyd Deagle, Neil Crowe, Clayton Connell, Ralph Endacott, Will Henderson and Harry Marshall. Miss Kathleen Fleming acted as accompanist and the Orangeville orchestra contributed to the success of the performances by providing excellent music both evenings.

FUNERAL OF CAPT. HOLLAND

Full military honors were accorded Captain H. L. Holland, M. C., smash at Waldemar on Sunday evenwho was killed in an aeroplane at his funeral in Ottawa on Tuesday afternoon. The service began at 2.30 in All Saints' Church, Rev. C. G. Hepburn conducting.

The Air Board, militia and defence headquarters and other branches of the service had many representatives present, and there was also a large attendance of private citizens to pay their last tribute to a distinguished officer who had died on duty. The body was carried on a gun carriage and the military escort was supplied by the R. C. M. P. The regimental band of the G. G. F. G. was in attendance.

HE KNEW THE RULE

A new man got a job as porter on a railway train, and one of his first duties was to learn the rules, as laid down in the rule book of the railway for the safety of the train and passengers. He prided himself on knowing them perfectly. One night the conductor, going through the sleeping car, noted a red lantern hanging in the passage way. He called the new porter and asked him what the red lantern was doing there. "Why chief," said the porter, "I was just carrying out the rules." "Never heard of any rule calling for a red lantern in a sleeping car," answered the conductor. "Where did you get it from?" With an air of perfect positiveness the new porter got out his book of rules and pointed out rule 27—"Caution—Always hang out a red lantern when the rear end of a sleeper is exposed."

An unfaithful steward embezzled a large sum of money and his employer asked advice as to how he should be dealt with, so goes the story.

"Get rid of him at once," advised an Englishman.

"Keep him and deduct the sum from his wages," said a Scotchman.

"But," said the employer, "the sum is far greater than his wages."

"Then raise his wages," suggested an Irishman.

FARMERS OF DUFFERIN

I have made arrangements to keep in stock at my Chopping Mill, on East Broadway, Gunn's Hog Meal. This Meal is 60 per cent. protein. 100 lbs. to 10 bags of Chop will finish a 200 lb. Hog one month earlier than can be done with the best grain grown on the farm. No indigestion or crippled hogs when this is used. I have also Gunn's celebrated Calf Meal in 50 lb. bags. Give the calves a chance. There is money in them. No occasion to have them suck the cow. Skimmed milk, with this Meal, 25 per cent. protein, answers the purpose. A trial is convincing. Call when in town and get a bag of each.

LOOK FOR THE BANNER

"We look forward to getting The Banner," writes Mr. R. T. M. Temple, an old Orangeville boy, who is now Manager of the Standard Bank at Lomond, Alta. "While many of the names are new," continues Mr. Temple, "the conditions of the town must be much the same, if they are reflected in the ability to keep a champion lacrosse representation in the field as in the old days. Needless to say we read with pleasure of the achievements of the green and white. We have had quite a winter. While it could not be considered severe it has been quite long with several severe periods. There is now every appearance of spring and we expect that seeding will commence within the next few days. I wish The Banner every success in the current year and the years to come."

LOCAL NEWS.

—Treat your grain for smut with Formalin. Get it at Fairbairn's Drug Store.

—Mrs. L. A. Butler, of Millbank, Ont., writes, "Find enclosed $1.50 for my Banner for this year. I cannot do without it as it gives me the home news."

—"Tanlac did what everything else failed to do." Thousands have said it. So will you. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ont.

—We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Richard Partridge, of Brampton, who has been in poor health all winter, has been removed to St. Michael's Hospital in Toronto. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

—At the annual meeting of the Durham lacrosse club a resolution was passed tendering a vote of thanks to Mr. J. H. Harding, a former Orangeville boy, for his splendid services as manager last season. Mr. Harding was unable to acept reappointment this year owing to press of business duties.

—Buy your out-of-town supplies with Dominion Express Money Orders. Five Dollars costs three cents.

—Two teaspoonsful of Tanlac in a little water taken three times a day just before meals will make you eat better, feel better, sleep better and work better. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ont.

—Tanlac is sold for $1.00 at Fairbairn's Drug Store.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McBride, West Broadway, and family are having quite a serious time of it with sickness. The entire household is or has been laid up with the flu. Mrs. McBride and babe are quite seriously ill in the hospital, but are somewhat better now.

—Tanlac is the result of years of study, experimentation and research by some of the world's greatest chemists. Hence its merit. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ont.

—Public School books, scribblers and other school supplies at The Banner Bookstore.

—Evangelist Michael V. Delaney, of Chatham, will speak at an evangelistic service in the Opera House at 8.15 on Sunday night. The service will be undenominational and all citizens are invited to attend. The evangelist was reared in the Roman Catholic faith, but was converted a number of years ago.

REFORESTATION

A consignment of 13,000 tree plants arrived in Beeton a few days ago to be used in the reforestation scheme in the watershed area of the municipality. A supervisor from the Department of Lands and Forests is on hand to supervise the work of setting out the young trees. The entire cost will be borne by the Ontario Government. It is thought that about twelve acres will be planted this spring. The trees are being set out with the idea of conserving the water supply of the municipality.

Exhibition from: 10 a.m. to 5.30 p.m. each day.

WEDNESDAY HALF-HOLIDAYS

Orangeville merchants have agreed to commence the Wednesday half-holidays on Wednesday next, May 3rd, and continue them until the second Wednesday in September, the same as last year. Broadway business places will therefore close at 12 o'clock noon, on Wednesday next and every Wednesday thereafter during the summer months.

SAVED BABY'S LIFE

Mrs. Alfred Tranchemontague, St. Michel des Saints, Que., writes:—"Baby's Own Tablets are an excellent medicine. They saved my baby's life and I can highly recommend them to all mothers." Mrs. Tranchemontague's experience is that of thousands of other mothers who have tested the worth of Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are a sure and safe medicine for little ones and never fail to regulate the bowels and stomach, thus relieving all the minor ills from which children suffer. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario.

GAS AND POSSIBLE OIL WELLS OF CALEDON MOUNTAINS.

Drilling for gas or oil has always created considerable excitement, not alone in the immediate district where drilling is taking place, but often very far afield, due no doubt to the inflammable nature of the product, and the extraordinary possibilities of profits in an investment. Men and women have become millionaires over night through such investments and these possibilities exist to-day as much as they ever did. But the speculative feature, existing to such a marked degree, in many of these possibilities, has, in the gas wells now being drilled in the Caledon Mountains, near Inglewood, been eliminated in the fact that natural gas, of the cleanest and sweetest type has already been found in considerable quantity and has been lying dormant for ten years, awaiting development of the district.

The Dover Oil Company, with three other valuable holdings, in the acknowledged rich oil and gas district of Western Ontario, and who have some 900 acres of gas and oil rights in the vicinity of this gas producing well at Inglewood, which they also control, are now starting to drill several much larger gas wells in the vicinity—a natural basin with many valleys leading into it which authorities and experts state is every indication of a large deposit of gas and oil—and are looking for extraordinary results at the 700 or 800 foot level. But its the level, or the distance they will have to drill that is speculative, rather than "will they strike gas." There is no question about the gas, its existence is already proven, and by going deep enough oil will be obtained, say the authorities.

Already franchises for pipe lines are under negotiation and the commercial end of the venture is assuming attractive possibilities, too considerable to here enumerate.

The Dover Oil Company, realizing how important is the question of placing this large and interesting project before the public, who always want to share in the good things of their district and of their country as well, have now placed the entire sale of the remaining available stock issue in new and experienced hands and the Securities Sales Service, Suite 209—79 Adelaide St., E., Toronto, Ont., will hereafter take over this very important end of the business.

A well planned and judicious advertising campaign is now under way and already many salesmen of undoubted merit and sterling character are starting to let the public know of this great possibility of profit, which heretofore has been allowed to lie dormant.

LACROSSE NOTES

Toronto dailies state that the Desborough Cup trustees will order The Dufferins and St. Simons to meet on May 6th and 13th. It is doubtful if either team will be in fit shape to play games of this importance so early in the season.

Orangeville's midget team has reorganized for the season with the following officers:Hon. President, A. Firth; President, J. Z. Henry; Vice-President, Fred Golden; Secretary, Stanley Brawley; Treasurer, Bert McLean; Managing Committee, Cecil Smith, Stewart Young, Garnet Wiggins, Vic Loftus and Ross Robertson. Stanley Brawley and Elmer McKim will coach the youngsters in the team play and the fine points of the game. They have plenty of promising material and should be able to develop a winning team.

The senior O. A. L. A. teams will be grouped in two five-team sections. Torontos, Maitlands, Weston, Brampton and Orangeville will comprise Group 1 and St. Simons, Riversides, St. Catherines, Shamrocks and The Beaches will form Group 2.

The Juvenile Dufferin Lacrosse Club held a reorganization meeting in the Library Auditorium on Tuesday night. The following officers were elected:—

Hon. President, Frank Crowe; President, Fred Atkinson; Secretary-Treasurer, R. Wilson McConnell; Executive Committee, Officers and Messrs. Neil Crowe, Arthur Henry, Eddie Smith, Clayton Connell and Elmer McKim; Field Captain, Arthur Henry; Manager, Mr. W. C. Hopkins; Coach, Mr. Wm. Stephens.

There is excellent material available and there is no reason why we cannot have a crack juvenile team here. Remember, the juveniles of to-day are the seniors of the near future. Support the boys and keep Orangeville the leading lacrosse center of Canada.

BOWLERS ORGANIZE

Orangeville Lawn Bowling Club held its annual meeting in the Library Auditorium on Wednesday night of last week. Officers were elected as follows:—

Hon. Pres., J. D. Torrie; President, Thomas Wright; Vice-President, Wm. J. Gillespie; Secretary, T. S. Parkinson; Treasurer, A. A. Hughson; Assistant Secretary, C. V. Jeffers. Executive Committee—Above Officers, with R. H. Robinson, George Beswick and E. C. Clarke. Auditors—Elmer Still and Geo. Beswick.

July 18, 19 and 20 were the dates set for the annual Tournament.

Under the most trying conditions men always choose KING GEORGE'S NAVY CHEWING. Its big plugs of moist, tough, full flavored tobacco never fail to satisfy—that's the reason. Sold everywhere—2 big plugs for 25c. Some value! Some tobacco!

E. S. Brown, of Collingwood, has been awarded the contract for furnishing the material for repapering the county court house. His tender for the necessary quantity of the different material amounted to $826. This price was $127 cheaper than the next lowest of four other tenders. The work is to be completed by August 15th.

On their arrival in Ottawa the other day, members of the House of Commons were recipients of a printed notice to the effect that the baths of the house, located near the shaving parlor, were in readiness for the accommodation of members. The baths, so says the notice, will be in charge of two returned men, graduate masseurs. The Progressives generally are reported to be delighted with the arrangements, but what is Agnes going to do?—Toronto Saturday Night.

Joseph E. Tracey, a young man of Adjala, died Tuesday morning of last week after an illness of only a few days. He was 29 years of age and was much esteemed among his friends and acquaintances.

NOW HE PRAISES DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Manitoba Man Run Down and Out of Sorts Finds the Remedy He Needed in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Morden, Man., April 24th (Special)—"I feel like advising everyone to use Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Such is the statement of Mr. I. D. Dyck, who lives on R. R. No. 2 near here. Mr. Dyck has used Dodd's Kidney Pills and found them good.

"I had been dragging along for the last few years" he says, "till I wasn't able to do the chores. I tried two doctors but they seemed to do me no good at all.

Then an advertisement led me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I am so much improved that I feel like telling everyone to use them."

"Dodd's Kidney Pills make healthy kidneys. Healthy kidneys mean pure blood. Pure blood gives new energy all over the body. If you have that tired feeling that spring brings ask your neighbors about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

SHELBURNE'S MEMORIAL

On Monday, May 15th, Shelburne ratepayers will be asked to vote on the following questions relative to the proposed Soldiers' Memorial to be erected in that municipality:—

1. Are you in favor of the purchase by the village of Shelburne of the Berwick Park at the price of $1500, to be known as the Memorial Park, the Soldiers' Memorial to be erected therein with the funds now on hand?

2. Or, are you in favor of having the Soldiers' Memorial placed in the Shelburne Cemetery with the funds now on hand?

The vote is being taken under a by-law passed by the municipal council.

How History Repeats Itself

Modern scientific research has revealed that many present-day healing methods were actually in existence thousands of years ago. For instance, zam-buk the world-famed skin healer of to-day, had its counterpart in the secret healing balms of Imperial Rome. These were used by the fighting gladiators for dressing wounds and sores.

Like the precious balms of long ago, zam-buk is composed exclusively of rare herbal juices and extracts, but scientifically blended and concentrated into convenient form for modern use.

Applied to any cut, wound or sore, zam-buk swiftly takes out pain, irritation and inflammation. Powerfully antiseptic and germicidal, it cleanses the inner tissues of poison and disease germs. Its stimulative and healing agents grow new skin as by magic.

Lastly, and most important, zam-buk is absolutely free from the animal fats and mineral drugs found in most ointments to-day! 100% pure herbal medicine, zam-buk is always safe and wholesome to use even though kept for months.

For cuts, burns, scalds, sprains, sores and wounds; or the big troubles like eczema, salt rheum, ulcers, ringworm, poisoned sores or piles, nothing can take the place of zam-buk. Get a fifty cent box of this pure balm to-day.

W. M. S. CONVENTION

(Intended for last Issue.)

The eighth annual meeting of the Orangeville Presbyterial W. M. S. was held in the Presbyterian Church, Dundalk, on Wednesday, April 12th. Mrs. (Rev.) J. Burkholder, President for the last three years, presided at both morning and afternoon sessions.

The morning session was taken up largely with the reading and consideration of the "Presbyterial By-laws" and the reports of the different secretaries, which in most cases, showed an increase in membership and givings.

The Treasurer's report, duly audited, was adopted. The total givings have increased this year by $508.78 which is a good indication of the place the work holds in the hearts of the members.

The Provincial Finance Committee asks for still another increase of $500. This amount could be realized if each Auxiliary Y. W. Auxiliary and Mission Band increased its givings 86 cents per member. It is a matter of regret that there is a decrease in the number of subscribers to the Missionary Messenger. The Secretary felt that this was owing to the fact that last year our Messenger had not been coming regularly. As it is very important that every member keep in touch with the work being done by our Missionaries, the Secretary expressed a desire that the number of subscribers be increased.

The Supply Secretary read a letter of appreciation from Mrs. Marshall, Matron of the Birtle School, Manitoba, for the nineteen bales of excellent clothing, the Christmas gifts and money for boots sent from this Presbyterial.

The afternoon session was constituted at 1.30 p.m. After the devotional exercises a short memorial service, for the late Mrs. Carr, of Ventry, who a few weeks ago, passed to her reward, was most sympathetically conducted by Mrs. Mitchell, Ventry, who paid fine tribute to the life of devotion and service of one whom to know was to love, and whose memory shall live a benediction and a blessing. Verses 2 and 4 of Hymn 370 were sung with a note of triumph by all present.

A message of love and a wish for a very inspirational meeting was read by Mrs. Burkholder, from our Honorary President, Mrs. Kendall, whose absence on account of illness was deeply regretted. Her message was one of hope and expectation and urged us, as a society, to read, to know and to pray.

After the reading of the minutes of the Executive, discussion took place re time limit for Presbyterial officers and the paying of pullman rates for delegates to the General Council. The representatives expressed their willingness to stand by the decision of the Executive that we do not have a time limit for Presbyterial officers and that railway fare be paid only for delegates attending the General Council.

It was decided that instead of sending a delegate to the summer school at Geneva, twenty-five dollars be sent to the General Fund toward the deficit.

Mrs. Ferguson was appointed as delegate to the Provincial meeting at Ottawa.

It being the wish of the Convention that we continue having a Summer Conference, committees were appointed to arrange for time of meeting, speakers, etc.

A solo, entitled "My Grace is Sufficient for Thee," was beautifully rendered by Miss Middaugh, Dundalk.

The Presbyterial had the privilege of hearing an address from Miss Warren, Honan. She spoke of China being a land of possibilities, but in spite of the fact that its history dates back to 200 B. C. it is still undeveloped because, in a great measure, it is a product of its religion. The prevailing motive in religion in China, in whatever form, be it that of Confucius, Budda, Mohammed or Spirit worship, is one of fear, not love. This dread of spirits overshadows the whole life of the Chinese. Some ask "Isn't China's religion good enough for them?" Where there is fear there is no hope, there is no faith, there can be no love. Man was made in the image of God and he cannot find rest apart from God. Others ask, "Is it worth while" or "How long is it going to take?" Should a religion that transforms lives be withheld? What it has done for you it can do for China. The length of time depends upon every individual Christian. At present among eighty million people we have only five doctors. Since 1914 one ordained man has been sent out. The W. M. S. have three women to go out and in the young people to be willing to be made among the people. The speaker made an earnest plea for more workers and asked willing to follow their Guide.

The Presbyterial accepted an invitation from Grand Valley for next year's meeting.

This interesting and helpful meeting was brought to a fitting close by a short talk by Mrs. Thornley, Shelburne. Her words were an earnest plea to all the women of our W. M. S. to a higher, more spiritual and devoted Christian life. "Therefore, be ye steadfast, immoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord for as much as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord."

The delegation was given a hearty welcome to Dundalk by Mrs. McKechnie and Mrs. Montgomery on behalf of the Auxiliaries of Dundalk and Ventry.

Luncheon and tea were served to the visiting delegates in the schoolroom. Officers elected are as follows:—

Hon.-Pres., Mrs. Kendall, Dundalk; Pres., Mrs. Burkholder, Caledon; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. Mahaffy, Orangeville; Mrs. Scott, Inglewood; Mrs. Parslow, Prinsville; Mrs. K. Paton, Flesherton.

Secretaries—Corresponding, Mrs. T. C. Glassford, Caledon; Recording and Press, Mrs. G. W. Rose, Corbetton; Mission Band, Miss McMaster, Brampton; Supply, Mrs. Sproule, Orangeville; Home Helper, Mrs. Craig, Grand Valley; Strangers, Mrs. D. N. Potter, Mono Mills; Library and Literature, Mrs. Parry, Hillsburg; Messenger, Mrs. Adamson, Orangeville; Treasurer, Mrs. Ferguson, Shelburne; Auditors, Mrs. Hall, Shelburne; Mrs. Hamilton, Shelburne.

Nominating Committee—Mrs. J. B. Adamson, Orangeville; Mrs. McKechnie, Dundalk; Mrs. Black, Hornings Mills; Mrs. Montgomery, Dundalk; Mrs. Carlor, Claude.

It will cost Guelph $50,000 or $60,000 to put in additional sewers, which are now absolutely necessary.

Last week three prisoners were taken from Brampton jail to Guelph Farm prison. They were Jno. Sullivan, sentenced for two years for stealing a Victory bond from a farmer; Johnson, a Swede, who burned his house and got two years; John Boom, a Finlander, who broke a plate glass window in Port Credit and was given three months. All three came from Toronto township.

A fatal accident occurred at Inglewood a week ago Monday in the knitting mill of D. Graham, Sons & Co., when Charles G. Scott, while working in the scouring room slipped and fell, and struck his head against a dye vat, causing a hemorrhage of the brain. Mr. Scott was 63 years of age and had been with the firm continuously since 1882. He is survived by his widow and five daughters—Mrs. (Rev.) W. L. L. Lawrence, Newmarket; Mrs. A. Sedgwick and Mrs. R. T. Cornfield, Toronto; Mrs. N. R. Kee, Midland, and Mrs. D. Stone, Beeton; also by two brothers, J. M. Scott and J. R. Scott, and one sister, Mrs. T. H. Graham, all of Inglewood.

Long Distance puts the Big Warehouses at your Elbow

"No, I won't load up with a big stock" — said the enterprising but cautious dealer — "if they sell as well as we hope, I can easily get in touch with your house by Long Distance and order more of them."

Re-ordering by Long Distance makes it entirely practicable for dealers to carry small stocks, thus keeping down their capital investment, and yet not lose sales by being out of stock. The wholesaler's and manufacturer's warehouses are virtually at the dealer's elbow. The goods are often shipped the same day.

It also enables dealers to try out the novelties and new styles people have been reading about and are asking for, on which the margin of profit is usually greater than on staple lines. "Use the Bell to Sell" — and to Buy.

THE RETORT COURTEOUS

The recent Canadian teachers' excursion to New York and Washington had its humorous incidents and plenty of them. One of the funniest was due to the attempt of the veteran Dr. Hughes, who had charge of the excursion, to take a rise out of an American immigration officer. The officer asked the Inspector if he was an American. "No, thank the Lord," responded Dr. Hughes. After asking a number of questions the officer concluded by enquiring how long he would be in the United States, to which Dr. Hughes replied, "Just a week." "Thank the Lord," commented the officer and walked away.

THE RENNER CAMP

The Renner Camp at Jordan Station on Lake Ontario near St. Catharines, formerly run by The Young Women's Christian Association and patronized by several of the young ladies of Orangeville, will open on June the first, as an elite ladies camp for women and girls only. A cold storage has been added to the large building where fresh food may be kept on hand at this beautiful spot in Niagara District, well-known to the people who were interested in Canada's success in the late war.

—Thursday next will be Orangeville monthly fair day.

THE TOWN COUNCIL

Mayor and Councillor Dalgleish Appointed Delegates to Hydro Meeting in Durham on Friday.

At the regular meeting of the Town Council on Monday night Mayor Hewson and Councillor Dalgleish were appointed delegates to a meeting of representatives of the Hydro municipalities in the Eugenia system. The meeting will be held in Durham on Friday afternoon for the purpose of forming a Hydro Association for the Eugenia system and to discuss important Hydro matters generally.

Messrs. A. M. Ellis, G. M. Cruikshank and Bandmaster J. E. Jessop appeared before the Council to support an application for a grant of $340 for the purpose of buying band uniforms. After hearing the members of the deputation the Council agreed to vote the sum asked for.

Willis Chipman was appointed engineer for the addition to the waterworks reservoir. Mr. Chipman will visit Orangeville, inspect the reservoir and submit a report setting forth the best method of increasing the town's water reserve. The supply has been perilously low several times in recent years, particularly in the dry seasons of the summer and the Fire Underwriters' Association is insisting that the Council take steps to enlarge the reservoir or otherwise increase the reserve.

Corporation accounts were passed as follows:—Geo. King, $47.50; Orangeville Hydro, $34.80; Bell Telephone Co., $3.58; Orangeville Hydro, street lighting, $321.20; Jos. Ogston, $18.30; Sam Street, $23.40; Geo. Eudle, $13.80; Henry Reid, $35.00; Garnet Sanderson, $40.00; J. S. Legate, $2.10; Sam Street, $1; D. Sawyers, $1.50; Sam Street, $1; Geo. R. Hogben, $27.30; A. A. Hughson, $6.00; O. C. Bellerby, $15.62; Chas. Adams, $9.00; C. V. Jeffers, $5.15; Walter Bailey, $3.00; Canadian Metal Co., $37.70; W. E. Irvine, $1.50; Geo. Leader, $1.00; Municipal World, 71c.

SALE CATALOGUES

Catalogues are now ready for distribution for Mr. Arch. McKinnon's big Dispersion Sale of Scotch and High Class Grade Shorthorn Cattle and Purebred Yorkshires. The Sale will be held on Mr. McKinnon's premises, lot 29, con. 11, Erin township, on Wednesday afternoon, May 24th. Parties who are interested may obtain copies of the catalogue upon application to Mr. H. A. Dorrance, District Agricultural Representative.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS

On account of the Wednesday half-holidays, which commence this week, advertisers are reminded that advertising copy must reach The Banner not later than noon Tuesday to ensure publication. Correspondence and other news matter must also reach us not later than Tuesday.

ORANGEVILLE GROWING

The assessment rolls for 1922, which were returned a short time ago by Assessor G. B. Hayes, indicate that Orangeville has made a substantial advance in population and property value during the past year. The returns place the population at 2503 and the total assessment at $1,323,406. Last year's rolls placed the population at 2427 and the assessment at $1,187,613. Comparison of the figures for the two years shows an increase of $135,793 in assessment and an increase of 76 in the population. The returns also indicate that the population given Orangeville by the Dominion census returns was nearly three hundred under the mark. Details of the 1922 returns follow:—

West Ward—Value of land, $56,765; buildings, $247,494; business assessment, $7,268; taxable income, $4,900; total assessment, $316,787; population, 528.

North Ward—Value of land, $75,130; value of buildings, $288,905; business assessment, $30,087; taxable income, $1,478; total assessment, $345,600; population, 528.

East Ward—Value of land, $46,420; value of buildings, $237,760; business assessment, $14,771; taxable income, $7,072; total assessment, $306,023; population, 603.

South Ward—Value of land, $73,803; value of buildings, $263,510; business assessment, $16,183; taxable income, $1,500; total assessment, $354,996; population, 844.

Town of Orangeville—Real property, $239,993; value of buildings, $865,969; value of taxable real property, $1,105,962; value of real property liable for school taxes only, $10,000; value of real property exempt from taxation or liable for local improvements only, $123,826; business assessment, $68,669; taxable income, $14,950; total assessment, $1,323,406; population, 2503.

FROM MISS MACPHAIL

Miss Mae Buchanan, Corresponding Secretary of the Camilla Women's Institute, has received the following letter from Miss Agnes Macphail, M. P.:—

Ottawa, Ontario,
April 21st, 1922.

Miss Mae Buchanan,
Cor.-Secretary W. I.,
Camilla, Ont.

Dear Miss Buchanan,—

I get many letters but very few as thoughtful and kind as the one that came from the Camilla W. I. Often after sacrificing to go to speak somewhere I do wonder if it is worth the trouble, and to find that your Institute thought it was, was great encouragement to me.

I always thought the public, taken individually and collectively, were very important, but never to such an extent as I do since I came here. Public opinion must be educated and must be very strong before any reform can get through Parliament. I am trying to do what little I can but often it seems an impossibility to do anything. However, we will keep trying and here is hoping that if we all work together we will one day make Canada the best place on earth to live.

Yours sincerely,
Agnes C. Macphail.

CO-OPERATION COMMITTEE

A meeting of the joint Co-Operation Committee of the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches was held in the Methodist Church here on April 25th. Those present were Rev. John Locke, of Owen Sound, Revs. Geo. Kendall, Dundalk, H. L. Partridge and F. W. Mahaffy, Orangeville, A. E. Thornley, Shelburne, J. F. G. Morris, Alton, McCarten, Priceville; Andrews, Dundalk, and J. D. Byrnes and J. G. Brown, representing the Home Mission Committees of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches respectively. It was reported that North Erin and Alton Presbyterians had declined to acquiesce in the original grouping and that Waldemar Presbyterians preferred to be left out of the grouping. Mr. Partridge reported that a meeting had been held in response to a request from the people of Laurel, and it was decided to assign the Presbyterians of Laurel to the Methodist Church and to make an effort to supply Black's Corners by the Presbyterians. Following the reception of this report it was moved and carried that the Methodist and Presbyterian congregations at Laurel and the Methodist congregations of Whittington and Providence form a co-operative charge to be assigned to the Methodist Church, provided arrangements can be made to supply Black's Corners, and with the understanding that, if at the end of four years this arrangement be not satisfactory to the congregations concerned, the matter may be referred to the Co-operative Committee for action. In reference to certain groups in the proposed Co-operation schemes within the Toronto Conference, it was moved by Mr. Thornley, seconded by Mr. Brown, that Priceville Methodists and Presbyterians and Ebenezer Methodist be assigned to the Presbyterian Church and that Swinton Park Presbyterians and Salem and Bethel Methodists be assigned to the Methodist Church.

A FATAL FALL

Mrs. Thos. Wilson, of Sandhill, Met With Instant Death.

Mrs. Thomas Wilson, one of the most respected residents of the Sandhill district in Peel County, met death instantly through falling down stairs in her home on Wednesday night of last week. Deceased, who was 67 years of age and a fleshy, heavy woman, had not been sleeping very well lately. Unable to sleep Wednesday night she arose, took her pillow and left the room with the intention of going to a bedroom on the opposite side of the hall. In the darkness she turned too soon and stepped into the stairway. In the fall she struck her head on the bannister. Whether the shock of the fall or the blow on her head was responsible for her death it was difficult to determine. At any rate death was instantaneous.

The Wilson household is on lot 29, 6th line, east, Chinguacousy, about one mile from Sandhill. The late Mrs. Wilson was born in Caledon township and was a daughter of the late William Wilson. She had lived in the Sandhill neighborhood since her marriage some 45 years ago. Deceased was a woman of fine character, an excellent neighbor and was highly thought of by the people of the community in which she resided. She was a member and an active worker in Sandhill Methodist Church. Her sudden demise under such sad circumstances has created widespread sorrow and heartfelt sympathy for the grief-stricken husband and relatives. Mrs. Wilson is survived by her husband and a family of seven sons and four daughters, namely, James, Stanley Mills; William, John, and Thomas, Sandhill; George, Dundalk; Mrs. W. Carson, Dundalk; Mrs. W. E. Glassford, Caledon; Mrs. Hugh Potter, Orangeville; Alexander Albert and Miss Alice at home. Thos. P. Wilson, Sandhill; Andrew, George, and William Wilson, Toronto; Hugh Wilson, Bolton; Rev. J. C. Wilson, Saskatoon; Mrs. Jas. Carberry, Tullamore, and Mrs. James Robinson, Brampton, are the surviving brothers and sisters.

There was a very large turnout of neighbors and friends to the funeral, which was held to Providence Cemetery near Mono Road on Friday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Bell-Smith, pastor of the Mono Road Methodist Circuit, had charge of the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were four brothers, Thos. P., Andrew, George and William Wilson and the brothers-in-law, James Carberry and James Robinson.

The bereaved husband is over 70 years of age and has not been any too well for some time.

MRS. JAMES WOOLNER

On Thursday afternoon one of the old residents of Collingwood, Mrs. James Woolner, passed away at her home on Robinson street. The deceased was before her marriage Miss Sarah McKitrick and was born at Whitby seventy-seven years ago. She came to Collingwood about 1870 and has resided here since. Her husband, James Woolner, died thirty-seven years ago. One son, Capt. Isaac Woolner, and four daughters survive. The latter are Margaret, Mrs. L. Seiggel, Toronto; Mary, Mrs. Harry Hill, also of Toronto; Sarah, Mrs. Alex. Brown, London and Libby, Mrs. C. Harris, Vancouver.

Mrs. Woolner was a member of the Baptist church and her funeral which took place on Monday afternoon to the Presbyterian cemetery was conducted by her paster, Rev. H. B. Coumans.

The deceased was a very quiet retiring woman, beloved by her family and enjoyed the highest respect of a wide circle of friends.—Collingwood Bulletin.

MRS. CHAS. GRAY

Deep gloom overcast the Laurel district at the news of the unexpected death of Mrs. Charles Gray, a well-known resident of that community. The sad occurrence took place at her late home lot 8, con. 6, Amaranth, on Saturday morning. On Monday previous to the death of Mrs. Gray a baby daughter had been ushered into this vale of tears. Mother and child seemed to be doing splendidly, although the mother was suffering from a severe cold, that gave the attending physician cause for some anxiety. Later pneumonia developed, but even then the doctor and the two trained nurses, who had been summoned, one from Orangeville and the other from Toronto, were confident that they would be able to pull their patient through alright. Unfortunately, their hopes were doomed to disappointment, the end coming quite suddenly early on Saturday morning.

The late Mrs. Gray was in her 42nd year and was the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Varcoe, West Broadway. She was born and spent her girlhood in Amaranth, afterwards moving to Orangeville with her parents, only to return to her native township again upon her marriage to Mr. Gray eighteen years ago. She was a cherry, kindly woman, possessed an attractive personality and had many warm friends, who will long cherish her memory. She was an excellent neighbor and a staunch member of the Methodist Church at Laurel, where she was a regular worshipper. A devoted wife and a loving, tender mother her death is an irreparable loss to the heartbroken husband and family. In addition to her husband and parents, she is survived by two sons, Eric, a student at Orangeville High School, and Vernon, and two daughters, Josie and the infant already referred to. Mr. Gordon Varcoe, of Calgary, is the only brother and Mrs. Granville Lawson, of Regina, and Mrs. Fred Ruddy, of Georgetown, are the sisters.

There was an exceptionally large attendance of the neighbors and friends at the funeral, which was held from Mrs. Gray's late home to Greenwood Cemetery on Monday afternoon.

Rev. G. W. Lynd, of Laurel, conducted the funeral service and was assisted by Revs. J. A. Reddon, of Laurel, and J. J. Coulter, Toronto. The pallbearers were Messrs. Chas. McKeown, Sandhill; Dr. G. S. Matthews, Orangeville; Jas. Snowden, Walter Gray, Louis Grosskurth and W. R. Grosskurth.

MRS. WILLIAM LAVERTY

Mrs. William Laverty, formerly a well-known resident of the township of Mono, passed away at her late residence, Joseph St., Shelburne, on Thursday, April 27th, in her 67th year. Deceased had been in rather delicate health for some time before her death. Mrs. Laverty, whose maiden name was Margaret Ann Stewart, was a sister of Mr. G. F. Stewart, Orangeville, Mr. James Stewart, Winnipeg, and Mrs. Richard Young, Adjala. She was a good-living, Christian woman and was held in high respect by her neighbors and friends. She is survived by her husband and a step-daughter, Mrs. J. A. Marshall, of Mono. The funeral was held from her late residence on Friday afternoon, interment taking place in the family burying plot in Relessey Cemetery. Rev. A. E. Thornley, of Shelburne, was the officiating clergyman. The pallbearers were Harold, Clifford and Allen Marshall, Milton Stewart, Leonard Buchanan nd Lyman Waller.

MRS. A. E. COOK

Word was received here on Monday conveying the sad news of the death of Mrs. A. E. Cook, nee Miss Edna Leflar, at her home, 1132 Owens Ave., Detroit. The body was taken to Owen Sound for interment arriving in that city on Monday night. The funeral took place from the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. Allan Cranston, 527 8th St., A., east, Owen Sound, on Wednesday afternoon. The deceased leaves to mourn her loss her husband, two small children, her mother, Mrs. W. F. Leflar, and one sister, Mrs. Allen Cranston, formerly of Orangeville, now residing in Owen Sound.

BAPTIST W. M. C.

The W. M. C. of the Baptist Church will hold an open meeting in the auditorium of the church at 8 o'clock on Monday evening, May 8. Miss Kate McLaurin, returned missionary from India, will address the meeting. The missionary is a daughter of the late Rev. John McLaurin and Mrs. McLaurin, pioneer Baptist missionaries in India. Miss McLaurin was born in Ramapatnam, India, received her education in Moulton College and McMaster University, Toronto, and then returned to India, where she has rendered many years of faithful service. A silver collection will be taken on behalf of Foreign Missions.

Spring is Here!

And with Spring comes house-cleaning. You will want to cleanse the walls as well as the floors of your rooms this Spring. The most sanitary—as well as the most pleasing—way to do this, is by re-papering.

April is the month of home renovation. Just as Nature now puts on her new robe, so, too, does the provident householder renovate the walls of each room, that is dilapidated, with a coating of fresh Wall Paper.

This Spring, in particular, we are anxious you should drop in and look over our New Stock of Patterns just received.

And, really, it is remarkably inexpensive. Let us suggest a scheme of decoration and quote you a price.

Prest-O-Lite Superiority Proved by Actual Test

IN the toughest side-by-side battery test that could be devised, the Prest-O-Lite Storage Battery demonstrated its superiority beyond question. This test was staged in a cold storage plant, where the best two batteries out of six submitted were selected.. One was a Prest-O-Lite. Both batteries were chilled for 17 hours in ten below zero temperature. Then each battery was, in turn, hooked up to a new, stiff, eight-cylinder engine and allowed to spin it to the limit of the battery's power and endurance.

At the finish of 3 successive trials, with from one to three minutes between each, the score stood:

FOR PREST-O-LITE		FOR COMPETITOR
237 seconds	132 revolutions	142 seconds	75 revolutions
25 seconds	10 revolutions	13 seconds	5 revolutions
10 seconds	4 revolutions	7 seconds	3 revolutions
15 seconds	5 revolutions	9 seconds	3 revolutions

This clean-cut, decisive victory, is convincing proof of the superiority of Prest-O-Lite Batteries for power, endurance and reserve force.

If you need a new battery, let it be a powerful Prest-O-Lite—the battery that will give surest starts, brightest lights and practical freedom from battery bother.

BARN DESTROYED

A disastrous barn fire, accompanied by the total destruction of the contents, occurred on the farm of S. J. Newton, lot 5, 3rd line, E. H. S., Mulmur, early on Sunday morning last. Mr. and Mrs. Newton first noticed the fire through the reflection on their bedroom window at about 1.15 a.m., the barn being then a total blaze and sections of the roof falling in. The barn was a large bank one 62 by 40 feet, and among the contents were 17 head of cattle, four horses, one sow and 12 pigs, 100 hens, his stock of grain and hay and mostly all his farm implements. These were all destroyed. The fire, which was of a mysterious origin, will prove a disastrous blow to Mr. Newton, coming as it did at this time of year. His loss is estimated at about $7,000, with insurance of $1000 on the barn and $1000 on the contents, both in the Dufferin Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co.—Free Press.

A BASEBALL CLUB

Although Orangeville has never been known as a baseball town, yet this popular summer game has always had its followers and enthusiasts among our citizens. Some years ago the town supported a team that was able to hold its own with Alton, Erin, Belwood and other neighboring teams. This was years before the war and since that time the game has been played very little except by the High School students. This year an effort is being made to put Orangeville on the map again in a baseball sense. The efforts of the enthusiasts culminated in a rousing organization meeting in the Library Auditorium on Wednesday night of last week. Mr. Robert Fairbairn occupied the chair and the gathering was unanimous in deciding to organize a Club and institute regular practices forthwith. Officers were elected as follows:—

Hon-President—Judge Fisher.
President—James Armstrong.
Vice-President—Alex. Walker.
Treasurer—Allen Marshall.
Secretary—William Watt.
Captain—Carl E. Hanley.
Manager—James Sullivan.
Executive—Messrs. R. Fairbairn, Andrew W. Dode, G. B. Hayes, Christie McAuley, Albert Rhomer and James Sullivan.

The players are holding regular practices on Idylwyld Park and a couple of representative nines are scheduled for a practice game on the first Wednesday half holiday. An effort is also being made to secure entry to the North Wellington Baseball League.

GABRIEL-BAYES

On Wednesday, April 19th, at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. T. J. Winstanley, 9 Fairview Ave., Toronto, the marriage took place of Miss Ethel Bayes to Major G. F. Gabriel, formerly of Shelburne. The Rev. A. L. Burch took the service in the presence of the immediate relatives. After a honeymoon spent in the east, Major and Mrs. Gabriel will reside at 243 Evelyn Avenue, Toronto.

CHARTERS-NATTRESS

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Christ Church, Brampton, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, when Norma Isabel, daughter of Mr. Joseph Nattress and the late Mrs. Nattress, became the bride of Rev. (Lieut.) H. P. Charters, second son of Mr. Samuel Charters, M. P., and Mrs. Charters. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. R. W. Allen, rector of Christ Church, assisted by Canon W. L. Baynes-Reed, rector of St. John's Church, Norway, Toronto, of which the groom is assistant rector. Owing to the death of the bride's mother recently, the wedding was of a quiet nature. The bride was unattended, and was given away by her father. She was attired in her travelling suit of tailored navy blue tricotine, blue hat with French flowers, ermine tie, and carried a white prayer book. Miss Norine Charters, sister of the groom, rendered the wedding march, and Mr. Clarence Packham, Weston, sang "O Promise Me," during the signing of the register. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left on a motor trip to New York.

DUNCAN BELL

Duncan Bell, a well-known and respected resident of lot 1, con 1, E. H. S., Mulmur, died very suddenly at his home on Tuesday evening of last week at the age of 66 years. The deceased had been in bad health for the past year, but on the day of his death he and his nephew, Alex. Mitchell, had driven to Orangeville. When returning home via the Prince of Wales Road the deceased complained of feeling unwell and urged the driver to hurry home. Arriving there Mr. Bell was unconscious and Dr. Fallis, of Shelburne, was called, but the physician could do nothing for him and he passed away about seven o'clock the same evening. The late Mr. Bell was unmarried and was born in King township, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bell, of Primrose, and spent nearly all his life in Mulmur township. He is survived by three brothers, Alexander Bell, of Mulmur, and Douglas and Alfred Bell, of Mono, and three sisters, Mrs. Henry Breedon and Mrs. W. J. McKenna, of Mono, and Mrs. Jas. McKenna, of Mulmur. Mrs. James Brown, who has resided with deceased for the past two years, is a niece. The funeral took place on Thursday of last week to Primrose Presbyterian Cemetery, the service being in charge of Rev. A. E. Owen, pastor of Shelburne Methodist Church.—Free Press.

MRS. JOHN CUNNINGHAM

Quite possibly the last pioneer resident of East Luther passed away Saturday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Mutrie, in the death of Mrs. John Cunningham, who suffered a stroke some months ago. Her life was a busy one, and deeply connected with the early history of this section. Born in Guelph township 79 years ago, Susanah West went to Peel township when a little girl and while yet in her teens was married to John Cunningham. Three of the early years of married life were in Minnesota, and on their return to Canada, settled in East Luther in 1867. At that time there was but four houses in Grand Valley and but 13 settlers north of the 7th concession. In this wilderness the brave couple started life in earnest and what discouragements, privation, disappointments came to them, those of this day can scarcely appreciate. But they had faith in each other, a courageous spirit and that indomitable will that admitted no defeat. As years passed they prospered and saw a goodly measure of success, but what is more their large family grew up to return that devotion which had been extended them in their earlier days. The Cunningham home ever held a welcome to the traveller in the early days and many can recall with gratitude the hospitality so generously extended, while in the sphere of women's work Mrs. Cunningham exercised the sympathetic and helping hand on many an occasion. Her husband died in 1890, since when she has made her home with her sons and daughters, and when dark days came to their homes she quietly stepped in and did again the mother's duty. She possessed a keen mind and had a splendid memory of dates and events connected with the past, and was a very entertaining speaker. Of a family of thirteen but one is deceased, Stephen, who died about a year ago. The others are Peter J., of Peel, Mrs. Geo. Adair, of Sask., James, in East Luther; John, in East Luther; Mrs. Dodds, of Caledon; Dr. Edward, of Sask.; Mrs. W. H. Mutrie, of Grand Valley; Geo., of Luther; Abner, of Fergus; Mrs. Crow, of Brantford; Fred, of Sask., and Mrs. Smale, of Brantford. There are also 37 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren. The funeral took place on Monday to St. Alban's Cemetery, Rev. John Truax conducting the ceremony, Mrs. Cunningham being a consistent and faithful member of the Methodist Church.—Star & Vidette.

Dunlop Double-Life, High-Mileage Cord and Fabric Tires Will Save You More Money Than Ever

Compared to a few years ago tire users are getting easily double—and even more than double—the mileage in the tires of to-day.

Ten, twelve and fifteen thousand miles are just average mileages to-day. And the records on the road show that Dunlop Cord Tires and Dunlop Fabric Tires are even exceeding these mileages.

With Dunlop big mileage you have rock-bottom prices and paramount tire quality—tire quality that is accepted as standard to-day, and which other makers are vainly striving to duplicate.

When you can get a tire with prestige back of it like DUNLOP, and with practically an unlimited guarantee, why chance your life on a second-rate tire at any price?

In Dunlop Cord Tires you have "Traction" and "Ribbed" to choose from.

In Dunlop Fabric Tires you have "Traction," "Ribbed," "Special," "Clipper," "Plain."

MY TRIP TO THE COAST

Last August a friend and I took a trip to the Pacific Coast. We entrained at Toronto for Port McNichol, from where we sailed for Fort William. This was a delightful trip through the Georgian Bay, and the Soo locks proved most interesting. While sailing through Lake Superior all one could see were large flocks of sea gulls, which were great scavengers, as they ate everything that was thrown from the boat. It was not tiresome on the boat as there were different pleasures such as music, dancing and afternoon teas. We arrived at Fort William at about 9.30 in the evening and immediately took the train for Winnipeg, arriving there about 9 o'clock in the morning. After an hour and a half's wait we left Winnipeg on the west bound train, making our first stop at Moosejaw. We visited friends there and at Chaplin, a good farming community. While there we visited a partly dried up lake. The ground that had once been the bottom of the lake was covered with white, the alkali that was in the water. While there we also attended Sunday services in a school house, some of the farmers coming in Fords or the oldtime horse and carriage.

On Monday we continued our journey to Swift Current, a divisional point of the C. P. R., also visited Medicine Hat and Calgary. Despite reports of poor grain crops we were informed by farmers in this district that the wheat crop was very good. From these places we journeyed on to Banff where the train stopped long enough to give us a view of the place. The station here is a beautifully painted log building. From here we could see the roads winding up to Sulphur Springs. Banff has the highest and most picturesque golf club in Canada. The Bow river winds along by the place and the snow-capped Three Sister Mountains are quite visible. Passing on we came to another beautiful place, Lake Louise, "the lake in the clouds." Here, girls were seen horseback riding along the mountain trails. Further on we came to the Upper Glacier Chateau Lake, situated at the pinnacle of Mount Abbot, a peak 1218 feet high. Here, also, is the Great Divide, which is the dividing line between Alberta and B. C. As I was told, according to government measurement, there were not less than 593 mountain peaks over 5,000 feet in height above the sea level. Of those actually listed five hundred were over 7,000 feet and some as high as 12,000 feet.

While hunting is prohibited in the National Parks there is plenty of game to be had out of that. The grizzly bear is to be found around Selkirk, East Kootenay and Revelstoke, and big horned goats and rocky mountain sheep are the best of wild game. Tall timber in large quantities is found at Revelstoke, also saw milling, salmon fishing and beaver trapping is carried on there.

An auto road is being built between Revelstoke and Sicamous, following the track of the Columbia River. Sicamous is a town with a population of 4,000. The houses in it are built of brick, cement and frame. There is some fruit growing and farming carried on around the town and the place is surrounded with forests, deep ravines and mountains.

We travelled on to Field, where a large Y. M. C. A. is situated, Mount Stephen, and Albert Canyon, a gorge 2,000 feet deep through which a stream rushes. The next naughtd Tunnel, which is about 5 miles in length and takes 15 minutes to pass through. Our next stop is Golden, a mountain village, and Lake Windermere, a pretty summer resort, good for mountain bathing, hunting and fishing.

We reached Vancouver in the morning and stopped at the Abbotsford Hotel. We did not lose any time in getting out to sight-see and made, as our first place, Stanley Park, a beautiful forest of 1,000 acres. In this forest are immense red cedars, some 100 feet high. Here we saw a burnt stump which held an automobile also the grave of Pauline Johnston off Skyrock. We also took in the Marine Drive along Puget Sound. In our drive we took in miles of the beautiful residential streets, where we saw Sir Chas. Tupper's residence with its immense and beautiful grounds and rose gardens. The drive also took us through the business section, Chinatown, the Japanese section. At night we attended the Allen Theatre where we saw "The Sky Pilot." Next day we made a visit to the Hospital and watched ocean liners coming into harbour. That afternoon we took the Great Northern to Bellingham in Washington and saw the great peace arch erected on the border between U. S. A. and Canada to commemorate 100 years of peace between the two countries. At Bellingham we attended the W. C. T. U. Convention held in Watcome Park, a great park for automobile tourists.

In British Columbia we visited Sunset Lake, a beautiful spot among the Lookout Mountains. Here we stopped for a couple of weeks fishing, boating and mountain climbing. We motored over to snow-capped Mount Baker, to Cotton Wood Beach, on the shore of Puget Sound where we watched the tides come in and go out.

On our return trip we came through Edmonton and St. Paul, where we stopped for two weeks. This is a small town composed of nearly all French inhabitants and half-breeds. It is a wonderful farming community. Forests, small lakes and prairie chickens and wild ducks abound around this part. We returned by way of Saskatoon and Winnipeg to Toronto.

CRIPPLED WITH RHEUMATISM

Then She Took "FRUIT-A-TIVES" And Has Been Well Ever Since

MADAM SLOAT

Perth Junction, N.B., Jan. 22nd, 1920

"For many years, I was a great sufferer from Indigestion, Constipation and Rheumatism. My Stomach was weak and gave me constant distress, while Rheumatism in my joints made me almost a cripple. was treated by two different doctors but their medicine did me no good.

Then I tried "Fruit-a-tives" and at once that fruit medicine helped me. Soon the Constipation and Indigestion were relieved and the Rheumatism began to go away, and in a few months entirely disappeared. For twelve years now, my health has been first class, and I attribute it to the use of "Fruit-a-tives" which I take regularly".

GIRL GUIDES IN CAMP

Interesting Personnel of Camp Staff—"Twenty-Five Leaders From All Parts of Province in Residence.

"Early to bed and early to rise," a clean sting wind blowing west by southwest across acres and acres of wood and meadow and furrowed field, a daily program of pleasant homely tasks of study and work and play, and long, quiet nights, with the stars peeping in at wide-flung windows, all these things will go towards the making of a very healthy, very wealthy and very wise group of Girl Guide leaders, when on Monday next the Ontario Girl Guide leaders' training camp breaks up at the commissioner's summer home in London township.

The second leaders' camp, to be organized under the jurisdiction of the Ontario Girl Guide Council, of which Mrs. E. P. Bettes, of this city, is the commissioner, on Monday saw the settling in of the 25 campers in residence from all parts of the province, and yesterday the carrying out of the first day's full program, a delightful medley of fun and seriousness, with service and loyalty, the keynote of girl guiding underlying all.

Yesterday a London visitor or two dined with the campers at mid-day, and were introduced to the mysteries and delights of camp life, not at all the solemn affair of military precision or boarding school rules that one might suppose, but a happy sort of family reunion, where the most dignified of grown-ups don the short skirts, knickers and middies of the guide uniform, and where no one is more than 16 years of age.

And yet the day's work includes many serious things—the study of mother craft, of camp craft, of wood craft, the serving of meals and the setting in order of the big household and the important branches of Girl Guide learning that pave the way to coveted proficiency badges and leadership.

AN IDEAL SITE

The Cronyn Farm, which the Ontario Commissioner is sharing this week with her guiders, is one of the loveliest landmarks of London township. Yesterday, with lusty April wind blowing heaps of snowy clouds like scurrying lambs across the blue meadows of the skies, and half a hundred tints of bronze and green and budding crimson showing through the woods, the camp site was a paradise.

Down a long avenue that winds in the most charming fashion between the great evergreens that the elder Verschoyle Cronyn set to guard his country home nearly half a century ago, one finds the house, set crookedly against the green hillside, with wide verandahs and a rugged stone water tower that is one of the proudest bits about the place. There is a green stretch of turf, with the road winding around, and the first violets, real English ones, rarely fragrant, lifting blue eyes in the grass, and an upper balcony to the rear, that opens flush with the wooded hillside, which in turn drops away into a garden-like ravine.

Here, slope on slope, down to the narrow blue pond that is studded with tiny islands, lies twinkling and dimpling in the hollow, runs the pleasant green hill, starred with hepaticas, mauve and faintest blue and delicate rose and snowy blooms of blood root, lifting their slender bells bravely to the spring sun.

And here the guide leaders find perhaps the happiest part of their training, seeking for new treasures under last years' leaves, a spray of lady's slipper, or the first dog-tooth violet, or a poplar bough, hanging out tiny red tassels in the wind.

LEARN ABOUT BIRDS

Yesterday the dinner guests included W. E. Saunders, who afterwards gathered the leaders about him around the wide stone fireplace in the living-room to tell them of the feathered folk he knows so well, a happy moment for such a lecture, with the spring songsters coming back to the meadows outside to be used as timely illustrations.

Indoors the old farmhouse is a picture of coziness and quaintness. There are unexpected rooms here and there and odd little stairs. There is an old-fashioned piano just next door to the living-room upstairs, where the camp evenings are spent by the fire. There is a black walnut whatnot, with spindle legs, at the head of the stairs, and a great cupboard in the dining-room, with gothic panels of black walnut inset.

Meals are happily informal, served at long tables in the dining-room, the deep windows giving unto the green lawn in front, where yesterday a wise old mother sheep brought her woolly babies on crooked, unsteady legs, to peer in at the strange diners with silly puzzled eyes. The visitors exclaimed happily over Spode Tower and Willow dishes (blue and white are the Girl Guide colors by the way), and over the quaint old revolving centrepiece that stands on claw feet on the main table, topped with a yellow bowl of hepaticas.

The personnel of the London, Ontario, Girl Guide Leaders' camp is a most interesting one. With Mrs. Betts as commandant, the camp staff includes Miss Maude McLaren, of Toronto, as camp staff captain, a jolly lady with laughing eyes and a pleasant note in her voice that suggests the Scotch ancestry that the "Mac" carries out. Miss McLaren, who wears with her uniform the white cord of the captain and a most imposing row of stars that mean a long record of unfailing service, has in hand the camp housekeeping, and is chief officer of the commissariat, under whose direction there are prepared the excellent meals of which London visitors tested a sample yesterday.

OVERSEAS LEADERS

Miss Kaye Symes, of Ottawa, chief training officer, is commissioner for three counties, Russell, Lanark and Renfrew, is a pioneer in Canadian girl guiding and has an enviable overseas record as V. A. D.

From Toronto comes Miss G. Lodder, as assistant training officer, a slip of a yellow-haired English girl, who also has an overseas record with the W. A. R. A. F., which, being interpreted into the Canadian tongue, means, Woman's Auxiliary to the Royal Air Force.

And from Port Nelson, near Hamilton, Miss Elizabeth Hughes, a brilliant Englishwoman, whose war service includes many months in office as unit administrator in Queen Mary's Auxiliary Army Corps at Woolwich, England.

From London Miss Dorothy Davis is registered as camp secretary and Miss Helen d'Avigmon, staff captain, is scheduled as instructress in camp craft.

And, of course, Sarah and Collie, Sarah, a pink-faced, contented-looking celluloid baby, with which Miss Bertha Smith illustrated, each morning, her lecture on child nursing; Collie, the gold-brown doggie from the farm, who has adopted, without question, as his special chum, each of the 25 guiders.

The day's duties in camp are happily divided. Three patrols under a leader take turns in looking after the preparation, serving and cleaning up of meals, and everyone takes a hand at the morning tidying-up process. Miss Davis is the keeper of the camp log, which by Monday next, will contain many happy souvenirs of the week and to which each camper is expected to contribute daily.

Peeping at the schedule posted on the sitting-room door yesterday the visitors discovered that the camp day went something like this.

THE DAY'S TASKS

7 a.m., all up; 7.45, flag-raising and prayers; 8, breakfast; 8.30 to 9.15, tidying of rooms and inspection; 9.30, court of honors; 10, lecture on child nursing; 11 to 12, tracking signs and Morse alphabet; 12.30, dinner; 1 to 2, rest; 2 to 5, tests; 5.30, tea; 7.30 games, question box, powwow; 9, taps; 9.30, lights out.

Specified programs for the week include a talk on trees, which the campers are hoping to hear from Prof. H. W. Auden to-day; visitors' day on Thursday, with special open-air events; camp craft lecture on Friday, by Miss d'Avignon, and on Sunday, service, to be taken by some London minister.

Blankets, thick, gray, wooly army blankets (30 of them were loaned by Col. C. H. Hill) are an important factor in camp life, especially as one leader braves the weather and sleeps nightly on the wide porch; lots of eats, since healthy appetites are insured, and a keen interest in the great guide movement, the happiest institution yet devised for the benefit of girlhood. All these in abundance, make up the requirements of the Ontario Guide leaders' camp.

PRINCESS AND PRESIDENT

And over it all, framed in a narrow band of gold and set at the end of the upper hall, where all may see, smiles the pictured face of Princess Mary, Viscountess Lascelles, president of the Girl Guides of the British Empire, in her smart uniform and tip-tilted hat, of which the uniforms worn in camp are a near counterpart.

Leaders in residence include the following:—Ina Porter, Orangeville, captain; Mrs. Harmon Westland, London, provincial secretary; Dorothy Davis, London, guide; Olive Potter, Windsor, lieutenant; Helen Elsey, Walkerville, tawny owl; Clara Peckham, Burford, captain; S. Hemingway, Burford, lieutenant; Janet Berry, Guelph, patrol leader; Ella Cosbrough, Hamilton, guide; Ellen Graves, Homeside P. O., guider; Florence Brierley, Hamilton, lieutenant; Alice Peterson, Rodney, guide; Mildred Mistele, Rodney, guide; Elizabeth Hughes, Port Nelson, captain; Laura Hyatt, Niagara Falls, patrol leader; C. Cullemore, Niagara Falls, patrol leader; M. Lenore Brown, Niagara Falls, lieutenant; Genevieve Dunn, Bridgeburg, captain; Josephine Chambers, Bridgeburg, lieutenant.

The following from the city have registered, but will not stay at the farm: Miss Gladstone, Mrs. Bright, Miss Gussie Wilson, Mrs. L. Wilson, Doris Auden, Elva Just.—London Advertiser.

SUGGESTED FIVE-DAY WEEK TO HENRY FORD

Rochester Manufacturer Says He Thinks It Will Become General.

The Rochester Can Company, of which Malcolm E. Gray is president, has had the Saturday all-day-off idea in force for nearly four months, and according to Mr. Gray, the results are most satisfactory. There has been a 10 per cent. increase in production, he says, and the wages of the employees have been kept at the same figure as prior to the change in the working hours.

At the time Mr. Gray inaugurated Saturday closing at his factory he wrote to Henry Ford suggesting that the Ford Motor Car Company adopt the plan. A short time ago it was announced that the Ford plant had put in the five-day week. Mr. Gray has written to Mr. Ford congratulating him on this step and wishing him success.

Mr. Gray says the trial of the Saturday-off plan has convinced him of its practicability and that he believes in time the five-day-a-week idea will be adopted by a majority of the manufacturing plants in the country. In his talks with his employees on the use of their time Mr. Gray has laid emphasis on Sunday church-going, and he says he sees a tendency toward a revival of church attendance.

About twenty years ago Mr. Gray was an advocate of the Saturday half holiday. At that time he was told that the idea was absurd, but now the Saturday half holiday is in effect with nearly all industrial plants.—Rochester, N. Y., Chronicle, April 14th.

Nervous Breakdown

The extreme depression and discouragement which comes over one at times is the most alarming symptom of nervous exhaustion.

This letter is a message of hope to all who find themselves in this unfortunate condition.

Mrs. Geo. T. Tingley, Albert, N.B., writes:—

"For years I was in a very nervous, run-down condition, was much depressed in spirits and suffered a great deal at times. The least noise would irritate me and at times I felt as though I certainly would go crazy. I consulted different doctors to no effect.

"A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I can truly testify today to the great benefits received. There was a marked change before I had finished the second box and when I had used a dozen boxes my nerves were thoroughly restored and I was entirely relieved of those terrible feelings I used to have. I shall ever be ready to testify to the benefits of this wonderful medicine, feeling sure that it will give to others the quick and permanent relief it has given me."

MISS MARY LIDDY

On Good Friday afternoon, April 14th, Miss Mary Liddy passed quietly away after a very brief illness, at the home of her brother, Samuel Liddy. Miss Liddy was of a quiet retiring disposition and had not taken for some years past an active part in social life. She was in the truest sense a home-maker and her greatest desire was to cater to the comfort of her brothers, neighbors and friends. This was shown up to a few hours before her departure when she enquired for the welfare of those at her bedside. In all this she showed a truly sacrificial spirit. For many years she has resided on the old home farm on the Town Line, Mono and Mulmur, first with her parents and afterwards with her brother, Samuel. The funeral, which was very largely attended, was held on Sunday, April 16th, at Mulmur Church. An impressive service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Mr. Forth, assisted by Rev. Mr. Bailey, of Manafield. To mourn her loss she leaves her three brothers, Rev. J. J., Toronto; W. R., Orangeville, and Samuel, at home.—Free Press.

AMARANTH COUNCIL

The Council met on April 8th, 1922, for transaction of business. The members all present, the Reeve in the chair. Minutes of previous meeting were read and confirmed.

Farnell-Hammond — That we instruct the Reeve to take such action as necessary in regard to request and petition presented to Council to have Mr. Hartt, who is afflicted with cancer, suitably cared for.

Farnell-Trimble—That we instruct W. F. Hammond and Jas. Johnston to inspect road grader and have same repaired, if such repairs do not cost more than they consider wise to spend on same.

Trimble-Hammond — That the Reeve and Councillor Whaley be a Committee to have at least one of the steel bridges painted some time during the summer.

Whaley-Farnell—That we accept the report of John Johnston, Truant Officer, as satisfactory.

Hamond-Whaley—That we decide to build the Wansbrough bridge and that the Reeve instruct the Township Engineer to prepare plans and advertise for tenders for same.

Farnell-Hammond—That we instruct the Clerk to prepare by-laws on part 20 and 21; also 46 and 32 drains for next meeting of Council.

Farnell-Trimble—That the Reeve and Deputy-Reeve and Councillor Whaley be a Committee on drains.

Farnell-Whaley—That the purchasing of graders be left in the hands of the Reeve and Deputy-Reeve.

Hammond-Trimble—That the following accounts be paid:—Treasurer of East Luther, half price of 4 drags, also grading on west townline, $97.37; Wheelock & Christie, for cement testing on 8th line bridge at Bowling Green, $5.00; Reeve and Council, inspecting bridges, $13.00.

Whaley-Trimble—That we do now adjourn to meet again as a Court of Revision on the assessment, on Saturday, May 27th, 1922, and transaction of other business.

E. HAMILTON, Clerk

EAST GARAFRAXA COUNCIL

Marsville, April 8th, 1922.

Council met on the above date at the call of the Reeve.

Members present:—Reeve Hunter, Councillors Heath, Haws, Hoare and McCormick.

Hoare-McCormick — Whereas the bridge proposed to be built over the Grand River on the road between the 11th and 12th concessions, opposite lot 14, in the township of East Garafraxa, is on a road which, owing to local conditions, takes only a very small traffic. The present traffic, we believe, would not exceed an average of four vehicles per day over this bridge when built, and we do not believe there is any chance of the traffic increasing in the future, owing to the very bad hills approaching the bridge, and also that the county road is running parallel to the road on which this bridge is located, only one concession to the east;

Be it therefore resolved that the Township Engineer be requested to apply to the Department of Public Highways for the approval of a bridge with a roadway 14 feet in width instead of 16 feet as required by the regulations, as we consider that the extra two feet would be a most unnecessary increase in the expenditure under the existing exceptional conditions.—Carried.

Hoare-Haws—That C. R. Wheelock Engineer, take the necessary proceedings for the work of constructing the bridge over the Grand River, 11th line.—Carried.

McCormick-Heath—That the Council purchase a breaking plough for special work within the township.—Carried.

Hoare-Haws — That the whole Council be a delegation to wait on the Department of Public Highways to request that the 5th sideroad be taken on as a Provincial County Road.—Carried.

Heath-Haws—That this Council approve of the action of the County Council in taking from the County Road that part of the 14th line between concessions 14 and 15, from 5 sideroad, to the north townline.—Carried.

Heath-Hoare—That the following accounts be paid:—Municipal World, seven copies, dog tags and supplies, $35.15; Clerk, registering by-law and expenses, $5.00; Clerk, for work in connection with West Luther drain Nos. 5 and 8, $40.00; McGuire & McKitrick, for printing, $20.00; Clerk, Reeve and ex-Reeve, preparing report of expenditure for Department of Public Highways, $15; Geo. Robinson, lowering culvert, con. B., $10.00; John Platt, Collector, salary, $75.00.—Carried.

Hoare-Haws—That this Council do now adjourn.—Carried.

L. BOGGS, Clerk. W. H. HUNTER, Reeve.

WILLIAM BREMNER

Death came as a happy release on Saturday morning, April 2nd, to William Bremner, of Grand Valley, who has long suffered from an incurable disease on his neck. Mr. Bremner came to Amaranth well on to 50 years ago from West Garafraxa where his father was a pioneer on the 5th concession. He was a hard worker and a good business man, and though brought up in the hard, rough school of the times possessed the common characteristic of the early days, a kindly heart, which many a time responded to the call of help. About forty years ago he lost an arm by being hit by a train, yet he successfully continued farming until some ten years ago, when he retired to the village. He leaves his aged widow and two surviving daughters, Mrs. Hugh Ritchie and Mrs. James Cunningham. The funeral took place on Monday, many from his old district attending the service in Knox Church, and following the remains to the Union Cemetery.—Star & Vidette.

HIS NERVES NOW STRONG AS EVER

How An Ontario Teacher Regained Good Health.

"I am a school teacher by profession," says Mr. James R. Thomson, R.R. No. 1, Centralia, Ont., "yet when I started school teaching I was in very poor health. I suffered a nervous breakdown, brought on by overwork and no relaxation. I was unable to think, to act, or even to eat properly. Queer little prickly sensations were continually running up and down my back, my arms and my legs; like so many needles, seeming at times to fairly paralyze me, and often my heart was thumping like a trip-hammer. I determined to consult our family doctor, and he immediately put me under orders. I had to give up my school and return home in order to recuperate my lost health. Milk was his chief remedy and I drank quarts of it; yet, though it helped me, it did not build me up to my normal condition—something was missing; something my system was calling for, namely blood. One day, when I picked up a newspaper, I came across an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills suggesting just what was needed in my case—new rich, red blood. I immediatly sent for a box, and when the doctor visited me, I told him I had decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and he seemed satisfied. By the time my box was nearly done, and I determined to get another. By the time I had finished this I was gradually coming back to normal. My strength was returning, I could sit and walk without strain. For the next few weeks I continued to take the pills, and they were working wonders with me. My head was becoming clearer, my memory better, and my nerves were becoming steadier. I began to go out frequently, enjoying myself. My appetite improved and was even better than before I had my break-down. I was myself again. I got back my school, and to this day I have had no return of the trouble, and now when anyone comes to me with nervous trouble, I instantly suggest Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a remedy, as I believe that what they did in my case they will do for others."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BOY KILLED

Sad Accident in Amaranth on Monday.

A peculiarly sad accident occurred in the west side of Amaranth township on Monday, whereby the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Walker lost his life. Mr. Walker, who lives on lot 22, 9th line, was plowing in a field on his farm. The child came out to the field and noticing another plow standing near the fence went over to play about it. A little later the father noticed that the plow had fallen over and upon going to investigate was appalled to discover the lifeless body of his little son pinned down under the implement. When the plow fell the beam caught the child across the neck in such a manner as to imprison and choke him to death. The heartrending occurrence has caused profound sorrow and created widespread sympathy for the bereaved parents. There were two children in the family, a little sister surviving. The funeral, which was a very large one, was held yesterday afternoon, interment taking place in Shelburne Cemetery.

FARMER DISAPPEARED

Whereabouts of Daniel McKinnon, of Esquesing, Cause of Anxiety to His Friends.

The whereabouts of Daniel McKinnon, a wealthy farmer, who purchased the farm belonging to Mrs. Thomas Ryder, on the third line of Esquesing township, near Acton, on March 21st, and afterward completely disappeared, is still unknown. Crown Attorney Dick, of Milton, who has taken the matter up with the Attorney-General's Department, stated that McKinnon's disappearance was still a mystery, but he hoped to have the case cleared up with the assistance of Provincial Police, who will investigate the affair at once.

It is generally believed that McKinnon has met with foul play, and startling developments are looked for within a few days. Police Magistrate Moore, of Acton, has interested himself in the case, and has furnished the Crown Attorney with full particulars, as follows:

Mr. McKinnon moved to Acton from Cochrane, and had been living with H. Gordon, townline, as both had been friends for years. When McKinnon purchased Mrs. Ryder's Farm he deposited a sum of money in the Bank of Nova Scotia. From this amount he paid Mrs. Ryder $2,000. On April 4th he chequed out $280 more for the purpose of buying horses. On April 5th he told his friend, Gordon, that he expected to make a deal with Peter Ferguson, of Ballinafad, and if he could not make a deal he would go to Toronto. McKinnon came to Acton, and this was the last seen of him.

On April 22 Rev. Peter Matheson, Presbyterian minister at Glen Sandfield, wrote Rev. A. C. Stewart, Acton, asking if he knew anything of McKinnon, saying he was expected there to be married to a member of his congregation on the 21st, but failed to turn up.

On Tuesday Mr. Gordon visited Acton and requested Chief Constable Cooney to assist him in his efforts to locate McKinnon.

The Chief organized a search party of 30 people, who made a complete survey of the farm, but failed to get the slightest clue as to the whereabouts of the missing man.

McKinnon has $3,000 worth of property, and cash in the bank. At the time of his disappearance he was making arrangements to marry and take his bride, who is farmer's daughter in Glengarry county, to the homestead he had purchased from Mrs. Ryder.

In the endeavor to locate McKinnon the Commissioner of Provincial Police has instructed his Inspector stationed at Cochrane to institute a search in that locality. McKinnon formerly worked in the north and it is thought he may be on one of the construction gangs building the new extension of the T. & N. O. north of Cochrane.

ORANGEVILLE ARENA, LTD.

When settling up the accounts for the expenses of the Minstrel Show it came out that the orchestra gave their services free. This is indeed a spirit that it is hoped will spread. Their music certainly was appreciated, and the directors appreciate the public spirit they showed. Mr. Kentner, too, showed a fine public spirit when he charged only $5 for the use of two pianos for two nights and for practices as well. Then the boys who arranged the dance after the second night's performance turned in the proceeds to the funds of the Arena.

If only some of this same public spiritedness could be enthused into the man, or men, who still put obstacles in the way, or delay the settlement of the site question, then we could get down to business. The opinion is gaining ground that we might as well let this same man, or men, continue to have their valuable (?) back lots, and secure the Mills-Patricia Park site, and be done with it. Certainly some of the owners of the Bowling Green site are not bucking the project for they are willing to sell, even at a considerable inconvenience to themselves. Another week has gone. Has anything been done? Who is to blame anyway? Are we to have a rink?

INSTALLING WIRELESS

Mr. C. L. Pownall, the progressive and enterprising manager of The Gem Theatre, is installing an up-to-the-minute wireless receiving equipment. When the installation is completed patrons of The Gem will be able to listen to radio concerts in Toronto, Schenectady, N. Y., New York City, Philadelphia, Newark, N. J., and elsewhere. Mr. Pownall is determined to give Orangeville as good as the best.

The Superior Clydesdale Stallion
BARON HAMLET
(2827) (6090) (12757)

Will be kept for service during the season of 1922 at the stables of the owner, lot 15, 2nd line, east, Caledon.

TERMS—$15.00 for a living colt, payable when colt is one week old. Sale of mare renders fee due and payable.

All accidents to mares at risk of their owners.

BARON HAMLET was bred by James Rigg, Highbanks, Kirkcudbright, Scotland, and imported by the Graham Renfrew Co., Bedford Park, Ontario. Of his sire, Baron's Pride, nothing need be said, as it is well known that he was the best Clydesdale sire that ever lived.

BARON HAMLET'S dam, Banks Daisy, was sired by Hamlet (4433), gr. dam Fanny of Bombie (3104) by sir Colin (3188) by Samson (741). There is no better bred horse in Canada to-day. As a stock horse he is unsurpassed.

Foals in 1919 from Baron Hamlet sold as high as $150.00, at 10 months old. One of his colts foaled in 1920 won first prize at Caledon fall fair, beating the colt that won the first prize at the Dufferin County Show in Orangeville, and was sold the same day for $150..00, and was delivered at four and one half months old. Another of his colts, foaled in 1920, was sold at public auction for $155 at eight months and one half old.

Three of his colts foaled in 1921 won first, second and third prizes at Caledon fall fair in 1921. The winner of the second prize was sold at seven months old for $160.00. Three of his yearling colts also won first, second and third prizes at Caledon fall fair in 1921. These colts all won in heavy draft class.

BARON HAMLET was inspected on the 29th day of October, 1912, when he was Passed and Approved, Form I. He has also been Enrolled for the year 1922 in Form I. in accordance with Chap. 67, Statutes of Ontario, 2 George V.

FARMERS OF DUFFERIN

I have made arrangements to keep in stock at my Chopping Mill, on East Broadway, Gunn's Hog Meal. This Meal is 60 per cent. protein.

100 lbs. to 10 bags of Chop will finish a 200 lb. Hog one month earlier than can be done with the best grain grown on the farm. No indigestion or crippled hogs when this is used. I have also Gunn's celebrated Calf Meal in 50 lb. bags. Give the calves a chance. There is money in them. No occasion to have them suck the cow. Skimmed milk, with this Meal, 25 per cent. protein, answers the purpose. A trial is convincing. Call when in town and get a bag of each.

LOCAL NEWS.

—Mono Centre Picnic on Victoria Day.

—Farmers say that the land is in ideal shape for seeding this spring.

—Housecleaning and gardening are occupying the spare time and energies of many of our citizens these fine spring days.

—A Toronto firm has undertaken to promote Wasaga Beach, the well-known Georgian Bay summer resort, a few miles east of Collingwood.

—"The Banner is eagerly looked for each week. It is like a letter from home," is the message that Mr. Herb M. Kyles, of Nokomis, Sask., sends us with his subscription.

—Tanlac builds up the weak, run down system and makes you feel strong, sturdy and well, as nature intended. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville Ont.

—Dr. Geo. McCluskey, of Alliston, had the misfortune to sustain a compound fracture of the right arm just above the wrist a week ago Saturday afternoon. The accident occurred while he was attempting to crank a car.

—Rev. A. E. Thornley, pastor of Knox Church, Shelburne, preached two excellent sermons in St. Andrew's Church here on Sunday. Rev. F. W. Halsall, pastor of St Andrew's, occupied Mr. Thornley's pulpit in Shelburne.

—Harold Kearns, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Kearns, is quite seriously ill with pneumonia in Lord Dufferin Hospital. We are glad to learn that his condition is now somewhat improved.

—Farmers are hard at work on the land and if the fine weather holds until the end of this week some of them will be pretty well along with their seeding.

—MARE FOR SALE—Apply to E. R. Goodeve, First St., Orangeville, or phone 162 in evening.

—"I feel twenty years younger," is what thousands have said after Tanlac restored them to health. Try it. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ont.

—Mrs. Wm. Dorrington, of Alton, addressed a meeting of The Brampton Women's Liberal Association on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Dorrington is a bright and well-informed speaker and her services in this capacity are in frequent demand.

—Fall wheat and rye have wintered well and give promise of an abundant crop. The cold weather, high winds and night frosts last week were pretty hard on the wheat and meadows, but it is not thought that they suffered any very serious damage.

—"Where there is smoke, there is always fire," so when twenty million well-known men and women in all walks of life say Tanlac is a good medicine, there must be something to it. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ont.

—"Dutch" Flemin : is a free man again. His conviction last week by Magistrate Falconer, on a charge of having liquor in a place other than his private residence, was quashed by Judge Fisher on Tuesday for the reasons set out in last week's Banner. C. R. McKeown handled the appeal for Fleming.

—Orangeville had one of the old-time summer crowds on Saturday night. Merchants were very busy until nearly midnight.

—Baseball practices are already a nightly feature at Idylwyld Park. The lacrosse boys had their first work out on Tuesday night. Bert Booth, Golden, Hawken, Henderson and other seniors were out for a short time.

—Norma Byard, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Byard, Zina St., had the misfortune to fracture her left arm while playing about home on Tuesday. The little patient is doing nicely under the care of Dr. Macleod.

—Mr. E. Hawken, of Wingham, has taken a position with the firm of Sanderson & Robertson. Mr. Hawken is said to be an expert lacrosse player and will likely be found on the regular line-up of The Dufferins this season.

—Are you receiving your home paper regularly? It costs only 3c per week, not the price of an ice cream cone. At this price it doesn't even pay to borrow your neighbor's copy. Besides, there is hardly a week that you couldn't save the price of a whole year's subscription by taking advantage of a bargain offered by some advertiser in its columns.

—Disciples of Izaak Walton fared forth in large numbers early on Monday morning and in most cases experienced the indifferent luck that often falls to the lot of the fisherman. The day was rather cool and bright for successful angling. Small catches were the order of the day even at Caledon Lake, but then everybody had the outing and the fun and the fish are still there for another time.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sanderson spent a few days in Toronto last week.

Mrs. Jas. Torrance, of Caledon, spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. H. Lacey, Hillsburg.

Mrs. Watson McCluskey, of London, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Leader.

Mr. James Large, of Rochester, N. Y., is visiting his brother, Mr. J. D. Large, of Camilla.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pratt, of Toronto, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Torrance, Caledon.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Taylor, of Grand Valley, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sanderson last week.

Misses Gertie and Della and Elmer Torrance were guests at the Lacey—Hall wedding reception, Hillsburg.

Miss Beatrice Farnell and Mr. Frank Fletcher, of Toronto, visited Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Cruikshank over the week-end.

Dr. L. G. Campbell, of Markdale, visited his father, Mr. G. A. Campbell, and his brother, Dr. G. H. Campbell, last week.

Miss Louise McGuire arrived home last week from Calgary, where she has spent the last year with her aunt, Mrs. J. D. Gillock.

Mrs. W. J. Farnell and Master Lloyd, of Laurel, visited with the former's daughter, Mrs. G. M. Cruikshank, over Sunday.

Mrs. Annie Ellis and Mrs. Fred Hatcher arrived home this week from Toronto, where they had been visiting their sister, Mrs. G. L. Aiken.

Mr. J. J. Laverty resumed his duties as stonecutter with S. H. Rutledge on Monday after spending two weeks' holidays at his home in Toronto.

Crown Attorney J. L. Island and Dr. Rooney left for Brantford on Tuesday night to attend the trial of a will case in which they expect to give evidence.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Limebeer, Alton, announce the engagement of their daughter, Irene Beth, to Mr. Jack Brock Paton, of Toronto, The marriage will take place this month.

Mrs. Hugh Potter, First St., was summoned to Sandhill last week by the sad news of the sudden death of her mother, Mrs. Thos. Wilson. Mrs. Potter has the sympathy of her Orangeville and Caledon friends in her time of sorrow.

LACROSSE NOTES

It appears now as if the senior lacrosse teams would fight the championship series out in a single group instead of two five team districts as we announced last week. Toronto senior club promoters experienced considerable difficulty getting enough material for six city teams. Eventually The Shamrocks, a new club, were dropped from the series and the other five clubs were bunched with Brampton, Orangeville, St. Catharines and Weston in a single group. If the new arrangement stands it will give each of the places represented plenty of senior lacrosse this season.

Lacrosse is certainly coming back with a vengeance this year. The grouping published in Tuesday's dailies provided for thirteen groups in the intermediate, nine in the junior, eleven in the juvenile and eleven in the midget series respectively. In the intermediate series Fergus, Orangeville and Shelburne form group 7. Bert Brown, of Fergus, is the district convener. Shelburne and Orangeville are grouped together in the juvenile and midget series, provision being made for a double schedule in each series.

HEALTHY CHILDREN ALWAYS SLEEP WELL

The healthy child sleeps well and during its waking hours is never cross but always happy and laughing. It is only the sickly child that is cross and peevish. Mothers, if your children do not sleep well; if they are cross and cry a great deal give them Baby's Own Tablets and they will soon be well and happy again. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, banish constipation, colic and indigestion, and promote healthful sleep. They are absolutely guaranteed free from opiates and may be given to the new-born babe with perfect safety. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

EVANGELIST DELANEY

A large audience heard Michael F. Delaney, the veteran evangelist, speak at a meeting in the Opera House at 8.15 o'clock on Sunday night. Mr. Delaney is an impressively earnest speaker, who feels that he has a message for sinful mankind and delivers his message plainly and fearlessly. He does not hesitate to affirm his belief in a hell and tells his hearers in plain everyday English that they are bound for perdition unless they repent of their sins and accept the salvation and atonement made for them by the Christ. There is no middle course, nor is it possible to serve God and mammon. Mere profession of Christianity will not serve to save. There must be a real change of heart and life, a frank and unreserved acceptance of the Saviour and an earnest striving to make our lives more like His perfect life. The evangelist was heard with the closest attention and his address made a deep impression on every person in the hall. Mr. Delaney made a passing reference to his conversion from Romanism, but was kindly and free from bitterness in his remarks about the timeworn faith in which he had been reared.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The Daughters of the Empire will hold their regular monthly meeting in the Auditorium of the Public Library on Friday, May 12th, at 3 p.m. The Regent, Mrs. W. E. Irvine, who represented the Chapter at the recent meeting of the Provincial Chapter in Hamilton, will give a report of the proceedings of the Hamilton meeting.

The following donations are gratefully acknowledged:—Mrs. Jos. Babe, Mono, $5.00 to the linen fund; Mrs. W. J. Holmes, Caledon, six dozen of eggs.

Ladies who wish to get their empty sealers are invited to call for them at the Hospital.

The Hospital is sadly overcrowded at the present time. Twenty patients are being accommodated. Bedrooms are all filled, the balconies have been requisitioned and there is grave danger that the Superintendent will have to use one of the fire escapes for a bedroom. The congestion again emphasizes the pressing need for an addition to the present building.

PRICE OF TEA HIGHEST IN YEARS

During 1920 so much more tea was produced than was required throughout the world that the market dropped to a comparatively low point. So serious was the position of the growers in India, Ceylon and Java that they agreed to produce 20 per cent less tea during 1921. The result was that less tea was produced than was required, and now all surplus stocks have pretty well been exhausted to fill the deficiency. Prices in the last four months have steadily advanced, until the market to-day is at a level as high as was ever before reached during war years.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

Mr. G. A. Warburton, of Toronto, Dominion Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., delighted a large congregation with an excellent address in the Methodist Church on Sunday night. Speaking of conditions under the Ontario Temperance Act, Mr. Warburton stated that in the course of a recent trip from Ontario west to Vancouver and also through some of the western States the only place that he had seen any drunkenness was in Vancouver, which boasted Government control of the drink traffic. The main part of the address consisted of a short resume of what the speaker saw and experienced during a trip through the Orient in 1916. The journey was made primarily for the purpose of visiting the Y. M. C. A.'s of Japan, China and India. The Y. M. C. A. is, in Mr. Warburton's estimation, doing a very real and a very wonderful work in bettering life and conditions in these three densely populated countries. The people of Japan, the speaker described, as wonderfully artistic in their dress, decorations and ideals. One thing that impresses the visitor from Canada very forcibly is the congested conditions and the intensive cultivation as contrasted with the sparse population and the immense open spaces of Canada and particularly of the Cnadian West. In China and India the same density of population is noticeable everywhere the traveller goes. Although we had grown accustomed to regard Europe as the great theatre of strife, dissension and warfare, the student of affairs with a knowledge of the East is forced to the conclusion that the real source of concern respecting the future peace of the world lies in the Orient with its teeming and rapidly awakening millions. Mr. Warburton stressed the unsanitary conditions encountered in China and India and declared that the spreading of the gospel of sanitation and health in these lands was as much a work of Christian grace as the spreading of the gospel of the salvation of souls.

—Splendid seeding weather this week.

NOT ON THE PROGRAM

C. L. Pownall, the movie man, had an experience on the way over that deserved a real motion pictur film. He left Orangeville about two o'clock, with a couple of friends, in a powerful six-cylinder Columbia motor, and had trouble at the sink hole. He spent the bigger portion of a week's receipts in getting pulled out of water and mud holes, getting as far as 30 side road corner about seven o'clock. Here the big car settled down in the bog to the axles. Claude and his helpers disturbed a lot of native soil, trying to pry the motor out, and after an hour's futile efforts sent out a S. O. S. message to the village for a team and to open the hall; while he set out on the reliable transportation—shank's mare, arrived about 9.15. Despite the late hour not a few remained for the pictures, which were of a very interesting nature. In fact, every night's program has been of a high character, the humorous part being without offence, and the features really instructive.—Star & Vidette.

THE PARTRIDGE SEASON

Next fall the partridge shooting season will be from the fifth to the twentieth of November, except in the districts north and west of the French and Mattawa rivers, where it will be from the 15th of October until the 20th of November. The bag is limited to not more than ten partridges daily. The bag for wild duck is to be limited to 25, with 200 as a maximum for the year.

FOUR TIMES CHAMPION

Angus Crawford, of Alton, Adds Checker Championship of Ontario to Former Laurels.

Angus Crawford, of Alton, won the Ontario checker championship, when he defeated Andrew Fulton, of Toronto, by 3 to 0, with one game drawn at Toronto on Friday, April 21st. Fulton qualified for the finals by defeating Guy Andrews, of Freelton, by 2 to 0, with four games drawn. Andrews and R. C. Gibson, of Hamilton, will meet in Hamilton shortly to play off for the third and fourth prizes.

Crawford has now won the Dominion championship four times, and the Ontario once. Crawford expects to compete in the fifth American tournament, which will be held in Boston in October. He will go to Vancouver shortly to play off with the British Columbia champion.

JAMES BLAIR

James Blair, a former well known resident of lot 3, townline Mulmur and Melancthon, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lorne Davidson, at Angus, on Tuesday of last week, after a short illness, at the age of 77 years. Deceased left this neighborhood about twelve years ago for Calgary, Alta., returning two years later to Toronto, where he has since resided. At the time of his demise he was on a visit with his daughter. Besides his widow, he is survived by two sons, Frank and Percival, in the West, and five daughters, Mrs. Tarbush, Mrs. J. H. Little, Misses Ada and Sadie Blair, of Toronto, and Mrs. Davidson, Angus. Two brothers, Wm. H. Blair, Arthur, and Benjamin Blair, Dryden, and three sisters, Mrs. Moses Williamson, Creemore; Mrs. R. H. Galbraith, Shelburne, and Mrs. G. B. Richardson, North Bay, also survive. His remains were interred in Angus cemetery on Wednesday afternoon of last week.—Free Press.

WM. J. WHITTEN

A despatch from Regina, Sask., on April 13th, reports the death of Wm. J. Whitten, formerly a well-known resident of Dufferin County, as follows:—

William Joseph Whitten died today at the General Hospital following two week's illness. Death was due to pneumonia. Mr. Whitten was 59 years of age and was a resident of Regina for the past seven years, coming here when he retired from farming. He resided with his daughter, Mrs. Herbert M. Clements, 2251 Winnipeg St. He was well known in the city and took an active part in the life of Regina Lodge, Independent Order of Foresters, of which he was the oldest member. Up to two weeks ago when he was taken ill with pneumonia he enjoyed fairly good health. Born in Whittington, Ont., he came West when he was still a young man. Besides his widow he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. H. M. Clements, Regina; Mrs. W. G. Village, Winnipeg, and a nephew and a niece living in Souris, Man. He also leaves five sisters, living in the United States, and two brothers living in Shelburne, Ont. The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock from Speers' funeral home. The service will be conducted by Rev. J. W. Whillans and interment will be made in Regina Cemetery. A short time prior to his illness Mr. Whitten was devoting his time to the invention of a new patent jar sealer.

JOHN K. HAMILTON

In the passing of John K. Hamilton, a notable figure of the village and vicinity is lost. He had been in failing health for some years, but that grim determination and obstinate will so characteristic of the man, refused to quit life's batles through injuries and illness that would have proved too much for the ordinary person, and so for the last two weeks the human machinery gradually wore out, the end coming Thursday morning. John K. Hamilton was born in Castlederg, Ireland, 86 years ago and when 11 years of age came to Canada with his prents who settled at Bond Head, and remained two years. Then they came to lot 12, concession 10, Garafraxa, where the family experienced every phase of pioneer life. About 1858 he married Rachel Cowan, of Tecumseth, and two years later settled on lot 17, concession 13, Garafraxa, which, under their united efforts, developed into a splendid homestead. In the early days he secured a property on the 6th concession, Luther, to which he moved later. Mr. Hamilton's activities and aggressive personality found an outlet in municipal politics, and successfully contested for the Deputy-Reeveship of Luther in a memorable fight. He considered any sacrifice of time and labour of no account in election times, and fought hard for the Conservative party. Mr. Hamilton gained no small prominence as veterinary, learning from the school of practical experience, a knowledge that he turned to good account, and with considerable benefit to the people, particularly in the earlier days. He was a keen business man, delighted in matters of trade, despite his physical condition. He is survived by his aged widow and four children, Miss Minnie, of Moosejaw, Sask.; Thomas H., of Grand Valley; Dr. Baker, of Highland Park, Ill., and Dr. Lewis, of Winnipeg. The funeral service in the Methodist Church on Saturday was largely attended, interment taking place in the Union Cemetery.—Star & Vidette

WONDERFUL THE WAY IT HELPED HER

So Writes Mrs. Lemery of Brockville, Ontario, Regarding Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brockville, Ontario.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and female disorders. I was so weak at times that I could not stand up. I had been this way for nearly three years and the different medicines I had taken had not done me any good. I found one of your little books in my door one day and thought I would give it a trial. I am now on my fifth bottle and it is wonderful the way it has helped me. I am feeling much better, have no weak spells and can do all my work now. I am recommending your Vegetable Compound to all I know and you can use my testimonial to help other women."—Mrs. Casey Lemery, 176 Abbott St., Brockville, Ontario.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for women's ailments and has a record of nearly fifty years behind it.

HILLSBURG SHOW

The annual spring horse show of the township of Erin was held in Hillsburg on Wednesday, April 19th, 1922. Although a little cool, the day was very fine, a great crowd being present. The exhibit was one of the best ever seen in Hillsburg, both as to numbers and quality, there being no less than 10 entries in the single road class, and seven high class agricultural teams. The show was a grand success. The prize awards were as follows:—

Montreal Woman Finds Health by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Montreal, Quebec.—"I was a sufferer for three years, not able to do my housework. My husband was discouraged, for I was no better and had had the doctor all this time and nothing helped me. I was always sleepy, had no appetite and suffered with my left side. My mother in England recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because it had helped my sister, so I have been taking it. I am now able to do my housework and I can not praise your medicine too highly as I have great hopes for the future. I will tell anyone who writes to me what good it has done me."—Mrs. E. Masson, St. Henry P. O., Montreal.

For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been helping women just as it helped Mrs. Masson; oftentimes after doctors and other medicines failed.

If you are suffering from disagreeable symptoms caused by some female weakness, try this splendid medicine. It is a woman's medicine for women's ailments, and can be taken in safety by any woman.

Moths attacked the uniforms of the Brampton Citizens' Band, and in spite of a barrage of moth balls, and the deadly properties of a cedar chest, ate holes in the uniforms. Mr. McMurchy and William Higgins, representing the citizens, asked the council for a grant towards new uniforms, and the council granted $300 to be paid immediately, on account of concerts to be given in the park this summer. The band, now 37 strong, has $400 on hand, and is buying Made-in-Canada suits for $26 from Hamilton.

While drilling a well for John C. Gallnagher on his farm in Mulmur township, about one mile north of Perm, a pocket of gas was encountered by the driller, Duke Adair. So great was the pressure that the drill was forced upward out of the casing and for four and a half hours the volume of gas and water emitted was unceasing. The well then became normal again and drilling was resumed. The gas was encountered at a depth of 250 feet, and the water taken from the well was so contaminated with oil that it was unfit for domestic use.

Spring is Here!

And with Spring comes house-cleaning. You will want to cleanse the walls as well as the floors of your rooms this Spring. The most sanitary—as well as the most pleasing—way to do this, is by re-papering.

April is the month of home renovation. Just as Nature now puts on her new robe, so, too, does the provident householder renovate the walls of each room, that is dilapidated, with a coating of fresh Wall Paper.

This Spring, in particular, we are anxious you should drop in and look over our New Stock of Patterns just received.

And, really, it is remarkably inexpensive. Let us suggest a scheme of decoration and quote you a price.

SLACK ON O. T. A.

Unalterably Opposed to Any Change That Would Weaken Effect of the Act.

In the course of the debate in the Legislature on proposed amendments to the Ontario Temperance Act, Mr. T. K. Slack, M. L. A. for Dufferin, said he was unalterably opposed to anything that would weaken the effect of the Ontario Temperance Act. He was satisfied it had done a great deal of good to remedy the evils that formerly existed. Taking notice of the attacks made upon the Attorney-General he declared that in principle and ability Mr. Raney measured high. If, as intimated by the member for North Hastings, he held his seat in the Legislature by reason of any assistance on the part of the "Liberty Leaguers," he did not desire to sit there any longer. He was strongly for the Ontario Temperance Act. At some length he referred to the "last night party" of the previous session, declaring that, so far as he knew, not a Government member was an attendant. Amid laughter, he emphatically declared that it was but a "half-truth" to say that honorable U. F. O. members were having their morals corrupted by extended residence in the city of Toronto.

OFFICERS FOR SCHOOL FAIRS

The Banner mailing list was revised and corrected last week for the first time since the 4th of December. Subscribers are asked to examine their address labels and if the date shown is incorrect to notify us of the fact at an early date.

Many men are imbued with the desire to give up business, leave the farm or drop the duties and responsibilities of a position and take life easy just as soon as their financial position will allow them to do so. This is usually a form of desire that creates more pleasure in contemplation than it does when realized. Life becomes dull and flat when the striving and the toil cease. People who give up work to live on their money can find only one escape from absolute boredom, and that is by taking on new work and new responsibilities. There is little satisfaction in life for those who have not some real work to engage their time and energies. A life of idleness may be pleasant to contemplate, but it is a form of pleasure that soon palls and breeds discontent and unhappiness. To make life interesting men and women must keep busy. Vacations are wholesome and healthful, because they make us more fit for the real work and duties of life. They are not healthful and wholesome if idle holidaying is made the chief end of life.

One result of neighborhood and community activity during the war has been the increasing desire in many sections to make this work permanent. To this end certain neighborhoods have organized and others are preparing to acquire buildings originally erected for other purposes and transform them into community centres. Other towns which temporarily maintained headquarters for soldiers camping in their vicinity propose to make these headquarters permanent and broaden the scope of their service to the benefit of all. There is a growing desire for community centres in the rural districts. A generation or two ago the little red school house functioned for this purpose. Now, however, a much more comprehensive community hall is desired. Any community co-operating in such an enterprise, if properly supervised, will confer lasting good upon the rising generation. Aspirations for personal improvement and community betterment will undoubtedly result.—Acton Free Press.

An amendment to the Municipal Act provides for the holding of municipal elections on the first Monday in December, in case any municipality wishes to change to this date. Thus, if Orangeville wishes the next municipal election may be held on Monday, December 4th, instead of the first Monday in the New Year. In order to bring the change into effect here the town council would require to pass a by-law adopting this provision before the first day of November. The matter is of sufficient importance to merit the serious consideration of the council. The great objection to the dates upon which municipal nominations and elections have been held heretofore arises from the fact that they come right in the midst of the Christmas and New Year holiday seasons. They also come right on top of the busiest season of the year, at a time when merchants and many other citizens are so fully occupied with their private and business affairs that they find it utterly impossible to devote time to the business of the municipality. At almost any other season of the year municipal affairs would receive much more attention from the average citizen than they do during the holiday week at the close of the year. If the elections were held on the first Monday of December, they would be over in time for every person to get squared away for the Christmas trade and the subsequent holiday festivities.

The Acton Free Press sagely observes that when regarded in the proper spirit a word of counsel and encouragement to young people in the early years of their life's activities from those who have passed through the mill of experience, will have beneficial results. There are some young people who are always pitying themselves for having to work so hard. They come home at night with a sense of grievance because of the day's work, the long hours, the inadequate wages and so on. The worker with this spirit has a hard time and always will have. He overlooks the fact that every man who has won success in life has passed through just such an experience, so far as hard work, long hours and small pay are concerned. Young workers should stop making hard times for themselves. They will find comfort in creating cheerfulness. Instead of complaining of long hours, think of the army of men who have no work at all, and consequently no wages coming in. Instead of complaining about wages being lower than during the war-time activities, it might be helpful to remember those who are living on charity. Instead of indulging in self-pity for being a drudge, endeavor to realize that present work is giving the training necessary to the achievement of success, and wages are being paid while the education for the future is being secured. Young people often make their own hard times by their dejected attitude. It is better always to cultivate the cheerful hopefulness that eventually brings prosperity.

METHODISM IN ORANGEVILLE

A few copies of the souvenir booklet, Methodism in Orangeville, issued in connection with the recent jubilee celebration of the Orangeville Methodist Church, have been placed on sale at The Banner Bookstore. The booklet contains a mine of interesting information and is also invaluable from a historical viewpoint. Every Methodist family in the district should have at least one copy of the booklet. The price is 50c a copy.

MRS. MARGARET PATTERSON

Former Resident of Orangeville Dies in Sault Ste. Marie.

Mrs. Margaret Patterson, mother of Messrs. Norman and John Patterson and vice-president of the Patterson Brothers, Ltd., of this city, passed away at an early this morning at her home on Kohler street. Mrs. Patterson has been confined to her bed for the past five weeks, and despite all the care that could be given failed to rally from the illness which terminated in her death this morning. Mrs. Patterson was the daughter of Francis and Margaret Gillespie, of Rosemont, and was seventy-two years of age. In 1884 she married Henry Patterson, and resided some years in Orangeville, later residing in Collingwood, where her husband predeceased her eighteen years ago. Mrs. Patterson was beloved by all who knew her for her kindly and genial nature, always thinking of the happiness of others. She was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The funeral will take place at the family residence, Thursday afternoon.—Sault Ste Marie Daily Star.

MRS. GRACE J. WAUGH

Following an operation for internal trouble, the death occurred on Monday, May 1st, in the Cottage Hospital, Toronto, of Mrs. Grace I. Waugh in her 63rd year. Deceased was born in Simcoe, Ont., and since the death of her husband, W. S. Waugh, in Calgary, about three years ago, had been a resident in Toronto. She attended the Anglican Church. Surviving are: three sons, G. L., in Truro, N. S.; W. S., in Winnipeg, and Harry, in Regina; and three sisters, Miss A. Walsh, Toronto; Mrs. J. N. Fish, Regina, and Mrs. W. L. Walsh, Calgary. Mr. and Mrs. Waugh were residents of Orangeville for a number of years, moving to the West from this town. Mr. Waugh had charge of the private bank on West Broadway, operated under the firm name of Lewis, Waugh & Co. The late Dr. F. W. Lewis was the other partner in the bank.

MRS. WILLIAM DERMOTT

There passed away on April 14th, at her late residence, lot 17, 4th line, east, Mono, an old resident of the Mono Centre district in the person of Mrs. Dermott, beloved wife of William Dermott. Mrs. Dermott, who had been a respected resident of the neighborhood for many years, took a paralytic stroke last May and had been bedfast practically all the the time for the last year. Deceased was 83 years of age and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Speers, of the 7th line, Mono, where she was born and spent her girlhood. She was married twice, her first husband being William McClinchey, who died 58 years ago. She leaves to mourn her loss her aged husband, five sons, two brothers and one sister. The sons are Thomas McClinchey, living in New Ontario; William McClinchey, of Mono; Robert Dermott, of Alliston; John Dermott, of Beeton, and George Dermott, of Glencross. The brothers and sister are John Speers of Mono Mills, Thomas Speers, in the West, and Mrs. Coombs, living in Michigan. The funeral was held from her late residence to Relessey Church Cemetery. Rev. Mr. Forth conducting the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. John Speers, Thos. McFadden, Richard McFadden, George Moffatt, Arthur Avison and W. A. Henry. The floral offerings included a sheaf from the family.

SATISFIED MOTHERS

No other medicine gives the same satisfaction to mothers as do Baby's Own Tablets. They are equally good for the newborn babe or the growing child and are absolutely guaranteed to be free from opiates or other harmful drugs. They are a mild but thorough laxative and cannot possibly do harm—they always do good. Concerning them Mrs. Jos. Ache, Coteau Road, N. B., writes:—"I think that Baby's Own Tablets are a marvellous medicine for little ones. I gave them to my little girl with such good results that I now strongly recommend them to all mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The Daughters of the Empire will hold their regular monthly meeting in the Auditorium of the Public Library on Friday, May 12th, at 3 p. m. The Regent, Mrs. W. E. Irvine, who represented the Chapter at the annual meeting of the Provincial Chapter in Hamilton, will give her report of the proceedings.

It is our pleasant duty to return thanks to the donors for the following timely gifts:—Pickles, Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, Orangeville; pineapples, Mrs. J. Harper, Orangeville; linen tray cloths and dusters, Mrs. I. J. Murphy, Mono.

A NEW PLANING MILL

Orangeville will have an addition to its industries before the end of May. Mr. A. Henderson, of Cheltenham, is opening a Planing Mill and Lumber Yard in the west half of the Egg Factory Building on East Broadway. Mr. Henderson has had thirteen years' experience in this line of business and is therefore fully conversant with its requirements. He expects to have the Mill equipped and in operation before the first of June.

Orangeville Trimmed Alton 3 to 2 in Saturday Afternoon Game.

The Orangeville Baseball Club played their first game of the season on Saturday last, against Alton, at Idylwyld Park, and after a seven innings game emerged victorious by the close score of 3-2. This speaks well for our local nine as the Alton boys have all played together for a few years, while Saturday's game was the first time the home team had ever played together. Squirt McIntyre did the pitching for Alton and Geo. Wheeler held the fort for the Orangeville Tigers. Alton started to walk up in the first innings, and pushed in a run, but splendid work on the part of Cruikshank, Rowan and Sullivan held them down to a lone tally. Our own Tigers got three in their half of the first, while Alton got another one in the second. From then on both pitchers tightened up and not a man on either side reached third base. And only two errors were registered for the whole game, one a low throw from Sully, which gave Logie Bell no chance, and Roy Cruikshank misjudged a high spiral fly on the third base line—but Roy made good with a vengeance in the fifth, when he stabbed a terrific drive from the bat of H. Myers, with one hand, and relayed it to Sullivan for a double play. Logie Bell turned in a splendid exhibition on first base, while Rowan played the second bag like a veteran. Willoughby, our catcher, also turned in a fine game, his only fault being a weak throw to second. Our outfielders didn't have much to do—the only ball that got past the infield was swallowed up by Ralph Rohmer in centre field, who, with Jackson and Ab. Rohmer, will make real good in field. Wheeler pitched a steady game, but was not forced to exert himself. Present indications point toward a first class team in Orangeville this season. The return game with Alton will be played in the future, and an attempt will be made by the management to secure the services of two or three of their good players, as Alton will not have a representative team this year. H. Myers and Charlie Lovell were the stars of the Alton team, but both teams played good baseball for so early in the season and considering the amount of practice they have had to date. The teams:

W. P. TELFORD, EX-M. P.

Owen Sound Mourns Loss of a Prominent Citizen.

William Pattison Telford Sr., a prominent citizen of Owen Sound and onetime member of the House of Commons for North Grey, died quite unexpectedly on Thursday at the ripe age of 86 years. Mr. Telford was a man of energy, ability and sterling honesty. Loved and trusted by his fellow-citizens, he held a high place in the confidence and esteem of the community.

The late William P. Telford, Ex-M. P., was born near Castleton, Roxboroughshire, Scotland, on October 11th, 1836, a son of the late William P. Telford and Elizabeth Murray Telford. The family came to Canada in 1840, settling first in Dunfries township, near Galt, where the father taught school until 1848, when the family moved to Sydenham. The late Mr. Telford received his education in Dunfries public school and later attended the Toronto Normal School. He served a three year apprenticeship to the stone mason trade under the late John Harkness, and then taught school at Annan for 14 years.

Moving to Owen Sound, Mr. Telford became associated with the late R. J. Doyle, then manager of the Dominion Grange, and was bookkeeper for that organization for five years.

In 1883 he established the private banking firm of Telford and Co., and for 23 years was its active manager. In 1906 this was sold out to the Sovereign Bank.

In 1889 Mr. Telford organized the Grey and Bruce Loan Co., and he became its manager, a position he held up to the time of his death.

Mr. Telford was one of the principal shareholders in the Sun Cement Co., and was President of the company. He also was President of the Georgian Bay Power Company which first recognized the possibilities of Eugenia Falls in the production of power.

In 1867 Mr. Telford married Margaret Couper, of Sydenham, who passed away on March 26th, 1918. Three sons and one daughter survive: W. P. Telford Jr., Liberal candidate in the late Dominion election; John C. Telford, Secretary of Lemon Bros., and the Curling Club, and onetime manager of the Bank of Hamilton in Orangeville; Robert, Chief of the Statistical Department of Customs and Inland Revenue at Ottawa, and Miss Euphemia, at home. Mrs. Robert Clark and Miss M. Telford, Owen Sound, and Mrs. Wm. Gibson, of Seattle, are sisters, and Col. J. P. Telford, of Owen Sound, is a brother of the deceased.

The funeral was held from Division St. Presbyterian Church to Greenwood Cemetery on Saturday afternoon, Rev. J. L. McInnis conducting the services. The pallbearers were Messrs. Robert Wightman, James Cochrane, John Parker, Robert Harkness, A. F. Armstrong, John Young and C. A. Fleming, former business associates.

ALTON

The Alton Mission Circle held its regular monthly meeting at the Parsonage on Wednesday evening, May 3rd. The election of officers for the ensuing year was one of the items of business for the evening. Officers were elected as follows:—Honorary President, Mrs. (Rev.) J. F. G. Morris; President, Miss Grace Barber; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. E. Trebble; Recording Secretary, Miss K. Erskine; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Sadie Trimble; Treasurer, Miss Myrtle Alderson; Supt. of Christian Stewardship, Miss M. C. McClellan; Supt. of Mite Boxes, Miss Mildred Reid; Heralds—China, Miss Edythe Trimble; Japan, Miss S. Lowe; Home Fields, Miss G. Morrison; Programme Committee, Miss Evelyn McConnell, Miss Bertha Lowe, Miss C. Lovell.

CALEDON.

The Caledon Women's Institute held its annual meeting in the Township Hall here on Wednesday afternoon, May 3rd. The reports for the year just ended were of a highly satisfactory character, showing interest, activity and gratifying accomplishments in the various departments of Institute work. Last year the Institute gave the prize for the best home competition at the Caledon School Fair and the members propose to offer a similar prize again this year. The Society also contributed liberally to the Lord Dufferin Hospital, the members thereby evincing it a practical and praiseworthy manner their interest in the welfare of this institution. The Institute has also contributed to the care and improvement of the village cemetery, held a sewing course attended by eighteen members, and donated a generous supply of seeds, bulbs and plants to the Caledon school for planting on the school grounds on Arbor Day. This spring no less than sixteen new members were added, bringing the total membership up to 35. The following are the newly elected officers for the incoming year:—

President, Mrs. S. Patterson; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. W. R. Patterson, Mrs. C. I. Glassford; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Smith; Directors, Mesdames Wm. Sanderson, W. J. Brown, E. E. Wilson, Jas. Torrance and Miss T. Arkell; District Director, Mrs. A. E. Smith; Auditors, Messrs. E. E. Wilson and W. J. Warnock; Delegates to Provincial Convention, Mrs. E. E. Wilson, Mrs. S. Patterson and Mrs. C. I. Glassford.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

When the Blood is Out of Order the Nerves Are Starved.

The nerve system is the governing system of the whole body, controlling the heart, lungs, digestion and brain; so it is not surprising that nervous disturbances cause acute distress. The first stages of nervous debility are noted by irritability and restlessness, in which the victims seem to be oppressed by their nerves. The matter requires immediate attention, for nothing but suitable treatment will prevent a breakdown. The victim, however, need not despair, for even severe nervous disorders may be relieved by improving the condition of the blood. It is because Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich the blood that this medicine has proved beneficial in nervous disorders. The nerves thrive on the better blood made by these pills; the appetite improves, indigestion is better, sleeplessness no longer troubles the nerve-shattered victim, and life generally takes on a cheerful aspect. The value of these pills in cases of this kind is shown by the experience of Mrs. John W. Macdonald, Cardigan, P. E. I., who says:—"I have much cause to be grateful to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was suffering from nervous breakdown, and my condition gave alarm to both my friends and myself. I suffered almost continuously from nervous headaches, my appetite was poor, I hardly got any sleep, and in every way I was badly rundown. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after I had taken them for a while there was a noticeable improvement in my condition. I continued using the pills until I had taken twelve boxes, when every symptom of the trouble was gone, and I have since enjoyed the best of health."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Everybody welcome to join with the Club. Courts at the corner of Prince of Wales Road and Second Ave., in excellent condition. Fees—Gents, $2.00; Ladies, $2.00; Juniors, 14 years and under, $1.00.

LACROSSE NOTES

Mr. T. E. Simpson, M. P. for West Algoma, who is a onetime East Garafraxa boy, has donated a fine silver trophy to the Sault Ste Marie Lacrosse Association for annual competition among the junior clubs of Northern Ontario. The trophy will be known as the T. E. Simpson trophy.

LIQUOR PRESCRIPTIONS

The Saskatchewan Liquor Commission, working under the Saskatchewan Temperance Act of 1920, has a splendid showing to its credit in the control of the medical use of alcohol liquors, and the abatement of the prescription evil. This is all the more commendable because it has been secured with a minimum of friction and a high degree of co-operation on the part of druggists and physicians. The publicity given to this work through the publication of the records of each month has been most valuable, by stopping the tendency to vague rumor and exaggeration which are always characteristic when facts are not forthcoming.

The Commission was inaugurated on December 15th, 1920. During the preceding six weeks 39,373 prescriptions were written; during the following six weeks 13,866 prescriptions were written. From December 15th, 1921, to January 31st, 1922, 12,199 prescriptions were written. It will be seen that the number has been lowered in a year to less than one-third.

Before the 1920 Act went into effect the quantity prescribed was unlimited. Since December 15th, 1920, the law fixed a definite limit. A careful study of the records of amounts prescribed shows that the quantity has been cut down to less than a quarter of what it was a year ago.

The record of the total number of prescriptions issued by the slightly over six hundred doctors in the Province will be interesting:

January, 1921	11,588
February, 1921	6,992
March, 1921	10,579
April, 1921	11,827
May, 1921	10,652
June, 1921	9,026
July, 1921	8,998
August, 1921	9,930
September, 1921	9,907
October, 1921	11,072
November, 1921	9,601
December, 1921	10,146
January, 1922	7,126

The total amount of liquor prescribed monthly for the whole Province and used for compounding, medicinal and sacramental uses, for manufacturers, and educational institutions, averages about one gallon of spirits, one quart of wine, and one gallon and a half of malt liquors for every one thousand of population. In other words about eleven quarts of liquor for every thousand people once a month for all purposes for which the sale of liquor or its importation is legitimate.

During the month of January, 1922, none of the six hundred physicians wrote more than one hundred prescriptions, and four hundred and twenty-eight wrote less than twenty-five for the month. Regina Medical Fraternity has the best score. The sixty physicians of Regina average less than six prescriptions per month, while some months they have averaged less than five each per month. Twenty physicians of Regina, among whom are some of the most noted men with the largest practices, never issue a prescription of liquor for internal use. Apparently there is real headway being made along these lines.

Apropos of this question, the Journal of the American Medical Association made careful enquiry during 1921 as to the recognized therapeutic value of alcohol liquors. A majority of physicians in nineteen states regarded beer, wine, whiskey and brandy as unnecessary therapeutic agents in the practice of medicine. About four-fifths of the physicians declared there were no instances in their practices where suffering or death had resulted from enforcement of Prohibition Laws.

A NEGLECTED SOURCE OF HELP

A great gale of wind always leaves in its wake much damage to property. Trees are uprooted, old and partially constructed buildings are blown down, and standing crops are destroyed. But perhaps the greatest damage is done to electric light, telephone and telegraph wires and poles. No matter what the hour of day may be, the linemen are ordered out to repair the breaks.

The big companies that lose so much from the storm seek help at once, and from the right source. They send out repair men who are trained and experienced. Whenever and however trouble comes, we usually seek a remedy from the right source.

There is one source of help, however, that we often neglect, and that is God. The Shunammite woman was wise when in her grief and sorrow she at once went to the man of God. Often we seek help from all kinds of sources, when, if we simply went to God the trouble or anxiety would lose its pain and terror. We forget how Jesus urged us both by His words and by His own life to trust ourselves completely to God.

We shall never accomplish much if we are constantly haunted by fear and anxious over many things. Power and quiet strength come from recognizing what help and refuge there is to be found in God.

LANGTREE—In loving memory of our dear mother, Rebecca Langtree, who passed away on May 8th, 1921.

Anchored by love, death cannot sever;
She is gone through the Beautiful Gates.
Away to that City of Gold,
Where is known no sorrow, sin or pain;
She is safe in the heavenly fold.

Blessed hope that in Jesus is given,
In our sorrow to cheer and sustain;
That soon with our Saviour in Heaven,
We shall meet with our loved ones again.

Sadly missed by her daughters and friend, Mrs. Simpkins.

MORROW—In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Thomas Morrow, C. P. R. engineer, who was killed in Parkdale yard on May 11th, 1920.

THE PROBLEM OF INDIA

The world is watching with keenest interest the experiment being worked out in India. In many respects that country presents the greatest problem in the matter of government of any in the world. It is a country of 330,000,000 people, or three times the population of the United States, made up of numerable groups, castes and factions, with a diversity of language, interests and ideals.

Three-quarters of the population are Hindus and one-quarter Mahommedans. There are a score or more of languages and dialects used, so that the only common language is English; but the people are ignorant and comparatively few of them speak English.

The difficulty of applying West ideals to a country which bases its social system on caste, the seclusion of women, and a ritual of the Brahman priesthood, adds to the complications.

England went into India through the medium of the East India Company, and from a few outlying trading posts the country was gradually absorbed in a military and economic sense until to-day the British rule this great outlying portion of the Empire. In a general sense, the system of administration is somewhat similar to that in vogue in the United States, but the authority to govern comes from the British Government and not from the people of India.

This system gave peace and prosperity to India. It established law and order, built railways, irrigated the land, established a system of finance, and in general developed the resources of the country. But to-day these things do not satisfy the Indian people, and they are demanding the real form of self-government, not the shadow.

Undoubtedly the war has increased the desire of subject races to have a larger share in the management of their own affairs. In this movement in India, the leader has been Gandhi, who has been lately sentenced to imprisonment for sedition. In many respects he is a visionary individual who would scrap and wreck every Western innovation, and would have the people go back to the old days of the ox-cart and the flail.

He sees no need for government or its machinery. Law and order and every product of Western civilization is tabooed. In other words, he would turn India back to the condition of a century or two ago—before the foreigner was known.

In the meantime, Great Britain is trying to satisfy the claims of a large section of the discontented Hindus by giving them a larger voice in the direction of their own affairs. However, the electorate in India only number 5,000,000. As no two factions want the same thing, it is almost a superhuman task to legislate in a way that will satisfy the aspirations of the Hindus. — The Farmers' Sun.

DUNLOP TIRES

Ensure
HIGH-MILEAGE—DOUBLE-LIFE

- Dunlop leadership in Tiredom is most manifest. Mileage records almost unbelievable are piling up all over Canada.
- The Special Mileage-Making Process, which is the basis of our Fabric Tires, has worked wonders.
- Perfect shape and balance, stronger side walls to resist curb and rut abuse, special wear-resisting anti-skid tread, etc., add the last touch to popularizing to the full a tire that has long stood in high favor.
- Dunlop "Cords" made good from their inception.
- These tires taught motorists to expect more resiliency, greater air space, larger amount of material, better carrying capacity—in short, bigger mileage; and that is the standard by which all Cord Tires are judged to-day.

MOTOR FEES

Will Provide $25,000 000 For Immediate Use on Provincial Highways.

Within three years, construction work on the entire Provincial Highway System of 1,800 miles will be completed, if a bond issue of $25,000,000.00, proposed by the Honorable F. C. Biggs, is approved by the Legislature this month.

The plan of the Minister of Public Highways is to capitalize a portion of the revenue from Motor Vehicle License Fees—$2,000,000 a year for the next twenty years—thus providing immediately a fund of approximately $25,000,000.00 for the construction work of the next three years. The Minister seeks, by an amendment to the Highway Improvement Act, to effect this object.

On several occasions the Ontario Motor League has urged the Government to adopt the scheme of capitalizing a portion of the revenue anticipated from motor vehicle license fees to provide funds for the building of the Provincial Highways. The League has advanced this as an alternative to the proposal to largely increase the annual motor license fees at the present time and, therefore, the League heartily supports the principle embodied in the amendment proposed by Mr. Biggs.

What opposition there is to this amendment is based principally on the argument that the roads now being built will not last for 20 years and, therefore, will be worn out before their cost has been met through the retirement of the bond issue. This argument, however, is fallacious, as at least two-thirds of the whole work being done is of permanent value. Permanent work such as the construction of bridges and culverts, grade reduction, drainage, cuts and fills, in fact all but the surface work, will have as great a value 40 or 50 years from now as it will five years hence. So far as surface work is concerned, the average surface should last from 10 to 20 years if good drainage is provided and a proper system of maintenance is established.

The revenue from motor vehicle license fees last year was approximately $3,000,000. This revenue is increasing from year to year and if $2,000,000 annually is set aside by means of a bond issue for construction work, there will still be upwards of $1,000,000 remaining each year to provide for maintenance.

The union of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches in Mildmay was brought about without a dissenting vote. The union goes into effect on October 1st.

Prest-O-Lite Superiority Proved by Actual Test

IN the toughest side-by-side battery test that could be devised, the Prest-O-Lite Storage Battery demonstrated its superiority beyond question. This test was staged in a cold storage plant, where the best two batteries out of six submitted were selected.. One was a Prest-O-Lite. Both batteries were chilled for 17 hours in ten below zero temperature. Then each battery was, in turn, hooked up to a new, stiff, eight-cylinder engine and allowed to spin it to the limit of the battery's power and endurance.

At the finish of 3 successive trials, with from one to three minutes between each, the score stood:

FOR PREST-O-LITE		FOR COMPETITOR
237 seconds	132 revolutions	142 seconds	75 revolutions
25 seconds	10 revolutions	13 seconds	5 revolutions
10 seconds	4 revolutions	7 seconds	3 revolutions
15 seconds	5 revolutions	9 seconds	3 revolutions

This clean-cut, decisive victory, is convincing proof of the superiority of Prest-O-Lite Batteries for power, endurance and reserve force.

If you need a new battery, let it be a powerful Prest-O-Lite—the battery that will give surest starts, brightest lights and practical freedom from battery bother.

OLD TIME ELECTION

When Candidates for Reeveship of Brampton Paid a Hundred Dollars For Vote.

Mr. Herbert Watson, of North Toronto Township, the other day, came across a couple of copies of the Brampton Times, dated Jan. 5, 1872, and Jan. 1, 1875. The Times of Jan. 5, 1872, contains an account of the famous election for the Reeveship of Brampton between Kenneth Chisholm and John Coyne. If the election was as wild as the account of it given by the Times, it certainly was some election. The article in the Times says:

"The most exciting election for Reeve that ever took place at Brampton, or any other place, came off in this town on Monday last. The contest, as is well known, was between K. Chisholm, Esq., and John Coyne, Esq., M. P.-P. Both gentlemen, at the commencement of the contest, went into it determined to win if at all possible. Meetings were held, and the town thoroughly canvassed, and money was no object, so long as the point was gained. Parties that had promised to vote for Mr. Chisholm were offered $50 to leave town and not record their votes, and $100 from either side to induce a man to vote was only an ordinary figure. We have been told that on the afternon of Monday as high as $300 was offered. Several that had promised on either sides were made drunk and locked up till poll closing time; others were carried off in sleighs and in the cars to different points. In fact no stone was left unturned to gain the victory, and to see the energy used by each candidate and their friends, a looker on might imagine that it was a matter of life or death struggle. The sick and the lame were brought to the polls. Voters were literally carried off their feet to the polling box, and those that were considered weak-kneed were followed by their candidates or friends, who stuck to them like leeches until they recorded their votes. During the early part of the day Mr. Coyne kept the lead, as his friends flocked early to the Hall to record their votes, but about noon Mr. Chisholm caught up to him, and at 12.30 was two ahead of Mr. Coyne, and during the afternoon up to 3 o'clock it was often a tie between them, which made the excitement the keener, and as each voter was marshalled up he, on recording his vote, would be cheered by the friends of the candidate he voted for. At about 4 o'clock Mr. Chisholm got the better of Mr. Coyne, and at about twenty minutes to 5 he was five ahead, and remained so until within about 10 minutes of closing time, when as two voters were up to record their votes, the closeness of the contest and the near time for closing induced a number to crowd near the polling box, which led to some confusion, whereupon the Returning Officer declared, as there was so much noise and blocking up of the passage that admitted voters, he would adjourn the election till Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Chisholm and his friends begged of the Returning Officer to continue on until 5 o'clock and promised that there should be no more confusion among his friends. But the decision of the Returning Officer was like the laws of the Medes and Persians, not to be altered. Mr. Chisholm and his friends declared that he was duly elected, while Mr. Coyne's friends cried "No! no!" and amid the confusion the Returning Officer left. A speech was then made by Mr. Chisholm, declaring that he was their duly elected Reeve, that the adjournment was a dodge on the part of the Returning Officer and Mr. Coyne's friends, to gain time to get more votes on the morrow. Mr. Coyne also spoke and denied that such was the case on his part, after which the crowd dispersed, Mr. Chisholm's friends to Beck's Hotel, and Mr. Coyne's to Fowler's Hotel, where arrangements were made for the next day's siege. Telegrams were sent to outsiders that had not voted and conveyances despatched for any near Brampton.

"The result of the next day appearing somewhat doubtful to Mr. Coyne's friends, Mr. Coyne, about nine o'clock that night, waited on Mr. Haggert with a proposition that Mr. Chisholm and Mr. Coyne both resign all claims to the Reeveship, and that a new election take place between new candidates.

"Mr. Chisholm, and a few of his friends, holding a similar feeling as to the result and as to the validity of the election, partly consented to that proposal, but in the morning at poll opening time the result being made known to the Returning Officer, he stated he would not accept any resignations, but would proceed to take votes. This decision somewhat broke the arrangement up, and Mr. Coyne's reserve force recorded their votes, which left him five ahead of Mr. Chisholm. Mr. Chisholm had enough votes gathered to make it at least a tie, but was against them being recorded, as he considered the second day's proceedings illegal, and also owing to the arrangement made between himself and Mr. Coyne to retire. No voters making their appearance for over an hour the Returning Officer declared the poll closed and Mr. Coyne elected Reeve by a majority of five. The result was—For Reeve: Coyne, 157; Chisholm, 152."

ALGIE-STORK

Very quietly at the home of the bride's mother, in the presence of the immediate families of the contracting parties, Rachel, elder daughter of Mrs. Stork and the late Mr. Harry Stork, was married to Harry Dale Algie, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Algie, of Brampton, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Malcolm McArthur, of the Presbyterian Church. The bride, who was unattended, wore her travelling suit of blue cloth, with hat to match. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Algie left for a short honeymoon trip, and on their return will reside in Brampton. Unusual interest centres about this marriage, as the bride is the grand-daughter of the late Christopher Stork, one of the first business men of the town of Brampton, while the groom is the great-grandson of the founder of the Dale Estate.—Conservator.

M'KIM-BRACKEN

Decorated with Easter lilies, St. George's Anglican Church, Dundas Street, Islington, at 3 o'clock on Wednesday, April 19th, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when the marriage was solemnized by the pastor, Rev. C. W. Holdsworth, of Margaret Jane Bracken to Mr. Norman S. McMinn, of Palgrave. The bride, leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. Wm. R. Bracken, entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. The bride wore a tailored suit of navy blue tricotine, with a very smart hat of henna shade and ermine scarf, and she carried a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses and lily of the valley. The bride was attended by her niece, Miss Bernice Bracken, as maid of honor, who wore pale pink marquisette, with hat to match, and carried Easter lilies. A reception followed at the home of the bride's brother, on Scarlett Road, which was decorated with Easter lilies and pink carnations. The happy couple left on a short honeymoon and will be at home to their friends after May 15th in their new residence in Palgrave.—Conservator.

BROSTER-GILMORE

On Wednesday, April 19th, at 4 o'clock p.m., a prety wedding ceremony was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Plate, Dundalk, when Miss Mabel Gilmore, of this place, and Mr. Walter Broster, of Melancthon, were married, Rev. W. G. Blackwell officiating.

The bride, attired in a taupe satin gown, with a corsage bouquet of sweet peas, entered the parlor, escorted by her brother-in-law, D. G. Pate, and atended by Miss Lottie Pate, of Toronto, while the wedding march was being rendered by Mrs. T. J. Lackey, of London, and took her place beneath a very beautiful arch of pink and white roses set against a background of green foliage. The groom was attended by Mr. Ellwood Stevens, of Proton.

After the congratulations the bridal couple and guests repaired to the dining room, which was prettily decorated with the same color scheme as the parlor. After a bountiful wedding dinner and toast to the bride the evening was spent in games and dancing.

The large assemblage of guests and the many useful and pretty presents indicate the regard in which the young couple are held. St. James' Church congregation, of which the bride was a member, showed their appreciation of a good church worker by presenting a beautiful leather upholstered rocker.

The newly married couple left on the morning train for Toronto, amid a whirling snow storm. The bride wore a suit of navy blue tricotine with hat to match.—Dundalk Herald.

COMMONEST MISTAKES OF LIFE

(Waterloo Chronicle-Telegraph)

Judge McCormick, of San Francisco, says these are the thirteen commonest mistakes of life.

1. To attempt to set up your own standards of right and wrong.
2. To try to measure the enjoyment of others by our own.
3. To expect uniformity of opinions in this world.
4. To fail to make allowances for inexperience.
5. To endeavor to mould all dispositions alike.
6. Not to yield to unimportant trifles.
7. To look for perfection in our own actions.
8. To worry ourselves and others about what can not be remedied.
9. To consider a thing impossible, that we can not ourselves perform.
10. Failing to help everybody, wherever, however, and whenever we can.
11. To believe only what our minds can grasp.
12. Not to make allowances for the weakness of others.
13. To estimate by some outside quality when it is that within which makes the man.

REV. W. M. KANNAWIN GETS A FORD SEDAN

A despatch from Hamilton refers, in part, as follows, to Rev. W. M. Kannawin, a cousin of Messrs. S. Kannawin, of Caledon, and John Kannawin, of Orangeville:—

The presentation of a Ford Sedan to the pastor, Rev. W. M. Kannawin, and $800 to Russell Graham, missionary, was the feature of a social at St. John's Presbyterian Church to-night. Mr. Graham represented the church for seven years in India and will return to his charge there in September. On behalf of the congregation, Rev. Mr. Kannawin presented a purse of gold amounting to $200 and the Mission Board tendered a cheque for $500 for the purchase of a motorcycle to be used in his work. He replied suitably. Shortly after Rev. Mr. Kannawin was made the recipient of two keys and informed that they belonged to a Ford sedan which stood outside the building, which the congregation would ask him to accept.

Indoor Life

Spending more time indoors makes women far more subject to constipation than men.

The liver becomes sluggish and torpid, the bowels constipated and the system poisoned by impurities.

If you would get away from the myriads of ills which result from constipation, it is only necessary to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The benefits from their use are as lasting as they are prompt and certain.

Mrs. John Barry, 18 St. Amable Street, Quebec, Que., writes:

"This is to certify that I was troubled for years with constipation and tried all kinds of medicines without relief. At last my husband suggested that I try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they have given me more relief than all the medicine I have taken during the last fifteen years. I may also add that I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles with excellent results."

SHE FIXED IT

A small woman travelling over the Southern Pacific with her son—a boy very large for his age—handed the conductor a half-fare ticket and a whole-fare one.

The conductor scrutinized the boy critically and said: "But, madam, I can't pass this boy on a half-fare ticket. He is very large and has on long pants."

"Very well," replied the woman, "if that is the basis for your decision, use the whole ticket for him and the half for me."

STOCKING THE CREEKS

Through the good offices of H. H. Hilborn, the Ontario Game and Fish Department sent up 10,000 trout fry last week, which were deposited, half in the Grand River, and the remainder equally in the creeks in East Garafraxa. While the attempt to stock the river may be somewhat of a doubtful nature, there should be no reason why the creeks should not respond and provide good sport in a couple of years. It is understood the creeks will be protected and more fry deposited each year.—Star & Vidette.

TOWSER SHAN'T BE TIED TO-NIGHT

Slow the Kansas sun was setting
O'er the wheat fields far away,
Streaking all the air with cobwebs,
At the close of one hot day;
And its last rays kissed the foreheads,
Of a man and maiden fair;
He, with whiskers short and frowsy,
She, with red and glistening hair;
He, with shut jaws, stern and silent,
She, with lips all cold and white,
Struggling to keep back a murmur,
"Towser must be tied to-night."

"Papa," slowly spoke the maiden,
"I am almost seventeen,
And I have a real lover,
Though he's rather young and green,
But he has a horse and buggy,
And a cow and thirty hens;
Boys that start our poor, dear papa,
Make the best of honest men;
But if Towser sees and bites him,
Fills his heart with sudden fright,
He may never come again, pa;
"Towser must be tied to-night."

"Daughter," firmly spoke the father,
Every word pierced her young heart,"
Like a carving knife through chicken,
As it hunts the tender part,—
"I've a patch of early melons,
Two of them are ripe to-day.
Towser must be loose to watch them
Or they'll all be stolen away.
I have hoed them late and early,
In dim morn and evening light;
Now they've grown I must not lose them,
Towser'll not be tied to-night."

Then the old man ambled forward,
Opened wide the kennel door;
Towser bounded forth to meet him
As he oft had done before;
And the farmer stooped and loosed him
From the dog chain short and stout;
To himself he softly chuckled—
"Bessie's fellow best look out!"
But the maiden at the window
Saw the cruel teeth gleam white,
And in an undertone she murmured
"Towser must be tied to-night."

Then the maiden's brow grew thoughtful,
And her breath came short and quick,
Next she spied the family clothes-line,
And she whispered, "That's the trick,"
From the kitchen door she glided,
With a plate of meat and bread,
Towser wagged his tail in greeting,
Knowing well he would be fed;
In his well-worn leather collar
Tied she then the clothes-line tight;
All the time her lips kept saying,
"Towser must be tied to-night."

"There, old doggie," spoke the maiden,
"You can watch the melon patch,
But the front gate's free and open
When John Henry lifts the latch,
For the clothesline tight is fastened
To the harvest-apple tree;
You can run and watch the melons,
But the front gate you can't see."
Then her glad ears heard a buggy,
And her eyes grew big and bright,
While her young heart sang with gladness,
"Towser dog is tied to-night."

Up the path the young man sauntered,
With his eye and cheek aglow,
For he loves the red-haired maiden
And he means to tell her so;
Bessie's roguish little brother,
In a fit of boyish glee,
Had untied the slender clothes-line,
From the harvest-apple tree;
Then old Towser heard the footsteps,
Raised his bristles fixed for fight,
"Bark away," the maiden whispered,
"Towser, you are tied to-night."

Then old Towser bounded forward,
Passed the open kitchen door;
Bessie screamed and quickly followed,
But John Henry's gone before,
Down the path he runs most swiftly,
For old Towser sets the pace,
And the maiden close behind them,
Shows them she is in the race.
There's the clothes-line,—can she get it?
And her eyes grow big and bright,
As she springs and grasps it firmly,
"Towser shall be tied to-night."

Often times a little minute
Forms the destiny of man,
You can change the fate of nations,
With the stroke of one small pen.
Towser made one last strong effort,
Caught John Henry by the pants,
But John Henry kept on running,
For he thought that his last chance;
Still the maiden held on firmly,
And the rope was drawn up tight,
But old Towser kept the fragments,
For he was not tied to-night.

Then the father hears the racket—
With long strides he soon is there,
Where John Henry and the maiden
Fearing for the worst prepare;
At his feet John tells his story,
Shows his clothing soiled and torn,
And his face so sad and pleading,
Yet so white, and scared, and worn,
Touched the old man's heart with pity,—
Filled his eyes with misty light,
"Take her, boy, and make her happy,
"Towser shall be tied to-night."

Scarboro ratepayers clashed with Public Utilities Commission over $5 Hydro meter tax.

"Well, you see, it was this way. The guide was wearing a fur coat, and the hunting party mistook him for a bear." "And they shot the poor fellow?" "No, no. He starved to death in the woods. You see, the rest of the party were carrying the provisions, and he never could catch up to them."

WEARY OF LIFE

Sad Death of James A. May Last Week.

On Monday morning, May 1st, Jas. A. May, a C. P. R. employee, living on Mill Street, disappeared from his home between 9 and 10.30 o'clock. Later in the forenoon he talked with Alex. Saunders near the latter's residence between Margaret and John Streets. When he left Saunders he started west on the C. P. R. track. This was the last seen of him until shortly before twelve o'clock on Sunday forenoon, when Robert Scott Ben and R. J. Robinson, members of a searching party, discovered his lifeless body hanging from a tree on the Bryson Hunter farm west of the town and directly across the road from Greenwood Cemetery. It was a clear case of suicide, the unfortunate man having ended his life with the aid of a leather line, which he had noosed about his neck and then fastened to a couple of branches of the tree. When found his feet were almost touching the ground.

May, who had been off work for some time on account of poor health, had been choring in the backyard at his home on the morning of his disappearance. His absence did not occasion any anxiety or alarm until some hours later in the day, when enquiries in the immediate neighborhood of his home and at the C. P. R. roundhouse, where he had been working prior to his illness, failed to furnish any information regarding his whereabouts. His failure to return home at night caused genuine alarm and on Tuesday search was instituted for the missing man. The remainder of the week was spent in fruitless search in the town and surrounding country and it was not until Sunday that the efforts of the anxious searchers were rewarded. There is an unused barn on the latter farm and the body was found about fifty rods directly south of the barn at a point near the centre of the farm. The farm is mostly all in grass and is rented by Mr. Wm. H. Brown, who lives near town. The north part of the farm is used as golf links by the Orangeville Golf Club, but the golf course does not extend as far south as the scene of the tragedy. A number of the searchers had passed quite close to the tree from which the body was hanging, but did not notice anything untoward. Mr. Brown had also put out salt for his cattle within a few rods of the tree on Saturday. The appearance of the man's clothing indicated that he had spent a night in the straw in the unused building. If this surmise is correct his death did not take place until Tuesday or perhaps later in the week.

Dr. Rooney, Coroner, was immediately notified of the finding of the body and made the necessary arrangements for an inquest. A jury was secured as quickly as possible. Coroner and jurors visited the scene of the tragedy occurrence and viewed the remains, after which the inquest was adjourned until Monday night in the auditorium of the Public Library.

May was 41 years of age, married and the father of six children, three boys and three girls. His wife is a daughter of Adam McKibben, of Shelburne, and a niece of James and Ed. McKibben, of Orangeville. He was a quiet, industrious man, intelligent and described by his employers as an excellent worker. He had been off work since late in March on account of ill-health, his condition being aggravated by a severe attack of the flu. A birth in the home, the consequent illness of his wife and his own ill-health had combined to make the home responsibilities particularly trying this spring and friends had noticed signs of nervousness and depression very unusual to the man, who was naturally of a bright and cheery disposition. It is thought that his physical weakness and the consequent depression had temporarily unhinged his mind and caused him to commit the rash act that ended his life.

At the Coroner's inquest on Monday night evidence was given by High Constable Marshall and Messrs. McKibben and Robinson as to the finding of the body. A brother, William May, testified respecting the illness and actions of the deceased prior to his disappearance and Mr. A. W. McGillivray, C. P. R. foreman, told of his employment with the Company, beginning as far back as 1907. Mr. McGillivray described May as an agreeable, intelligent chap and a splendid worker. Crown Attorney J. L. Island addressed the jury briefly after the evidence had been taken. After deliberating a short time the jury brought in a verdict finding that the deceased had ended his life while in a temporarily deranged state of mind.

The jurors were Thos. Henderson, foreman, J. Foley, Geo. Fleming, W. J. Gillespie, J. W. South, James Holmes, Sam White and W. J. Acheson.

Besides his wife and family, deceased is survived by his aged father, Mr. John May, three brothers, John and William May, Orangeville, and Joe May, Dean Lake, Ont., and one sister, Mrs. George Prior, of Bratton, Sask. Profound sympathy is felt for the bereaved friends in the peculiarly trying affliction that has so unexpectedly overtaken them. The funeral, which was largely attended, was held from the home of his brother, William, to Greenwood Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon and was under the auspices of L. O. L. No. 685, of which the late Mr. May was a member.

OIL IN MULMUR

J. C. GALLAUGHER STRUCK GUSHER WHILE DRILLING FOR WATER

Find Created Intense Excitement in Perm and Mansfield District.

Intense excitement prevails around Perm and Mansfield and the agitation is penetrating into adjoining sections and seizing hold of people in Shelburne, Alliston and over in Mono. The cause was an oil strike on the farm of John C. Gallaugher, east half of lot 5, in the fourth concession of Mulmur, Saturday shortly before noon. The oil came with a tremendous rush of water and accompanying the two was a heavy volume of gas.

The strike came when prospects of reaching water had become discouraging and the monotonous work of drilling through a bed of flint rock had just about crystalized a determination to quit and give up the search for water as a futile one. Without a moment's notice up shot the liquid and discouragement soon gave place to visions of profitable oil wells and the affluence which such assets always bring to their owners.

Mr. Gallaugher had been drilling for water. His well, a twenty-foot shaft, had failed him last summer and he had determined to avert another shortage of water and the inconvenience it brings, if at all possible. So Duke Adair was engaged to set up his drilling apparatus and sink a four inch shaft into the earth from the bottom of the well. Down and down he went through soft formations and hard, sometimes making good progress and other times penetrating so slowly that the operation was getting very expensive. When after some six or seven weeks of drilling a very hard flinty rock was struck it was a question whether it would not be the best part of wisdom to cease here. Mr. Gallaugher, however, having a decided streak of Irish determination, decided to go through to China. Drilling was very slow. The drill had to be taken out and sharpened at least three times a day and not more than a foot a day could be sunk, work as the drillers would. Ten, twenty, and twenty-five feet they bored into the rock and still no sign of getting through it. They had got down to nearly thirty feet and Friday evening Mr. Gallaugher and Mr. Adair had a talk about the advisability of continuing. Mr. Gallaugher was not inclined to stop operations, having decided almost unconsciously that thirty or thirty-five feet at most would get them through that rock and Saturday morning he went to work in the field and Mr. Adair resumed the dull bump, bump, as the drill shaft was forced down by the engine.

Shortly before noon Mr. Gallaugher heard the driller's engine whistle blowing violently and he headed for the house. When he got within sight of the well he was confronted with a sight that tickled him immensely. A solid stream of water was shooting half way up the wind mill tower and breaking into foam presented the picture of a great shower bouquet fifteen or twenty feet high. So quickly did the stream burst out that the workmen got drenched and had to hustle into the falling water to pick up their tools. As the water overflowed depressions close to the well and began to flow off Mr. Gallaugher noticed the heavy oil on top of the small streams. Getting a raincoat he went into the falling water and took a look down the well. The odor of gas nearly suffocated him. This flow lasted for some hours and was estimated to be the result of some 2000 pounds of pressure. It was coming up a four inch shaft 225 feet deep. Mr. Gallaugher tasted the water but it was so impregnated with gas that its flavor was repulsive.

By Sunday the gusher had subsided somewhat, but a steady stream of water was coming forth and the oil was still very much in evidence. The pressure seems to have fallen to about 1700 pounds, but this is being steadily maintained.

Mr. Gallaugher is undecided whether to sink his shaft deeper in search of pure oil which is evidently not far away. It may be that after a time the oil will cease to flow and he will have a stream of pure water, but this theory can only be proven by waiting a few weeks to see.

The owners of farms all around Mr. Gallaugher are delighted and reason that if a shaft 225 feet deep will tap an oil pocket there must necessarily be a body of oil, probably being restrained under very heavy pressure, in the rocky subterranean depths under some of their farms. Those living close to Mr. Gallaugher and who may reasonably look for big developments close to their own doors, if not on their own holdings, are John Jennings, Delmar Gallaugher, Henry Gilmore, H. W. Gallaugher, Archie Greer, Wm. McMaster, Thos. Gallaugher and John Ireland.

Many people have been on Mr. Gallaugher's farm to see his well and test the liquid flowing from it. Some of them came long distances. It has often been said by men acquainted with surface indications in Dufferin, that if there is oil, gas or coal in Melanethon or Mulmur, it is in the latter. This strike made by Mr. Gallaugher seems to bear out that contention. — Alliston Herald.

ENDED LIFE

Body of an East Garafraxa Farmer Found on Highway Near His Home

On Tuesday a Jew dealer in small farm produce found the dead body of a man on a sideroad between the 10th and 11th lines of East Garafraxa. The remains were subsequently identified as those of John Redman, a farmer living on lot 9, on the 11th line. The contents of the pockets of his clothing included an eight ounce bottle of paris green mixed in thick liquid form, a bottle of Egyptian liniment, a small bottle of powdered strychnine and a book in which Redman had written a note, evidently a short time before taking the poison or immediately afterwards, in which he stated that he intended to end his life. The body was found on 10 sideroad and about a mile and a quarter from the unfortunate man's home.

Dr. Dale, of Belwood, who was first summoned to the scene of the appalling tragedy, apprised Dr. Rooney, of Orangeville, Coroner for the County of Dufferin, of the occurrence. Dr. Rooney drove out Tuesday night, viewed the remains, and after gathering whatever information he could decided that it was a clear case of suicide and that an inquest was not necessary.

Redmond was about 50 years of age and leaves a wife, one son and three daughters. He was an honest, industrious man and a good neighbor, but was given to worrying and despondent spells. On Sunday he lost a horse from sickness and the loss of the animal had upset him badly.

W. M. S. ELECTS OFFICERS

The election of officers took place at the May meeting of the Mono Mills Methodist W. M. S., held at the home of Mrs. George Crozier, on May 2nd, as follows:—President, Mrs. D. Dinnick; Vice-President, Mrs. W. Kee; Treasurer, Mrs. John Moon; Corresponding Sec'y., Mrs. T. McCandless; Recording Sec'y., Mrs. George Crozier; Watch Tower, Mrs. Albert Dowling, Mrs. Cecil Welwood. The Easter Thank-offering was also taken up and amounted to $10.75, with more to hear from. The June meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Cecil Welwood on the first Tuesday in June. A good program has been mapped out. The women are requested to attend.

BARON HAMLET
(2827) (6090) (12757)

Will be kept for service during the season of 1922 at the stables of the owner, lot 16, 2nd line, east, Caledon.

TERMS—$15.00 for a living colt, payable when colt is one week old. Sale of mare renders fee due and payable.

All accidents to mares at risk of their owners.

BARON HAMLET was bred by James Rigg, Highbanks, Kirkcudbright, Scotland, and imported by the Graham-Renfrew Co., Bedford Park, Ontario. Of his sire, Baron's Pride, nothing need be said, as it is well known that he was the best Clydesdale sire that ever lived.

BARON HAMLET'S dam, Banks Daisy, was sired by Hamlet (4433), gr. dam Fanny of Bombie (3104) by sir Colin (3188) by Samson (741). There is no better bred horse in Canada to-day. As a stock horse he is unsurpassed.

Foals in 1919 from Baron Hamlet sold as high as $150.00, at 10 months old. One of his colts foaled in 1920 won first prize at Caledon fall fair, beating the colt that won the first prize at the Dufferin County Show in Orangeville, and was sold the same day for $150.00, and was delivered at four and one half months old. Another of his colts, foaled in 1920, was sold at public auction for $155 at eight months and one half old.

Three of his colts foaled in 1921 won first, second and third prizes at Caledon fall fair in 1921. The winner of the second prize was sold at seven months old for $160.00. Three of his yearling colts also won first, second and third prizes at Caledon fall fair in 1921. These colts all won in heavy draft class.

BARON HAMLET was inspected on the 29th day of October, 1912, when he was Passed and Approved, Form I. He has also been Enrolled for the year 1922 in Form I. in accordance with Chap. 67, Statutes of Ontario, 2 George V.

—Proof of the pudding is in the eating thereof. Thousands praise Tanlac. So will you. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ont.

—Mrs. G. B. Hayes, Zina St., has been confined to her room for a week by illness. Her friends join in hoping for a speedy recovery.

—With last week's issue the Shelburne Free Press entered upon its forty-eighth year. Our cotem has an air of prosperity and is evidently enjoying a satisfactory measure of success. May its shadow never grow less.

—Mr. Geo. Allen is able to be down to his place of business again after his severe illness. George has had a hard taking up and is looking thin and pale, but hopes to regain his wonted health and vigor in a few weeks.

—St. Andrew's Church is electing four new elders this month. Ballots were distributed to the members last week and are to be filled in and placed in the collection plate next Sunday or the following Sabbath, May 21st.

—Dufferin County Council held a special meeting here on Monday to arrange a Good Roads programme for this year. We understand that the work mapped out for this summer calls for quite a heavy expenditure. Details were not available at time of going to press, but will appear in future issue.

—It is always safe to send a Dominion Express Money Order. Five Dollars costs three cents.

—Fire under James Brown, Mrs. Brown and family have all been laid up with a severe attack of the flu. As a consequence Mr. Brown has been unable to do any seeding on his farm and had to depend on the good offices of his neighbors for the regular farm chores. A host of friends sympathize with the family in their misfortune and wish all a speedy return. Mr. Brown has had a run of bad luck. Last spring he was laid up with pneumonia in the seeding season.

—If you feel tired, worn out nervous or all unstrung, take Tanlac. It will straighten you out. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ont.

—Miss Clara Annis, who has been in the hospital in Toronto for eleven weeks, has improved sufficiently to allow her to be brought home last Thursday. She is still improving although rather slowly and her recovery will likely take considerable time. Her case was considered well-nigh hopeless until blood transfusion was resorted to as a last chance. Two transfusions were made, the blood being taken from her father, Mr. A. E. Annis, in each instance. The immediate improvement in the patient's condition was very noticeable each time.

—Mono Centre Picnic on Victoria Day.

—Quite a number of the surrounding farmers have finished their seeding.

—Moth Bags to protect your Winter Furs and Clothing, only 10c and 15c each, on sale at Jeffers' Drug Store.

—Mr. J. D. Torrie is the latest addition to the ranks of Orangeville auto owners. It's a nobby looking McLaughlin Four.

—Tanlac overcomes rheumatism by toning up and invigorating the vital organs, thereby enabling them to eliminate poisons from the system. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville.

—The post office staff will have a chance to enjoy the Wednesday half-holidays this year. Ottawa has granted Postmaster Harshaw permission to close the office on Wednesday afternoons.

—Rev. (Capt.) F. C. Harper, pastor of Hillsburg and Bethel Presbyterian churches, has accepted a call to Kirkfield in the Presbytery of Lindsay. His removal will be regretted by his congregations and many friends in this district.

—Do not overlook Burns' Church Victoria Day Picnic in McCarston's Grove.

—Mr. John Grosskurth has sold his general store business at Waldemar to Mrs. E. McColeman, of Stayner, who began stock-taking last week. The business has been in the hands of the members of the Grosskurth family for the last twenty-five years. Mr. Grosskurth will take a few months' holidays before embarking in another business.

—John U. Tyson, a prominent citizen of Wiarton, died in Owen Sound Hospital on Sunday. Deceased, who was 48 years of age, had been a patient in the hospital for three months. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Tyson, who is very well-known in Orangeville, his wife and three sons. Deceased was a nephew of Mr. J. J. Kelly and Miss Kelly, of Owen Sound, formerly of this town.

—The safe way to send money by mail is by Dominion Express Money Orders.

—Owing to a sudden illness Mr. J. C. Reid the veteran County Clerk, was unable to attend the special meeting of the County Council on Monday and County Treasurer Wheelock acted as clerk pro tem. Mr. Reid has been Clerk since the organization of the county forty-one years ago and this is the first time he has missed a sitting of the council. This is surely an exceptional record. Mr. Reid's many friends trust that his indisposition will not be lengthy.

—Bert Symonds, a local taxi driver, collided with a buggy belonging to Jackson Holmes, a Mono farmer, a short distance east of the town a week ago Sunday night. The buggy was badly wrecked and one of the occupants, a young man named Freeland Lundy, suffered physical injuries. Lundy and his companion, George Speers, aver that Symonds was driving without lights. Lundy has laid a charge of negligence while in charge of a car. Symonds is out on $500 bail pending the trial before Magistrate Falconer on Wednesday, May 17th.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. R. Preston, of Toronto, are visiting at the latter's home here this week.

Mrs. W. J. Little, of Shelburne, has returned home after spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. A. S. Bremner, First St.

W. Bro. A. H. Skey, manager of the Bank of Hamilton here a few years ago, was in town with Dufferin Lodge on Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson and Mrs. J. C. Darraugh, of Alliston, motored to town on Tuesday and spent the day with friends here.

Miss M. Holmes and Miss Lewis attended the annual Convention of the Girls' Auxiliary of the Anglican Church held in Hamilton last week.

Mr. W. E. Smith and little son, Murray, of Toronto, visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, The Maples, over the week-end.

Mr. Arthur Torrie has completed his year's work at Queen's University and is spending a few holidays at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Torrie.

Mr. William Williams, one of the publishers of the Collingwood Bulletin, Mrs. Williams, their daughter, Miss Williams, Mrs. (Dr.) Irwin and son motored over from Collingwood on Saturday afternoon and spent a few hours calling on friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Algie, of Brampton, and Mrs. Wm. Dorrington, of Alton, left last Thursday on a two weeks motor trip through the Adirondacks. They will visit Mrs. Wm. Algie Sr. in Worcester, Mass., before returning.

Miss Clara Hulse is in Campbell's Cross to-night taking part in a concert in the Orange Hall under the auspices of Dixon's Methodist Church. Miss Olive Laird, of Norval, and Miss Annie and Mr. Alex. McMaster, formerly of Mono, are also contributing to the programme.

Dr. T. H. Henry went to Toronto on Monday night to attend the funeral of his niece, Miss Aileen Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Jackson, formerly of Orangeville. Miss Jackson, who was eighteen years of age, died in Grace Hospital on Sunday after a short illness from acute appendicitis. The funeral took place from the home of her parents to Prospect Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.

W. Bro. Robert Hewitt, of Toronto, one of the very old members of Harris Lodge, was an interested and deeply pleased visitor at the big Masonic function on Tuesday. W. Bro. Hewitt is always delighted to have an opportunity to revisit the old town and meet the friends and associates of bygone years.

Mr. J. S. Robertson, of Toronto, spent Tuesday with friends in town and remained over for the Masonic gathering on Tuesday night.

WITH GAS ASSURED

Great Excitement Aroused Over Drilling Deeper Wells in Caledon Mountains.

With most eminent authorities and experts in gas and oil predicting extraordinary possibilities for the Caledon Gas and probable Oil Fields at Inglewood, backing up these predictions by investments of their own, together with securing all the leaseable rights around the Dover Oil Company's 900 acres, in the vicinity; with the sinking of deeper wells for a larger commercial supply of natural gas rapidly progressing; with pipe line finances arranged for and franchises under negotiation, the excitement and interest, not only in the immediate vicinity of the wells, but in Orangeville, Brampton, Acton and Georgetown and intervening points, where immediate pipe lines are contemplated, is growing apace and those who formerly were dubious are awakening to the enormous possibilities at their very doors and are investing through the Securities Sales Service, Toronto, in Dover Oil Co. shares while still available at $1.00.

But larger financial interests, having at last got wind of these possibilities and having become interested, are angling for a big block of this attractive stock, believing that in this Caledon field lies a fortune of immense proportions, that the "little fellows" do not properly appreciate.

Just 1000 feet from No. 1 well at Inglewood, where a big supply (106,000 cub. ft. daily) of sweet natural gas—the finest in Canada, say experts—now exists, is where the first of the deeper wells is now going down the power for which drilling is furnished from, but a small portion of the No. 1 well supply, undoubted evidence of the existence of natural gas in paying quantities.

Hundreds of wells may be drilled in this natural basin, with seven or eight valleys leading into it and whose topograhpical formation leads all experts to state that here will be found a large body of gas and oil. It is impossible to state what vast fortunes may underlie the 900 acres of this basin, controlled by the Dover Oil Company, Limited, for where gas exists there must be oil in the vicinity and oil in quantity means fortunes.

Daily are prospective purchasers leaving Toronto, Hamilton, Orangeville and other local points to see for themselves what is going on, for this nearness to these great possibilities is a feature which distinguishes this Caledon field over other fields, thousands of miles away, rendering them practically inaccessible and necessitating implicit confidence in statements of vendors.

Within four or five weeks the drillers at No. 2 well state they should strike gas in large volume, when other wells will be immediately started and pipe lines laid to the nearer towns, only ten miles distant. Within fifteen miles radius of Inglewood well is a population of possible gas users that will make the commercial end of the undertaking immensely remunerative and of course enhance the values of shares of the Dover Oil Company very materially.

The nearness of these wells to even Toronto and Hamilton, only 38 miles, is likewise an attractive comparison in distance, when it is considered that Tilbury, Ont., gas is at present delivered 160 miles.

The Caledon gas field and probably oil, with its enormous possibilities at present, is certainly very attractive and the man or woman with money to invest should at least investigate it, considering its nearness.

MASONS FOREGATHER

Officers and Members of Dufferin Lodge, Toronto, Made Annual Visit to Orangeville on Tuesday Night.

The officers and members of Dufferin Masonic Lodge, Toronto, paid their annual visit to Harris Masonic Lodge on Tuesday night. The visitors, some eighty in number, came out from the city by special coach attached to the regular evening train, returning home by a special, which left here about 2.30 a.m. On their arrival they were met at the depot by the Citizens Band and a large delegation of the members of Harris Lodge, with enough cars to convey every person from the station to the lodge room. The lodge and ante rooms were crowded to the doors, the interest taken in the visit of the Toronto brethren having brought about one hundred members of the home lodge together for the meeting. After the Lodge had been opened in due form the officers of Dufferin Lodge gave a very impressive exemplification of the work of the Entered Apprentice degree, W. Bro. Dr. T. A. Carson, W. M. of Dufferin Lodge and a Past Master of Harris Lodge, occupying the Master's chair. The initiation of the candidate of the evening was followed by a most happy event indicative of the fine fraternal spirit existing between the two Lodges. This was in the nature of the presentation of a fine altar Bible by Dufferin Lodge to the home Lodge, which is the mother lodge of many of the visitors. The presentation was made in happy manner by Bro. Rev. J. R. Bell, chaplain of Dufferin Lodge. The beautiful gift was accepted for the recipients by Bro. Capt. T. H. Stewart, the chaplain of Harris Lodge, who in a few well-chosen words expressed hearty appreciation of the kindly action of the visitors and the splendid spirit that prompted the gift.

After closing the Lodge the members of the two Lodges and visiting brethren, numbering about two hundred, repaired to the schoolroom of St. Andrew's Church, where elaborate preparations had been made for the fourth degree. Here a sumptuous banquet was served in a satisfying manner and was followed by the customary programme of Masonic toasts, which were honored by speeches, songs and recitations appropriate to the festive occasion. W. Bro. E. Still, W. M. of Harris Lodge, officiated as toastmaster. W. Bro. Dr. Carson, W. M. of Dufferin Lodge, occupying the seat of honor at his right and R. W. Bro. R. Irvine, a former Grand Lodge officer and one of the oldest members of Harris Lodge, having the seat immediately to the left. Gathered round the head table was an imposing assemblage of Past Masters of the two lodges.

The opening toast "King and Craft" was honored in the heartiest fashion by the singing of a verse of the National Anthem. "The Grand Lodge of Canada," proposed by W. Bro. Still, was honored by R. W. Bro. Irvine in one of his characteristically bright and witty addresses. Rt. W. Bro. T. Barber, Past Grand Senior Warden, also responded to the toast in a neat speech and then delighted the large gathering so immensely with a song that he was perforce obliged to respond to a vociferous and persistent demand for an encore. "Dufferin Lodge," proposed by W. Bro. A. A. Hughson, of Harris Lodge, and honored with great enthusiasm by the members of the home Lodge, called forth bright and in some cases reminiscent responses from W. Bro. Dr. Carson, W. Bro. W. R. Scott, W. Bro. E. W. Barber, W. Bro. C. G. Anderson and W. Bro. S. Cruikshank, members of the visiting Lodge, W. Bro. J. W. Wansboro, a Past Master of Stanley Lodge, Toronto, W. Bro. J. O. Little, of Peel Lodge, W. Bro. T. F. Brown, of Lorne Lodge, Shelburne, and Bro. J. C. Richardson, of King Solomon Lodge, Toronto. "The Empire" was proposed by W. Bro. J. L. Island and responded to by W. Bros. C. R. McKeown and A. D. McKitrick, all members of Harris Lodge. "Harris Lodge," which met with a warm reception from the visitors, was proposed by Bro. Hugh R. Polson. W. Bro. E. H. Sproule, a Past Master of the Lodge, replied to the toast. The programme was varied in the happiest manner by music by Harris Lodge orchestra, numbers by the Dufferin Lodge Quartette, solos by W. Bro. T. Barber and Bro. Gearing and recitations by W. Bro. Scott and Bro. Dawson, all members of the visiting lodge. In every respect the night was one that will always have extremely pleasant recollections for every brother who was present. It was almost two o'clock in the morning when Dr. Price rose to propose the Junior Warden's toast, "Happy to meet—sorry to part—happy to meet again," and a few minutes later the gathering dispersed after once more singing God Save the King. Many of the members of the home lodge accompanied the visitors to the depot to see them off on their journey home.

Members of Harris Lodge are already planning to pay the return visit to Dufferin Lodge in early autumn. After the delightful time on Tuesday night, a splendid turnout is assured for the return visit and many of the local craftsmen have definitely resolved to take the trip even at this early date.

METHODISTS FAVORED, PRESBYTERIANS OPPOSED LOCAL UNION

The ballots given out some time ago to members of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches of Arthur were collected on Sunday last and the vote was counted on Monday evening. By a coincidence, the number of ballots returned in each church was the same, 172. The proposal carried by thirty in the Methodist Church and was defeated by twelve in St. Andrew's. Below we give the summary of the returns on the three questions voted upon.

Presbyterian—

Are you in favor of Union of the Methodist and Presbyterian congregations of Arthur? Yes—80. No—92.

Which is your choice of church to be used in the event of Union? Methodist—6. Presbyterian—146.

With the majority on the church to be used if contrary to your choice? Yes—84. No—86.

Methodist—

Are you in favor of Union of the Methodist and Presbyterian congregations of Arthur? Yes—100. No—70.

Which is your choice of church to be used in the event of Union? Methodist—160. Presbyterian—18.

Will you agree with the majority on the church to be used if contrary to your choice? Yes—85. No. 86.—Enterprise.

LOCAL AGENT—C. R. REID

Nature has dealt most beautifully with Canada in providing her with beautiful, extensive and varied playgrounds. Large areas, covered with virgin forest, interlaced with lakes, rivers and streams, have been set aside by the Government where the tourist, traveller and sportsman may find recreation and where game and fish are abundant and wild life roams unmolested.

Such is Nipigon Park, one of Ontario's great forest reserves. It has an area of 7,200 square miles. No national playground in Canada offers such scenery to rimmed and navigable lakes for these cold green waters of the north are alive with the finest of trout. Trout have been taken from these waters up to a record weight of 14½ pounds.

Orient Bay, three and a half hours run east of Port Arthur, on the Toronto-Winnipeg line of the Canadian National Railways, is the gateway to this fisherman's paradise. At Orient Bay, Nipigon Lodge—a rustic hunting and fishing lodge de luxe—is set among the pines and cedars. From here, all the Nipigon trips may be made either by motor-boat or canoe. Prince Arthur of Connaught, while touring Canada—and, later, the Prince of Wales—fished in these waters and caught their limit of Nipigon trout.

A trophy is awarded annually by the Canadian National Railways to the fisherman catching the largest Nipigon speckled trout. Last season twenty-five contenders secured fish weighing five pounds and over. The specimen that won the prize tipped the scale at seven pounds.

HISTORY OF FORKS OF THE CREDIT

It might be interesting to some of the readers of The Banner to learn something about the early days of Credit Forks. When the first settlers came in, it was the same old story of pioneer hardships. Like all the other pioneers, they had to chop down trees to build log houses for themselves. They had many encounters with wild animals especially bears and wolves.

A fairly well-to-do farmer might own a yoke of oxen, and he would assist his less fortunate neighbors with their logging. At that time most of the farmers went to "Muddy York" (Toronto) to get their wheat ground into flour. Very often they had to take the journey on foot. The writer's grandfather walked from the neighbourhood of Credit Forks to Toronto and purchased a sugar kettle which he carried home. He then made maple syrup and walked back to Toronto, carrying the sugar and paid for the kettle with the maple sugar.

Credit Forks received its name from the fact that the two branches of the Credit unite here, forming a fork.

Fifty years ago, there was only one house in Credit Forks. This was owned by a Mr. Price who operated a sawmill then just below what we know as Barbour's bridge. The present bridge is just above where the dam was. All the flats, where later were erected other houses, was then one huge tomato patch covering an area of about six acres.

It might be a surprise to some to know that there was once boating on the Credit. When the sawmill was run by Mr. Price, a bridge was being built across the river. Boats were used to ferry the people across. Mr. Miles Young was employed by Mr. Price and he operated the ferry boats.

A short distance up the river from Forks of Credit is a little burg called Brimstone Point. The first building in Brimstone was a shack, just back of Wm. Forbes' residence, owned by a Mr. Merry. The next house built in Brimstone was Ed. Murphy's house. A family by the name of Ray first lived in it. A peculiar thing about Mr. Ray was that he was born without finger nails, toe nails, eye lashes or teeth and did without them all his life.

About fifteen years later, the whole property was bought by the late K. C. Chisholm of Brampton. The railway had been built before this. The first station agent was Mr. Geo. Herbert. Mr. Chisholm opened up the quarries and kept the general store. Hundreds of men were employed in the quarries, and as a consequence more houses had to be erected to accommodate the increased population. The place grew until it contained thirty-three houses and twenty-three in Brimstone with three general stores in Forks of Credit and one in Brimstone.

Three large quarries were operated with many others on smaller scales. The stone was of excellent quality. The Parliament Buildings and City Hall in Toronto are samples of the products quarried in the Credit Forks quarries. The largest quarry was the one on what is known as the quarry hill. The chief difficulty was the road and river between the quarry and the railway track. This obstacle was overcome by building a double track down the hill across the road and river, and up the other hill to the railway. The stone was sent down in trucks. An engine was at the foot of the hill beside the old sawmill and it sent the load up the other hill to the track.

Later, the stone was sent across by a cable. The wire would be about eighty feet above the road, and its length would be about three hundred feet. A favourite pastime with some of the girls was riding across in the car. The car fell one time. Luckily, no one was in it, but that put a stop to the joy riding. At one time something went wrong with the car. It was half way across and refused to go any farther. A workman who was a good climber went across hand over hand, on the wire, and relieved the situation.

When so many families moved in, a school had to be built. The first teacher was Mr. Patrick Boyle. Old registers prove that there were over one hundred children enrolled. Three had to sit in some seats, and some sat on the platform. For some years, instead of the teachers ruling the pupils the pupils ruled the teachers. Things went from bad to worse until Mr. J. B. Jackson came. Then the tables were turned and the school became known as Jackson's Tannery. In those times, and in later years, not only was the school nicknamed, but the boys were known by some queer nicknames which stuck to them long after school days were over. There was Bill Bailey, Blucher Hodgson, Buff Barbour, Spud Murphy, Porky Hoskins and Push Bar Tyrrell.

For years, the Methodists held church and Sunday School in the school house. The Church of England held their services in the Workmen's Hall. Later, the Baptists held services in the school house. The Sunday School always held an entertainment at Christmas time and Credit Forks was famous far and wide for having the best concerts around. To accommodate the crowds in early times, tiers of seats were constructed for the children and the space at the back was filled with children until the last row almost touched the ceiling. Every available foot of space of the remainder was crowded with adults.

About twelve years ago, the quarries practically shut down. All the stone near the surface had been quarried. There is some good stone below, but there is so much limestone on top that it was decided that it would not pay to uncover the good stone. People gradually moved away. Few of the men who worked in the quarries remain. The population has decreased until now there are only nine or ten pupils attending school.

The chief attraction of Credit Forks now is its rugged scenery. Lying in the Credit valley, guarded by the mountains, it is one of the favorite haunts of the nature loving sportsman. There is not a place in Peel County to equal its magnificent scenery. It is most beautiful in the autumn when the trees are dressed in their rich colors.

Mrs. J. E. Bierwirth, of Carnduff, Sask, writes:—"My little boy cut off the end of his finger and it seemed a case for a doctor. However, I applied Zam-Buk to stop the pain and bleeding and it gave the child such relief that I continued the treatment. Using nothing but Zam-Buk, I dressed the finger each day, and the wound healed perfectly."

RUN OVER BY CAR

Five year old Owen Sound Boy had Remarkable Escape.

Last evening shortly after seven o'clock, the five-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Georgas narrowly escaped serious injury when he was run over, but not hurt by Mr. D. G. Davidson's car. Mr. Davidson was driving his car at a moderate rate of speed north along Second Avenue East. When he reached a point in front of the Savoy Theatre, the child ran out from the sidewalk in front of Mr. Blum's shop.

Mr. Davidson turned sharply to the right to avoid hitting the child when the little boy jumped back, right in the path of the car. He slipped and fell directly between the wheels, the car ran up on sidewalk and came to a halt when it struck a telephone pole. Mr. Davidson jumped out of the machine expecting to find the lad badly injured but contrary to expectations he jumped up and ran away. Mr. Davidson felt sure he had hurt the boy and was greatly relieved to see him crawl out from under the car, uninjured.

The left front fender of the car was badly crumpled up and the left headlight broken and bent back. The lower pane of the windshield was smashed. Mrs. Davidson who was riding in the front seat was slightly cut by the flying glass. Mr. Davidson thinks it is most fortunate that this was the only damage done.

The same boy was run over by another car about a year ago and had his thigh bone broken, and was in the hospital for many weeks. And the former accident had several points in similarity with the latter. He will probably learn by experience the danger of running out on the street.—Owen Sound Sun-Times

Mrs. David McCulloch, aged 72, Brockville, was stricken with apoplexy and died a short time before the funeral of her husband was to take place.

NEWS NOTES

W. G. Richardson, of Arthur, has received a unanimous call to the pastorate of Desoronto Presbyterian church.

Waterloo County Council has decided to adopt the county system of road building and maintenance. Heretofore the township system has been in force, but of recent years it has been found unsatisfactory in some respects.

Mrs. Donald McDonald of Sullivan, who fell a few days ago and broke a thigh bone, passed away last week as a result of the accident. Her maiden name was Ellen Brown and she was a sister of the late Dr. J. J. Brown, and Mrs. Foote of Owen Sound.

Robbers blew open the safe of the Barnesdale Winery overlooking the Canadian Henley course in St. Catharines, but were unable to get the bers, believed to be the same gang Safety Vault open. Last summer robblew the safe and carried of the safety vault with considerable money and some family jewellery.

The Memorial Committee in charge of the soldiers' monument, Durham, have let the contract to Corbett & Son, Mt. Forest, who will soon begin operations there. By waiting a year a splendid design has been secured for $3600, which last year would have cost about $1000 more. The statue is of bronze, and plinth, die and base, are beautiful granite.

Constable William Holloway, of the Guelph police force, died in the General Hospital there, as the result of being run down by a motor car, claimed to be going at an excessive rate of speed, of which he was trying to obtain the number. The driver Jack Cartledge, was arrested, charged with manslaughter, and admitted to bail of $6000.

Prof. F. E. Millen, of the Department of Agriculture, at the O. A. C., Guelph, and secretary of the Ontario Beekeepers' Association announces that within the next few weeks two carloads containing approximately 2,000 small colonies of Italion bees will arrive in Toronto from Mayhew City, Miss., for distribution among the beekeepers of the province.

The Sun-Times states that it is now certain that a bus line between Owen Sound and points to the south will be put in operation. The only thing which is delaying the matter is the fact that the Ontario Government franchise is not immediately available. The Owen Sound Garage Limited has written the Provincial Government to secure the franchise for the two routes. One of the routes is from Owen Sound to Mount Forest and return and the other is from Owen Sound to Tara to Port Elgin returning by way of Southampton.

A new provincial game sanctuary has been set aside by order-in-council, in the Township of Caledon, Peel County. This Peel game reserve, which comprises about 2,000 acres, is the fifth of such which has been marked off by the Government, the others being the Miner, in Essex County; the Eugenia, in Grey; the Peasemarshy, in Grey, and the Nopiming, on the banks of the Ottawa and Mississippi rivers. The Peel preserve has been designated at the requests of residents in that territory. The hunting, taking or killing of any game bird or animal, in or upon such preserve is now prohibited. It is not intended at the present time to stock the sanctuary with further game.

Mrs. Sherman Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lake, Michigan.—"About one year ago I suffered with irregularities and a weakness and at times was obliged to stay off my feet. I doctored with our family physician and he finally said he could not understand my case, so I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After I had taken the first bottle I could see that I was getting better. I took several bottles of the Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and I am entirely cured of my ailments. You may publish this letter if you wish."—Mrs. MARY SHERMAN, Route 2, Lake, Mich.

There is one fact women should consider and that is this. Women suffer from irregularities and various forms of weakness. They try this and that doctor, as well as different medicines. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, and Mrs. Sherman's experience is simply another case showing the merit of this well-known medicine.

If your family physician fails to help you and the same old troubles persist, why isn't it reasonable to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

New York Canadian Club Launches Membership Drive.

How many people in Canada know that the Canadian Club of New York is the greatest meeting place in the world for Canadians outside of Canada? How many appreciate what it means for Canada, now reaching out for world trade, to have such an institution located in the very heart of the world's greatest city, or realize what the Club is doing for the relief of Canadian war veterans in the United States and to further the cause of amicable relations between the English-speaking peoples?

The Club merits the support of every thinking Canadian, for it offers ample compensation in the matter of Club facilities. The convenience of its location, directly across the street from the Grand Central terminal, and its luxurious appointments (ocupying the entire parlor floor of the Hotel Belmont) are outstanding features of its present quarters. Among other advantages are a splendid luncheon and dining service, a number of comfortable sleeping rooms at moderate rates, dressing rooms with baths, private dining and conference rooms, a fine library, a large, warm and restful lounge, a ladies' dining room, boudoir and parlor, card and chess rooms, all within its own quarters.

When a membership of 2500 is reached it is proposed to have a building or club quarters second to none in New York City, which will be a monument to Canada and where every possible comfort, convenience and service will be available for Canadians visiting New York. The Club is at present conducting a drive for non-resident members in Canada and will be pleased to receive applications for membership accompanied by the usual references. A brochure containing illustrations showing interiors of some of the rooms will be sent upon application.

The dues are $30 per annum, payable half yearly, the initiation fee being suspended during the present drive for a membership of 2500.

Thomas D. Neelands, c-o Canadian Club of New York, Pershing Square and 42nd Street, is Chairman of the Committee directing the drive.

Home Mission forces have been a powerful factor in the Church's advance in Canada. The Presbyterian Board of Home Missions and Social Service in 1911 aided 904 fields; in 1921, 1,057. But in the intervening years it had helped to a self-supporting status 485 fields. These in turn have become a mighty asset in the building of the nation.

No Disappointments in Appointments

If You Use Long Distance

If you are a Salesman or a Buyer, why gamble valuable time and the cost of railroad fares that the party you wish to see will be in when you call on him?

The high cost of personal interviews is materially reduced and many more calls can be made per day if you make a definite appointment by Long Distance.

Avoiding disappointments by making appointments over Long Distance is one of the most profitable uses Salesmen can make of it. ALMY'S, a leading Montreal Department store, tell us their buyers always call up manufacturers before leaving town to call on them, to make sure their trip will not be in vain.

Station-to-Station rates reduce the cost of telephoning, and if you can telephone after 8.30 P.M.—to a man's home, perhaps — the evening rates are only about one-half the cost of day-time messages.

Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station

Spring is Here!

And with Spring comes house-cleaning. You will want to cleanse the walls as well as the floors of your rooms this Spring. The most sanitary—as well as the most pleasing—way to do this, is by re-papering.

April is the month of home renovation. Just as Nature now puts on her new robe, so, too, does the provident householder renovate the walls of each room, that is dilapidated, with a coating of fresh Wall Paper.

This Spring, in particular, we are anxious you should drop in and look over our New Stock of Patterns just received.

And, really, it is remarkably inexpensive. Let us suggest a scheme of decoration and quote you a price.

County Council Mapped Out Extensive Programme at Special Meeting Last Week.

Estimates of County Roads Committee Call for Expenditure of $154,037.

At the special meeting of the County Council held in the Court House here on Monday, May 8th, the County Roads Committee submitted a report, covering the proposed expenditure on the county roads system during the present year. The proposed expenditures total $154,-037, divided under the following headings:—Bridges and culverts, $29,644; corrugated iron culverts, $5,193; grading and hill cutting, $63,800; grants to urban municipalities, $7,000; maintenance and repairs, $43,600; machinery and tools, $1,000; general expenditure, $3,-600. This expenditure would make it necessary to raise $96,370.40 by levy, which would require a county rate of 9 3-4 mills. As last year's rate was 4 1-4 mills Council thought it would be better to issue debentures for the sum of $75,000, thereby spreading the expenditure over a period of ten years. A by-law providing for the issue of debentures will likely be put through at the June meeting of the Council.

The largest item in the estimates for expenditure on bridges and culverts is the sum of $15,000 for the purpose of rebuilding what is known as Duffy's bridge, opposite lot 14, 12th line, East Garafraxa.

The three urban municipalities of the county, Orangeville, Shelburne and Grand Valley, have substantial sums to their credit, representing unused monies to which they are entitled on good roads account. The three municipalities made application for additional grants for the purpose of assisting them to make permanent road improvements. By-laws were accordingly passed providing for the following grants:—Orangeville, $7,475 for the improvement of Broadway from John St. to Second St. by constructing a cement concrete or bituminous bound pavement; Shelburne, $2,475 for the improvement of Main St. from Victoria St. to Jelly St. by the construction of a waterbound macadam pavement; Grand Valley, $2,050 for the improvement of the second line road at the corner of Emma St. by the building of a culvert and other construction work. When the grants are expended they will earn the county the usual Government grants under the Act. The improvements specified by the County must be made under the supervision of the County Roads Superintendent and in accordance with the regulations of the Ontario Highways Act.

A by-law was passed guaranteeing $15,000 debentures issued by the township of East Garafraxa.

The following High School grants were voted:—Orangeville High School, $4320.08; Shelburne High School, $2760.93; Alliston High School $417.56; Dundalk High School, $838.15; Thornbury High School, $75.24.

In its report to Council the Roads Committee recommended that each road overseer should be provided with a drag and that the roads should be kept well dragged, especially early in the spring. When dragging is being done on any piece of road only one man and one team will be paid for.

Dufferin's share of the money expended on the Provincial Highway during 1921 amounts to $19,753.69. This represents 20 per cent of the total expenditure and will have to be provided out of the county levy this year.

The grants to the three urban municipalities already referred to is made up as follows:—

Orangeville—Former surplus, $4,-500; estimated 1922 levy, $2,975. Total, $7,475.

Shelburne—Former surplus, $1,-200; estimated 1922 levy, $1,275. Total, $2,475

Grand Valley—Former surplus, $1,300; estimated 1922 levy, $750. Total, $2,050.

It is estimated that these grants will earn the County about $4,800 in grants from the Ontario Government.

JOHN NORRIS, Treasurer, Town of Orangeville

Orangeville, May 1st, 1922.

MRS. WM. JOHNSTON

The death took place at her late residence, 236 Kennedy Avenue, Toronto, on Friday, May 5th, of Mrs. Louisa M. Johnston, beloved wife of William Johnston, formerly a member of the firm of A. & W. Johnston, one of Orangeville's leading business firms 25 years ago. The late Mrs. Johnston had not been enjoying good health for several years. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, interment taking place in the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Monday forenoon, May 8th.

HENRY ALLEN

On Friday, May 5th, while engaged fishing near his home, lot 13, 4th line, east, Mono, Mr. Henry Allen, an old and highly respected resident of that township, had a paralytic seizure and was found lying in an unconscious condition on the bank of the stream. He was removed to his home and Dr. Macleod, of Orangeville, was summoned to his aid. Everything possible was done to restore him, but unfortunately without avail. He lingered until Sunday, when he passed peacefully from earth. The late Mr. Allen was born in Mono 79 years ago and was a fine type of the sturdy, hard-working and courageous pioneers, who assayed the stupendous task of conquering the forest wilderness. He was a man, who possessed a kindly, genial nature and was highly thought of as a neighbor. He was always anxious to oblige if at all possible and was strictly honest and straightforward in his private and public dealings. A large circle of friends and neighbors mourn his departure and the consequent loss to the community in which his life was spent. He is survived by a widow, two sons, William, of Mono Centre, and Addison, at home, and four daughters, Mrs. Harry Simpson, of Orangeville, Mrs. Robert McKenna, Mrs. George Aikens and Mrs. Herbert Ewing, of Mono. There was a large attendance of neighbors and friends at the funeral, which was held to St. John's Church Cemetery, 7th line, Mono, on Wednesday afternoon, May 10th. Rev. D. G. Atkinson, of Mono Mills, was the officiating clergyman. The pallbearers were the sons and sons-in-law.

JUNIOR FARMERS' DANCE

The Orangeville Junior Farmers' Improvement Association held another of their delightful dances in the Opera House on Friday night last. The dance hall was artistically decorated with streamers, bunting and marigolds and looked very inviting indeed. Music of a high order was provided by the popular and widely known Ben Hokea orchestra. Shortly after midnight a dainty buffet luncheon was served. The patronesses of the affair were Mesdames Connell, (Dr.) Campbell, (Dr.) Macleod, Dorrance, Irvine, Hunter, Smith, Little and Dahl. Much of the credit for the success of the dance is of course due to the energetic committee of young men, who had charge, namely, Messrs. H. Bracken, Harold Ferns, Roy Hulse, E. Garvey, Norman Parks, President, and R. V. Young, Secretary.

PRESBYTERY MINUTES

The statistical report of the Presbytery of Orangeville was given by the Clerk, Rev. J. A. Matheson, at the meeting Tuesday, May 9th. Contributions to the budget in 1921 was $8508. The amount in 1920 was $9929. Contributions to benevolences outside the Presbyterian Church, $1096; value of Church property, $296,950. Only one congregation reported arrears of stipend. The amount was $70. The year before there were no arrears in any of the fifty preaching places in the Presbytery. Membership is 5203, of which 400 were received during the year. Number of Sunday School scholars 2839, an increase of 140 over the year before. Money raised for all purposes by congregations in 1921 was $79,751.

Dr. Lang, of Maple Valley, gave a very interesting account of the early history of Singhampton. Presbytery is endeavouring to obtain facts concerning all our congregations which should not be forgotten. What the pioneers have done to make the world better deserves recognition and, a place among the records of our churches.

Rev. J. McCartney, B. A., of Keldon, who is a commissioner to the Assembly, was appointed Presbytery's representative on the Assembly's Bills and Overtures Committee.

The following ministers of other churches are making application for acceptance by the General Assembly: Rev. Lei Yuk Tauen, of the Church of Christ in China; Rev. James Black, M. A., and Rev. A. Huntley, of the Baptist Church; Rev. W. H. Brokenshine, M. A., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, U. S. A.; Rev. H. C. Feast, of the Congregational Church, U. S. A.; and Revs. S. Hill, R. H. Williams, B. D., Dr. J. F. Cocks and Dr. J. L. Murray, of the Presbyterian Church, U .S. A.

Mr. Harper declined the call from the congregation of Kirkfield in the Presbytery of Lindsay. The call was unanimous and hearty and offered a salary of $1800 per annum with manse and glebe and holidays. Mr. Harper, however, has decided to remain with the people of Hillsburg and Bethel.

A good deal of the time of the Presbytery was occupied with the problems of the weak charges, with possible co-operation with Methodist Church, and with possible groupings of Presbyterian churches within the bounds. We have only four aid-receiving congregations, but it is felt that on account of the urgency of the demands that are made for religious ordinances in the newer parts of our country, our congregations in Old Ontario, both weak and strong, should be sympathetic towards every effort to conserve and augment the mission funds for the more needy places.

JAMS AND JELLIES

Wonderful New Method of Making in the Home.

The new method of making jams and jellies is rapidly replacing the old-time, wasteful, haphazard ways. This new scientific method results in perfect jams and jellies from all fruits—gives 50 per cent more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit—infinitely more delicious quality due to the retaining of all the original delicate flavor and color of the fruit which is ordinarily destroyed by long boiling, and a great saving of fuel and time because these modern-made jams and jellies require only one minute of boiling with all the guess work eliminated.

These results are revolutionary, of course, and they are attained by a scientific discovery, but that does not mean that they are difficult. On the contrary—they are being performed every day in the home with a fraction of the effort and skill required by the old highly wasteful methods. The new way is as easy as A. B. C. By following the simplest rules the most inexperienced housewife can produce perfect jams and jellies of quality unheard of in the home and impossible to attain by the old wasteful, laborious methods. One simply asks at the grocer's for Certo and then follows the directions. That is all.

What is Certo? It is pectin, and pectin is one of the elements Nature puts into fruits. It is pectin that makes jelly "jell." Science has found a way to concentrate the pectin from pure fruits so that it is available in handy liquid form. Certo is thus a pure fruit product absolutely free from preservative, or gelatine. It is as natural as the fruit itself and being a natural pure fruit product it makes wholesome jellies and jams.

If you boil fruit for half an hour or more you naturally boil away a good part of the delicate flavor and destroy the bright color. This color and flavor, so precious as quality factors, are conserved by the Certo process of boiling only one or two minutes, resulting in jams and jellies of superior quality to any ever made by the old-fashioned rule-of-thumb methods.

Certo, used along with the required amount of sugar, will make delicious jelly, with fruit juices you will get wonderful flavor and color undreamed of by the use of the old wasteful methods. You can use the juice of any fruits you like and make sparkling jelly with the natural color and the full richness of flavor of the fruit. You can also make jams with all fruits and the flavor will be fruit flavor, and not that concentrated sugar taste so noticeable in many homemade jams.

RHEUMATIC TREATMENT

This Trouble Can Only be Got Rid of by Enriching the Blood.

In no disease does the blood become thin so rapidly as in rheumatism. Not only does it become thin, but it is loaded with rheumatic poisons. Without proper treatment these poisons increase, the general health is undermined, the inflamed joints swell, and are very painful, and often the sufferer becomes crippled.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and enable it to cast out the rheumatic poisons with the natural secretions of the body, thus driving out the pains and benefitting the general health. Sound proof of these statements is offered by Mrs. George Stanley, Sparta, Ont., who says:—"For a number of years I was troubled with rheumatism, which at times was very painful. My general health was also affected, and I could scarcely drag myself around. I had been doctoring a good deal, but did not get any better, until one day my daughter brought me a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. By the time these were used I could notice a slight improvement, and I continued taking the pills until I had used about a dozen boxes, by which time I felt like a new person—and looked like one. I could do my work with ease, and have since enjoyed the best of health. I have since recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to several others who received the same benefit as myself."

The best time to begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the moment you feel the least bit out of sorts. The sooner you do so the sooner you will regain your old time energy. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BASEBALL NEWS

The Orangeville Baseball Club will play their first league game of the season on Wednesday, May 24th, on Idylwyld Park. Grand Valley will be their opponents and a good, fast game is expected. The teams will line up at 3.30 sharp. According to reports the local team is going along fine and the Manager claims they'll win the holiday game, although Grand Valley is reported to have a first-class team. However, there is no doubt that the spectators will be treated to a good game, no matter who wins. So roll up and get down to Idylwyld Park early. Admission to the game will be:—Adults, 25c; children, 15c. The ball team will stage a dance in the Opera House at 8.30 in the evening. It will be an informal affair with lots of music and fun. The music will be supplied by The Queen's Hotel Novelty Orchestra. Admission to the dance:—Gents, 50c; ladies, free.

Representatives of the Arthur, Elora, Grand Valley, Hillsburg and Orangeville baseball teams met at the Commercial Hotel, Arthur, on Friday last and drew up the following schedule for Group 4 of the North Wellington Baseball Association:—

May 24—Grand Valley at Orangeville.
May 31—Arthur at Grand Valley; Orangeville at Hillsburg.
June 7—Elora at Arthur; Hillsburg at Grand Valley.
June 14—Elora at Grand Valley; Hillsburg at Orangeville.
June 17—Orangeville at Elora.
June 21—Arthur at Hillsburg.
June 26—Grand Valley at Arthur.
July 1—Hillsburg at Elora.
July 5—Arthur at Orangeville; Grand Valley at Elora.
July 12—Orangeville at Arthur.
July 15—Elora at Hillsburg.
July 19—Orangeville at Grand Valley; Arthur at Elora.
July 26—Hillsburg at Arthur; Elora at Orangeville.
July 28—Grand Valley at Hillsburg.

Umpires:—Dr. McGregor and Wm. McKenna, Elora; Dr. Clarridge and Frank Sargeant, Grand Valley; Wm. Heppler and D. Gillies, Arthur; Alex. Walker and J. D. Torrie, Orangeville; D. Carmichael, Hillsburg.

The meeting decided to operate junior teams in Arthur, Elora, Grand Valley and Orangeville, the age limit to be 16 years. Arthur and Elora will play home and home games as will Orangeville and Grand Valley. The winners will then play off during July.

—Mono Mills Orange and True Blue Lodges will attend divine service in Mono Mills Methodist Church at 7 o'clock Sunday evening. Neighboring brethren invited.

IN MEMORIAM

WILSON—In loving memory of Mrs. Thomas Wilson, who departed this life May 19th, 1921.

Far and oft' our hearts do wander,
To a grave not so far away,
Where we laid our loving sister,
Just one year ago to-day.

Short and sudden was the call
To the one so dearly loved by all;
The blow was great, the shock severe,
We little thought her death so near.

The golden gates were open,
A gentle voice said, "Come;"
And with farewell words unspoken
She calmly entered home.

'Tis hard to break the tender cord,
When love has bound the heart;
'Tis hard, so hard to speak the word,
We must for a while part.

The world may change from year to year,
Our friends from day to day;
But never shall the one we love,
From our memory pass away.

Sadly missed by Husband, Sisters and Brothers.

DRANK CARBOLIC

Archie Nesbitt, Margaret St., Committed Suicide Monday Morning.

Archie Nesbitt, a laboring man about 60 years of age, committed suicide at his home on Margaret St. between nine and ten o'clock on Monday forenoon. The unfortunate man and his wife had not been getting along very well and it is said that Nesbitt did not sleep at home on the night preceding his death. His wife states that he came into the house shortly after nine o'clock, announced that he was going to kill himself and then produced a two ounce bottle of carbolic acid, which he poured into a cup and then swallowed. The woman avers that she remonstrated with her husband, but was unable to prevent him from carrying out his desperate purpose. She then alarmed the neighbors and telephoned a doctor. After taking the poison Nesbitt made his way to a lane near the house where he was afterwards found in a semi-conscious condition and suffering great agony. Drs. Kyles and Rooney, who arrived shortly afterwards, found that the man was dying. He lived until shortly after 12 o'clock.

Nesbitt leaves a wife and family of seven, four of whom are under twelve years of age. The youngest is an infant a little over one month old. Deceased and his family moved to Orangeville from Erin some five or six years ago. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon, the remains being interred in Erin Cemetery.

Dr. R. W. Rooney, Coroner, upon becoming acquainted with the circumstances, took immediate steps to hold an inquest. A jury was at once empanelled and after the Coroner and jurors had visited the scene of the sad occurrence and viewed the remains the enquiry was adjourned until last night at 7.30 in the Public Library Auditorium.

A number of unpleasant rumors are afloat respecting the suicide and it is expected that the inquest will serve to bring out the real facts. It is said for instance that a young man has been hanging about the Nesbitt domicile and that his presence had contributed to the trouble between the dead man and his wife. When the doctor arrived at the Nesbitt home after the suicide he found a couple of the inmates seated outside the front door apparently quite indifferent to the fate of the dying man. When he attempted to enter the house the doctor was told that he would find Nesbitt over in the lane. The circumstance indicates a degree of callousness almost beyond belief.

The members of the jury who heard the evidence last night were Jas. A. Patterson, S. H. Rutledge, J. J. Laverty, Joshua Reid, Geo. Fleming, Wm. Hughes, R. B. Henry, foreman, and J. A. McMillan.

CALEDON

Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Graham, 2nd con., east, Caledon, celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary on Monday evening, May 8th, when many of their friends gathered from Toronto, Palgrave, Erin and Rockside to congratulate them and participate in the merrymaking appropriate to the happy occasion. The dance was opened by the happy couple and brothers of both parties in a lively cotillion. Music for this was furnished by the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Graham and his friends. After lunch there were songs and music followed by dancing, which was continued until daylight. Numerous and beautiful were the hand-painted china gifts, which will be treasured as mementoes of the happy anniversary.

The Ladies' Aid of Knox Church, Caledon, will hold a Lawn Social at the home of Mrs. C. I. Glassford, Centre Road, on Tuesday evening, June 6th. See bills for particulars.

The Union Young People's Society held one of their most interesting and amusing meetings on Tuesday evening last when a mock trial was put on as a social event. Mr. Homer Hillyard, who had been asked to preside as Judge for the occasion, took the bench and opened Court with the dignity and composure of Justice Riddell. Mr. Douglas Pattullo was plaintiff in an action to recover $1,000 damages from Mr. John McDuff for injuries sustained in a supposed automobile accident in Caledon on April 29th last. Mr. Pattullo, under the advice and coaching of Jas. Hillyard and Will Dodds, made an excellent witness and gave very strong testimony in his own behalf. During this examination His Honor had his hands full to preserve the usual silence of the court room. Mr. E. E. Stubbs and Clifford Bowes ably defended their client against the charge and after listening to the evidence and the addresses of counsel for both sides the jury did not allow any damages to Mr. Pattullo, but requested His Honor to deliver a very severe cautioning to the defendant. The case created a great deal of interest and provided a very enjoyable evening.

Mothers' Day was very suitably observed in the Methodist Church here on Sunday. Rev. (Capt.) J. F. G. Morris delivered a very appropriate, thoughtful and helpful sermon from Proverbs 31:28. Miss Lillian Coleman sang very sweetly "Tell Mother I'll Be There," and Mr. Bert Clarke, in his usual capable manner, rendered the solo, "Our Mother's Way."

Caledon lacrosse enthusiasts have decided to put a team in the field this summer and will be in the North Peel District. We wish them success.

The Union Young People's Society have engaged the Laurel Dramatic Club to put on their very interesting Play, "Star Bright," in the Town Hall here on the evening of May 24th. Everybody come.

MARSVILLE

Mr. Dan Hawa, a well known citizen and ex-Reeve of East Garafraxa, has again been subjected to a severe affliction. One of his eyes has for some time caused him severe suffering. On Tuesday of last week Dr. Dales, of Fergus, and Dr. Gibson, of Hillsburg, removed the optic. Very few have been called upon to bear such affliction as has fallen to Mr. Haws' lot. During the past five years he has at times suffered untold agony. His two feet have been amputated and now his eye has been removed. During these trying ordeals he has borne it all with cheerfulness and has ever evinced heroic fortitude and undaunted courage. The sincere sympathy of the residents of East Garafraxa goes with him in these trying times.

The recent death of Mr. John H. Redman has cast a gloom over this community. The deceased was the oldest son of Mr. John Redman and was born on lot 9 on the 11th line, East Garafraxa, on which farm he has lived nearly all his life. He was in his 52nd year. The funeral took place on Thursday to Price's Cemetery and was largely attended. The services at the house and church were conducted by the Rev. F. C. Harper. The members of the L. O. L. turned out in large numbers and performed their impressive service at the grave. The Rev. Bro. Truax and Rev. Bro. Harper took charge of this part of the service. Besides his wife he leaves one son, Norman, and three daughters, Evelyn, Mary and Ethel. His brothers are Orton, and Francis, of the 11th line, and William, in the West. Mrs. Jas. McGowan is the only sister.

The Marsville Branch of the Women's Institute held its annual business meeting on Wednesday, May 1st, at the home of Mrs. B. Boggs. The Secretary's report was read and showed that the society is continuing to do good work. A considerable sum has been given to various charitable institutions. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—President, Mrs. Wm. Donaldson; Vice-Pres., Mrs. Leslie Wooder; Sec.-Treas., Mrs. S. Price; Organist, Miss Mercidise Boggs.

BAFFIN LAND

MISSIONARY WRITES FROM THE FAR NORTH.

Ice-bergs Encountered Off Labrador Coast in Mid-summer.

Rev. D. G. Atkinson rector of Mono East Parish, has been kind enough to give The Banner permission to publish a number of letters written to him by his brother, Rev. Blevin Atkinson, a missionary stationed at Lake Harbour, Baffin Land. Our readers will find the letters well-written and full of interest. They also contain much information concerning conditions and the conditions under which men live and labor in the far north. As an introduction to the letters, which will be continued from week to week, we reproduce a sketch of the writer taken from the Erin Advocate:

It is evident that he is following closely in the footsteps of his brother. For some years he was engaged as a teacher and itinerant evangelist on the work of the Irish Church Missions in Ireland. By beginning in Jerusalem in his own country he gained great experience, and to-day knows a good deal of what Ireland's trouble means. Human politics are absolutely powerless to quell the trouble in Ireland and none but God can assuage. He travelled extensively throughout Ireland and had an opportunity of meeting problems and conditions as they are. In 1920, just before the dawn of the New Year, he landed in Toronto, and entered Wycliffe College. Soon he was a great favorite with his classmates, and in the few months which extended to the end of the term, he performed the remarkable feat of passing his examinations for the whole year with honors. His few months of the first year in college won for him many friends, and they were influenced by his homely wit and personality. The first summer, 1921, saw him on the train bound for the great prairie. At Caron and Morlach, in Saskatchewan, he did splendid work, where he had charge of three churches, and in the fall of 1921 returned to Toronto, after having a most successful mission in the West. Again he took up the cudgels of study, and this year he has reached Convocation, with six honor subjects to his credit. This is certainly a remarkable feat in academic work.

A call was sent out from Baffin's Land for two missionaries. This call was sent to all the Church of England colleges in Canada, and Rev. Blevin Atkinson was one of the first to offer himself for this lonely outpost of our Empire. Out of twelve students he and Mr. Lackey, of Wycliffe College, were chosen, and were duly passed by the medical board. His knowledge of human nature, his breadth of vision, his courage and his indomitable faith, and his wonderful missionary spirit carries himself and his companion away to the far northern dog trails, to help to educate the Esquimos who sit in the darkness and in the shadow of death. Both were very keen for the big venture, and on July 1st they set sail from Montreal, which begins the three-thousand-mile trek to the frozen wilderness of the north. They go in for three years, the first year will be spent at Lake Harbour in getting a knowledge of the language. The second year they begin their journey into the unknown. They will trek from west to east and will endeavor to cross the entire island, with Blackhead Island on the east as their objective. If all goes well, undoubtedly invaluable information will be brought out from the interior, concerning parts where white men have never yet trodden. Last Sunday Mr. Lackey and Mr. Atkinson were ordained by Right Rev. Bishop Stringer at Wycliffe College, Toronto, and a most impressive service was appreciated by the large congregation present.

Rev. Blevin Atkinson has taken our services at Erin during vacation time, and we have all appreciated his work. Like his brother, he is an out and out Ulsterman, and an Orangeman of the first water, and has addressed the brethren on special occasions.

Last Sunday he preached to a large congregation on "The Call to the Great Northland." His address was enjoyed by all present.

The Advocate gladly joins hands with his many friends here, and we extend to him our heart-felt feelings that he will have good luck on his adventure throughout the lonely north and have the blessing of God all along the way. We all look expectantly, hopefully forward, and live in anticipation of a prosperous journey and we wish him good health.

The letters began with the following account of the voyage north written at Lake Harbour, Baffin Land, on August 1st, 1921:—

Numerous letters have been received by the Rev. David G. Atkinson from his brother, Rev. Blevin Atkinson, who is stationed at Lake Harbour, Baffin Land. Personal matter has been eliminated and the remaining information has been revised and placed in diary form. We are confident that our readers will be interested in the first hand knowledge coming as it does from the most northerly mission station in the British Empire. It is our intention to publish the account week by week until the entire letters are finished. The last date of writing was on November 12th.

The following account of the voyage was written at Lake Harbour, Baffin Land, on August 1st, 1921:

"The good ship Daychimo left the City of Montreal at 9.30 a.m. on Saturday morning in beautiful weather. Scarcely a riple could be seen on the great St. Lawrence River, and the sun shone out in all its glory. The cruise down the great river was an ideal one, and the sun being extremely hot, we sought out the shady places on deck. At 10 p.m. we passed beneath the wonderful viaduct at Quebec. This bridge has a mighty span and is a piece of splendid engineering skill. The lights of the old Canadian city gleamed and twinkled as we glided past the historic heights of Abraham. At this point we dropped the pilot, who had taken the wheel of the ship thus far from Montreal, and we took on another pilot to guide us down the remaining part of the river journey. Just a little farther on, the magnificent passenger liner S. S. "Megantic," passed us, outward bound for Liverpool, also the S. S. "Bolinbrook." On Sunday we spent a peaceful day and my companion, Rev. Mr. Lackey, and I, had a little service on board. The inward bound liners, S. S. "Saturnia," S. S. "Victorian," and the S. S. "Scandinavian," all passed rushing for Quebec. We saw a wrecked steamship which had been piled up on the rocks for some time. It certainly was a forlorn looking sight. We dropped our last pilot at Father Point and to me it seemed like the breaking of the last link of civilization, to see him speed away in the little tug boat. We cruised along at close to the southern shore all day, the northern shore being completely obliterated. The sun went down like a ball of fire and we saw the great King of day sinking down behind the clouds of the western sky and leaving behind the trimmings of the most exquisite colors, golden crimson, orange and purple, gradually fading into sombre and grey. It was a truly magnificent sight.

On Monday morning there was no land in sight and it was ten-thirty when we raised Anticosti Island. The sky was heavily clouded and the river was just like glass. In the afternoon the sun got hidden behind great banks of cloud and it got a little chilly, then rain came down in a drenching downpour, the wind arose and soon it was a hurricane, and that night the good ship rolled in great style and we had our first experience of "mal de mere." On Tuesday the wind had abated just a little, but it rained heavily all day, and towards the evening fog came on, and our speed was slackened, and we went sailing along to the sound of the ship's siren. There loomed up out of the fog the S. S. "Carrigan," which was bound for Montreal. It was the last steamship I saw and strangely enough it is, that it should be one that is so well known in our home city of Belfast. We received a wireless message from the ice-breaker, the S. S. "Nascopie," which had left Montreal seven days ahead of us. In the wireless message they informed us that there was very heavy pack ice meeting us not very far away. It behooved the good ship to proceed gently, as the S. S. "Baychimo" is not an ice-breaker like her sister ship, the S. S. "Nascopie." On Wednesday we cruised along the coast of Newfoundland, a land that would remind one of the western prairies for its flatness, nothing to break the great flat plateau only a few wooden fishing huts. At 11 a.m. we passed through the Belle Isle Straits. This one might suitably be called the Gibraltor of the St. Lawrence, as it a very high and rocky promontory facing out to the broad Atlantic Ocean. At one o'clock we passed Battle Harbor on the Labrador coast. Sometime later we had our first glimpse of huge icebergs. They look like great islands with white cliffs. The weather got bitterly cold and at 4 p.m. we entered our first ice-field, and it took us seven hours to pass through it. We saw five or six large black whales sporting themselves around the ship, and spouting the water higher than the mast. One of these monsters came within twenty feet. We were compelled to proceed slowly all night on account of the pack ice, which was becoming thicker and heavier, and making our progress more difficult. The captain decided to choose the wisest course of proceeding further out to sea, in order to avoid the ice pack as the wind had driven them into the shore. We had another wireless communication from the Labrador coast telling us that the ice was very heavy there. When we retired to our bunks we were 70 miles off the coast and still there was pack ice to the north of us. The following morning we were literally surrounded by huge ice-bergs. One of them, which I photographed, was nearly 150 feet high. Pity help the ship that would strike these monsters! Sometimes great pieces would break off with a crack like the booming of a cannon. A few hundred tons of ice would crash into the sea.

On Friday the wind changed to the north-west and we had an extraordinarily rough passage, the sea breaking over the vessel and the good ship rocked and rolled in the great cradle of the deep. As midnight approached the gale increased in intensity, and by the midnight hour was blowing a great hurricane. We were now over 300 miles due east of the Labrador coast.

On Saturday the storm abated and it was bitterly cold, with large icebergs in sight all day, but we were able to steam full speed ahead, as there was no pack ice. At nightfall it got very foggy and on the Sabbath day we were in its wet blanket all day. At one p.m. we had a very narrow escape of a crash, and only by a sudden reversal of the engines, was the good ship saved from a high ice-berg. We were just about fifty feet from it when the man on watch on the bows shouted, "danger ahead!" It was about two hundred feet long and a hundred feet high. Half an hour later we passed another on the port bow. At this point the engines were stopped, and we proceeded to drift all night.

At midday on Monday, the fog had lifted and we forged ahead at full speed making north-west and we were very soon in fields of ice again. Fog came down again upon us so thickly that we lay practically motionless in the ice all night.

At eleven a.m. on Tuesday morning the fog lifted, and the sun shone out, and revealed an exquisite picture of a sparkling and glittering world. Half an hour later there was a cry of "bear on the port side." and soon all hands were on deck. There was a rush for guns and ammunition, and Mr. Bear was about forty yards away swimming towards our ship. A volley of shots rang out and one of them got him somewhere as he immediately turned and headed for a large ice-flow. The ship was steered after him, and we rushed to the bows, some with rifles and I with my kodak. The bear mounted the flow and started for the other side of it. He was snarling and biting at his leg where a shot had struck him. At about the range of thirty yards, just as I was about to snap the bear on the run, the first mate dropped him as dead as a door nail. The vessel was stopped and some of the crew went over the side and roped the dead bear up, and by the aid of the remainder of the crew and the derrick, we hoisted him on board. He weighed nearly eight hundred pounds and had a beautiful white fur skin. I took some snaps of the interesting operations which followed. The mate of the ship got the skin and the meat was left aboard for the first Eskimos that we should meet. There were hundreds of seal and walrus all around us but none near enough to shoot. At four p. m. we sighted Cape Chidley, the most northerly point of Labrador. Later we raised the Button Islands, but were compelled to keep well out on account of the field ice. Turning northward again we soon were abreast of Resolution Island, which is at the mouth of the Frobisher Bay. Passing the island we entered the straits of Hudson Bay, and we heard we could put into Port Burwell by daylight, so we steered our course in the said direction. At 4.30 a.m. we were aroused out of slumberland by the booming of the ship's rockets. These were warning us that we were nearing the harbor and at 7 a.m. we drifted slowly through the cracked ice into a little bay and dropped anchor. Lackey and I were the first ashore in one of the little boats which the Eskimos came off to meet us in. We proceeded across the ice for about a half a mile and visited the Moravian Mission Station. Here we were kindly received by the missionaries in charge, Mr. and Mrs. Teuly. We roamed over the ice together and we visited many of the Eskimos in their tents. I may say that my first impression of the Eskimos may not sound very good. Oh! What a terrible stench when one goes near them. The blubber seemed to be rotten, yet they were simply gorging themselves with it; literally buried to the eyes in it. They seemed to keep this dead meat until it was almost ready to walk. I was certainly dizzy sometimes from the smell of them. The ship was discharging some cargo, so we had plenty of time to rove around. That night we stayed on board. The next day we paid a farewell visit to the mission, and we had prayer with Mr. and Mrs. Teuly. They were very sorry we could not stay longer and the tears streamed down their cheeks as we took our parting farewell. They don't meet white people very often, even on the south side of Hudson Straits. I would send out this message to the world: They are devoted servants of God and are doing a remarkable work among the Eskimos of northern Labrador. It was very stormy and the glass was registering twenty-one below zero, and ice was everywhere when we again put out to sea.

WHY JOHN HAMILL PRAISES DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

When He Found Them His Wife Found Relief. That's Why He Tells Sufferers to Use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Marietown, Sask., May 15th (Special)—Mr. John Hamill, a well known resident here, is a firm believer in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I speak on behalf on my wife," Mr. Hamill says, when asked the reason why. "She has been ailing for years. I had doctors attending her but she didn't seem to get any better.

"At last I found Dodd's Kidney Pills and my wife found relief. She kept taking them from time to time. Now she doesn't need the doctor.

"Also since childhood Mrs. Hamill has been a sufferer from constipation. She found relief from that in Diamond Dinner Pills."

Nine-tenths of the ills that dog the pathway of suffering women come from diseased kidneys. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make strong, healthy kidneys.

MRS. EDWARD MURPHY

Annie Rogers, daughter of Wm. Rogers, of Melancthon, and wife of Edward Murphy, died at her home, 529 Ave. E. South, Saskatoon, Sask., on May 6th, after a few days' illness from pneumonia. She leaves to mourn her loss her father, her husband and two small children, one a year old and the other a baby a few days old; also two brothers, Roy, in Saskatoon, and Benjamin, at Rocklyn, and two sisters, Mrs. J. L. Watson, of Saskatoon, and Mrs. R. S. Jackson, of Shelburne. The funeral took place in Saskatoon on May 9th. —Free Press.

MRS. HILLIARD MURPHY

Jane Ellen Watson, wife of Hilliard Murphy, of lot 4, P. W. R., Mulmur, died in Lord Dufferin Hospital, Orangeville, on May 5th. She had undergone a successful operation but complications set in later which resulted in her death. Deceased was married nearly two years ago and during that time had made many friends in the community where she resided. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Lemon, of Whitfield Church, of which deceased was a member, assisted by Revs. Thornley and Hartley, of Shelburne. There were many beautiful floral tributes, viz: Crescent, husband; spray, parents; broken wheel, brothers and sisters; sheaf, Mrs. R. Murphy; spray, Murphy family; spray, E. Murphy; spray, Mrs. N. Johnston and Mrs. J. Hobson, Toronto; wreath, Mr. T and Miss E. Kidney, Toronto; spray, Miss E. Torrance, Whitby; spray, Toronto Western Hospital; gates ajar, Whitfield Guild; spray, Miss Annie Halbert, Toronto; cross, U. F. O. Club, Whitfield. Besides the husband and infant son deceased is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. John Watson, Back Line, Melancthon; five sisters—Hazel and Alberta, Toronto; Mabel, Orillia; Pearl, Cleveland, Ohio; Blanche, at home; and two brothers—Allan, of Laurel, and Douglas, of Detroit, Mich. All the family were present at the funeral. The pallbearers were Allan and Douglas Watson, T. Ferguson, E. Leitch, H. Waller and W. Higgins. The funeral on Sunday afternoon was very largely attended in spite of the disagreeable weather. Interment took place at Shelburne Cemetery. A number of friends and relatives from a distance were present.—Economist.

Appetite Good, Gained 20 lbs.

Could Not Feel Better

From a nervous wreck this man was restored to health, strength and happiness.

He tells his own story in this letter.

Mr. Ralph A. Roberts, Loverna, Sask., writes:

"In 1917 I had lost all appetite, failed 25 pounds in weight, became very nervous and shaky and in fact given up all hope of recovery. For some time I had suffered from constipation, which kept getting worse, until I was fast becoming a total wreck. Doctors and their drugs were sending me to my grave at the age of 39.

"Then I read about people being restored by Dr. Chase's Medicines and after three months' use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I found that my bowels were restored to normal movement each day and the constipation was no more. I had a good appetite, had gained 20 pounds and could not feel better. I shall always be grateful for these benefits."

DEATH FOLLOWED FALL IN BOG

Young Indian of the Saugeen Reserve, Epileptic, Died Soon After Being Found.

The Port Elgin Times tells of the tragic death of Jacob Thompson, a 16-year-old Indian lad, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thompson, of French Bay, on the Saugeen Reserve, who was found on Thursday afternoon last mired in a bog hole at the rear of the Luke Kewaquom property, and died shortly after being removed from the slough. The young redskin, who was somewhat mentally deranged and was subject to epileptic fits, left his home about 11 a.m. Thursday, clad in shirt and pants only, and wandered off into the bush. His mother noticed him leave the house but thought he had only gone outside to get something. As he did not immediately return, however, and as no trace could be found of him about their own property, a search was instituted which resulted in the boy being found sometime during the afternoon by Jesse Root, stuck fast in a bog hole on the unsurveyed land back of Luke Kewaquom's. After some difficulty, Root succeeded in extracting the boy from the mire. As the lad was in a semi-conscious state when pulled out of the hole, Root went to seek assistance to carry him to his home, but, on his return, found the boy dead. When discovered in the bog hole, the boy had nothing but his shirt on, having removed his pants, it is surmised, to wade across the pond adjoining the bog hole. Whether death was caused by exposure and over-exertion in trying to extricate himself from the miry prison, or whether he passed away in one of his fits, is not known.

CADET INSPECTION

Inspecting Officer Comments in Flattering Terms on Work of Local School Corps.

A large number of citizens and friends of the pupils assembled on the High School campus on Wednesday afternoon, May 10th, to witness the Annual Inspection of the Orangeville High and Public School Cadet Corps. The inspection was made by Lt.-Col. S. J. Huggins, Inspecting Officer of the Cadet Corps in Military District No. 2. Under the capable and painstaking instruction of Principal E. Hackett, of the High School, and Capt. Alex. Firth, of the Public School, the two corps have become quite efficient in military and physical drill. Their smart and soldierly appearance when going through the various manoeuvres furnished convincing proof to all beholders of the value and physical benefit of cadet instruction in the schools of the Province. As an educational factor and an aid to order, discipline and bodily development it forms a valuable adjunct to the regular curriculum in our High and Public Schools.

The arrival of the Inspecting Officer promptly at 2 o'clock was followed very shortly by the inspection, the two Corps standing at attention throughout this rather trying ordeal. Following this came the "March Past" and then as the final act the two Corps were put through a series of movements, including physical drill exercise and extended order drill. At the conclusion of the Inspection the Corps formed in a hollow square and listened to short addresses by the Inspecting Officer and Col. J. A. V. Preston. Col. Huggins complimented the two Corps very highly on the excellent showing they had made. He said that he usually liked to find some flaw or fault, but confessed that he had found very little occasion for criticism in what he had witnessed during the afternoon. The addresses were followed by hearty cheers for the Inspecting Officer, the two Instructors and other officials.

Following the custom of former years the two Corps then paraded the principal streets of the town, headed by the Bugle Band. The boys made a brave showing and the parade was witnessed with interest and pride by hundreds of citizens.

Our report would be incomplete without a word of credit for the Bugle Band, which acquitted itself in praiseworthy manner under the leadership of Mr. Auric Aiken. A pleasing incident in connection with the Inspection was the presentation of prizes for neatness in appearance and dress to Will Black, Harold Henry, Harold Gray and Charlie Bethley, four members of the Public School Corps.

The following is a list of the names of the officers and members of the two Corps:—

HOSPITAL NOTES

Even the young boys can throw out the line in aid of the hospital. Stewart Bridgeman, a Mono Centre lad, gave the patients and nurses a rare treat last week by bringing in a basket of fine brook trout.

The neighboring Institutes are showing their customary interest in the welfare of the hospital. Whittington Institute has sent in a donation of $5.00 to the linen fund and we are indebted to the Mono Centre Institute for a very fine quilt.

The first rhubarb of the season came from Mrs. (Dr.) Kyles and Mrs. E. Simons. Mrs. McGrath, of the American Hotel, is responsible for a donation of fruit. Thanks.

The Laurel Methodist S. S. are showing faith by their works. Every ward in the hospital was brightened this week by flowers, the gift of this Sunday School.

BARON HAMLET

(2827) (6090) (12757)

Will be kept for service during the season of 1922 at the stables of the owner, lot 15, 2nd line, east, Caledon.

TERMS—$15.00 for a living colt, payable when colt is one week old. Sale of mare renders fee due and payable.

All accidents to mares at risk of their owners.

BARON HAMLET was bred by James Bigg, Highbanks, Kirkcudbright, Scotland, and imported by the Graham Renfrew Co., Bedford Park, Ontario. Of his sire, Baron's Pride, nothing need be said, as it is well known that he was the best Clydesdale sire that ever lived.

BARON HAMLET'S dam, Banks Daisy, was sired by Hamlet (4433), gr. dam Fanny of Bombie (3104) by sir Colin (3188) by Samson (741). There is no better bred horse in Canada to-day. As a stock horse he is unsurpassed.

Foals in 1919 from Baron Hamlet sold as high as $150.00, at 10 months old. One of his colts foaled in 1920 won first prize at Caledon fall fair, beating the colt that won the first prize at the Dufferin County Show in Orangeville, and was sold the same day for $150..00, and was delivered at four and one half months old. Another of his colts, foaled in 1920, was sold at public auction for $155 at eight months and one half old.

Three of his colts foaled in 1921 won first, second and third prizes at Caledon fall fair in 1921. The winner of the second prize was sold at seven months old for $160.00. Three of his yearling colts also won first, second and third prizes at Caledon fall fair in 1921. These colts all won in heavy draft class.

BARON HAMLET was inspected on the 29th day of October, 1912, when he was Passed and Approved, Form I. He has also been Enrolled for the year 1922 in Form I. in accordance with Chap. 67, Statutes of Ontario, 2 George V.

LOCAL NEWS.

—A wireless has been installed in the Bell Telephone Co.'s office on Broadway.

—Mr. Chas. Rennick, of Toronto, has sold his 50 acre farm, part of lot 1, con. A., East Garafraxa, to Mr. Wm. R. Lawson, of Orangeville. The sale price is $3,000 and Mr. Rennick takes Mr. Lawson's dwelling house on Margaret St. in part payment.

—His many friends will be pleased to learn that Mr. Frank Crowe, Zina St., is recovering after a severe attack of the flu. Mr. Crowe was doing nicely last week, but ventured out a little too soon and suffered a relapse, which proved more serious than his first illness.

—"It is one medicine that does all that's claimed for it." Thousands have said it about Tanlac and so will you if you try it. Sold by C. V. Jeffers, Orangeville, Ont.

—Mr J. E. Smith is making extensive alterations and improvements to his warerooms on Broadway. The office has been moved to the west part of the building and enlarged considerably. Better light and more room are two important advantages resulting from the change.

—Miss Lillian Thompson, the 14 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Thompson, of Amaranth Station, was operated on for appendicitis by Dr. G. I. Campbell, of Grand Valley, on Wednesday of last week. The operation was a success and the patient is making a rapid recovery.

—Moth Bags to protect your Winter Furs and Clothing, only 10c and 15c each, on sale at Jeffers' Drug Store.

—Clarence, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jenkins fell on the lawn while playing on Sunday and fractured one of his arms at the elbow. The break was an ugly one and fearing the possibility of a stiff arm the attending physician had the patient sent to a Toronto hospital for special treatment.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our gratitude and heartfelt thanks to our neighbors and the citizens generally for the great kindness and sympathy shown us since our bereavement through the sad death of the late James May.

John May. William May,
Mrs. James May and Family.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kentner and family are visiting relatives at Thornbury this week.

Mrs. Thos. Dawson visited Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Dawson, of Cookstown, over the week-end.

Mrs. Rutledge Wallace, of Alton, is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Robt. Lang, Grand Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bingham motored to Barrie on Saturday to visit Mr. Bingham's mother over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bell, of Hamilton, have been visiting the former's sisters, Mrs. N. Collins and Miss Lottie Bell.

Mrs. Donald Carmichael, of Mono Mills, has returned home after spending a month with friends at Rochester, N. Y.

Mrs. S. Wallace and Mrs. J. A. Raymond and babe, of Toronto, were the guests of Mrs. W. J. Mills, West Broadway, for a few days last week.

Mr. Clarence Mills, who has just completed the third year of his course in Electrical Engineering, visited his father, Mr. Albert Mills, last week.

Mrs. J. J. Magill and son, Mr. James Magill, of Brampton, spent the week-end with the former's daughter, Mrs. A. W. Dods, and Mr. Dods, West Broadway.

Mrs. Albert Walker, Zina St., and two little sons, Raymond and Grant, returned home this week after a visit of two weeks at Mrs. Walker's parental home in Deseronto.

Mr. Harry Firth visited his parents, Principal and Mrs. Alex. Firth, for a few days last week. Harry has taken a position in the city for the summer. We understand that he will play goal for the Mimico Intermediate O. A. L. A. team.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Matthews and little son, of Kerrobert, Sask., are visiting Mr. Matthews' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Matthews. "Chick," who has been living in the West for a number of years, is looking fine. Naturally he notices many changes in the old town since he left here back in 1912.

Mrs. D. Macpherson spent the last week in Toronto and will return home on Friday, with her son, Arthur, who has finished his first year's studies at the University and who intends to leave for the West next Monday to take charge of one of the mission fields of the Presbyterian Church in southern Saskatchewan for the summer months.

In the recently published results of the final examinations at Queen's University, the name of Allan Cameron, son of Mrs. James Cameron, West Broadway, appears in the list of successful candidates in Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering, as a result of which he has received the degree of Bachelor of Science.

MONO MILLS.

We note with pleasure some much needed repairs on two of our village streets. Mr. Alex. Murray had the contract and has proved himself quite an expert at road making.

Mr. Geo. Stork has laid a new cement walk in front of his home.

Mr. William McKinley is making some improvements to his verandah. Mr. J. C. Taylor is doing the work.

We are pleased to welcome Mr. Robert Lee and family to the village. Mr. Lee is engaged with Mr. J. C. Atkinson, our enterprising general merchant.

MONO S. S. CONVENTION

The annual convention of the Mono Township Sunday School Association will be held in St. Andrew's Church, Camilla, on Friday, May 26, afternoon and evening. Rev. T. A. Halpenny, General Superintendent of the Ontario Religious Education Council, will speak at both sessions. In the afternoon, Rev. Chas. Forth, Rosemont, will speak on "Evangelism in the Sabbath School" and at night Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, of Orangeville, will give an address on "Preparation of the Lesson." The musical programme at the evening session will include solos by Dr. Price and Mrs. R. E. Jackson. Reports of the various officers and departmental superintendents will be presented in the afternoon and the election of the new officers will take place at night. It is hoped that every Sunday School in the Township will be well represented.

AMARANTH S. S. CONVENTION

The Sunday Schools of the Township of Amaranth will hold their Annual Convention in the Presbyterian Church at Black's Corners on Wednesday, May 24th, afternoon and evening. The programme will include addresses by the Provincial Representative, an afternoon address on "The Five S.'s of the Class Room," by Rev. A. E. Owen, B. A., of Shelburne, and an evening address on "The Place of Religious Education in the Church" by Rev. F. A. Ellis. Reports by the Township President and the Secretary-Treasurer and five minute addresses by the Departmental Superintendents will form part of the afternoon programme. Officers for the incoming year will be elected and installed in the evening. All Sunday School Teachers, Officers and Workers are urged to attend.

CHILDHOOD AILMENTS

The ailments of childhood—constipation, indigestion, colic, colds, etc.—can be quickly banished through the use of Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative which instantly regulates the bowels and sweetens the stomach. they are guaranteed to contain no harmful drugs and can be given to the youngest baby with perfect safety. Concerning them Mrs. Alcide Lepage, Ste. Beatrix, Que., writes:—"Baby's Own Tablets were of great help to my baby. They regulated her bowels and stomach and made her plump and well." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

OUT OF SENIOR

Dufferins Decide to Play Intermediate Lacrosse This Year.

At a meeting of the players and officers of the Dufferin Lacrosse Club last Friday night it was decided by a unanimous vote to play in the intermediate O. A. L. A. series this year. Several factors contributed to the decision to drop out of the senior series. Fergus and Shelburne are both playing intermediate this season and this bars Blythe and Bert Brown, Cushing, Black and Dr. Zinn, who have figured on the Dufferins' line-up for the last two seasons. While the team that will represent the greenshirts this season has a speedy home division the defence has been weakened by the loss of Cushing and Densmore and it is doubtful if there is available material for a defence of senior calibre. The team could probably win its home games in the senior, but the officers did not think there was much chance of carrying off the group honors. Then a senior team is much more expensive to operate and it is doubtful if a losing team would draw the gates that The Dufferins have been accustomed to during last and the preceding season. The town has always been loyal to the greenshirts whether winning or losing, but since the advent of the auto much of their support has come from outside the town and to continue to draw this it is necessary to have a team strong enough to make a real fight for the group. The fact of The Dufferins playing intermediate does not necessarily mean that the Orangeville lacrosse public will be treated to inferior lacrosse this year. Some of the best lacrosse matches ever witnessed on the Idylwyld grounds were played when The Dufferins won the intermediate championship in 1920 and subsequently captured the O. A. L. A. championship by decisively defeating St. Simons, the senior champions. It is much better to have a winning team in the intermediate series than to go through the senior series with a losing twelve. In the intermediate The Dufferins will have a team in the field that should be the equal of any other intermediate team in the district.

As an intermediate team The Dufferins will be placed in District No. 7 with Fergus, Durham and Shelburne. The schedule has already been drawn for the season's games as follows:

May 31—Fergus at Shelburne.
June 7—Durham at Orangeville.
June 14—Shelburne at Durham; Fergus at Orangeville.
June 28—Durham at Fergus; Shelburne at Orangeville.
July 12—Orangeville at Shelburne.
July 20—Shelburne at Fergus.
July 26—Fergus at Durham.
Aug. 2—Orangeville at Fergus; Durham at Shelburne.
Aug. 9—Orangeville at Durham.

CHARLES WILSON

Death came rather suddenly on Saturday last, May 6th, to Richard Charles Wilson, of lot 28, Prince of Wales Road, Mono, after an illness of short duration. The deceased had been ill for three or four weeks with pleurisy but had recovered and was again regaining his usual health when he was suddenly stricken with neuralgia of the heart and passed away rather suddenly. The late Mr. Wilson was born at Bowmanville on Feb. 24th, 1849, and when quite young came to Mono township, settling with his parents on the Centre Road. After his marriage and up to three years ago he continued farming in that township. He then decided to try his fortune in the West and after spending a year there returned to the farm on which he died. This was about two years ago. The late Mr. Wilson was a hard worker, a good business man, and being possessed of a kindly heart, was ever interested in the welfare of his family, mostly all of whom have located in the West. Besides his widow he is survived by eight daughters: Mrs. Wm. Kindrew, Conquest, Alta.; Mrs. Jos. Lindsay, Taber, Alta.; Mrs. Gordon Lindsay, Donovan, Sask.; Mrs. Albert McDonald, Rosetown, Sask.; Mrs. Alf. Webb, Cottonwood, Sask.; Mrs. A. Glendenning, Rosetown, Sask.; and Misses Olive and Ethel Wilson, of Toronto, and two sons, Thos. Wilson and Wm. J. Wilson, Ardath, Sask. Mrs. T. G. Allen, of Stirling, Mich., is the only surviving sister. The funeral takes place on Thursday afternoon of this week to Shelburne cemetery. Service will be held in St. James' Church, Primrose, at two o'clock, to be conducted by the rector, Rev. W. H. Hartley. —Free Press.

MILITARY DRILL

MEMBER FOR DUFFERIN TOOK PART IN RECENT DEBATE IN COMMONS.

Believes That People of Canada Would Like to See Military Expenditure Cut Down to Minimum.

R. J. Woods, M. P. for Dufferin, spoke during the debate on the militia estimates in the House of Commons. The Hansard report reads:—

Mr. WOODS: I listened with interest to the discussion in connection with the military estimates. As has been stated by hon. gentlemen, we believe that the people of this country are tired of war, and we also believe that it is absolutely necessary to cut down the expenditure of this country to a minimum. We believe there is no expenditure of government that a great many hon. members of this House, as well as the people in the country, would rather see cut down to a minimum than the military expenditure. Reference has been made by hon. gentlemen to the fact of men giving their services without remuneration, or very little remuneration. That is one of the common things that go with war. We know that the boys, who went to France enlisted in the service, went over, and went into the trenches, suffered hardships and privations, and many of them laid down their lives. They went over there without the promise of any remuneration which would have any tendency to draw them in that direction. They received $1.10 per day, while foreigners in this country were making as high as eight and ten and twelve dollars a day working here. So that, so far as the remuneration of the officers and men was concerned, there is very little argument on that side of the question. As I view it, the annual drill is one item that the department might pare down as readily as any other, and yet practically lose nothing from a military point of view. I am not familiar with the annual drill, particularly of late years, but when I was a young man, many years ago, I took some part in the annual drill as a volunteer in the service, and I know that many of us young men went to annual drill to the camp at London. We rather took it as a little outing and a good time. We did not go for the money that was in it by any means, but we went there and rather enjoyed a little outing for a time. In my experience, and in the locality in which I live, the young men who enlisted and signed up for three years' annual drill, usually dropped out at the expiration of their three years' service. I do not know whether that was a general thing or not; but in my locality it was quite common and it was the case with myself. At that time the period of annual drill was two weeks, although at present I believe it is nine days in each of three years, and, so far as my experience went, the drill amounted to practically nothing as regards training for active service.

Another feature that I should like to mention in this connection is that, undoubtedly, quite a percentage of those men who enlist as volunteers, would, if they were called on active service, be found to be physically unfit, because there are boys who look fairly well, who will enlist for annual drill without undergoing medical examination, but who would be physically unfit to go on active service. Let me illustrate that in this way. I have two boys who both look equally vigorous and strong and who are apparently equally capable of becoming soldiers. One, who enlisted as a flyer, passed his examination and went through his training, physically strong and all right. The other one, who appeared to me, his father, to be equally strong and to look just as well as a soldier, was turned down as physically unfit when he offered himself for military service and was put under medical examination. The boy who was turned down as being physically unfit would have made an ideal volunteer to go out for annual drill. I am, therefore, convinced that a great number of the boys who sign up for annual drill would be found to be physically unfit to go on active service, and that the time and money spent in drilling them would be wasted.

Mr. VIEN: Does my hon. friend know that the regulation which is in force to determine who shall attend a camp of instruction is absolutely the same, as respects fitness, as the one in regard to who should enter the Canadian Expeditionary Force?

Mr. WOODS: I beg the hon. member's pardon. I did not know that; but I know that years ago, when I enlisted as a volunteer, I was put under no medical examination whatever, nor were any of the boys in the locality in which I lived.

Mr. VIEN: There has been a change since then.

Mr. WOODS: We were asked to enlist as volunteers, and we were enlisted whether we were physically fit or not. If we looked fairly well, we were enlisted and we served our three years as volunteers.

Mr. GRAHAM: That is not the case now.

Mr. WOODS: Another feature that I should like to mention is this: When the great war was in progress and everything looked as though we were up against it very hard, a draft was called up, I think in 1917, of boys from 19 to 23 years of age. Had the age limit of that draft been extended to 35, possibly some of them might have had former training as volunteers; but I cannot imagine that many boys between 19 and 23 years of age could have had any such previous military training.

I do not wish to take up the time of the House in discussing this question, but I should like to bring this further matter to the attention of the hon. members. It was stated by hon. gentlemen the other evening that the military spirit of the young men of this country would be smothered out or killed on account of the lack of annual drill. What was it that plunged this country and Europe into that terrible war, one of the worst, if not the worst, war that ever took place in modern history? Was it not that very thing, namely, the military spirit that was built up in Germany by training the boys and young men of that country to be soldiers? That military spirit, which existed in Germany, got such a grip on the people of that nation that they plunged the world into the great European war.

In my opinion, we want to build up good, straight, honest citizens in this country, to train them on Christian principles and not to instill in them the spirit of militarism in order that great armies may be established to go out and fight people of other countries. If the purpose of this appropriation is to build up a military spirit amongst the boys and young men of this country, I would oppose annual drill for that if for no other reason. That is all I am going to say on this question, but I am glad the minister has seen fit to cut down his estimates, especially as regards annual drill.

Mr. HOCKEN: Has the hon. member for Dufferin (Mr. Woods) any fear, or does he anticipate, that by this annual drill a militaristic spirit shall be produced in Canada equal to that which existed in Germany? Does he think there is any danger of that?

Mr. WOODS: Military drill was never carried on to the same extent in Canada as in Germany; but, possibly, if it was carried on to the same extent in Canada, it might have exactly the same result.

WHAT CAUSES SO MUCH SICKNESS

Constipation Responsible for 90% of Disease

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Corrects It

It is generally recognized among the medical profession that Constipation or Insufficient Action of The Bowels, produces more disease than any other one cause. Constipation is responsible for at least 90% of the disease in the world today—because Constipation is responsible for the Indigestion and Dyspepsia—the nervousness, Insomnia and Rheumatism—the Eczema and other skin troubles—the Headaches and Backaches.

Why is this?

As you know, it is the duty of the bowels to carry off the waste matter in the system. If the bowel muscles are weak or the liver inactive, then this waste matter remains in the body and poisons the blood. As a result, every organ in the body is poisoned by this waste.

"Fruit-a-tives" has been wonderfully successful in relieving Stomach Troubles, Nervous Troubles, Liver Troubles, Kidney Troubles, Skin Troubles and Blood Troubles, because "Fruit-a-tives" positively and emphatically relieves Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always relieve Constipation, even though the trouble has been chronic for ten, fifteen and twenty years. Thousands of grateful users proclaim "Fruit-a-tives" the greatest remedy for Constipation that the world has ever known.

Total number of families, 3,250; total number of children, 9,868.

Number of widows, 2,762.

Number of wives whose husbands are in asylum, 92.

Number of wives whose husbands are otherwise permanently and totally incapacitated, 249.

Number of foster mothers, 53.

Number of deserted wives (deserted five years or more), 94.

Number of beneficiaries, April 30, 1922, 3,250.

Amount expended during April, $115,457.

Number of beneficiaries in the city of Toronto, 645.

Number of beneficiaries in the county of York, 123.

According to the assessor's returns Durham has a population of 1622.

A very interesting find was made at the Gilson Park, near Eden Mills, the other day by William Pepler who was working there. A wonderfully preserved and perfect specimen of an Indian tomahawk was found. It was perfect in shape with a keen edge and is apparently worked out of stone of slaty texture.

The school board in Stayner has awarded contracts for a new school. The contract for general work was awarded to Messrs. McCarty, Thompson & Pickering, of Toronto, for heating to Mr. A. Watson, Stayner, and for plumbing to Mr. A. Moffatt, of Barrie, the total being $67,154.

After an all day hearing in Belleville Police Court, into the charge against George W. Woodward, of Toronto, for alleged breach of Ontario Temperance Act in having liquor aboard craft, 200 cases of whiskey being consigned for Mexico City from the distillery near Belleville, Magistrate Mason reserved judgment until May 25.

Mr. Bert Appleby, who was for some years a clerk in the store of R. W. Burrell & Son, Caledon East, but left nine years ago for Alberta to engage in farming, passed away on May 8th, the result of lung trouble following a severe attack of the flu. The deceased was about 37 years of age and was married two and one-half years ago to Letitia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Berney, of Caledon East, who, with an infant son, survive him.

An event unique in the Masonic history of Waterloo County was held at Kitchener recently by Grand River Lodge, when the presiding Worshipful Masters from each of the ten lodges of the county assembled at Grand River, occupying the chairs for exemplification of the sublime degree. Some two hundred Masons from all parts of the county sat down at the banquet which followed this work. There are over 1,400 Masons in Waterloo County.

Mr. Jos. Rutherford, Fergus, and his hired man were busily engaged hauling out manure. The tail-board would not go down and the hired man was forcing it down with a fork. Just then the little four and a half-year-old son of Mr. Rutherford came rushing from the barn, and most unfortunately ran his eye against one of the prongs of the fork, entirely destroying the sight of the eye. The men had not even seen the little chap around, so no one can be blamed for the accident which is very deeply regretted.

ARE YOU WASTING FUTURE CAPITAL?

Young man or young woman, have you ever figured just how soon it may happen that you will be obliged to take care of yourself, and how you will do it?

Do you know that your school years are the best years of your life in the sense of receiving so much that means capital to you in later years?

If a man should hold out a million dollars worth of bonds to you and say that the government presented these bonds to you for the asking, you would be mighty foolish if you did not ask forthwith.

Your education may be worth a million dollars to you if you make your own all the valuable information and fundamental principles which your teachers are paid and ready to impart.

You cannot afford to waste the moments because they do mean so much of future capital wasted.

It is not so much the exact information you acquire as it is the habit of careful, concentrated study that you form, the habit of thought and reasoning which you cultivate, which will be valuable to you in after life.

Are you accurate, are you definite or are you hasty in your information?

The only way to find out is to try to tell someone else the facts you are trying to put into your own mind.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

This statement has been duly vouched by comparing all entries with the books at the Chief Office and certified Returns from the Branches, and in my opinion is properly drawn up so as to exhibit a correct view of the condition of the Bank.

Cash and Securities have been checked at the Chief Office at 29th April, 1922, as well as at another time during the year, as required by Section 56 of the Bank Act.

I have obtained all the information and explanations required, and am of the opinion that the transactions of the Bank which have come under my notice have been within the powers of the Bank.

J. J. ROBSON, C.A., Auditor.

The President in his address said in part: "The earnings reached the sum of $360,694.22, an increase of about $5,000 over last year, a substantial return on our average paid-up capital; so that after paying a dividend of 8%, amounting to $98,618 it leaves us with a substantial amount with which to follow out our usual policy of writing down our assets in a conservative way.

Some of the salient features of this Report may be summarized to express more clearly the development made by the Bank during the year:

Earnings show an increase.
Assets, despite deflated conditions, remain practically unchanged.
Current loans show an increase.

Our total assets now reach the sum of $23,444,226.69. You will note that we hold $10,418,247 in Dominion and Provincial Government Securities and $1,384,993.50 in Municipal Bonds. I need not point out to you the stability of this class of security, but it must be a source of considerable comfort to you to know that our assets consist of such investments. Our total readily available assets are $15,660,448.79, or 90% of our deposits from the public and 79% of our total liability to the public. The proportion of our readily available assets to our total liabilities, including Capital and Reserve, is 60%. This shows an exceptionally strong position, and I need hardly say that it is in this strength and stability that lies the source of our development and increasing success.

PAVING BROADWAY

Broadway will probably be paved this summer from Second St. as far west as John St. corner. At the special meeting of the County Council held here a couple of weeks ago a grant of $7,475 was voted for the purpose of making this very important improvement. The work will be done by the county under the supervision of the county good roads superintendent. The county grant will be used to pave a strip 20 feet in width in the centre of the street. This is the width of pavement on which the province will pay a portion of the cost. Twenty feet would of course be a very narrow strip of pavement on a street as wide as Broadway and the town council is considering the advisability of authorizing the paving of an additional ten feet and defraying the cost either out of the general tax levy or by a frontage tax on the properties fronting on the improved part of the street. If this is done it would give thirty feet of pavement in the centre of the street, which would leave ample room for sewerage excavations and other necessary underground work between the pavement and the sidewalks. The street is about 71 feet in width between the sidewalks and is quite wide enough to carry a forty foot pavement and still leave ample room at the sides for sewer work. So far as the town is concerned the matter is for the present in the hands of a special committee composed of Reeve Gillespie and Deputy-Reeve Young, who have been deputed to interview the property owners and get their views on the frontage tax method of defraying the cost over and above the portion provided for by the county grant. The grant offers Orangeville an excellent opportunity of securing a badly needed improvement and we hope our Council, the business men directly interested and our citizens generally will see to it that the improvement is made as early as possible. A pavement would add much to the appearance of the street and the business part of the town. It would also make a connecting link in keeping with the Provincial Highway on both sides of the town.

GREATER TEA CONSUMPTION IN GREAT BRITAIN

The reduction of the English duty on tea by four pence a pound will undoubtedly result in greater consumption on the part of the public of Great Britain, which is now by far the largest tea consuming country in the world. This increased demand will tend to raise the present abnormally high market, and an increase in cost of teas throughout the world may be expected.

INQUEST CONCLUDED

Jury Finds That Archie Nesbitt Died From Self-Administered Poison.

"We find that deceased came to his death by poisoning, having purchased carbolic acid at a Broadway drug store and drinking the same. We are also of the opinion that he was driven to take his life by the action of another man being too intimate with his family."

This is the text of the verdict brought in by the jury empanelled by Coroner R. W. Rooney to enquire into the death of Archie Nesbitt, who ended his life on Monday forenoon of last week by taking carbolic acid at his home on Margaret St. The inquest was to have resumed in the auditorium of the Public Library at 7.30 o'clock Wednesday night. When the hour set for the enquiry arrived so many people were present that it was deemed advisable to adjourn to the Court House, where there was more accommodation available for those who desired to follow the proceedings. The Court Room was well filled with a keenly interested audience, when the Coroner opened proceedings promptly at 8 o'clock. County Crown Attorney J. L. Island was present in the interests of the Crown. It was midnight when the examination of witnesses came to a close. The jury was out nearly an hour and it was consequently one o'clock Thursday morning when the finding was presented.

High Constable Marshall, the first witness called, told the Court that Mrs. Nesbitt had called at his residence between 5 and 6 o'clock on the morning of May 10th and stated that she wanted to get a warrant for the arrest of her husband and Nightwatchman J. J. Still. She claimed that Nesbitt had brought the Nightwatchman down to her place the previous night to look for Sidney Irwin and that while attempting to enter the house Nesbitt had broken a window. Witness asked her if she remembered Squire Pattullo reproving her for backing Irwin around the house. Receiving an affirmative answer he asked, "Then why don't you keep him away?" Mrs. Nesbitt replied that she didn't bring Irwin there and was not going to order him away. Marshall retorted that if he ever went down and caught Irwin there he would take both of them to the lock-up. He advised Mrs. Nesbitt to keep the young man away from her place altogether and she went away from his house very angry at him.

Mrs. Nesbitt, who was the second witness called, told the jury that she was married to Nesbitt on November 6th, 1901. Caledon township, Mulmur, Rock Mills, Eugenia Falls, Alton and Erin were named as various places of abode since their marriage. From Erin they came to Orangeville four years ago last December. Trouble between witness and her husband began eighteen years ago, when her husband left her for a time. He left again last summer and went West, where he lived for two and a half months. After his return they lived together again save for a period of five weeks, while her husband was away at Shelburne endeavoring to collect some monies. On May 8th, following a visit from Mr. Tuck, Agent for the Children's Aid Society, they had signed papers of separation drawn up by Magistrate Pattullo. Under terms of agreement Nesbitt was to pay $30.00 a month toward the support of witness and her family and to provide two cows and her husband had discussed the matter of separation the previous autumn, but witness had declined to sign at that time. Mrs. Nesbitt stated that when the papers were signed Mr. Pattullo had advised her to keep Sidney Irawin away from her place. Irwin began to come to the house last January, or early in February. He continued to come regularly until last Sunday and Monday. Her husband objected to Irwin coming after the separation agreement was signed. This was the first time he had objected. Nesbitt said that Irwin was the cause of the separation. Witness denied that she had had any improper relations with Irwin. The latter had helped her sons to nurse her during her illness and had also helped to do the house work and baking. Irwin had stayed at the house on Saturday night and also on Sunday night before the death of her husband and had gone to bed with her son, Tommy. He was simply staying at the house with the boys. Mrs. Nesbitt said that Irwin was not paid for the work he did at the house because they did not have any money. She was under the impression, however, that he would have to be paid. He had gone on night duty at the Nesbitt residence last March and had continued to act in that capacity for a considerable time. For two weeks, during the illness of the witness, he had performed both day and night duty.

Mrs. Nesbitt told of her morning call on Constable Marshall. The night preceding the visit her husband had asked to be let into the house. She said that was not according to their agreement and refused to let him in. He then broke a front window and entered with Nightwatchman Still, afterwards searching the house for Irwin. Her husband came to the place again on Thursday evening prior to his death and wanted to stay. He said if he could not stay he would do away with himself. Witness told him he knew where his bed was. Her husband stayed in the house all night and slept in his own bed. He also stayed in the house on Friday night, but did not come home on Saturday night. He came home Sunday morning, while Irwin was in bed in the house. He remained until noon and then went away, but came back about six o'clock. Irwin was still there. The two men did not speak at the tea table. Later witness and her son, Tommy, went for a walk. When they came back her husband spoke of leaving, but wanted to sleep in the house until July. Nesbitt said he had the four of them where he could squeeze them. Her husband left between nine and ten o'clock. Irwin slept in the house that night. Nesbitt came back about nine o'clock on Monday morning and asked witness if she was going to have the separation agreement destroyed. Witness replied that he would first have to take back his accusation that she had been intimate with Irwin. He answered that he had seen Irwin and her in bed together on Tuesday night. Witness retorted that this was false. Finally her husband said he was going away and asked for a cup. Witness told him to take the granite cup, which he placed in his pocket, then kissed the baby good-bye and bade witness good-bye. Ten minutes later he returned and took a bottle from his pocket. He intimated that it contained poison. Witness exclaimed, "My God, don't take that," and tried to get the bottle, but did not succeed in doing so. She then ran out to call some person. On her way back she met her husband going out. He said he had taken the contents of the bottle. Witness then ran to Elspin's and 'phoned for Dr. Kyles. Meantime Tommy came home and she told him to see where his father had gone. Shortly afterwards Mrs. Delaney came in and told her he was lying at Gordon's stable. He was brought home and died about twelve o'clock, noon. Her husband was 55 years old. Irwin was at the house Monday morning, but left before the children went to school.

Christie McAulay, a clerk in Fairbairn's drug store, deposed that he knew Nesbitt by sight, but not by name. Nesbitt was in the store on Saturday afternoon and witness sold him a two ounce bottle of carbolic acid. He did not state what he wanted the poison for. Nesbitt did not sign the record book. McAulay recognized a bottle produced in Court as the one he had sold the deceased.

Nightwatchman J. J. Still testified that Nesbitt had hailed him one night about twelve o'clock and asked him to go down and arrest his wife. He said that Sidney Irwin was in the house and he could prove it. They found the doors and windows locked. Nesbitt asked witness to break open one of the doors, but he replied that he had no authority to do this. When they got in the house Nesbitt showed witness where he had seen Irwin sitting on the bed with his wife. Mrs. Nesbitt did not deny the allegation, but she and her husband had a very heated argument. Witness saw Nesbitt again on Saturday night and the latter told him that Irwin was in the house then. On Monday morning witness met Irwin at the station and told him that he had better keep away from Nesbitt's place. He replied that he did not give a d— he was going to stay there. Witness asked what folks would think of him for acting that way. The young man replied that his father had told him if he got into a scrape again he would have to get out of it as best he could.

Allan Hambly had seen Irwin running out of Nesbitt's back yard on the night of May 9th. Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt were having a racket at the time, because of the wife's refusal to let her husband in the house. Irwin left the house by the back door and ran up a back lane. Witness called to him and he stopped, but asked witness not to hold him, so that "they" would not get him. Irwin stated that Tom Nesbitt had come up and got him to go down to help with the work.

Ranee Overland saw Irwin running past Nesbitt's lawn and yelled at him. Irwin stopped and asked witness not to hold him, adding that the house was surrounded.

Geo. Collins, Dominion Express Co. Agent, told of a conversation with Nesbitt in the express office on Monday morning. Nesbitt told him he had walked from Honeywood on Sunday and got home about supper time. He had some supper in the house, but said that Sid Irwin, his son, Tom, and his wife put him out of the house later in the evening. Said he had no breakfast, but when witness offered him breakfast he declined the offer, explaining that he was too troubled to eat. Nesbitt told witness he was going back to the house and that they would not put him out again.

Mrs. Wm. Delaney told of seeing Nesbitt lying in a lane near his house on the morning of his death.

Hugh Nesbitt, the oldest son of the deceased, said his father objected to Irwin coming to the house, because he thought his mother and Irwin were too intimate. Irwin had been coming since January, but his father had not objected until about a week before his death. Irwin was present once when his father objected to his coming to the house. Irwin had spent Saturday night in the house and was there until ten o'clock Sunday night. Irwin helped to nurse his mother, wash, bake and do other household duties. His brother had asked him to help.

Sidney Irwin stated that he had visited the Nesbitt domicile quite frequently since last January. His first visit was on Sunday, when he had been invited to the home by one of the sons. He did not know Nesbitt objected to him visiting the house. They generally played cards at night. He had nursed Mrs. Nesbitt on several occasions and had mixed plasters for her according to the orders of the doctor. Nesbitt objected to his presence in the house when the boys were not at home. He was there all day on Tuesday, May 9th, alone with Mrs. Nesbitt. Nesbitt objected to his wife about witness being in the house with her at 10 o'clock at night. He had left the house rather hastily on Tuesday night. Went to Nesbitt's on Saturday night and was there all Sunday night. He did not do anything but nurse Mrs. Nesbitt and do other household duties while he was there. The other duties included baking and washing.

Dr. R. N. Kyles, the last witness called, testified that he was called to see Archie Nesbitt after nine o'clock on Monday morning and found him suffering from carbolic acid poisoning.

Crown Attorney Island and Coroner Rooney addressed the jury before the latter retired to consider their verdict. Both officers laid emphasis on the fact that another man had been in the company of Mrs. Nesbitt quite frequently prior to the death of her husband.

STILL A MYSTERY

No Tidings of Dan McKinnon, Missing Halton Farmer, Received From Any Source.

The sudden and mysterious disappearance of Dan McKinnon, the new owner of the Thomas Ryder farm on the third line, is as much a mystery to-day as it was on the sixth of April, when he dropped out of sight completely.

He has not been heard from at Glen Sandfield, his former home, and the home of Miss McRae, to whom he was to have been married on April 20th; nor at his brother's home in Glengarry; nor at Cochrane, where he had spent four years prior to coming to Acton.

A peculiar feature of the episode is the rather manifest indifference of the relatives of the disappeared man at his home in Glengarry. They have answered the letters of Mr. Gordon, of Churchill, with whom McKinnon was living temporarily, and his brother wrote that he would come up and look around after he got his seeding done. He has not come yet.

Letters from the family at Glengarry requested Mr. Gordon to take care of the stock of the missing man and to put in his crop. This has all been carefully attended to. Mr. Gordon and his brothers completed the sowing of fifteen acres of oats on Monday, and are now engaged in re-sowing a field of clover which was badly winter-killed.

Mr. Gordon is greatly concerned over the prolonged disappearance of his friend. For four years they were together. McKinnon lived with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon in New Ontario. They met at Cochrane when Mr. and Mrs. Gordon came west from New Brunswick, worked together and were loyal friends in the years spent in the new home.

Mr. Gordon came to Acton last year and bought the old Brock Swackhamer farm from Mr. Hugh Johnston, and during the winter McKinnon, who had been regularly corresponding with him after he left Cochrane, came to Acton to visit at Mr. Gordon's home here. While on this visit he found Mrs. Ryder's place was for sale and in March he bought it and paid $2,000 down on the purchase price. He then proceeded to stock the farm and furnish the house for his bride. Then on the fateful April 6th he dropped out of sight and all investigations by Mr. Gordon, Chief Cooney, citizens and neighbors and the provincial police department have been futile.—Acton Free Press.

HOT LUNCHES FOR PUPILS

Miss Grosskurth, teacher at the corner of the third line and No. 22 sideroad, has been managing hot lunches for her pupils in a highly satisfactory manner all winter and spring. With the aid of a four-burner coal oil stove and oven, not merely lunches, but substantial hot meals have been cooked, tomato soup forming one of the popular dishes. The preparation of the meals has been done by the children with slight supervision from the teacher. The boys have been as adept as the girls and something which never failed to light up the young faces with pride was the fact that many of the vegetables used in preparing the meals were from their own gardens. Tomatoes grown and canned by the boys and girls were used for the soup, and carrots, potatoes, onions and the like came from the same source. It is Miss Grosskurth's intention, if she remains in the school for another year, to come during the summer holidays and can beans and peas in preparation for next winter's meals. The entire section appreciates what Miss Grosskurth has been doing for the school, and above everything praises the spirit of co-operation which she has fostered in her scholars.—Brampton Conservator.

The teacher referred to, Miss Maude R. Grosskurth, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grosskurth, of Laurel.

THE MAPLES

At a special meeting of the Women's Institute on Wednesday afternoon, May 17th, Miss Edith Hopkins of Lindsay, gave an excellent address on the subject, "Some Things That Make Life Worth While." The address was greatly appreciated by the members. The programme included a couple of well-rendered solos by Miss C. G. Simpson, a duet by Misses Louise and Edith Simpson and a recitation by Mrs. Wm. Morrow.

The Institute is planning to hold its annual garden party on July 5th. Full particulars will be given in due time.

INGLEWOOD

At the annual meeting of the Inglewood Women's Institute the officers and members had the pleasure of reviewing a year of real beneficial community activity. The gift of recreation grounds to the village and the building on the grounds of a shelter is an accomplishment that will long stand to the credit of the Institute and serve as a monument to the disinterested public spirit of its members. The branch raised $165 during the year and contributed $25 to the school nurse fund of the county. The treasurer was in the happy position of being able to report a substantial balance in the treasury. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows:—Honorary President, Mrs. Edward Dodd and Mrs. Andrew Robinson; Secretary, Mrs. L. V. Kellam; Treasurer, Mrs. Chas. Trought; District Director, Mrs. T. H. Graham. The annual meeting was held at the home of Mrs. McEachern, who contributed a Paper to the programme. Mrs. Patterson recited a humorous poem.

EXCELLENT REPORT OF STERLING BANK

Profits Increased and Policy of Strengthening Position of the Bank Successfully Followed.

A very satisfactory result attended the operations of the Sterling Bank the past year, as indicated by the sixteenth annual statement presented to the shareholders to-day, covering the twelve months ended April 29th. As stressed by President Somers in his address to the shareholders, conditions during the year were by no means ideal from a banking point of view, but none the less the earnings showed a satisfactory increase, totalling $260,694, enabling the 8 per cent. dividend to be comfortably paid, enabling the substantial amount of $130,000 to be set aside for writing down of assets, providing for the usual tax payments and leaving finally a balance of profits of $38,035 to be carried forward.

The general position of the bank is shown as extremely satisfactory. Total assets now reach the sum of $23,444,227, of which $10,413,247 is in dominion and provincial government securities and $1,384,993 in municipal funds, almost as high grade a form of investment as could be devised. Total readily available assets amount to $15,660,449, equal to 90 per cent. of public deposits and 72 per cent. of the bank's total public liabilities, a very strong position indeed.

Both total current loans and deposits increased during the year, the former amounting to $7,053,386 and the latter to $17,353,098.

The reserve fund of the bank stands unchanged at $500,000.

"There is an old phrase," said President Somers in his address, "in one of the early books on economics: 'High interest rates and good security are not compatible.' It is quite apparent to all that we might have invested our assets in securities that might have been more profitable. Our policy, however, is one of safety, and to secure maximum safety one naturally cannot go beyond the field of moderate interest yield. This is the policy we will continue to pursue in order to maintain maximum protection.

"Following out our policy of sound development, the bank opened no new branches during this year, but confined its efforts entirely to the development of many new branches opened in new territories in recent years. These branches are all in prosperous agricultural districts, and while they have been open only a short time, the business they are handling is very steadily increasing.

"Our connection with the farming community has been profitable, and I believe the future for the farmer in this country is a bright one. During the past year he has had conditions to contend with that might seem discouraging. But sound business principles, a close application to every detail of his industry, will help to force conditions to better themselves.

"In so far as our institution is concerned, I have never been more confident of its future than I am to-day. Our shareholders have an investment which will undoubtedly continue to appreciate, and on which they can confidently rely for substantial returns. Our depositors, I know, have a maximum of safety behind their investments. The carefully planned policies from which your directors have never deviated are now bearing fruit, and I feel that we have established ourselves finally and definitely on the plane which we set out to reach."

NOTICE OF REGISTRATION OF BY-LAW

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a By-law was passed by the County Council of the Corporation of the County of Dufferin, on the 8th day of May, 1922, to guarantee debentures of the Corporation of the Township of East Garafraxa, issued or to be issued under By-law No. 256 of the Corporation of the Township of East Garafraxa, authorizing the borrowing of the sum of $15,000 upon debentures payable in ten equal annual installments, bearing interest at six per cent. per annum, for the purpose of constructing a bridge over the Grand River on the road between the eleventh and twelfth concessions, opposite lot number fifteen, in the Township of East Garafraxa, and that such By-law was registered in the Registry Office for the Registry Division of the County of Dufferin, on the twenty-third day of May, 1922.

ANY motion to quash or set aside the same, or any part thereof, must be made within three months after the first publication of this notice and cannot be made thereafter.

PALE, WEAK GIRLS AND DELICATE WOMEN

Can Find New Health by Enriching Their Blood Supply.

Nature intended every girl and every woman to be happy, active and healthy. Yet too many of them find their lives saddened by suffering—nearly always because their blood is to blame. All those unhappy girls and women with colorless cheeks, dull skins, and sunken lusterless eyes, are in this condition because they have not enough red blood in their veins to keep them well and in the charm of health. They suffer from depressing weariness and periodical headaches. Dark lines form under their eyes, their heart palpitates violently after the slightest exertion, and they are often attacked with fainting spells. These are only a few of the miseries of bloodlessness. When the blood becomes thin and watery it can be enriched through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and the troubles that come from poor blood disappear. In almost every neighborhood you will find some formerly ailing woman, or pale breathless girl who has a good word to say for this medicine. Among them there is Miss Laura Monaghan, Campbellton, P. E. I., who says:—"Before using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was in a badly run down condition. I was pale, thin and scarcely able to go about. The least exertion made my heart palpitate so violently that I actually was afraid one of those spells might carry me off. Often my nights were sleepless, and as the treatment I was taking did not help me I was almost in despair. Finally a friend advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and in the course of a few weeks after beginning this treatment there was a decided improvement in my condition. I continued using the pills, and am now enjoying good health. I am glad to give you my experience in the hope that some other sufferer may find the way to better health."

These pills are sold by all medicine dealers, or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PRESENTATIONS

On Friday night the members of St. Andrew's Church choir gave Mr. Arthur Macpherson, who has been one of its members for several years, a delightful surprise at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Macpherson. The surprise was in the nature of a presentation, Mr. Macpherson being made the recipient of a set of handsome ebony military brushes in a silver monogramed leather case. Mr. G. B. Hayes made an informal address and Miss Audrey McLean made the presentation. Mr. Macpherson replied briefly and in feeling terms. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in music and games, lunch being served before dispersing.

On Sunday Mr. Macpherson was again remembered, this time by the Young People's Society of St. Andrew's, of which he has been a valued member and also an officer. In behalf of the young people Mr. Murray McKitrick, President of the Society, presented Mr. Macpherson with a large Oxford Bible and a copy of the Presbyterian Book of Praise, both richly bound in leather. The presentation took place in the presence of a large audience in the Sunday School room at the close of the morning service. Mr. Macpherson replied briefly, expressing his gratitude for the remembrances, and the happiness and lasting benefits he had received through his connection with the Society.

Mr. Macpherson left town on Monday night for southern Saskatchewan, where he will have charge of a mission field for the summer months.

THE RISE OF ALTON

Sturdy Pioneer Stock Placed Peel Village on the Map of Ontario.

William McClelland and Edward Morris, the latter a Welshman, came to Alton in 1822, and settled on the third line west, of Caledon, and the former laid the foundations of the village, by erecting the first woollen mill, out of which grew the industries that have made Alton famous.

Following these two men, came Lawrence Lemon, and his son John, who in 1825, founded a home on the upper side of the river, and who have many representatives in the village to-day, the oldest being Peter V. Lemon, who entertained the Telegram and furnished many interesting facts about the village.

The river, teeming with beautiful trout, furnished food for the settlers, while game in abundance came from the surrounding hills. Salt was the great lack of the growing community, and had to be brought from a distance.

Within a few years, settlers were coming so thick and so fast, that, according to Mr. Lemon, those who had clearings dug their seed potatoes to feed the newcomers.

For a while the settlers carried their grist to Belfountain, or to Brown's mill at the Cataract, three miles away. But with such power as the Credit furnishes at this point, mills multiplied, and soon the village had two grist mills of its own.

The woollen mills were in the early days, and continue in the present, the leading industry of Alton. Mr. Lemon tells of flocks of sheep grazing on the hills which surround the village, whose wool was carded at the mills and taken by the farmers' wives to be spun at their homes.

Following William McClelland, the proprietors of the woollen mills were, in succession: Robert McClure, Robert Maw, and Emory Kennedy.

Forty-five years ago George Ward and his son-in-law, William Algie, who had been running the woollen mills at Inglewood, leasing them from David Graham, came to Alton. For over forty years, the name of Algie was synonymous with the word Alton, and not only as proprietor of the mills, but as a public-spirited citizen, did William Algie set his mark upon the place.

The public library at Claude is an enduring monument to the spirit of William Algie, for he was associated with the late John Smith, the late Dr. Charles Robinson and Rev. R. Douglas Fraser in canvassing for and securing one of the best libraries outside Toronto.

The well-known and eagerly anticipated "Drummers' Snack" is also an institution founded by Mr. Algie, for he invited the drummers to picnic with him, and said "We'll manage to find a snack for you, boys!" Hence the name.

Naturally sawmills were a requisite of a district so heavily wooded as Alton, and four of them existed at one time, John, son of William McClelland, Joseph and Thomas Wright, John Clark and Nicholas Smith being the operators.

Thomas Wright was a man of versatility for he kept store and ran a stave mill as well. The water required for this mill was piped down from the hills, clear as crystal and cold as ice. When the stave mill had ceased to be useful, the water was utilized by Peter Lemon on his farm.

James Conkrite ran a shingle mill, and there was a cooper shop, whose product was required for the two grist mills.

A story that is heard with smiles to-day, is that of Alton's six hotels. The proprietors were Robert and Alex. Erskine, whose hostel was out near the present C. P. R. station, John Meek and Archie Dick, whose houses were in the centre of the village. One, situated on the farther side of the river, was run by John Waldick, another farther up the river by George Brooks, and one near the old Toronto, Grey and Bruce station by George Nelson.

Tradition tells of stills in the swamps, fourteen supposedly being hidden at one time in the dark gorges which pierce the hills hereabout.

Now, Alton has but one hostel, the Palmer House, and so fine a reputation has this place that it is a disgruntled commercial traveller who has to miss a meal at the Palmer.—Evening Telegram.

THE MAPLES

The annual business meeting of The Maples Women's Institute was held in the Community Hall on Thursday afternoon, May 11th. Reports submitted to the meeting showed another successful year. Miss C. G. Simpson favored the ladies with a well-rendered vocal solo. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows:—President, Mrs. I. O. Reid; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. John Cornelius; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. S. H. Simpson; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Clara Hoare; Directors, Mrs. Wm. Carroll, Mrs. Jacob Hoare, Mrs. Wm. Morrow and Mrs. Nelson Black.

The Laurel Epworth Leaguers will give their sprightly and entertaining Play, "Star Bright," in the Community Hall on Friday evening, May 26th. Curtain will rise at 8 o'clock and there will be music before and between acts. Admission, 35c and 25c. This is a bright Play and as the Laurel actors are a clever lot of performers it should be well worth seeing and hearing.

THE K. OF C. HUT FUND

At last the Knights of Columbus have made a statement of their hut fund. It has not been widely published like that of the Y. M. C. A. owing to the expense involved. It shows that the total amount collected was $1,292,045.14. Of this sum only $212,157.16 is given as spent overseas. No information is given as to whether any of it was spent in France; nor is it indicated how much of the fund was paid out for the sending of representatives from Canada to do what was done in England or elsewhere. The expenses of the campaign are given at $70,133.14. No statement is given of the sum spent in prayer-books, rosaries, and other aids to devotion. That, presumably, is covered under the heading, charity. There is a tidy balance of $59,050.64.

Apparently there is a discrepancy in the figures, which show that $1,232,994.50 was devoted to charity, as compared with the total of $1,292,045.14, unless the campaign expenses are classed as charity. If the amount credited to campaign expenses and the balance of $59,050.64 are deducted from the grand total it would show that $1,162,861.36 was the sum actually devoted to charity.—Orange Sentinel.

CALEDON COUNCIL
(Special Meeting.

Inglewood, April 19th,, 1922.

A special meeting of Council called for the purpose of considering the petition of P. Garrity and ten others asking that their properties be transferred from No. 4 School Section.

Members all present, the Reeve presiding.

The notice calling the meeting, and the names of persons notified were read.
